

Chapter 2787

After hearing Vince York's confident words, Lexie York smiled from ear to ear.

She stretched her body and chuckled.

“So, we don't have to do anything right now, is what you're saying? We're just going to sit back as Third and Fourth Brother fight to the death?”

“No. There's something that needs our attention,” Vince replied while showing a warm smile.

“No matter what, I was the one who ordered Julian York to detain the killer.

“I'd have to take responsibility for what happened to him.

“If I do nothing, the third house will surely have opinions about me.

“That said, I don’t think there’s a need to save him either...”

“Sometimes, it’s better just to put on a good show. Let them know that I did my best.

“After all, putting on a good show is the easiest thing to do in the entire world, don’t you think?”

“I do want to see how strong this Lord York is when he goes up against the completely fractured Yorks of Hong Kong...”

“If he lets Julian go after we plead for him, what’s the point of his authority?”

“But what would happen to the third house if he doesn’t pay us any respect and insists on punishing Julian?”

“I’m curious! I really want to see the limits of this Lord York...”

Obviously, even though Vince had suffered great losses against Harvey, he was much more cautious because of it.

His goal was simple. He wanted to tarnish Marcel's image, so he would have a better chance at rising to power.

His calculations were flawless. Lexie was filled with admiration as she looked at Vince.

"I'm relieved, Vince. You've already planned this far ahead.

"It's right to entrust the family to you, after all.

"The family will surely flourish in the future and regain its former glory as one of the five hidden families," said Lexie, smiling warmly.

Vince smiled back without giving a reply.

"Is there news coming from Grandma York?" asked Vince with squinting eyes.

"I heard Big Brother and Sister-In-Law are with her.

“Now that Fourth Brother’s back, Big Brother will surely stay by her side.

“After all, you’re this close to being in the fourth house.

“Big Brother won’t leave Grandma York until everything’s settled.”

Lexie seemed a little resentful.

“Speaking of, this is all Fourth Brother’s fault! If it weren’t for him assuming Big Brother’s position back then, none of this would’ve happened!” she exclaimed with a deep voice.

Apparently, there were many complications within the family after Marcel took position as the lord.

Lexie also did not want to marry such a feminine-looking man just for the family’s interests.

In Lexie's mind, she wanted to rip Marcel to shreds thinking that she wasted her youth just for some sissy.

Vince poured a cup of water for Lexie to calm her down.

"There are some things I can't do," whispered Vince quietly.

"But you can.

"Call my father. Tell him everything, then tell him to accidentally spill the beans to Grandma York.

"As for Third Uncle, you should call him to calm him down. Tell him that his baby boy almost got killed off by Fourth Uncle."

Vince set his wine glass down while showing a warm smile.

"As for the man who represents the younger generation of the family...

“I should be pleading guilty right now!”

Chapter 2788

At the Yorks' garden villa.

Because of the series of incidents that happened last night, Selena Judd was worried about Harvey York's safety. She forced him to stay inside the garden villa for the time being.

Harvey rejected the offer but to no avail.

After all, compared to the cold and desolate place like the Three Seasons Hotel, the garden villa at least felt a bit human.

Besides, Harvey had a feeling that what had just happened was just an opening show.

He had no intention to leave. He wanted to see everything to its end.

After waking up, he checked his phone for emails.

George Zabel sent over some new information all the way from Mordu.

According to his intel, Mandy Zimmer rose to power within Mordu, but her position was quite unstable.

To ensure the stability of her people and be respected by the higher-ups of the Jean family, she had been doing her best.

Harvey was relieved to hear about Mandy's growth and was also quite worried about how hard she had been working.

But right when he was about to send a message, he hesitated before finally deciding to put down the phone.

He could keep a straight face in front of everyone else...

But there was no way for him to remain calm if something involved his nominal wife.

Besides that, George mentioned that Lilian Yates had not changed at all. After her recovery, she was still contacting some of Country H's upper social circle, trying to match Mandy with another person...

For this cheap mother-in-law, Harvey was not worthy of Mandy's love.

When Harvey decided not to make Mandy in charge of Sky Corporation, Lilian was already having opinions about him.

After sending a text telling George to keep watch, Harvey let out a sigh before deleting the number he dialed.

Some things just could not be conveyed through a phone call.

He was determined to finish things up in Hong Kong and Las Vegas before returning to Mordu.

After putting the phone down and freshening up in the restroom, Harvey was finally awake.

He walked to the guest room's balcony and looked at the bright sky, enjoying the hard-earned peace and quiet.

Right when Harvey asked a servant to bring him breakfast...

Loud noises could suddenly be heard outside the garden villa.

Tons of luxurious cars were parked at the entrance at this moment.

Handsome and beautiful people walked out of the cars one after another.

The person leading the crowd was none other than Vince York himself.

He was wearing a white shirt with a restless look when he walked to the entrance.

He then slammed his knees to the ground without any hesitation.

“I was being too lax toward my subordinates, causing Julian York to make a big mistake!” exclaimed Vince loudly.

All of the young people kneeled in unison.

Those were people from the younger generation of the family. Quinton York and Stephen York were also included as the others.

“Julian should be heavily punished for trampling on Lady Judd’s pride!” everyone exclaimed.

“We are his brothers and sisters! His mistake is ours to bear!”

“We will accept any form of punishment!”

Chapter 2789

“So will we!”

At this moment, a group of people walked out. They were not from the Yorks of Hong Kong, but they were prominent characters of the younger generation within Hong Kong and Las Vegas.

Matthew Flynn, Ellis Parson, Carol Parker, and the others showed up.

Safe to say that the elites of the younger generation were all gathered here at this moment. This was truly a magnificent sight.

Harvey York was watching the show full of interest.

He trampled on many of Vince York's people and dragged many more who remained neutral to his side.

But he did not expect that Vince would have such a great influence.

As expected from the young lord of the Yorks of Hong Kong!

On closer look, Harvey saw that all the family houses were here, excluding the fourth house.

While the people were screaming out loud, people were starting to open cracks from their balconies to see what was happening.

Margot Patel, Abel York, and the others showed up while slightly frowning.

Though, Marcel York and Selena Judd were not seen anywhere.

Harvey started to look up to Vince after seeing the sight.

His actions were not necessarily for him to accept punishment but to force people out of their position while buying people's hearts.

Marcus was forced to a corner because of this.

If he were to punish all those people, he would disrespect the people here and the big characters supporting them.

But, if he were to give up, his reputation would be tarnished entirely.

He mobilized all those forces to save his dear wife, but he was already being disrespected the very next day. What would happen to his position then?

Simply put, Vince's tactic was almost flawless!

Ordinary people would surely not know how to counter this.

After watching the show, Harvey could tell that it would be hard to break through this situation.

Without a second thought, he gave Yoana

Mendoza a call before patiently waiting.

Margot brought the Lord's Guardians outside the entrance before glaring coldly at Vince.

“Young Lord York, it's a little too early for you to be clamoring out here!” she coldly exclaimed.

“What will you do if you disrupt Lord York's rest?!”

“Secretary Patel! This is all my fault!”

A faint smile leaked out of Vince's face after seeing Margot show up.

“I'm the one who told Julian York to do his job!

“My intentions were good! I wanted to prevent the higher-ups from being assassinated by the House of Phantoms!

“But Julian got agitated by Harvey since I wasn't here with him. Lady Judd also got involved in an intense conflict because of this!

“This is my fault!

“I should be receiving my punishment by now!

“Please tell Lord York to release Julian! He can have me instead! Break my limbs if it’s necessary!

“I’ll accept any form of punishment!”

Vince shouted with all his might while showing his sincerity, as if he would not stand before getting Marcel’s reply.

“We’ll accept any punishment for Julian’s mistake as well! We’ll stand by Young Lord York!”

Naturally, Vince wanted everyone to take the same punishment.

He was not pleading for Julian, nor was he begging for forgiveness. He only asked to be punished in Julian’s place.

In the eyes of the outsiders, Vince was a man with a heart of gold.

At the same time, this was enough to put enormous pressure on Marcel.

Chapter 2790

Margot Patel clearly understood that fact.

She knew full well that Marcel York would have no way to deal with the situation if he showed up himself.

“You’re forcing his hand!” exclaimed Margot coldly.

Vince York shook his head.

“That’s not true, Secretary Patel!

“Why would I even do that?

“I always treat Lord York with respect and loyalty! We don’t mean any harm!

“I’m only sad I let him down because of my improper teaching to my juniors! All this happened because of me!

“I only hope that they don’t get punished because of this! This is my fault!

“We got the Law Enforcement of the Yorks to handle Julian York’s incident. They’ll give you a fair statement soon enough,” said Margot indifferently.

“As for your punishment and involvement in the situation, I have no say, nor does Lord York. Only the Law Enforcement does!

“But why are you here trying to force his hand by asking for punishment?!

“What’s your purpose here?!”

Margot was not stupid either. She glared at Vince as if she could read him like an open book.

“You know full well if you’re just putting up a show or have other motives to do something like this.

“There’s no need for me to point that out for you. Right?”

“That’s why you should just leave, Young Lord York.”

Vince smiled before showing a serious expression.

“We are indeed guilty here, Secretary Patel! I’ve been neglecting our duties this whole time!

“That’s why I think I should be punished! I’ll ask Grandma York herself if Lord York won’t do it!

“I think she’ll give us a fair chance!”

“What the Hell are you trying to do?! You’re using Grandma York against us?!”

Margot was showing a horrible expression.

She saw quite a lot of reporters standing far away with faces full of excitement.

After all, this was quite the big affair. The reporters would definitely rise to fame instantly if they got a big scoop.

Rumors would be spreading in the family like wildfire if the situation was not handled properly.

It would even affect the stability of Hong Kong and Las Vegas as a whole.

If someone were to be blamed, then Vince was probably the one who called the reporters here.

His goal was to force Marcel to submit.

Vince was exhilarated after seeing the reporters show up.

“No matter the case, I’m only asking to see Lord York!” said Vince joyfully.

“If he doesn’t come out, I’ll kneel here for three days straight!

“If he doesn’t punish me, I’ll punish myself!

“Only then will this serve as a lesson! From today onward, similar mistakes will not be made!

“If Lord York doesn’t punish us, we’ll also punish ourselves!” the other young people said in unison after hearing Vince’s words.

Margot was showing a horrible expression.

Vince was obviously causing chaos to his superiors at this moment.

But the situation was just too hard to deal with.

Marcel would be in big trouble no matter what he did.

Right when Margot was about to dial Marcel’s number to report the situation, Harvey showed a warm smile as he walked out of the entrance.

He calmly walked toward Vince and looked down on him with a perplexed look.

“We’ve only met for a few days, Young Lord York, but there’s no need to send me such a hefty gift!

“You’re making it hard for me here!

“How about this? I’ll do you one better!”
