

Her Billionaire 630

Chapter 630 Losing Contact With Matthew

After a long time, somebody came and rescued Veronica and Xavier. It was Thomas. When he saw Xavier, he pointed his gun at the latter in an attempt to get rid of him, but Veronica stretched out her hand and stopped him. "He's the one who saved me," she said.

Thomas knitted his brows, thinking that she was being sentimental. "Mrs. Kings, we'll bring endless trouble upon ourselves if we don't kill him right now."

"In that case, just wait until he has fully recovered and leaves. You guys may do whatever you want by then." Tilting her head to one side, she looked at Xavier—who was lying on the ground—with a frown and a complicated look on her face. "But now, no one's allowed to touch him!" she said in an authoritative tone that brooked no objections.

Thomas clenched his fists angrily. In the end, he let out a snort and signaled to the bodyguards behind him to take Xavier away with a wave of his hand.

The group safely returned to Primrose Residence. Everything inside was fine; perhaps those people didn't stop here after they broke in and failed to find the person they were looking for. Naturally, the inside of the villa wasn't damaged.
