

HBH Chapter 786

Chapter 786 False Evidence

“How dare you? You committed a crime in our palace and poisoned my brother.” Dominik held the coffee cup with his slender fingers, and his tone was so calm and light that Tiffany couldn’t figure out his emotions. However, the domineering aura exuding from his body made her fear him.

“Please forgive me, Prince Dominik! I’m innocent. Please forgive me. As long as you pardon me, I-I’ll tell you all of Prince Zac’s plans.”

During the evening bonfire feast, she happened to see a servant sending wine over after she had tidied herself up, so she asked to whom the wine was sent, and the servant answered it was to Liam.

So, she walked to the venue with the servant. Then, she saw Liam and Veronica standing side by side, so she deliberately tripped the servant, and as the servant was about to fall, she grabbed the wine bottle steadily and poured the drug she was carrying into the wine bottle.

using the drug, but she never thought that Veronica would ruin too slow and clumsy to even rip Veronica’s clothes apart. Tiffany was frustrated that her plan to humiliate Veronica failed, with a dangerous light as he was intrigued

I tell you his plan, h-he will Therefore, hardly any man could resist seeing her sorrowful expression. Regardless, Dominik had always been of forgive you and keep this conversation a secret.” As far as he was concerned, Tiffany was a nobody, but she had some value if she to her later to extract more information once she told him helpful information. Besides, she had ample opportunity to hook up with him when they exchanged information. Compared with Liam, a man of my bowed as a teardrop rolled down