

HBH Chapter 791

Chapter 810 Overconcerned

That said, Eleanor thoughtfully covered up the injuries on his face with concealer before they headed out, saving the young prince from being ridiculed in public.

“Liam!” Dominik lectured. “No honest job is too lowly to deserve respect. Eleanor has always been inquisitive about new things and is happy to learn from others. You should learn that from her.”

“I—Hmph!” Liam snorted upsettingly, then flumped back onto the couch as he mocked, “Well, you’re the big brother. Whatever you say goes.”

“Hahaha, you brothers sure are close. You two remind me of my younger self. My temper was exactly like Prince Liam’s.” Crayson thought out loud, then said, “You guys chat. I have to get something done in the study.”

“Please go ahead, Master Waylen,” said Dominik deferentially as he got up, to which Crayson nodded, then headed upstairs to the study.

Hayley was reading at the desk in the study when she heard the doorknob turning. At that, she looked up to find Crayson approaching her. “Have they left?”

and to reach her hands toward him... No doubt she wants to bribe him and make him their spy.”

use him well.” The elder, too, devised a rush. Let’s observe Crayson nodded, then added, “They’re eating downstairs, so I’m worry about it.” Hayley made nothing of the table full of Bloomstead’s specialties for lunch with Eleanor’s

the dining table and got ready to eat when Eleanor suddenly stood

Matthew to join her at cover would be blown, and on the other, she couldn’t