

Her Billionaire 639

Chapter 639 Kicked Out

After that, their call ended. Beep, beep...

As she listened to the dial tone, the phone slipped out of her hand and fell on the bed. Veronica covered her face with both hands. She did not make a sound, but there were tears dripping from her chin, and her shoulders were trembling.

A few more days passed, and there was still no news from Matthew. Veronica, who was in the throes of grief, turned her sorrow into motivation and was in the process of improving her emotions. When Luke knocked on the door of the ward and came in, he saw Veronica, dressed in a hospital gown, standing in front of the window looking into the distance, extremely quiet.

"Mrs. Kings, we just received news that Conrad held a shareholders' meeting at Spinfluence Group to announce that Matthew has disappeared and he will take over the company's affairs on his behalf for the time being," he informed Veronica about the company's affairs.

He could not understand why she reacted this way. Sensing that Luke hadn't left, she turned around and looked at him indifferently. "Even if those old foxes at Spinfluence Group knew that Matthew was missing,
