

Chapter 51

Lilian would know this person even if he turned into ash because he was the useless live-in son-in-law—Harvey! It was not that she had not seen a Porsche, but hers was the entry-level model, which cost about a hundred thousand dollars.

However, Harvey drove the special edition Panamera where the price was about four hundred thousand dollars. Mandy's car was only a fraction of that figure. Although the Zimmer family ran a big business, they were still a second-class family. It was difficult for ordinary people to pay so much money at once to buy a car like this.

This car could be regarded as Lilian's dream car. Hence, she could not react even when her useless son-in-law stepped out of the car.

Harvey did not care about this. Instead, he walked in and greeted Mandy while carrying something in his hand. "I'm back."

Mandy was also a little dazed. She looked at Harvey and then at the Porsche outside, with a doubtful expression on her face.

Harvey smiled and said after perceiving Mandy's gaze. "Didn't I mention that I will help my classmate to buy a car in the morning? I picked the one I fancied. But the car hasn't been licensed yet. So, I will drive it temporarily these few days."

Mandy suddenly remembered about it. That explained why Harvey got the car. However, Harvey's classmate was truly generous. Not only did he lent him seven hundred thousand dollars, but he also lent him a car worth more than four hundred thousand dollars. He was indeed a rich guy. ③

At this moment, Lilian came back to her senses. She initially had a little expectation, but she could not help but sneer at this point. "I thought this useless thing had turned things around. It turns out that the car was someone else's. Why? Have you learned to be a driver?"

“Harvey, let me tell you. You can lose your face, but the Zimmer family can’t afford to lose their reputation. Whether you want to be a driver, or you want to wash the toilet, it’s none of my business as long as you divorce Mandy quickly. The more I look at you, the more disgusting I will be. I’m afraid that I can’t even eat if I look at you anymore.”

Harvey ignored Lilian. His relationship with Mandy had finally changed after three years. He would not be thinking about divorce now.

Mandy who was standing behind hesitated for a while. She then whispered. “Mother, you don’t have to worry about my affairs. Anyway, he has started working now. He has reformed...and the marriage was arranged by Grandmother back then. It’s decided. If we divorce at will, we can’t explain to the Zimmer family...”

Lilian was a bit speechless. The old man did support the divorce when there was Don Xander in the past. After all, who would not want to have a capable grandson-in-law?

However, after the incident last time, the Zimmer family seemed to have become a joke in Niumhi lately. Hence, it would probably be impossible for Senior Zimmer to agree to their divorce anytime soon.

Lilian was shivering with anger. She could not figure it out at this moment. It could not be helped if Senior Zimmer did not agree to it. However, why did her precious daughter not side with her?

“Wow, Panamera! Sister, which young master is coming after you again? He even left his car in front of our house?”

Xynthia walked in from the door and put down her school bag on the sofa. She then glanced at Harvey and said, “Hey, loser, I want to drink milk tea. Go and buy one for me. By the way, my sister wants to drink too. Remember to buy them without ice.”

Harvey tried to ignore Xynthia. Nonetheless, he did not say anything when he heard the last sentence.

He just turned around and walked out.

Xynthia initially had a cold expression on her face. However, she was shocked and opened up her mouth wide when she saw Harvey open the car door.

“Sister, you must be retarded, right? You have bought such a good car for this useless b*stard! This guy had the gall to drive!” Xynthia never thought that this car might belong to Harvey. She naturally thought that it was Mandy who bought it for him.

Mandy was amused and vexed. She said, “Your sister’s company is now having liquidity problems. Do you think I might spend several hundred thousand dollars to buy a broken car?”

“Sister, are you calling that a broken car? Its price is equivalent to our villa!” Xynthia felt strange, her pretty little face was full of doubts. “Is it possible that he has managed to turn things around? Maybe luck has come to our house this year?”

Lilian chuckled and said, “Enough, Mandy, don’t tease your sister. Harvey borrowed that car from his classmate.”

However, Lilian could not hide her envy although she kept saying that it was a broken car.

Those who could drive a Porsche Panamera could certainly be regarded as a first-class family in Niumhi.

Although the Zimmer family’s business was big and well-off, there was still a big gap from being a first-class family.

Xynthia was not in the mood anymore when she heard that the car did not belong to Harvey.

Instead, she picked up her phone and said, “Sister, did you know that the internet has blown up today? Someone took a video, saying that someone was being driven away by the York’s security guards. That person seemed to be Zack.”

Mandy usually did not care about those gossips, but when she heard that it was Zack, she unconsciously grabbed Xynthia’s phone and looked at it.

There was indeed a person who was driven out on screen. His figure almost resembled Zack. However, the person who was shooting the video stood too far away and could not capture his face.

This video came with a rock beat. It was trending on the internet, and it got almost over a million likes.

Mandy glanced a few times and smiled. She knew her sister wanted to make her happy.

However, Lilian also came over and took a look. She then sneered, “That little kid—Harvey would have such a day sooner or later. Wait till I change to a capable son-in-law, he is going to wish he was dead!”

She glared at Mandy with resentment after finishing her statement, and she seemed to have to find another time to have a good chat with Mandy.

Chapter 52

Meanwhile, Harvey was queuing up for the milk tea. His cell phone rang. Yvonne's voice came from the opposite end. "CEO, someone has uploaded the video of Zack being driven out on the internet. The netizens were already questioning us, saying that we were too cruel. Do you think we need to hold a press conference to explain it?"

Harvey thought for a while and said, "Are there any footage of the meeting room that day? Just cover up the female colleague's face that was at the front desk and find someone to post it online.

"Yes!" Yvonne's eyes lit up when she heard that. 'CEO is indeed the CEO. He's able to solve such a big matter with just two sentences. Why didn't I think of that?'

Harvey had already hung up the phone without waiting for Yvonne's compliment. He got his milk tea and was ready to go home.

He suddenly heard a squeal of brakes behind him as soon as he walked to the side of the road. An Audi A 4 suddenly stopped behind Harvey and vaguely heard a yell from the car.

The next moment, a woman with thick make-up, whose perfume could be smelled from ten meters away, slammed the car door open and came down from the car. She pointed at Harvey and cursed. “Does this road belong to you? Are you blind?! Or are you trying to fake an accident and scam me? I’m telling you, if you want to scam me, you better get out of here now, I won’t give you a single cent!”

Harvey frowned. He was eager to go home now and wanted to ignore this woman. He then turned and was about to leave.

“Oh, isn’t this our classmate—Harvey who’s a wine hustler? Did you quit that job and try to scam people with fake accidents now?”

At this moment, a discordant voice sounded from the passenger seat. A man in a white shirt opened the door and got out of the car. He looked at Harvey ironically.

Harvey frowned and looked over. He then saw his class monitor in university—Howard was standing there with his arms folded at the moment. He was looking at him with disgust.

The woman with thick make-up snuggled up against him and said with a smile. “Brother Howard, do you know this guy? Is he your classmate?”

Howard jokingly said, “How can I not know him? This is my old classmate. I just met him recently. By the way, my friend, are you also doing part-time delivering food?”

Howard laughed loudly after speaking. Harvey was now wearing a set of clothes that he bought from the roadside stall, and the two cups of milk tea in his hands were nicely packaged, which made him look like a delivery boy.

The woman with thick makeup said delicately, “So, he's a delivery boy. I thought he's a hustler. What a fright! Brother Howard, why do you have such a classmate? He's a disgrace. You better stay away from this trash in the future!"

Howard smiled and said, "He's not just trash. He has become a live-in son-in-law after graduating from the university. I heard that he washes the clothes and the toilet every day. At this point, I could only say that he's extremely useless as a man." 3

“Yes, Brother Howard, you’re great. You just found a job with an annual salary of seventy six thousand dollars. How can he—a live-in son-in-law understand what this means?!” The woman with thick makeup was beaming with pride as if she had found herself a rich husband.

Harvey glanced at Howard in surprise. It seemed that this guy was quite capable.

Howard thought Harvey was being jealous when he saw his gaze. He humbled himself and said, “Don’t irritate my old classmate. I’m just lucky. My cousin—Don Xander is the senior executive of York Enterprise. He sent my resume to the company before, and the company thought I was excellent. They decided to hire me. It’s nothing.”

Howard was beaming with pride when he mentioned York Enterprise. After all, everyone knew that the Yorks—the top family in Niumhi were the ones behind York Enterprise. He would have a promising career if he was able to work with such an influential family.

Harvey was stunned. It seemed he still did not know that Don had been dismissed yet. He thought that he could get whatever he wanted as long as his cousin was still working there.

The human resource department probably did not know why Don was dismissed, otherwise, how could they recruit Howard?

Harvey turned around and left after looking at Howard a few more times. He was too lazy to talk with such a person. He would just cancel his employment letter later. Why did he have to waste his energy now?

Harvey wanted to leave. However, Howard did not want to let him go. He walked over and stared at Harvey coldly.

“Is there anything else?” Harvey said faintly.

“Have you forgotten that you have cheated us at the reunion dinner a few days ago?” Howard was full of hatred while speaking of this. He was humiliated in front of Wendy at that time. Later, he wanted to add her Facebook but was rejected. This was all because of Harvey.

Harvey slightly frowned and said, “Howard, I let someone waive the bill and gave you free food that day because you are my old classmate. What else do you want?”

“Free food?” Howard sneered and said loudly, “Harvey, you are so good at bragging. The entire Niumhi knew that you are just a live-in son-in-law of the Zimmer family and a worthless trash. How could you order someone to waive the bill for us? Go, ask everyone, and see who believes in you? Waiving the bill?! Bullsh*t!”

Howard could not resist embellishing the story while talking loudly about what happened at the reunion dinner.

At this moment, many people had gathered around to watch. They were all talking about it after hearing Howard's words.

Chapter 54

“He turns out to be a live-in son-in-law. He’s such a disgrace for men!”

“Hey, this handsome guy is saying that this live-in son-in-law lured his classmates to buy expensive wine at their reunion dinner. However, he did not succeed in scamming his classmates. He even bragged that he has let someone waive the bill for them.”

“How come there is such a person? He’s a shame for men!”

“Such worthless trash! Why isn’t he fatally struck by a car?!”

The people were gossiping about the story, and Harvey was instantly angry.

‘I am in such a good mood today. I just came out to buy milk tea for my wife. How did I meet such a fool? Why didn’t I know that Howard was an idiot?’

The woman next to him was even more arrogant now.

Just when Howard was about to continue, Harvey had already carefully put the milk tea on the ground. He then said coldly, “Howard, I’m warning you since you were my classmate, don’t take this any further!”

“Why? What can you do to me? Can’t I say about the things that you have done?” Although Howard saw Harvey’s angry face, he still spoke indifferently. He was sure that Harvey was all talk.

Slap!

Harvey slapped him in the face unexpectedly as soon as Howard finished his words.

Howard was stunned. He regained his senses after a while. He then shouted. “Harvey, do you know who I am? Don’t think that I don’t know your wife’s family is asking for investment from our company recently! I’m telling you. You can forget about the investment! Unless you get down and lick my boots, otherwise, no one will help you!”

Harvey looked at him coldly and said, “So what if I hit you? Believe it or not, if you talk nonsense again, I will smash your Audi today.”

The corner of Howard’s eyes twitched. He was really afraid that Harvey would do this. He bought this Audi on installment, and he still needed to pay off more than thirty thousand dollars. He would be so distressed if Harvey smashed it.

The onlookers were stunned. They did not expect this live-in son-in-law to be so ruthless and was such a character.

“Oh gosh! He must have suffered a lot back home, and there is nowhere for him to vent it out!”

“But this handsome guy is also at fault. Why did he care about this kind of person? If he smashes the car, it’ll be problematic.”

“Poor people don’t like seeing others driving luxury cars, they...”

Everyone saw Harvey walking toward the brand new Panamera, opened the car door, and sat in it while they were still talking.

At this moment, those people were shocked and they were eating their own words. If the Audi A4 was a luxury car, what about a Porsche?

‘Isn’t he a live-in son-in-law? But he’s driving the special edition Porsche Panamera. I have never heard of any live-in son-in-law who would have such good treatment!’

“Porsche?!” The woman’s face turned pale. She had dreamt of riding in it before. However, she was already very lucky to be able to ride in the Audi A4 with her appearance.

At this moment, when she saw the live-in son-in-law who she despised driving the Porsche, her expression was spectacular.

Howard looked awful but with a little envy and a trace of jealousy. He scolded. “It’s not a big deal! It’s just his wife’s car. No one has ever lived off a woman to such an extent as him...”

However, no one agreed with Howard’s words this time. Instead, they looked at him as if he was a lunatic. ‘Are you out of your mind? You are calling the person who drives the Porsche a delivery boy and also a live-in son-in-law?’

Howard hated him so much while seeing this scene. He had already made up his mind. When he officially entered the York Enterprise, he would use his authority to mess with the Zimmer family. Maybe he could use his power to get the goddess—Harvey’s wife...

Howard looked vicious as soon as he thought of this.

Inside the car, Harvey dialed Yvonne’s number casually and said, “I heard that the company recently recruited a group of new employees?”

“Yes, we did recruit a few people. Do you want to have a look at it, Mr. York?”

Harvey said indifferently, “No, go and see whether there is a person named Howard Stone among them. Reduce his annual salary by ten times and change his position to the security guard who’s in charge of the parking...”

“Yes!” Yvonne did not dare to ask more. She knew that she should not question or second-guess Mr. York’s decisions.

The instruction was quickly passed down through calls upon each respective department. Soon after, it reached Howard’s cell phone, who was mad at the moment.

Howard, who was initially angry, was shocked when he saw the caller ID. He quickly answered the phone, nodded, and bowed. He said, “Yes, yes...I am. How can I help you?”

“Congratulations, Mr. Stone. The CEO has agreed to issue you the appointment letter...” A profound voice came across the phone.

Chapter 55

Howard felt proud and purposely turned on the speaker with everyone watching upon hearing this. He then coughed and said loudly, “Manager, are you saying that the CEO of York Enterprise has signed my appointment letter?”

The onlookers were looking at Howard with admiration when those words were being said.

“This elite said that he’s working in York Enterprise with an annual salary of seventy-six thousand dollars!”

“He’s surely from the senior management, and he has a bright future!”

“This is what it means to be young and successful. It is said that York Enterprise is also very demanding even in finding their security guard. Moreover, this company has plenty of deep connections. Those who can enter the company are industry elites!”

At this moment, many people were envious and jealous of him and wished they could replace him.

The woman with thick makeup who was standing beside Howard was looking at him with admiration at this moment. The man she chose was great. He was a man amongst men, an elite among elites. No ordinary man could compare to him. Those who lived off women were even more incomparable.

In short, Howard looked so handsome in her eyes at this moment.

On the other end of the phone, the man's voice had a hint of playfulness, and said, “Yes, the CEO's secretary has just passed the message down, and it is believed that he enjoyed looking at your resume ...”

“It's my pleasure!” Howard raised his head and looked around arrogantly.

“So, after being selected by the CEO, there will be an adjustment to your job position and salary...”

Howard was shocked. He previously applied for the position of deputy manager of the investment department.

Could it be possible that he was appointed as the department manager now?

“So, the CEO...” Howard was being cautious and did not dare to be arrogant at all.

The other party chuckled and continued. “The CEO would like you to make a big sacrifice...”

“I’m not wronged, not wronged. I just want to devote all the efforts to...” Howard said loudly, looking around with a smug expression as if working for the CEO of York Enterprise was great.

Well, it was indeed amazing, at least those onlookers were green with envy now.

“If you’re okay with it, then there’s no problem.

Then you shall report to work tomorrow.” The other party smiled vaguely and was about to hang up.

Howard glanced at the people around him and quickly said, “Can you tell me what position has the CEO assigned for me? Is it the administrative department? Or the investment department? Or the logistic department?”

Howard was anticipating, those were all fortune if he was able to be in that position, having an annual salary of about a hundred thousand dollars was not a dream.

The other party seemed to continue to laugh and said, “Mr. Stone, you are appointed as the security consultant of our company—York Enterprise. You will be responsible for the security of our company and our customers’ large mobile assets...”

Howard was shocked. This guy was classy and high-end. It was not easy to understand his words! Seeing the doubtful expression on the people’s faces, Howard continued, “Manager, can you speak in plain words...”

“Speaking in plain words, alright... You are assigned to be our company’s security guard, responsible for helping the company and customers in arranging parking spaces. Your annual salary is about seven thousand dollars. By the way, you have already agreed to come to work just now. If you breach the contract, you will have to compensate ten times the liquidated damages according to the contract.”

Dududu...

Howard’s face was dull. He held the phone for a long time. He was too shocked to react.

The woman with thick makeup was also taken aback. She said, “Security? Are you working as a security guard in York Enterprise?”

Slap!

The woman had already slapped him in the face before he even reacted. She sternly shouted. “You’ re just a security guard. How dare you lie to me? You even accused someone of being the live-in son-in-law. You—a security guard is even worse than a live-in son-in-law!”

At this moment, the people surrounding came around eventually.

“Hahahaha, security? This guy was acting all along. He turned out to be a security guard at York Enterprise!”

“I initially thought he was a pretty legit guy. I thought he was so great and awesome. But then, he works as a security guard for other people!”

“How dare he speak up and be pretentious when he’s just being appointed as the security guard. What the hell is wrong with him?”

There was a burst of laughter from all around. Howard only felt the burning pain on his face. He gritted his teeth at this moment and said in hatred, “Harvey! It’s you! It’s all because of you!”

He hated the right person, but for the wrong reasons.

Meanwhile, Harvey just parked the car and walked into the house. The two security guards of the Zimmer family had been waiting for him at the door for a long time...
