

Her Billionaire 621

Chapter 621 Buying off Troy to Kill Matthew

In order to differentiate who were their comrades and enemies, as well as to guarantee the hotel staff safety, Matthew switched every staff member to his men by approving them leaves. Furthermore, the whole hotel was rented two weeks ago. No outsiders were allowed to enter.

His meticulous arrangement was out of Zac and the others' expectation. Besides, Matthew had always been vigilant; aside from his confidants, no one was allowed to come near him.

Not only did no one gain the upper hand of the fight, which lasted for more than half an hour, Matthew was also unscathed. As a result, Zac became anxious about that.

"Earning your trust by executing Matthew? It'll be my loss. Count me out," Troy refused without a second thought.

"Come again?" Zac's sunglasses covered the cold glint in his eyes.

"One hundred million dollars if I kill him. Once everything's done, I'm out of the team." Troy turned his head. His scarred face spoke of cruelty and his eyes were as frosty as ice. It was as if he was an emotionless machine.

Zac laughed. "Deal."

Kings' head? This is a steal!

gladly accepted the

pay half of it as a

of it?" When Zac looked at Troy's indifferent expression and eyes, he hesitated momentarily before fishing out take it, Zac suddenly withdrew his hand.

discern the murderous glint in Troy's eyes. Zac flashed a smile and it into his pocket and a second, Troy swiftly reloaded the bullets. However, his pistol. Zac's ego

shrank his neck and did as he was told to. "Mr.