

Her Billionaire 615

Chapter 615 Matthew's Anxious Look

The venue was presently filled with guests in attendance. As soon as the music rang out from the wedding ballroom, the imposing doors were slowly opened from the outside. There was a spotlight beaming from inside the ballroom to the entrance.

Finally, the doors were fully open and the spotlight shone on the bride and groom. Matthew held Veronica's hand and slowly led her into the ballroom. The couple came into the crowd's line of sight and there was a flurry of gasps.

Veronica was wearing an exquisite tiara that looked stunning while dressed in a flowy white wedding gown. There was a silver-threaded embroidered part on the gown and it depicted a butterfly fluttering its wings in the air, symbolizing metamorphosis.

Meanwhile, the handsome groom next to her wore a custom-made white tuxedo with sapphire stone buttons on his sleeves, accompanied with a pair of shiny leather shoes.

There was also a live band by the left side of the ballroom and they were dressed according to the theme as well. At that moment, they played the song 'The Happiest Trip'.

The host of the day was dressed in red and he held the microphone as he congratulated the couple with cheesy, romantic words. After quite some time, he finally went into the main segment. "The Murphys have proudly brought up Miss Veronica Murphy into a well-educated, polite, and charming lady.

Today, Mr. Matthew Kings from the Kings Family, who's intelligent, good-looking, and upright, is about to marry Miss Veronica Murphy on the 28th of September 2022. All of us here are gathered at the Atlantis Hotel today to celebrate their unification. May their married life be blessed with happiness..."
