

Chapter 2831

Secretary Akina was crying while she talked on the phone, putting on a helpless look as if she had suffered quite a bit. It was quite the pitiful sight.

But immediately after she hung up, her cold and distant look reappeared in an instant.

“Just you wait! How dare you hit me?!”

“When Master York’s here, he’ll deal with you first!”

“Let me warn you: none of you can get out unscathed today!”

With immense support behind Secretary Akina’s back, she felt she was invincible.

Before Harvey could say anything, Olivia already cut him off with a frightened look on her face.

“Forget it! We can’t escalate things any further!”

“We’ll get fired if we do!”

Olivia didn’t know who Taichi and the others called, but a person called Master York could only be from the Yorks of Hong Kong.

She was certain if someone from the family were to come, not only would she be in trouble, but Harvey and Queenie would also be dragged into the situation!

As a woman from Hong Kong, she understood full well what those rich heirs could do.

Queenie walked forward with a calm look before narrowing her eyes at Taichi and the others.

Olivia knew that Queenie was one of the company’s higher ups, but she didn’t know the latter’s true identity.

“I’ll take all the responsibility, Madam,” Olivia said, bowing her head down.

“I was in charge of these important guests. It’s my fault everything turned out this way...”

“Just deal with me how you should...”

Harvey smiled calmly.

“Don’t worry. You didn’t do anything wrong.”

“You are in charge of guests, but you’re right to deal with unreasonable ones like them this way.”

Olivia and the others were surprised to hear Harvey’s words.

They didn’t understand why Harvey was so bold.

“Heh. Ignorant fool...”

Taichi and the people behind him scoffed coldly at Harvey’s words. They found Harvey hilarious.

‘This guy’s still trying to comfort the girls?’

‘Doesn’t he know that he’s in a tough spot himself?’

‘Even if he doesn’t get thrown to the fishes, he’d at least get his legs broken for going against Young Master Ishikawa, right?’

‘Does he think Young Master Ishikawa is an easy target?’

Vroooooom!

Just then, a few Maybachs rushed right at the entrance of the office building before coming to a stop.

The car doors opened, revealing several people with auras of the elite. They were dressed head to toe with glamorous accessories.

The person at the very front was none other than Stephen York himself.

He didn’t want to come, but he was tasked to treat the important guests from the Island Nations by Vince.

He had no choice but to head inside the guest room, his face cold and icy.

“Who’s trying to go against my friend?”

Stephen exclaimed coldly as he kicked the door open.

“Don’t you people want your jobs anymore?”

“Did you all forget your place?!”

To put it bluntly, the people working in Loxus Consortium were only subordinates of the Yorks of Hong Kong.

Stephen’s status within the family was not to be taken lightly. Other than a rare few, he feared no one in the company.

Stephen came in Vince’s name. He didn’t mind trampling on a few people if he got the chance to do so.

Chapter 2832

Olivia and the staff's expressions changed upon Stephen's arrival.

Stephen would usually show up on entertainment magazines and financial news.

Naturally, they knew who he was.

None of them expected an affluent figure like Stephen would come here after a single call.

Secretary Akina was exhilarated to see Stephen's arrival. She stumbled her way toward him with a pitiful look, as if she had been wronged.

“Look at me, Master York! My dermal fillers are about to burst!”

“Loxus Consortium has crossed a line! They have to take responsibility!”

Secretary Akina was on the verge of tears as she aired her grievances.

Stephen's face was aloof.

“What a great job you're doing here, Loxus Consortium!” he exclaimed coldly.

“Don't you know that Young Master Ishikawa and the Islanders are Young Lord York's important guests?”

“Yet, you dare hit one of Young Lord York's guests? Looks like there's no easy way out of this!”

“Whoever did it, kneel and apologize to Young Master Ishikawa ! Break your own hand while you're at it! If not, I'll come for you sooner or later!”

Olivia and the others were scared witless . They didn't know what to do.

Harvey, however, smiled calmly.

“You’re right. If you don’t kneel and apologize before breaking your hand, I’ll come for you soon enough.”

Hearing the familiar voice, Stephen instinctively demanded, “Who’s that?”

He turned around instantly.

He froze when he saw Harvey and Queenie. His eyes began to twitch.

Harvey leveled Stephen with a cool gaze before walking forward and tapping the latter on his face.

“You’re doing worse and worse every single time, Stephen.”

“You were one of the Famous Four of the Yorks. How did you end up being someone’s servant?”

“What do you want me to say?”

“You’re even sweeping Vince’s mess now? Do you have too much time on your hands?”

After seeing what happened, Taichi and the others froze as well. They couldn’t believe what they just saw.

Somebody dared to show off in front of Stephen...

He even tapped Stephen on the face in such an insulting fashion...

‘This man must be insane!’

‘Does he want to die?!’

‘How dare he insult Young Lord York!’

‘He must have a death wish!’

“You b*stard! How dare you call Young Lord York by his name?!” Stephen’s followers screamed righteously.

“Who do you think you are?”

“Other than the chairman himself, everyone has to pay their respects to Young Lord York!”

“How dare you say his name as you please!”

“Do you want to die?!”

“You think a kept man like you can do whatever you want just because you’re working for the company?!”

For these people, it didn’t matter how powerful they were in the Loxus Consortium . As soon as they saw Vince, they had to submit.

After all, Vince would soon be their master.

Stephen was here to protect Taichi and the others in Vince’s place.

‘Is there something wrong with this clown’s brain?!’

‘How dare he be so arrogant?! Is he trying to dig his own grave?!’

Seeing Harvey show off in front of Stephen like that, Taichi, his secretary, and the others began laughing coldly.

They wanted to see how Harvey would end up soon.

Would this fool end up dying on the floor? Or would he die kneeling?

Chapter 2833

Harvey laughed, calm.

“Just ask Stephen if I have a death wish.”

“Ha! Are you still pretending?”

Secretary Akina chuckled coldly.

“I don’t know where you came from, but how dare you show off in front of Master York! Do you want to die?”

“Right! It’s useless! No matter how powerful you are, you’ll be trampled to death for provoking Young Lord York’s important guests!”

“Let me tell you something right now! Get the new executive CEO here this instant!”

“Tell her she’ll be taken out of her position if she doesn’t show up in three minutes!”

“Shut up!”

Stephen came to his senses right there and then.

His furious scream stunned the people behind him. A second later, they were exhilarated.

Stephen was enraged. He was boiling with anger!

He was ready to crush someone!

“Do you need help, Master York? My hand’s been itching lately. This kept man...”

Slap!

Stephen swung his back palm across the follower who spoke before adding with a wretched -looking face, “I told you to shut up! Didn’t you hear what I said?!”

“And stop calling him a kept man!”

“Who gave you the right to insult Prince York?!”

“Are you trying to kill me?”

Stephen mercilessly snapped the legs of the follower in no time.

He wiped the cold sweat off his head before approaching Harvey.

“I didn’t know it was you. Please forgive me,” he whispered, covering his face in fear.

“I’m just doing my job. I have to comply with Young Lord York’s orders.”

Slap!

Harvey sent Stephen rolling on the ground with the back of his palm.

“Kneel, apologize, break your hand, and get the f*ck out of here.”

“Of course. Of course! Thank you for your kindness, Prince York.”

Stephen wouldn't dare waste any more time. He kicked the followers behind him to the ground before breaking every single one of their arms.

He then knelt in front of Harvey and slammed his right hand to the ground, snapping it in an instant.

After that, Stephen bowed respectfully and stumbled out of the place with his followers, whose initially smug expressions had changed drastically.

Everything happened too fast. Taichi and the others had no time to react.

Harvey calmly looked at the Islanders and said calmly, "Sorry, but that guy won't be enough to scare me."

Taichi and his secretary were stunned, their eyes twitching uncontrollably.

They never thought that Stephen, who came from the Yorks of Hong Kong, couldn't hold Harvey back.

Though they were frightened of Harvey's identity and way of doing things, they were still filled with disdain.

In their eyes, a mere man from Country H would always be inferior.

Besides, Harvey would only dare break Stephen and his followers' hands. The Islanders were certain Harvey wouldn't dare lay a finger on them.

Taichi and the others looked proud and arrogant.

"Go on, keep calling. I'm waiting," Harvey went on calmly.

"Impressive! Very impressive!"

"A mere man from Country H can actually be this arrogant?! You think I can't keep you down?!"

Taichi was filled with unbridled rage upon seeing Harvey's conceited attitude.

He swiftly picked up his phone and dialed another number.

"I'll call my cousin Yukiko Ishikawa right now! You're all finished!"

"Just you wait!"

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2834

Yukiko was a direct descendant of the Ishikawa family. She had been the representative of the Island Nation Embassy in Mordu.

She was considered to be the most outstanding person in the younger generation of the family.

Her identity could suppress anyone who dared to oppose her. If anyone went against her, they would be going against the Island Nations as a whole.

If that was the case, a diplomatic affair would occur.

While Taichi was dialing the number, he was extremely proud of himself.

Harvey found the name familiar. He barely recalled the time he slapped Yukiko in the face back in Mordu.

If it weren't for Taichi , Harvey wouldn't even remember such a small fry.

Harvey had no intention to stop the call, though. He waited calmly for Taichi to finish.

The call got through soon after.

Taichi turned on the speakers. A distant yet alluring tone could be heard throughout the entire room.

“Who is it?”

Taichi's body trembled as he grew ecstatic.

“It's me, Representative Ishikawa ! I'm Taichi , your distant cousin!”

“I came to Hong Kong to talk about the deal with Loxus Consortium , but I'm getting picked on right now!”

“That man even said that the Ishikawa family means nothing to him!”

“He’s completely disrespecting us right now!”

“You have to claim justice for us, Representative Ishikawa!”

Taichi wanted to put as much blame on Harvey as possible. He knew Yukiko would have a chance to show up if Harvey made a lot of serious offenses.

If not, it would be pretty shameless for the representative to mediate such a small affair.

“I even got slapped in the face!”

“These people are looking down on us!”

“For the glory of the Island Nations, you have to show them justice!”

After hearing those words, the voice on the other side of the phone grew a lot colder.

“Who dares disrespect our family like that?”

“Does he have a death wish?”

“Give me his name! I’ll get the Shinkage Way to deal with him!”

Although the Shinkage Way was completely destroyed in both Hong Kong and Las Vegas, they were still extremely powerful.

There was a high probability that they had support within Hong Kong as well. Yukiko wouldn’t be so arrogant if that wasn’t the case.

Upon hearing the Shinkage Way’s name, Taichi’s conceit grew tenfold.

He knew full well what that name meant.

“Yukiko, right? I’m Harvey. If you forgot who I am, I suggest you call the Shinkage Way first,” Harvey said calmly after snatching the phone away from Taichi.

“Your people are causing trouble in my territory, showing off because you have some stupid contract, and hitting my staff members. How are you supposed to deal with this?”

‘What the f*ck?!’

Taichi and the others froze completely. They felt sluggish, thinking that they had heard wrongly.

After being disrespected, they pulled out their best trump card without any restraint!

Yet, Harvey questioned Yukiko on how she would solve the dispute?!

Didn't this man hear who Yukiko was?!

She was the representative of the Island Nation Embassy!

She stood for the dignity of the Island Nations as a whole!

How dare this kept man be so cocky?!
