

Her Billionaire 737

Chapter 737 Threatening Shirley

Shirley froze on the spot due to the sheer anger Skyler was projecting. Her mind went blank like a broken computer. She was so shocked that it took a few embarrassing moments to finally understand Skyler's comment.

"What the hell are you talking about? He's just a friend." Shirley couldn't understand why Skyler disliked Wade so much.

She could hear on the phone that Wade was becoming anxious, so she quickly reassured him, "That's it. I have to go now. Bye!"

"Wait a minute!" Skyler stepped forward and stood in Shirley's way. "You're pretty good at kicking down the ladder." He looked slightly austere, and his eyes gleamed with a cold aura.

"Mr. Robins, as I said, I have something urgent to take care of now. I'm very grateful for your help today, and I'll definitely repay the favor in a couple of days."

Their relationship, which had just eased slightly, became estranged again because of Wade's phone call.

Skyler could feel her coldness judging from her flat tone, and he was slightly annoyed. Yet, he was even more irritated when Shirley left as soon as she finished speaking.

He shoved his hands in his pocket, tilted his head slightly, and rubbed his chin. He looked like the typical bad boy, but his aura was captivating and charming. The girls who walked past him couldn't help but look at him shyly, and a few braver ones even wanted to ask for his number.

"Wow, he's so handsome."

looks like my number! Can you help me ask

see that the young girls talked, they soon turned sure she's his girlfriend? She so pure and innocent!

looks

chatted, they walked

"his angel" lingered in his mind, and he

of going after her, he took out his phone striding away, looked down when she heard the ringtone. She stopped in her tracks when she saw Skyler's name popping phone and motioned for her to sighed in resignation as acquisition of Vincere Games, but since you're so busy, I'll be out of your way,"