

Chapter 2835

“Harvey York?!”

Yukiko on the other side of the phone froze before losing her voice.

“B-Branch Leader York?”

“That’s right,” Harvey calmly replied.

The phone was dead silent. Yukiko was completely shocked.

As the representative of the Island Nation Embassy, she had access to more information compared to others.

For example, she knew that the Shinkage Way’s Sword Saint, Miyata, was killed by Harvey.

The Shindan Way’s Akio was forced to flee by Harvey as well.

These incidents alone were enough to make Yukiko understand that this man was far more frightening compared to the time he was in Mordu.

The Island Nations even warned her not to provoke Harvey again, unless it was absolutely necessary.

After all, they hadn't come up with a plan to deal with Harvey just yet.

Going against Harvey willy-nilly would only bring them ruin.

A hint of flattery and shyness could be heard from Yukiko's initially cold and distant tone.

"I'm so sorry, Branch Leader York. I had no idea we offended you! The Ishikawa family will take responsibility for this!"

Although Yukiko was thousands of miles away from Harvey, her sincerity could still be heard on the other side of the phone.

Taichi and the others froze once more. They couldn't come to their senses.

'Yukiko ... A woman with such an immense status is showing respect to Harvey?!'

'She's even doing her best to pamper him!'

'Who is this man?!'

"How will the family deal with this?" Harvey asked, not bothered to give her a straight answer.

"After all, you people have quite the temper. You come late one day, then you leave early on the next. How arrogant can you get?"

"Do you think those from Country H are just a bunch of cowards?"

"If you don't give me a fair statement today, I'll demand one right in front of your doorstep tomorrow.”

Yukiko was on the verge of passing out upon hearing Harvey’s threat.

“Don’t worry , Branch Leader York! I’ll be sure to give you a fair statement,” she exclaimed frantically.

“I’ll board the first flight to deal with this right now.”

“I’m sure you’ll be satisfied by the results!”

Taichi and the others were horrified to hear those words.

‘We’re finished!’

“Right. Now that your backup from thousands of miles away can’t stop me...”

“You got anyone else?”

“If not, I’ll have to do my job now...”

Taichi was filled with despair. What else could he do when even Yukiko gave in?

He leaned toward Harvey and exclaimed in panic, "I was ignorant, Sir York. Just pretend that I spouted bullsh *t and let me go!"

Slap!

Harvey swung the back of his palm across Taichi's face, hard.

"Get out!" he snarled.

"Tell Yukiko to send the contract to Loxus Consortium before ten o'clock!"

"I have the final say about the products, including how to sell them, how much we're selling, and the profit distribution!"

"Got that?!"

"You better get that contract ready!"

“If there’s anything wrong with it tomorrow, you know what’ll happen next!”

Harvey kicked Taichi out of the guest room after he was done talking.

“Thank you for sparing me, Sir York!”

“Thank you so much!”

The cowardly Islanders lost all the courage they had in the beginning and stumbled out of the place in an instant.

Olivia, who was standing in place, was shocked.

‘That actually worked?!’

Chapter 2836

Early in the morning the next day, Harvey was informed about the Loxus Consortium's meeting after waking up in the garden villa.

When Queenie brought Harvey to the company's meeting room, it was completely full.

Aside from Dante and several higher ups, there were a few other people there.

The person sitting in the middle was none other than the head of the head house, the CEO and chairman of the Loxus Consortium, Cory York.

He was Vince's father, and was also quite the big character within the family itself.

After seeing Cory's arrival, Queenie frowned.

She felt a sense of hostility that she had never experienced before.

Harvey didn't feel anything , however . He casually greeted everyone around him without showing much emotion.

“Morning, everyone. Are you all here to witness someone's hand breaking today?”

“That's him, Chairman! He's Harvey York!”

Before Cory and the others could speak even a word, Dante stood up and pointed furiously at Harvey.

“Queenie ruined my chances to work with Young Master Ishikawa!”

“Harvey then spouted nonsense, saying that I'm useless before threatening to kick me out of the company!”

“I was resentful, so I made a bet against him and let him talk with Young Master Ishikawa for the company's interests!"

"If he can get the deal with Ishikawa Corporation, I'll admit defeat!"

"I thought it'd be fine if everything's for the sake of the company! I did so much for Harvey behind the scenes when I heard that he was going to meet Young Master Ishikawa yesterday afternoon!"

"But who expected that he'd force his hand and hit Young Master Ishikawa's secretary before chasing Young Master Ishikawa away?!"

"We're done for! Why would a major figure like Young Master Ishikawa work with us anymore?!"

"That contract's destined to go to our competitors at this point!"

“That’s why, for the company’s interests, I think we should remove Harvey from his position as a consultant!”

“Queenie naturally isn’t fit for her position, either!”

“If they keep abusing their powers, the company will fall sooner or later because of them!”

Dante was showing a righteous look.

“I hope you can put the company before your family, Chairman York!”

“Don’t let Queenie off the hook just because she’s the lord’s daughter!”

“The company prioritizes capable people out of anything!”

Naturally, Dante received some information about yesterday’s contract meeting.

However, he didn't get the entire picture.

He only knew about Harvey slapping Taichi in the face, but he didn't know what happened afterwards.

After all, there were some things that were way beyond his comprehension.

After hearing Dante's words, the directors and several female higher ups glared disdainfully at Queenie and Harvey.

A few higher ups who had a decent relationship with Dante spoke up for him, saying that Queenie had to be taken down.

After all, these people were quite protective about their money and interests.

Harvey displayed absolute strength the other day, but these people wouldn't sit still if their interests were threatened.

Chapter 2837

“Cough, cough!”

The man who was in his fifties, wearing gold-framed glasses and a tunic suit while invoking the aura of an elite, Cory, coughed lightly.

He sat up straight and flipped through the documents in front of him, then narrowed his eyes at Queenie.

“Queenie, is everything Manager Castro said true?”

“Do you mind explaining yourself?”

He didn't question Harvey directly. In his eyes, Harvey was just a shameless kept man. Thus, there was no need to question Harvey.

“Everything he said is true.”

Queenie was apathetic and emotionless, wearing a poker face.

“But he didn’t say why Harvey did it.”

“Young Master Ishikawa and the Islanders were hitting our staff members as they pleased.”

“Harvey wanted to stand up for them. That’s why he took action against Young Master Ishikawa and the others.”

“I think it’s right for Harvey to do what he had done.”

“If you think he should take responsibility for this, then I’ll take all the blame for him instead.”

“After all, I told everyone that his words are my own, and that his actions are mine as well.”

“I won’t go back on my word.”

Harvey glanced at Queenie, curious. He didn’t think she would have such charming qualities.

Dante laughed coldly.

“Ms. York, a rich heir like Young Master Ishikawa is obviously conceited!” he exclaimed.

“I got slapped in the face by him a few times, but did I even do anything? So what if some measly staff members get slapped?! This is a blessing for them to enjoy that kind of hospitality with me!”

“If Young Master Ishikawa hands me the contract, I’ll let him step on me for the sake of the company, let alone slap me in the face!”

“You’re a businesswoman yourself ! How can you not understand such simple things?!”

“Great plans need immense patience!”

“Why go against them completely because of a little violence?!”

“You even hit Secretary Akina in the face and threatened Young Master Ishikawa! You’re asking for them to turn their backs on us at this point!”

“Don’t you understand how influential they are throughout the entire globe?”

“I heard Secretary Akina even threatened to blacklist us everywhere!”

“Don’t you realize how bad this is?!”

“This only happened because you don’t know how to humble yourself!”

“You asked Young Master Ishikawa to be here by three o'clock , but don't you know that you have to be an hour earlier since you're the host?!"

"If you can't understand this, then that means you're a little too young for this! You're not fit to be the executive CEO!"

"For the sake of the company , please leave right now!"

After hearing Dante's righteous speech, everyone else began to nod in unison.

'He's right! This is how business is done nowadays!'

'Not only do we have to wait for our clients ahead of time , but we also have to endure the frustrations!'

'The staff members are no different!'

'Even if they hit Queenie, she'd have to swallow the pain for the sake of the deal!'

“If that’s really the case, then you’re a little too immature, Queenie.”

Cory leaned on the couch while lighting the cigar in his hand before glaring coldly at Queenie.

“Those who get swayed by emotions are the most despised people in the business world.”

“As long as your clients don’t cross the line and harm the interests of the company, you should be complying with them.”

“Because you were late, you infuriated our clients and caused them to hit a few of our staff members.”

“And then you tried to reclaim justice? You botched such an important chance for us to work together, causing the loss of the company’s interests! This isn’t right!”

Chapter 2838

“Besides , even if you were in a bad mood , you shouldn't have gone against them so much and slapped Secretary Akina in the face!”

“I heard she's actually Young Master Ishikawa's mistress!”

“Do you think we can gain anything by hitting his woman?!”

“Making the deal with the Ishikawa family is our company's top priority this year.”

“If we complete the deal, our shares will rise at least twice as much!”

“But because of you, this important deal was botched!”

Cory put on a disappointed look.

“All this happened on the very first day you took the position ! I’m truly disappointed !”

“I’ll ask Fourth Brother for a statement about this!”

“Even if he’s picking favorites, this still isn’t the right way to choose the company staff!”

“How about this? Write a resignation letter yourself. I’ll let you off the hook.”

“I’ll tell Fourth Brother to stop shoving useless people my way.”

“Loxus Consortium is the family’s money tree!”

“This isn’t a place to pick favorites and join forces!”

Queenie frowned. If Cory was only going against her, she wouldn't feel that much resentment.

However, she was rather upset upon hearing that Cory was planning to go for Marcel as well.

Before Queenie could speak, Harvey took a step forward and interrupted calmly, “Chairman York, right?”

“We only slapped a mere Islander’s face.”

“How dire could the situation be?”

Harvey glanced calmly around the room.

“I know you only care about the interests of the company.”

“But isn’t it a little too unreasonable to strip Queenie away from her position because of such a small matter?”

“A small matter?!”

“A mediocre company?!”

“A mere Islander?!”

Dante scoffed after hearing Harvey’s words.

“What do you know, you little b*stard?! Do you know how much money that so-called mediocre company makes around the globe every single year?!”

“Do you even understand the benefits that our company will reap if we sign a deal with them?!”

“Let me tell you something! If we get the contract, even if we get ten percent of the profits, we’ll earn hundreds and millions of dollars worth of revenue every year!”

“All we need to do is to act as their proxy service and sell their products in Hong Kong!”

“It’s such an easy way to make money! We can’t ask for this anywhere else!”

“I’d kneel every single day just for someone to offer me a similar job!”

“Let alone getting slapped in the face!”

“A kid like you doesn’t understand the importance of the situation, yet you’re still trying to talk big!”

“Have you thought of the consequences?!”

Cory looked at Harvey calmly.

“To protect the bigger picture, it’s natural to take a few slaps across the face if necessary.”

“Since ancient times, people with great ambitions do not bother themselves with small matters!”

“In olden times, mighty kings had the heart to take humiliation!”

“Generals had the modesty to swallow their pride!”

“So what if you suffer a little for the greater good?”

“If you can’t even do such a thing, then it’s apparent that you two are unfit for your positions.”

Harvey shrugged.

“I don’t know how you people do things here,” he spat coldly.

“But for Queenie and I, we’ll earn money with our dignity intact.”

“If you want us to kneel, and to a few Islanders at that, then we’re not going to do it.”

Queenie smiled calmly and walked toward Harvey without saying a single word, as if to show her support for him. 4
