

Chapter 2719

On Taiping Mountaintop, inside the Parson family's villa.

Matthew Flynn and Ellis Parson sat in front of each other with horrible looks all over their faces.

Quinton York, who was sitting cross-legged while sipping his tea, sat across them.

After playing with his new phone and sending a text, he then smiled faintly at Matthew and Ellis.

“We're all one of the Four Masters of Hong Kong, after all. Are you going to do business with me or not?”

“If you do, you're one of ours from today onward. When I rise to power, I won't forget about the things you've done.”

“But if you don’t, all I need to do is inform Vince York that you betrayed him.”

Naturally, Quinton was the one who had sent the text to Harvey York.

Matthew’s expression changed slightly after hearing Quinton’s words.

“You’re threatening us using Vince?” he coldly exclaimed after some time.

“Are you insane, Quinton?!”

“You think Vince is going to believe you?!”

“You’re just his lapdog!”

“We’ve been his brothers for so many years! If we tell him that his servant turns out to be some ungrateful backstabber trying to steal his position, don’t you think he will kill you?!”

Quinton chuckled.

“He won’t. After all, in everyone’s eyes, I’ve always been loyal to him. He was the one who gave me this position too!

“If I leave his side, what right do I have to rise the ranks?

“That’s why he won’t believe a single word you say.

“On the other hand, I have some footage here that I’d like both of you to watch. Hopefully, you’ll remain calm after you’re done with it.”

Quinton then projected the screen to the TV in the hall and skipped the footage to the middle.

“Men put their dignity above their lives!

“We can’t just keep serving someone else until we die!”

Matthew was extremely passionate when he said those powerful words.

Quinton played the footage while quietly enjoying the show.

Matthew and Ellis, on the other hand, had ugly expressions on their faces.

‘The b*stard, Quinton, has footage of this?!’

“Talk! What do you want us to do?!” Matthew exclaimed after taking a deep breath.

He knew that he and Ellis would die horrible deaths if they did not accept Quinton’s demands ...

In the hands of Vince, who was suspicious of absolutely everyone and everything.

“A wise man submits to the circumstances. As expected from big shots like you two.”

Quinton stood up before showing a smile.

“You don’t have to do much, really. Just spread word saying that Harvey is planning to meet up with Selena...

“As the prince of South Light.

“Let them know that Prince York himself has the right to be the head of the family as well!”

Matthew and Ellis' expressions changed immediately.

Quinton chuckled. “I'm actually curious. Will the heirless lady favor Vince, who has always seen her as an eyesore?

“Or will she take Harvey's side instead?”

After hearing those words, Matthew and Ellis' expressions twisted further.

They did want to rise to power, but they weren't as ruthless as Quinton.

He was planning to kill two birds with one stone without even doing anything on his own! Both

Harvey and Vince were targets!

Matthew and Ellis then remembered something. There was a reason that Quinton had been the leader for the Famous Four of the Yorks before he became one of the Four Masters of Hong Kong ...

Chapter 2720

At the same time, on the Huancheng Expressway, a dark red Porsche 718 was zooming at extremely high speeds, as if the car was injected with adrenaline.

The driver was none other than Helena herself. Her face had lost all color and her eyes quivered constantly.

She was one of Selena's subordinates who had been lurking in the Emerald Club for many years. Her goal was to acquire as much info as possible.

But just then, the moment she walked past a box, she overheard Lexie and Vince's conversation.

"Oh, Vince. You're almost there. It won't be long before you become the head of the family!

"If that old hag takes you under her name, you'll be able to inherit everything from that family!

“Along with the property from my house, three out of five branches of the family will support you! Your position will be solidified!

“Of course, when everything is done, you need to take care of that old hag immediately!

“After all, she isn't fond of you at all. If there's another kept man that shows up, she might even support him just to replace you!”

After hearing those words, Helena broke a vase beside her out of fear, exposing her identity.

People instantly chased after her.

She wasted no time hopping in her car, desperately driving toward the York family's garden villa by the beach. Her master, Selena, was there.

At this very moment, she could only survive if she managed to deliver the news.

A few Toyota vans appeared behind her car out of nowhere.

A handsome face could be seen inside the van through the rear view mirror. Even with Helena's temper, she couldn't help but scream in horror.

It was none other than Stephen York himself!

It's said that he was once a Famous Four of the Yorks. After coming to Hong Kong, he discreetly turned into one of Vince's trusted subordinates.

Helena was almost sure that everything she had heard was true after seeing Stephen's face.

She stepped on the pedal, constantly driving toward the garden villa.

The van behind her seemed to remain at a steady pace. 1

Stephen knew that the woman in front of him wasn't that good at driving, but he wasn't forcefully stopping her either. He calmly took a puff of his cigar while steering the car around.

He was only making sure that the woman didn't turn away from the Huancheng Expressway.

Some smart people could tell that Stephen wasn't even trying to kill Helena off. Rather, he was only leading the woman somewhere.

The surrounding traffic disappeared soon after, replaced by a shady avenue.

The entire place was considered as a property for the Yorks from Hong Kong. Stephen squinted and furiously stepped on the pedal after seeing the sight, as if he was prepared to ram straight into the Porsche.

“Aaaaah!

“Aaaaah!”

Helena was reaching her goal, but she didn't have time to get someone to open the gate for her. She kept stepping on the gas and rammed right past the copper gate.

The vans trailing behind drifted sideways before firearms popped out of the windows.

Bang bang bang!

Chapter 2721

A barrage of gunshots was heard, resulting in bullet holes on the Porsche.

The bullets managed to miss Helena by a hair's length.

But because of her inexperience, she thought that she was just lucky.

Boooooom!

Right at this moment, a green Toyota Prado came from the side of the road and rammed right into the back of a van.

Booom!

The van was immediately sent flying. After rolling on the ground for a short while, it became still again. The gunmen inside were completely decimated.

The Toyota Prado did not stop there. It kept charging forward without pause.

Boom boom boom!

One after another, the vans were all sent flying while one of them rolled over immediately after.

When the gunmen wearing black masks crawled out, the van exploded without warning.

Stephen crawled out of his van with a face full of glass shards, but he seemed oddly gloomy, as if he knew that this was going to happen.

When he saw Yoana in the driver's seat and Harvey beside her, his face turned ashen.

He drew his hand across his neck in front of Harvey before waving his people to leave with him.

Only two vans without license plates were left burning on the scene.

Along with the bullet shells and holes on the ground, the entire place looked like some blockbuster scene out of Hollywood.

Harvey got George to check the source of the text immediately after getting it.

George was quite talented. He only needed around ten minutes before he figured out that the phone number was bought on the side of the street.

He then hacked into the place's surveillance cameras. Even though the buyer didn't seem familiar, his car had quite a deep connection with Quinton.

Harvey immediately understood after getting word of the information.

Quinton must've resented working under someone else and wanted to rise to power. So he arranged the entire operation to use Harvey and Selena against Vince. That was a pretty smart plan.

Since Harvey wanted to cause Vince some trouble through Selena, he followed through on Quinton's "plans."

Harvey immediately took Yoana here, as if he were completely fooled.

But even though Quinton was quite impressive, Stephen was just too careless, leaving too much evidence on the scene.

It was already bad enough for Stephen to pretend to be trailing Helena, but he and his crew didn't even manage to leave a scratch on her!

After a barrage of bullets, they didn't even manage to scrape her!

Nobody would believe that!

But Harvey's appearance did fix this slip-up for him.

Harvey wasted no time and hopped out of the car and came to the Porsche. In the driver's seat, Helena was unconscious. Judging from her looks, she must be unscathed. She had only passed out after all that shock she had to deal with.

Chapter 2722

After pondering over the situation, Harvey gave Yoana a signal.

He dragged Helena out of the driver's seat while Yoana got a first-aid kit from the trunk to treat her.

Although Helena was in great shock, she was only covered in minor bruises. The treatment went smoothly. After receiving an injection, she regained consciousness, albeit barely.

She had a look of confusion on her face when she saw Harvey and Yoana. She wanted to say something, but didn't have the strength to muster a single word.

Harvey calmly smiled without saying another word, then narrowed his eyes at the garden villa in front of him.

A huge group of bodyguards from the York family rushed over with loaded firearms.

After all, this was Selena's place, who was the lady of the Yorks.

The gate had been crashed into while an intense gunfight happened outside. If the bodyguards didn't come out in an instant, there would've been a real problem.

“Don't move!”

“Who are you?!”

“What's going on here?!”

The bodyguard leading the group took off the safety of his firearm while cautiously glaring at Harvey and Yoana.

Harvey shrugged wordlessly, while Yoana moved forward to state her identity.

“I’m Yoana Mendoza, helm of the Dragon Palace’s branch.

“The person lying on the ground is your lady’s trusted subordinate, Helena.

“She was pursued just now. We managed to save her as we were passing by.”

Yoana wasted no time in telling them everything that had happened.

After hearing Yoana’s words and seeing her ID, the bodyguards couldn’t help but be in shock.

‘Selena’s trusted subordinate being chased?’

‘And the person in charge of the Dragon Palace’s branch saved her?’

‘This can’t just be some sort of coincidence...’

‘Even movies aren’t made to be that obvious, right?’

After ten minutes or so, Harvey and Yoana were sitting in a luxurious yet classical living room.

Yoana seemed a little anxious because of Selena's identity.

After all, as the lady of the York family, her status within Hong Kong and Las Vegas was a league above the rest.

The only person that could keep her down was Grandma York herself along with Grandmaster Burke from the Five Virtues Temple.

As for the others, they'd have the identity on par with her, but not her status. They'd have the same status, but not power. They'd have power, but not money.

In any case, Selena was not to be underestimated.

That said, Harvey was admiring the oil paintings on the walls, ignoring everything else.

These works were extremely well-known. From Van Gogh's "Starry Night" to Edvard Munch's "Scream" were hung on the walls, filled with postmodernism and endless despair and sorrow. The sight was truly suffocating for the viewers.

Harvey was shocked to find out that the paintings were all originals. None of these were fake, or even replicated.

Of course, with the Yorks' power and money, it wouldn't be too hard to acquire such well-renowned works like these.

But since they were here, things were definitely not that simple.

The person that owned these paintings must've given up on life a long time ago.

Nobody knew what exactly was keeping her from ending it all.

Thud thud thud!

Right at this moment, a woman with a white shirt could be seen after hearing frantic footsteps.

She had a slender and enchanting figure without any makeup on, and looked really young. Her face was as beautiful as a painting.

She was Selena Judd, the lady of the Yorks.
