

Her Billionaire 641

Chapter 641 Shot in the Chest

“Other than Spinfluence Group, Young Master Matthew also owns Halston Technology, Alpha Design, Super Foods...”

After a moment of hesitation, Thomas revealed the other companies under Matthew’s name. First Meeting was the wedding company that the two of them co-owned and One Piece Restaurant was the top chain store in the country, which Veronica already knew about.

With a notebook, she wrote down some important information about the companies and said, “Make copies of all the details of these companies for me as soon as possible. Also, help me engage an assistant.”

There were some things that she couldn’t solve by herself, so she needed an assistant to aid her.

“Yes, Mrs. Kings.”

Thomas got up and turned around to walk toward the door. However, just as he reached the door, he stopped and swirled in hesitation before he returned to her side once again. “Mrs. Kings...”

He stood upright, then bowed vigorously and deeply. “Thank you.”

in him even when he was exiled by the rest

and instructed, “Just focus on doing your into silence once again. The excessively quiet atmosphere was filled with sorrow; it enveloped Veronica so tightly that even breathing seemed be found, and the day of their wedding was also the afternoon, someone knocked on the door of the

“Come in.”

and Caleb. The three men were carrying a pile of supplements, each with a face full of frustration. When they came in, their first reaction was to observe her. When they noticed that are you, Roni? Are you feeling have the time to visit

the

of them fired questions at her separately

her lap and raised her eyes to look at them. “I thought that if Matt wasn’t found, you guys