

Chapter 2741

Harvey York rolled his body underwater indifferently before catching up to the yacht at extreme speeds.

Even before ten seconds passed, he was already at the rear of the yacht.

Along with a light tap, he managed to get himself on the deck.

At the same time, he swung his spear forward.

Pfffft!

Blood splattered all over the place.

The two gunners looking for Harvey covered their throats and fell to the ground while showing looks of utter disbelief.

Harvey rolled forward and nailed the two on the deck with the same spear.

“F*cker!”

The other gunners came to their senses.

Dozens of gunners wearing black masks rushed forward.

The safeties of their firearms were already taken off. When they saw Harvey, they started pulling the trigger without remorse.

Bang bang bang!

The barrage of bullets covered the sky, destroying the entire place.

The small deck turned into the most dangerous place of all humanity in an instant.

The pungent smell of gunpowder was all over the place. Harvey felt like he was back in a war again...

Typically speaking, any ordinary person would probably not come out alive in a situation like this.

If anything, they would likely be filled with holes all over their bodies.

The gunners were showing smug looks on their faces after thinking about the situation.

Bang bang bang!

Harvey picked up a firearm lying on the ground and pulled the trigger at a loosely-closed window.

The metal window immediately fell, shielding Harvey from the rain of bullets.

In the nick of time, Harvey again managed to evade his demise.

Tink tink tink!

The remaining bullets were either hitting the deck or completely missing altogether while sounds of destruction could be heard.

Before long, the gunners were all out of ammo, but Harvey was still unscathed.

Everywhere else was filled with bullet holes, though.

After casually picking up another firearm and loading a new round of bullets, Harvey then taunted those gunners, “You still coming?”

The gunners were completely startled, but they all came to their senses before loading their bullets as soon as possible before raising their firearms again.

Bang bang bang!

Harvey pulled the trigger on his two firearms without even giving the gunners any time to breathe.

The gunners did not let out a scream after the bullets landed on them. Instead, they all trembled while stumbling a few steps back with horrible looks on their faces.

The next second, they raised their firearms and forcefully pulled the trigger.

Another barrage of bullets rained down once again.

“Bulletproof vests?”

“How rich!”

Harvey deduced that the enemy had the best equipment possible. Ordinary firearms would not be able to hurt them at all.

Harvey threw his firearms away and rushed forward in an instant.

His body curved bizarrely while charging forward, barely evading the barrage of bullets.

At the same time, Harvey stepped on the ground, launching the bullets on the deck back up into the air.

Pfft pfft pfft!

Blood spurted all over the place. The six gunners before Harvey were bleeding from their throats before lying on the ground, filled with disbelief.

Harvey calmly ran toward the rest of the people soon after.

Chapter 2742

The remaining gunners were frantically twitching their eyes after seeing Harvey York closing in swiftly.

They wanted to retreat to a safe distance, but it was all too late.

Some readied their daggers, but Harvey already went past them before they could even react.

Pfft pfft pfft!

The gunners were trembling in fear. Some were sent flying into the sea, while others fell to the ground with utter shock on their faces.

They did not expect that Harvey was actually this strong.

Casual movements like those were enough to deal with them permanently.

After dealing with the lackeys, Harvey got himself a clean towel and dried his hair without even glancing at the dead bodies before heading back inside the cabin.

The yacht itself was extremely luxurious. The interior was also exquisite.

A refreshing feeling could be felt in the atmosphere. Compared to the bloody look on the outside, it was nothing alike.

The furnishing has designs of the Island Nations.

Other than a table ten inches tall, green moss was placed all over the place, along with elegant statues of human figures.

It was hard to believe someone would be this attentive to detail, decorating a small yacht with all those things.

In the back of the cabin, the ground was covered in delicate bamboo wood and a straw mat.

Even though everything seemed extremely common, an elegant and priceless feeling could still be felt from the items.

An Islander with white hair and a bald spot wearing a robe was seen kneeling on the mat with a lordsword on his legs.

He was sipping an amber-colored tea with an indescribable dashing and comfortable look on his face.

Eight Islander swordsmen wearing robes were behind him, ready to strike at any moment with the longswords on their sheathes.

Harvey sized up the Islander in front of him before sitting down on his own.

“Aren’t you the Sword Saint of the Shindan Way and the Imperial Physician, Akio Yashiro himself?”

“Didn’t you say you’d deal with me in Mordu when you’re out of the country?”

“What? Do you have a death wish or something? Is that why you came here this time?”

“That said, you Islanders really must be working together with Lexie York and Vince York. Am I wrong?”

“She didn’t even pay me any respect!”

“She knew that I hate you people the most, but they still sent you after me anyway!”

“She’s merciless!”

Harvey ran his mouth while sipping the tea on the table.

The eight swordsmen showed serious looks on their faces with a hint of surprise after seeing the sight.

They did not expect Harvey could still act so nonchalantly in front of the Shindan Way Sword Saint himself.

Akio raised his head and squinted at Harvey for a brief moment.

“You’re bold, Head York,” he calmly said.

“You dare drink my tea on my turf...

“No wonder you didn’t even hold back killing my last disciple back in Mordu.

“Impressive. I admire you.”

“No need for that.”

Harvey smiled while holding the cup of tea.

“The tea’s not bad.

“But you, on the other hand...

“You’re nothing to me.”

Chapter 2743

“B*stard!”

“How dare you?!”

“Who gave you the courage to show off in front of our Sword Saint?!”

“Do you have a death wish or something?!”

The swordsmen were boiling with anger.

Who was Akio Yashiro?

Not only was he the Sword Saint of the Shindan Way, but he was also the Imperial Physician himself!

A true God of War!

It was said that he had been secluding himself to search for the legendary way to unite man and nature.

A big character such as this must have had an immense reputation in the Island Nations.

In those swordsmen's eyes, he was a living legend!

But the man from Country H actually dared to ridicule him!

This was unforgivable!

Akio's serene look on his face was showing a hint of disdain.

But he soon regained his composure before waving his hand, gesturing the others to quiet down.

The swordsmen resentfully stopped talking after seeing Akio's movements.

When they looked into Harvey York's eyes, they wanted to choke him so badly.

“I know you’re a powerful man, Sir York.

“Miyata Shinosuke suffered in your hands not long ago.

“Because of you, the experts of the Shinkage Way are almost extinct.

“Even the Tsuchimikado family lost their onmyoji.

“But, you should know full well that you only won against Miyata because of the Nanyang God of War.

“Don’t you know your limits at this point?

“I do want to ask. Sir York, who gave you all this courage?

“Are you really this ignorant about your own strength?

“Do you think you even have the right to show off in front of me?”

One of the swordsmen could not help but open his mouth while gloomily staring at Harvey.

“How dare you get Young Master Yashiro to send word for you?!”

“You say that we’re going against the Nanyang God of War if we go against you?!”

“What? Do you think we Islanders are just a bunch of cowards?!”

“Who do you think you can even scare with your pathetic skills?!”

“Let me tell you something. Our Sword Saint is in a good mood today because of the good weather and appetizing tea. That’s why he’s generous enough to exchange a few words with you!

“If we met on a different occasion, you would’ve been a dead body by now!

“I suggest you kneel and beg for forgiveness right now!

“If you do that, you might just die with your appendages intact!

“If you don't, not only will you have to die, we'll even dig your ancestors out of the ground and burn them to ashes!”

The swordsman was showing an extremely wretched look on his face.

He wanted Harvey dead so badly for disrespecting a man like Akio.

“Shut up already.

“Your master's speaking here. Since when did a servant like you get the right even to bark?

“Seems like your teaching is no good after all, Akio!”

Harvey held his tea cup with a calm look on his face.

“Besides, you should ask yourselves, are you only keeping me alive because you’re in a good mood?”

“I beg to differ.”

Chapter 2744

“What do you mean by that?” Akio Yashiro asked calmly.

“If you really are as good as your servants say you are, there wouldn’t be a need for you to blow up a cab and get so many gunners to deal with me.

“What you should’ve done is to come at me with a sword and cut me down.

“But you didn’t.

“All of these tricks only mean one thing.

“You’re scared!

“You’re scared that you’re no match for me!

“You’re afraid of being slapped to death!

“You’re terrified of ending up the same way as Miyata Shinosuke!”

Harvey York squinted while showing a warm smile.

“All that preparation is showing your doubt toward your skills!

“Another thing. You showed up in Hong Kong so quickly to kill me right after Vince York and I fought?

“You wouldn’t be here that quickly even if you literally rode a rocket ship!

“The only explanation for this is that you were already here when Miyata arrived.

“But you fear me. That’s why you never intended to take action against me from the beginning.

“You even planned for all this as a last resort.

“At the end of the day, you don’t think you can fight me at all!

“You’re just a coward!”

Harvey set down his teacup and thought about the situation.

“From this perspective, a Sword Saint like you is a lot smarter than Miyata.

“Because of this, I’ll let you off the hook this time.

“If you kneel in front of me and pour me a cup of tea as an apology...

“I might let you run back to your damn country with all your limbs intact.”

“How dare you?!”

“You must have a death wish!”

“Insulting the Sword Saint himself is an unforgivable sin!”

Harvey’s words had completely enraged the swordsmen.

They unsheathed their longswords in an instant. Flickering glares could be seen around the cabin while murderous intent exuded.

Harvey ignored those people and calmly said, “If you think you can deal with me using these idiots, then you’re free to try.

“When that happens, you’ll realize that I didn’t need Dean Cobb at the Budokan in the first place.”

Akio squinted at Harvey before he burst out laughing.

“You’re really confident. I’ll admit that much.

“But you should at least understand that overconfidence will be your downfall.

“I’m scared of you?”

“You’re overestimating yourself a little, don’t you think?”

“I came to Hong Kong early so I can attend Grandma York’s birthday.

“I got so many people after you to see if you have the right to be cut down by my blade.

“If not, I’d have hands full if I have to kill off every piece of filth who comes my way.

“I wonder if you’re satisfied by my explanation, Sir York?”

Harvey smiled.

“Since you have time to come up with all these excuses, that means you must be really scared.

“But there’s no point talking about all this right now.

“Since you’re so thick-skinned, there’s no way that you’ll admit to that.

“So, what are you going to do now?

“Are you planning to come at me alone? Or are you letting those idiots behind you do your job?”
