

Chapter 2801

“Right. I heard that you also have a good relationship with Dean Cobb’s granddaughter.

“With your current status, you’re completely unworthy of her.

“But once you become the fifth master, you’ll no longer have that problem.

“In what world would a woman reject a man who fought with his own two hands to become the fifth master of Hong Kong?”

Noah York was showing affectional expression as if he was admiring a great talent.

He felt as if he was the only one who could see through Harvey York’s true colors.

Harvey was indifferent. He was not interested at all in any of the offers.

He squinted at him and showed a faint smile.

“We’re all adults here, Third Lord York. You could probably fool children with these empty promises of yours...

“But, it’ll definitely be a little harder to fool me.

“I never liked playing underhanded tricks like these, but I can tell you’re just trying to bait me with all that fame, glory, and riches.

“If I were to give Selena Judd that information and the family collapse because of it, Julian York will rise to power...

“I’m pretty sure the first thing he’d do isn’t to bring up some fifth master of Hong Kong.

“He’ll use all his might to kill me off first, won’t he?

“After all, how can you let an outsider like me keep secrets like these?

“You wouldn’t trust me even if you tried. Even if I give you my word, only my dead body will be able to reassure you. Am I wrong?”

Harvey showed a faint smile while he was talking.

Noah stood slightly frozen as he showed shock in his eyes.

He never expected a young man such as Harvey could see that far ahead.

He knew the inner workings of those wealthy families like the back of his hand!

What a great talent!

Noah did not express those feelings even though they came to mind.

After lighting up a thin cigar and giving it a puff, Noah burst out laughing.

“I do hope that my son rises to power. Evidently, I like power and authority, but there are lines I just won’t cross!

“I’m a businessman. I only make proper trades.

“Killing isn’t a part of what I do. I don’t have the courage to do such a thing either.”

After playing with the lighter in his hand, he squinted his eyes.

“How about this? If you don’t believe me, I’ll offer you my daughter’s hand in marriage.

“You might not know this, but I have another child other than Julian.

“If you become my son-in-law, there’s no way I’ d kill you off, right?

“After all, I can’t just joke around with my daughter’s marriage like that!”

Noah then showed Harvey a picture of his daughter on his phone with a warm smile.

The woman looked really innocent. She had a pretty face and a great figure. Indeed, an enchanting sight.

Not only was Noah showing his utmost sincerity, but his generosity and tolerance were also put on view, as if he did not mind Harvey speculating about him.

Instead, he was planning to prove to Harvey that he would keep his word.

Chapter 2802

Harvey York took the phone from the other side of the table and scrolled past a few pictures with a faint smile.

“I have to admit. I’m impressed that you’re willing to sacrifice your own daughter for your own benefit.

“But, you’re asking me to be your son-in-law?

“Even if I did, you’d probably restrain and destroy me after you’re done using me, right?

“You probably came up with the plan to shut my mouth with family relations just now.

“Surely your daughter didn’t know that she got sold out by her own father at that very moment.

“I never understood how distant wealthy families could be, but now I do.”

Harvey slammed the phone on the table, then squinted while crossing his legs.

“It’s a shame I don’t like cooperating with a dirtbag like you.

“That’s why I’m declining your offer.”

Bang!

Noah York furiously slammed on the table with an enraged look.

“You truly disappoint me, Harvey!

“Do you know how many people want to marry my daughter, but I never bat an eye at them in the first place?!”

“I’m giving you a chance to rise and marry you into the family, but not only do you not cherish the opportunity, but you’re also using the chance to slander me?!”

“Don’t you think that you’re the one crossing the line here?!”

While Noah was still speaking, the distant woman and the few bodyguards glared at Harvey as if he were some sort of idiot.

They thought that Harvey was just some ignorant fool.

The blessings that other people would never hope to achieve in their entire life was handed to him on a silver platter, but he thoroughly rejected them.

‘He must have a death wish or something!’

“I’m the one crossing the line?”

Harvey chuckled.

“I can do something far worse.

“For example, I can disclose to Lady Judd everything that transpired here today.

“I’m sure she and Lord York will be able to discern what’s right from wrong.”

“How dare you?!”

Noah was boiling with anger.

“You think you can leave this building alive without accepting my conditions?!”

There was no point in playing pretend at this point.

Noah’s wretched look on his face was blatantly apparent.

Harvey shrugged.

“What? You don’t actually think you can keep me here with a bunch of nobodies, do you?”

replied Harvey calmly.

“I can keep your secret if you want.

“Kneel and beg me for it.”

Noah squinted as he glared at Harvey, who seemed extremely nonchalant, before Noah burst out laughing.

“Hahahaha!

“Not bad! Not bad at all! No wonder even Vince and Julian suffered so many losses against you!

“The new’s constantly replacing the old, I see!

“I’ve seen quite a lot of great talents in my life, but this is my first time seeing a young man this arrogant!

“And yet you’re still acting so high and mighty!

“This is the first time in my life seeing a person like you!

“You should know that rich heirs from wealthy families and royalty will call me ‘Third Lord York’ when they see me.

“Even if I give them a lecture, they can only take it respectfully.”

“But not only is a man from Country H disrespecting me even though he’s without power and connections, but he’s also trying to threaten me?!”

Chapter 2803

Noah York took another puff of his cigar and then stood up.

“I really don't know what to say about you.

“Should I call you ignorant?

“Or are you just a little too vigorous because of your young age?

“In any case, I'll be teaching you a lesson today.

“I'll let you know what it means to have someone else that's way better than you!”

At this very moment, Noah was no longer pretending to be some businessman. He was a true upperclassman.

A decisive and ruthless one at that.

Harvey chuckled.

“You think you can even lay a finger on me with these people, Third Lord York?”

“This isn’t enough now, is it?”

Noah glanced at the woman by his side and calmly said, “Snow, let this man see what a peak King of Arms looks like.

“Let him know that his lame kung fu doesn’t mean anything to us wealthy families.

“Right. Just break all his limbs. Don’t kill him just yet. I’m still waiting for him to be the next master of Hong Kong.

“Only when he accepts my conditions, then he may leave.

“Understand?”

“As you wish!”

Snow slightly nodded before taking a step forward, blocking Harvey’s path.

Noah grabbed his cigar and calmly walked out of the office, as if everything was sealed by fate.

Harvey stood up while the three bodyguards walked toward him. They pulled out their firearms with extremely cold expressions and took off the safeties.

“I’m afraid you can’t just leave, Sir York.”

Snow squinted at Harvey with an honest look on her face.

“If you want out of here, you’ll have to become the fifth master of Hong Kong.

“You’ll have to accept all three of his terms before you can leave. Understand?”

Harvey chuckled while he sized up Snow before he shrugged.

“Do you think you can stop me?”

Snow calmly cracked a smile before throwing her coat to the other side, revealing her good-looking shoulders and collar bones.

She was wearing gym clothes underneath, showing off her alluring figure.

At the same time, she would have more mobility in those clothes.

Snow did not intend to let Harvey appreciate her figure.

“You can try, but I’ll break one of your arms every time you try to leave!” she coldly exclaimed.

“I’ll break your legs after!

“You have four chances!”

Harvey smiled and took a step forward, ready to leave the place.

The bodyguards walked in front of Harvey and placed their firearms on Harvey’s head with icy looks.

Bang bang bang!

Harvey took a step forward, pounced right toward the bodyguards, and stole one of their firearms. Harvey then indifferently pulled the trigger.

With the sounds of loud gunshots, all the bodyguards were lying on the ground while covering their wounds. Their entire bodies were trembling incessantly. It was a miserable sight.

Even though Harvey did not take their lives, they would need to stay in the hospital for at least half a year before recovering...

“B*stard!”

Snow did not expect that Harvey would fight back this ruthlessly. Her eyes were frantically twitching after seeing the sight.

She had no time to think, though. She immediately swung her hand, revealing a silver firearm.

She then pulled the trigger toward Harvey's head without hesitation.

Chapter 2804

Bang!

The smell of gunpowder wafted in the air when the bullet flew. It was a decisive shot.

Naturally, there was no hint of hesitation or mercy in the shot. Snow's goal was to keep Harvey York in this very room.

It was a shame. Snow was fast, but Harvey was faster.

Harvey pounced forward as Snow pulled the trigger and tackled right into her torso.

Bang!

The stray bullet hit right at the ceiling.

Snow was immediately sent flying before she crashed onto a bookshelf made out of Stayport's yellow flower pear wood. Her orifices were bleeding profusely, while many of her bones were broken.

The silver firearm flew away from her arms, spinning on the ground, out of reach from her.

“You’re a peak King of Arms? That’s all you can do?”

Harvey was showing utter disgust.

The words were enough to put Snow in despair.

Harvey could not be bothered to talk anymore. He left the office all on his own.

He then walked into an elevator before arriving at the front door.

“Who are you?!”

“What are you doing?!”

A group of bodyguards tried to stop Harvey, but it was all too late.

Harvey went right past the crowd and reached behind a Maybach before pulling the trigger.

The doors that were supposed to be closed off opened in an instant, revealing Noah York's face.

Noah would have been six feet under if the car was not bulletproof.

Harvey shrugged after seeing Noah still alive.

He then casually pulled the trigger on the bodyguards trying to get close to him.

"You're lucky, Third Lord York. That shot didn't manage to kill you," said Harvey while squinting at Noah.

"But next time, you won't be that lucky."

Noah was showing a horrible look on his face. He was shocked.

He did not expect that Harvey would dare pull the trigger on him.

He was even more shocked by the fact that Snow, the peak King of Arms, could not keep Harvey inside.

He never expected those things even to happen.

Noah managed to regain his composure because of his experience.

“What are you planning to do?” he coldly asked while glaring at Harvey.

“Since you’re not dead after the first shot, I won’t bother pulling the trigger again.

“After all, it’d be more fun ruining your entire reputation that you worked so hard to build.”

Harvey showed a warm smile.

“But, if I let you go like this, I’ll be in a really bad mood.

“What if I get you to the news headline, Third Lord York?”

Slap!

Before Noah even had a chance to speak, Harvey instantly swung the back of his palm across Noah's face.

What a resounding slap!

The reporters who were around had been paying close attention.

Harvey's slap had attracted countless other people's gazes.

Harvey then grabbed Noah's suit and wiped his hand. He then threw the firearm into the trunk before leaving indifferently.

Noah froze while he covered his face. He was in shock and utter disbelief before he completely snapped.

“Hahahaha!

“Good! Very good!

“What a young talent!

“Harvey f*cking York!

“I’ll remember every single thing you’ve done today!”

A vengeful tone could be heard from Noah at that point.

At this very moment, the reporters gossiping all over the place were slightly shivering as if a cold winter had just arrived.

They had realized something...

Noah would not hesitate to end their lives if they dared to tell anyone about what had happened.
