

Chapter 101 Give the Car up for Me

Needless to say, a large number of experts had worked to produce and debug this car.

Even billionaires and powerful aristocrats couldn't easily possess it. Some could only dream of having it.

After hearing Manager Gao's explanation, Su Bei got even more fascinated with the car.

"Manager Gao, this car is great!" she exclaimed with a smile. But there was also a hint of regret in her eyes. This car must cost a fortune. How could she afford it?

Manager Gao also smiled and said, "Miss Su, you have a good vision. You've been looking at this car for a long time already. I can say that you are destined to own it. I believe that owning a car is also a matter of fate. Otherwise, the car won't suit the person who wants it."

Su Bei just took his words as a sales talk, so she didn't pay much attention to the meaning hidden behind them.

But she remembered Gun Gun and Da Bao. Gun Gun had said that he liked this kind of car the most. Da Bao told her that a car with an intelligent system was the best. In her case, she liked the car's dark color, which looked stable and imposing.

"Miss Su, if you have no problem with this car, I can place the order for you now," Manager Gao said.

Su Bei was lost in thought. She was struggling between giving it up and buying it. At the same time, she was calculating the total amount in her bank account in her mind.

Su Huixian, who followed behind them, also stood in front of the car. Her eyes showed that she was also yearning for it.

The two cars that the store manager introduced to her just now were far inferior to this car in terms of appearance, interior, and quality.

Of course, Su Huixian wanted to buy something better. She wouldn't settle for something worse than Su Bei.

She couldn't help but secretly glance at the store manager. Why didn't he introduce this car to her?

When the store manager noticed that Su Huixian glanced at him, he immediately understood that she was blaming him for not introducing this car to her.

The truth was, he didn't know anything about this car, even the manufacturer, and the price. How could he offer it to her?

There was even no logo on it. So he thought that it was only an exhibit from a luxury car company.

He decided to confirm it. "Manager Gao, this car is not for sale, right?"

In his estimation, this car was worth at least five million yuan. Could Su Bei afford it?

If Manager Gao wanted to do business well, how could he introduce such an expensive car to her?

Manager Gao glanced at the store manager and said, "This car can actually be sold."

"Manager Gao, I want to know more about this car. Can you tell me the details?" Su Huixian said with a smile. She believed that Manager Gao would not refuse her.

Manager Gao glanced at her and said calmly, "Miss Su Huixian, I think Miss Su Bei will buy this car, so I'm sorry. I won't bother to go into more details about it with you. If you want, I can introduce another car to you."

Su Huixian understood his refusal, but she still smiled and said, "Even if Su Bei will buy this, it won't prevent me from ordering another one for myself, right? Unless there's only one available."

Xu Meiqi chimed in, "That's right. This car looks expensive. This must cost more than five million yuan, right? Either Huixian's father or fiance can buy it for her. How about Su Bei? Is there any man who can buy it for her?"

"Meiqi!" Su Huixian stopped Xu Meiqi at once. Saying such words in front of Manager Gao would not only embarrass Su Bei but would also make her look mean.

She then turned to Su Bei and smiled as if she never held a grudge against her. "Su Bei, why don't you just give up this car for me? I really like it. If you let me have it, I will put in a good word for you in front of Dad."

Chapter102 Silently Added Three Points to Him

Su Huixian's words sounded like Su Bei couldn't possibly become a member of the Su family again without her, let alone be loved by Su Xingfu.

It was as if even if Su Bei returned to the Su family in the future and received Su Xingfu's favor, the credits were all entirely hers.

Su Bei didn't respond to Su Huixian. But she knew that she couldn't afford to buy a car worth millions of yuan.

So she turned to Manager Gao and asked politely, "Manager Gao, how much is this car?"

Actually, she had already made up her mind that she would tell him frankly that she didn't have enough money. But she thanked him for his kindness.

"Miss Su, the current selling price of this car is five hundred and fifty thousand yuan. If I minus the discount and add the other fees, you will need to pay a total of five hundred and eight thousand yuan," Manager Gao answered while tapping on his calculator.

"How much is it again?" Su Bei asked, doubting that she had misheard him.

Just now, she had learned that the cars here cost more than one million yuan. That was actually the reason why the store manager had ridiculed her overtly.

"Five hundred and eight thousand yuan," Manager Gao solemnly repeated.

"Five hundred and eight thousand yuan?" Su Bei repeated with a big smile on her face.

The budget she had allotted for the car was five hundred thousand yuan. What a coincidence! It was almost the same as her expectation.

Manager Gao smiled and asked, "Miss Su, are you swiping a card?"

"Yes, I'll swipe my card." Su Bei's eyes shone with excitement. She couldn't imagine how happy Gun Gun and Da bao would be in the future if she drove this car to pick them up from school.

Lu Heting had really introduced a good car dealership to her. She was able to get the car she liked.

He was indeed reliable in everything.

She silently added three points to him in her heart.

"Manager Gao!" Su Huixian stopped Manager Gao and asked gently, "As I've just said, can I also order one? Don't worry, I will order a different color."

She didn't want to have the same car as Su Bei, but it was so beautiful that she couldn't resist it. And even if it was cheap, she felt that it was comfortable to drive.

Manager Gao apologized, "I'm so sorry, Miss Su. The production of this car has been suspended, and this is the last one. That's why its price is much lower than its value."

His last sentence was actually an explanation to Su Bei.

"Oh, I see," Su Huixian said in a disappointed voice.

Since he said that it was the last unit available, she couldn't force him.

Su Bei followed Manager Gao happily to pay and sign the necessary documents.

The store manager forced a smile on his plump face and said to Su Huixian, "Miss Su, let me introduce some other cars to you."

"No need." Su Huixian was no longer interested in any other cars. "Why didn't you introduce that car to me in the first place?"

She felt so disappointed. Such a good car went to Su Bei's hands.

The store manager really didn't know about that car just now, so he hastily said, "Miss Su, that car is only worth five hundred thousand yuan. It doesn't suit your status. A woman like you, who has a good career and excellent family background, should drive a car that is worth at least two million yuan."

Su Huixian felt unhappy not only because she liked that car so much, but also because she hated the fact that Su Bei took something away from her again.

In the past, Su Bei was the only one recognized as the real daughter of the Su family. Su Xingfu's love and attention were all on her. Also, she held the position of being the future daughter-in-law of the Du family for many years.

An intense sense of jealousy had taken root and sprouted in Su Huixian's heart since she was young.

Chapter103 I'll Teach Su Bei a Lesson

Su Huixian had been trying her best to hold back her anger for a long time. And it was only five years ago that she had succeeded in getting all those things from Su Bei.

But what she felt right now rekindled the jealousy and hatred that surged in her heart back then when she was secretly watching Du Luo doted on Su Bei, and Su Xingfu showered Su Bei with all the love and kindness.

She really couldn't bear to see Su Bei taking away even the slightest thing she was fond of.

Every time Su Bei got more than her, she remembered the humiliation she had suffered when she was called the little bastard and a mistress' daughter.

Xu Meiqi knew what was in Su Huixian's mind. As Su Huixian's cousin and assistant, she naturally wanted to help her.

Besides, she also considered Su Bei as her enemy.

So she whispered to Su Huixian, "Cousin, I'll teach Su Bei a lesson."

"Meiqi, don't go too far," Su Huixian exhorted, tacitly agreeing to Xu Meiqi's proposal.

Clutching her handbag, Xu Meiqi walked out of the shop and got in the car. She held the steering wheel and waited for Su Bei to come out.

Manager Gao helped Su Bei get into her new car and saw her off.

Usually, it was difficult for the customer to get the car on the day of purchase. But with Manager Gao's help, Su Bei did not only get the car but also handled all the necessary procedures.

Even the license plate number was immediately released, which was really fast.

Thus, Su Bei only had to come to this shop once, and she could drive her new car away.

Xu Meiqi had been waiting for Su Bei to drive out of the shop.

"Here you are, Su Bei. You're screwed this time."

Seeing that Su Bei's new car was very close to her, she started her car and drove towards Su Bei's car.

She planned to scare Su Bei. They were in the area where Su Bei would find it difficult to dodge her car. Su Bei would definitely have to get close to the wall of the car dealership.

In this way, Su Bei's newly bought car would inevitably be scratched.

Xu Meiqi knew that the paint used on Su Bei's car was high-end. If it was scratched, she had to leave her car here for repainting. It might even be sent back to the factory.

It would take at least a month or two for Su Bei to get her car back.

She knew that if this happened, Su Huixian's anger for not being able to get the car would dissipate.

While calculating, Xu Meiqi directly drove to Su Bei's car.

While Su Bei was cautiously driving out of the shop, she noticed a car rushing towards her from the side. It wasn't running at a fast speed, but it wasn't slowing down either.

"Damn it!" It was not easy to dodge the approaching car, so she got a little flustered.

Then she heard a loud bang. The car seemed to hit something.

Such a piercing noise startled her, and the expression on her face abruptly changed.

However, the safety performance of her car was really good. With such a loud noise, she still sat on the driver's seat and didn't feel any discomfort at all.

Su Bei opened her eyes and looked straight ahead. It was only then that she found out that her car had deviated. And the car that rushed towards her just grazed the head of her car and hit the glass wall of the car dealership.

It turned out that at that moment, the safety function of her car had been activated.

As a result, she and her car were both fine. But the other car grazed the bumper of her car and directly smashed the glass wall.

Manager Gao and the store manager ran out of the shop in surprise.

When Su Huixian and Luo Lili heard the loud noise, their hearts jolted. They also rushed outside to see what happened.

Chapter 104 Heavy Losses

Su Bei got out of her car at once. And when she saw that the driver of the other car was Xu Meiqi, she understood everything.

Five years had passed, but Su Huixian and Xu Meiqi still didn't know how to accept losses.

As long as the situation was not in their favor, they would surely make trouble.

Manager Gao quickly strode towards Su Bei, with beads of cold sweat on his forehead. "Miss Su, are you okay?"

"I'm fine, Manager Gao. But please check if there's anything wrong with my car." Su Bei curled her lips and watched Su Huixian help Xu Meiqi out of the driver's seat.

Luo Lili turned to her and snapped, "Su Bei, how do you drive? Don't you know that you almost hurt Meiqi?"

Su Huixian also said, "Su Bei, this is all your fault. How can you hit Meiqi like this?"

They were really good at this. After causing trouble for others, they would complain first.

Su Bei took out her phone and said, "In a car accident, it's hard to tell who is at fault. So let's just call the police to investigate."

Xu Meiqi got out of the car guiltily. "Su Bei, why don't we just let this go? Anyway, both of our cars have been damaged. How about we shoulder the repair cost respectively?"

“Oh, that’s so kind of you. But, no. If I really hit you, I must compensate you.” Su Bei then dialed the number of the police station without hesitation.

Su Huixian looked at Xu Meiqi, hinting the latter not to show any guilt. “No one got hurt, and the cars didn’t suffer too much damage. Just let Su Bei call the police. I’ll leave first. Meiqi, you stay here and wait for the police to arrive.”

Su Huixian and Luo Lili then turned around and left. Of course, they wouldn’t waste their time and money to repair Su Bei’s car.

Xu Meiqi had no choice but to stay. She winked at Su Huixian, indicating that she would tell them later what would happen.

“Miss Su, I’m so sorry for what happened. Would you like to have a cup of coffee inside the shop? Or you can go around and check the other cars if you like,” Manager Gao said respectfully.

Su Bei thought that his attitude towards her was only part of their shop’s good customer service, so she nodded and said, “Okay, I’ll take a look at the other cars again.”

Manager Gao then led her back to the shop.

Soon, the traffic police and the staff of the insurance company arrived. After checking the surveillance video and the conditions of the two cars, they confirmed that Xu Meiqi was responsible for the accident.

“Xu Meiqi, you must take full responsibility for this.”

Xu Meiqi said lightly, “It doesn’t matter. I only need to pay for the repair of the cars and glass wall, right? The insurance company is going to indemnify it. After all, it was just an accident. I slipped and stepped on the accelerator.”

The insurance staff said, “Yes, we will reimburse. But we have to evaluate the situation first before we can determine the amount of the compensation. If the cost exceeds the amount of your insurance, you need to pay for the excess.”

“I’ve bought a five hundred thousand yuan liability insurance. Isn’t it enough to repair the cars?”

“Well, it depends on the damage. Don’t worry. You can rest assured that we are professionals in evaluating the damage.”

Immediately, the staff took photos of both cars.

“How is it?” Xu Meiqi asked.

“Unfortunately, your car has suffered severe damages. The front part was really smashed. We also need to check if the engine has been damaged.”

Xu Meiqi’s face darkened at once.

She didn’t expect that the consequences of the collision would be so serious.

How could it be so terrible?

“What about Su Bei’s car?” she asked again.

She hoped that Su Bei's car was severely scratched. The insurance company would pay for the repair expenses anyway.

After the preliminary inspection, the staff said, "There's a scratch near the bumper of the other car. It's about the size of a fingernail."

Chapter 105 A Huge Amount of Compensation

"A scratch about the size of a fingernail?" Xu Meiqi asked angrily.

Before she drove her car towards Su Bei's just now, she calculated the angle and the timing of the collision because she wanted to severely hit Su Bei's car. But much to her surprise, Su Bei's car was almost unscathed.

What made her angrier was that when the staff checked Su Bei's car, they all had a distressed look on their faces. They were professionals, and they saw the extraordinary features of the car.

Most men loved cars, next to their wives or girlfriends. Seeing such a great car suffered a small scratch, they couldn't help showing a look of pity on their faces.

Xu Meiqi snorted coldly. Was it necessary to feel sorry for a car?

In the end, Xu Meiqi's car was directly towed to the repair shop.

The bumper of Su Bei's car needed to be repainted.

With her handbag in her hand, Xu Meiqi went to meet Su Huixian and Luo Lili, who were having coffee in a cafe nearby.

"Are you sure that Su Bei's car was only slightly damaged?" Su Huixian asked in disbelief.

She knew that the collision between the two cars just now wasn't that simple. It created such a loud noise that even if she was standing inside the shop, she was stunned.

"Yes, I'm sure," Xu Meiqi confirmed, still a little annoyed.

Su Huixian was actually nursing a grievance about not having that car. She took a fancy to it.

But she didn't expect that it would fall on Su Bei's hands.

However, she didn't want to look very mean, so she just said, "Forget it. Let it be. Just leave everything to the insurance company."

Xu Meiqi had no other choice. Fortunately, she had bought expensive liability insurance. She believed that it was enough to deal with this matter.

She was about to drink her coffee when her phone rang.

Seeing that it was from the insurance company, she casually answered it.

The staff must have computed the total amount of the repair cost already.

"Two million eight hundred thousand yuan? Why is it so high? I have to pay the whole amount? But why? Why?" Xu Meiqi was already yelling at the person on the other end of the line.

“The bumper of Miss Su’s car is original from the manufacturer. But the production of that model has been suspended. We need to replace it with a new one, so the manufacturer needs to produce a special and separate bumper. That’s why it costs a lot.”

Even Su Huixian was shocked. A car needed such an expensive bumper? How could it be possible? That car didn’t worth a lot of money in the first place.

But the insurance company had verified it clearly. They had no reason to object.

Xu Meiqi was just an assistant. With her salary, how could she afford such a tremendous amount of money? Even if she wouldn’t eat and drink for twenty years, she couldn’t possibly raise such an amount.

Su Bei was still in the car dealership, drinking coffee and watching the cars.

Manager Gao walked up to her and said, “Miss Su, the bumper of your car has a scratch as big as a fingernail.”

As he spoke, he couldn’t help but feel sorry for the car.

“Can it be repaired easily?” Su Bei asked. She also felt so sorry for her newly bought car.

“Fortunately, it’s quite easy to repair. I’ve already asked the staff to repair it right away. As for the cost, Xu Meiqi is required to pay for it. The car will be ready in fifteen minutes.”

His words made Su Bei feel better. “Thank you, Manager Gao.”

Manager Gao then turned around and went to the car. Actually, the people working on Su Bei’s car right now were not their employees. They were the first-line technical backbones and designers of the car factory.

Because when Su Bei’s car was made, all the accessories were according to Lu Heting’s requirements. They had prepared multiple backups, so it was very convenient to replace any parts that might be damaged.

Chapter 106 Hold Her in His Arms

In consideration of these experts’ labor costs and the value of the backup accessories, the two million and eight hundred thousand yuan that was charged to Xu Meiqi was actually not enough.

Fifteen minutes later, the newly repaired car was finally handed over to Su Bei.

She happily drove it back home.

She had just gotten out of her car when a Bentley drove over at a fast speed. Its tires screeched on the ground when the driver suddenly stepped on the brake, giving off an unpleasant smell.

Obviously, the driver was in a hurry.

Su Bei quickly dodged it.

As soon as the Bentley stopped, the door opened. Then a man stepped out and strode towards her.

It was only then that she recognized that the man approaching her was Lu Heting.

And before she could clearly see the expression on his face, he held her into his long arms.

He then pressed her head against his chest.

Su Bei was stunned. Lu Heting had never done such an intimate action before. Although they lived under the same roof, they had always kept a certain distance and treated each other politely.

What was wrong with him now?

“Lu...Lu Heting?” Su Bei tentatively asked. “You... What happened?”

Lu Heting was taken aback for a moment. A gleam of light flashed across his obsidian-like eyes when he loosened his grip on her.

Manager Gao called him and informed him that Su Bei had a car accident. Although she didn't get injured and the car was not severely damaged, he still put off his meeting and went straight to her.

The moment he heard that she had an accident, his heart went wild and different emotions welled up.

He only calmed down now that he held her in his arms.

“I heard that you had a car accident, so I hurried back to check on you. I'm so glad that you are fine.” Lu Heting clenched his fists and coughed lightly.

Rationally, he knew that Su Bei was fine. But just now, he was so overwhelmed by worry that he lost control of himself.

Su Bei smiled happily and said, “I'm fine. The car just had a small scratch. The car dealership you've recommended is commendable. I really had a good buy. The other car was severely damaged, but my car was unscathed. Come, check it out!”

Su Bei grabbed Lu Heting's hand and pulled him towards her car.

“Look at the interior, style, color, and configuration. They are all that I have been wanting.”

Lu Heting's lips curved into a smile. Of course, he made sure that the car had everything she wanted. When he heard her talk about the features of the car she wanted, he kept all the details in his mind.

With a bright smile, Su Bei introduced everything in the car to him.

Although he was more familiar with this car than her, he found it more enjoyable to listen to her.

“How about we pick up Gun Gun and go for a ride together?” Su Bei suggested.

“That's a good idea.” Lu Heting was in a better mood than her now.

Su Bei got out of her car and excitedly went upstairs to pick Gun Gun up.

Following behind her, Lu Heting asked, “Who hit your car today?”

“Xu Meiqi, Su Huixian's cousin. I have all the reasons to believe that she did it intentionally. They used to do some tricks on me before, but I just didn't mind them. After all, I couldn't show any evidence, so I just chose to forget it," Su Bei said casually. This time, the traffic police and the insurance company had confirmed that Xu Meiqi was responsible for the accident.

Lu Heting's eyebrows wrinkled.

As soon as Su Bei entered the house, she hugged Gun Gun, kissed him, and took him to the room to change clothes.

Lu Heting took out his phone and dialed a number. He asked the person on the other end of the line to investigate the car accident caused by Xu Meiqi again.

Since Su Bei had such an intuition, it only meant that it was not just a simple accident.

Chapter 107 The Feeling of Being Commanded by His Wife

If Xu Meiqi was only required to shoulder the repair costs, she would be let off too lightly.

When Su Bei and Gun Gun walked out of the room, Lu Heting had just finished his phone call.

Gun Gun and the woman in front of him were wearing twinning Pikachu T-shirts.

Su Bei wore a suspender skirt, and Gun Gun also matched it with suspender trousers. She looked young and energetic, and looking at her made him feel relaxed and happy.

There seemed to be a sea of stars in Lu Heting's eyes. She was his woman, and she was great.

"Let's go. I'll drive. Lu Heting, take Gun Gun's safety seat," Su Bei ordered while taking Gun Gun's hand.

The feeling of being commanded by his wife felt so good that the corners of Lu Heting's mouth curved into a smile and never came down.

Su Bei got into the driver's seat while Lu Heting sat on the passenger's seat. Gun Gun could only sit on the safety seat installed in the back seat with an unhappy face.

As a cute little boy, he was obviously Su Bei's favorite. He should be the one sitting on the passenger's seat, right?

Lu Heting stretched out his hand, patted him on the head, and said, "It's Bei Bei's first time to drive a car with us."

"Yes!" Gun Gun felt very honored, so he should cherish this opportunity. In an instant, the unhappy expression on his little face was replaced by a smile.

"Sit tight. I'm going to drive now." Su Bei started the engine, and the car rushed out.

She opened the panoramic sunroof, so Gun Gun had a clear view of the blue sky outside from the back seat.

His little face was filled with joy and pleasant surprise.

After wandering around the suburbs for a long time, Gun Gun felt hungry, so Lu Heting suggested finding a place for dinner.

"I want to eat spicy crayfish and durian. I also want to eat cold pot fish." All the food that Gun Gun mentioned was also Su Bei's favorites.

No one from the Lu family had eaten these dishes before. Gun Gun had tried them for the first time, and it so happened that he also liked them.

"Okay, we'll have them for dinner," Lu Heting agreed.

Su Bei parked the car, and the three of them entered the restaurant.

Although Su Bei was very popular recently, she wore clothes that made her look so young and refreshing in her daily life. She was totally different from that tall supermodel who walked like a fairy on the stage. Seeing her right now, people would find it difficult to connect her to that supermodel.

So when she entered the restaurant, she didn't even wear sunglasses. She just held Gun Gun's little hand and walked casually.

But their presence immediately attracted a lot of attention.

"Look! Such a beautiful woman!"

"The boy is so cute too. Is he a star? Oh, my! I really want to squeeze his cheeks."

"Their twinning T-shirts look so good. Why haven't I noticed them before?"

Following behind them, Lu Heting heard all the people's comments. And he subconsciously smiled.

He was usually serious and cold and rarely smiled openly. But now, his smile was as bright as the dazzling stars in the sky, illuminating the restaurant. He was handsome enough to force back the vanity of the world.

"Wow! He is so handsome!" many people exclaimed in unison.

"No wonder the little boy is so good-looking. It turns out that his father is so handsome and his mother is so beautiful."

"I envy them. How can a family of three be so good-looking? They are also tall!"

Hearing the voices around reminded Su Bei of Da Bao. Yes, Gun Gun was cute. But Da Bao was really the handsome one.

Gun Gun might be like his mother, tender and obedient. Da Bao was handsome in a manly way.

It was just a pity that Da Bao hadn't agreed to live with Lu Heting yet. So she had to keep Da Bao's existence a secret from Lu Heting for the time being.

Everyone stopped eating and watched the family of three walk and sit at their table.

Chapter 108 Serve His Wife and Son

It was Gun Gun's first time to dine in this restaurant, so he looked around curiously.

Su Bei chose a table in the corner and asked for the menu. Then she ordered all the dishes that Gun Gun said he wanted to eat just now.

But she was afraid that they would be too spicy for him, so she changed the spicy ingredients to marinade and garlic sauce.

Then she handed the menu to Lu Heting and asked him to order what he wanted to eat.

Lu Heting ordered a few simple but elegant dishes.

When the crayfish was served, a big smile crept across Gun Gun's face. "Bei Bei, you're so great! Daddy has never given me this kind of dish at home."

"If you like it, we can come back here next time," Su Bei said as she put on her gloves and began shelling crayfish for him.

Lu Heting was usually very busy, so she guessed that he was afraid of dealing with this dish, which was troublesome.

Lu Heting also put on his gloves. He had never touched this dish before until Su Bei came back.

However, since she and Gun Gun liked it, he quickly learned how to shell it.

So before Su Bei could finish shelling the first crayfish, he had already shelled six. He then put them in their bowls.

Su Bei looked at him with admiration in her eyes. "Why are you so good at doing this? You've never eaten this kind of food before, right?"

"Well, I've learned to eat it." Lu Heting remained calm and composed. He had put his coat aside and rolled up the sleeves of his white shirt, revealing his muscular forearms.

He lowered his eyes, peeling the crayfish seriously. He looked so handsome when he was very focused.

Su Bei lowered her head and continued shelling the crayfish in her hands. It was not hard, but she couldn't do it as smoothly as him.

While she was struggling, Lu Heting reached out and took the crayfish from her hands with his slender fingers. He then said, "You and Gun Gun just need to eat the crayfish. Let me shell them for you."

"No, it's okay."

"It's my duty to serve my wife and son." He helped her take off her gloves. Then he lowered his eyes and focused on shelling the crayfish without looking at her again.

Su Bei felt like her face was burning.

Lu Heting was really capable. He shelled the crayfish so quickly that he was able to provide enough to satisfy both Su Bei and Gun Gun.

He also ate a few crayfish every now and then. Soon, the shells in front of him piled up like a hill.

Su Bei's and Gun Gun's mouths were both red with the sauce.

Looking at Lu Heting's serious expression, Su Bei thought that spending a lifetime with such a man like him was not a bad idea.

But no! She couldn't have such an extravagant hope. And she couldn't let him have that idea either. Otherwise, it would be difficult for them in the future.

When they were all full, Su Bei ordered more spicy crayfish from the waiter for takeout.

"Why?" Lu Heting looked at her and asked.

"I'm going to meet a friend later. She also likes spicy crayfish." She smiled. "I'll drive you and Gun Gun home first. I'll be back later."

She was going to see Da Bao. He didn't like eating crayfish, but Lin Moli did.

"Okay," Lu Heting agreed with a nod.

After driving Lu Heting and Gun Gun back home, Su Bei went straight to Lin Moli's house.

As soon as she entered the door, Lin Moli smelled the crayfish. "Have you brought me something very spicy?"

"You have a good nose for food." Su Bei put the crayfish on the table. She also bought a lot of food for Da Bao.

Da Bao was sitting in front of the computer. But when he saw Su Bei, he stood up and walked up to her.

She smiled and said, "I've bought a car. I've already taken Lu Heting and Gun Gun for a ride. Would you like to go for a ride with me too?"

"I'm eating. Don't disturb me with whatever it is," Lin Moli said at once, devouring the crayfish.

"How about you, Da Bao?"

"I'll go," Da Bao agreed happily.

He then followed Su Bei and got into her new luxury car.

Chapter 109 Couldn't Find out Lu Heting's Background

Da Bao observed the car carefully. Su Bei had said that it only cost five hundred thousand yuan.

But from his perspective, this car was worth far more than that amount.

Its intelligent system had already exceeded the price he could imagine. Sure enough, women were not that keen on details when it came to cars or electronic equipment. That was why she didn't doubt the price given to her by the car dealership.

It seemed that Lu Heting was even more extraordinary than Da Bao had thought.

Unfortunately, he still couldn't find out Lu Heting's background. It was actually strange.

Thus, he had to continue standing on guard for Su Bei and protect her secretly. He couldn't let Lu Heting know about him so quickly.

"Do you love this car?" Su Bei asked with a smile.

"Yeah," Da Bao replied honestly. He liked the car so much, everything in it.

But he was still small, and his legs were too short, so he couldn't drive it yet. All he could do was look at it to satisfy his eyes.

Because of her new car, Su Bei fell in love with driving. The next day, she drove to the company by herself.

After parking, she walked into the company.

She noticed a group of people talking, looking, and pointing at something.

When she looked in that direction, she saw several policemen taking Xu Meiqi away.

Xu Meiqi's deathly pale face looked so devastated.

Su Huixian stood aside. Her gentle and kind face now looked lonely, and her eyes were full of resentment.

Qiu Minxuan shouted, "What are you looking at? Go back and do your own thing!"

Su Bei got curious, so she couldn't help asking, "What happened?"

One of her colleagues answered, "You don't know? Xu Meiqi hit your car yesterday, right? After the investigation, the insurance company discovered that she did it on purpose. Now they're suspecting her of insurance fraud that involves a huge amount of money. The insurance company called the police early this morning."

Su Bei could only say, "Oh, I see."

Yesterday, Xu Meiqi's car was severely damaged after crashing the glass wall of the car dealership. If she really did it intentionally, the insurance company would definitely not be willing to pay for her fault.

Su Bei couldn't feel any sympathy for her. She only deserved it.

Su Huixian walked up to Su Bei and said resentfully, "Su Bei, are you satisfied now?"

"Su Huixian, do you think I have control over the insurance company and the police? It seems like you have come out of your house without bringing your brain." Su Bei was straightforward. She wouldn't be like Su Huixian, who was already angry in her heart but still pretended to be fine.

Su Huixian was rendered speechless. She could only ball her hands into fists and dug her nails into her palms.

Su Bei turned around and went straight to Lv Shan's office.

Lv Shan was able to get along well with her now after weighing the pros and cons.

She looked through Su Bei's information and found that Su Bei indeed had the strength of a supermodel. When she was working in the United States, she had shown a good talent there.

She handed a document to Su Bei and said, "Jin Xiu is a brand in the United States founded by a Chinese. This is a clothing line with an oriental theme. They are currently looking for a brand ambassador, and this time, they have decided to choose among the supermodels. I've already sent your application to them, so get ready for the audition."

Su Bei had lived in the United States, so she knew this brand. It was regarded as a mid-to-high-end brand there. Its designs mainly involved embroidery, which was popular with customers who loved the oriental culture.

“Okay, when?”

“You’ll leave tomorrow. Here is the sequence of the events. Have a look.”

Lv Shan was indeed professional when she didn’t make things difficult for others. Su Bei appreciated her working ability very much.

Chapter110 A Pang in His Heart

“How long are you going to stay there?” Lu Heting asked. He felt a little frustrated when he heard the news, and his brows furrowed.

When Su Bei disappeared for five years, she lived in the United States. He felt restless when she mentioned that country.

It suddenly reminded him of what he had gone through during those years that she disappeared. During those times, he hoped that he would find her. But he failed again and again until he felt hopeless.

Gun Gun held Su Bei’s thigh and asked, “Bei Bei, when are you coming back?”

“I have to stay there for at least four or five days, two weeks at most,” Su Bei replied, stroking his little head to comfort him.

The little boy felt that it was too long. Actually, he already couldn’t bear to be apart from her even for a day. He held her leg tightly as tears streamed down his cheeks.

Su Bei whispered something to his ear, still trying to comfort him.

It seemed that they had totally forgotten that Lu Heting was there. He was also giving off a gloomy aura, and no one knew what he really felt.

He sat on the sofa, and it was difficult to see the expression on his face. Su Bei saw that his face darkened, but she thought that it was only a shadow cast by the dim light on him.

Finally, Gun Gun stopped crying. But when she went to the room to pack her things, he followed behind her like a little tail.

“Bei Bei, take this tumbler with you. When you get there, don’t forget to drink more water every day. Bring this hat too. It will protect you from the sun. And oh, don’t forget the Pikachu T-shirt. I know it’s your favorite,” Gun Gun said, while running back and forth behind Su Bei.

In the past, Su Bei seldom felt sad when she traveled to other places for work because Da Bao was always independent. In fact, he was the one encouraging her to go out often and make more friends.

But this time it was different. As Gun Gun helped her pack, tears kept rolling down his cheeks. Seeing this, all she could do was pacify him. “Gun Gun, I’ll be back soon, okay?”

“Okay.” Gun Gun whispered to himself, “Don’t cry. Don’t cry.”

Su Bei kissed him on the face several times until he finally laughed. If it was not inconvenient to work abroad, she really wanted to take him with her.

The next day, Gun Gun saw Su Bei off the house. When she was out of his sight, he ran back to his room and threw himself on the bed, silently suffering the sadness of parting.

Lu Heting picked him up and whispered, "I'm going on a business trip too."

"Okay." Gun Gun didn't care whether Lu Heting went away or not. After all, Lu Heting often went on business trips.

But with Su Bei, it was a big deal for him that she went away.

Lu Heting felt a pang in his heart. Su Bei went on a business trip, but she didn't feel sad leaving him. Now that he was about to travel for business, Gun Gun didn't feel sad that he was leaving.

"Boys don't easily shed tears," he said, looking at Gun Gun.

Gun Gun looked up at him and said in a childish voice, "You don't know how hard it is to be separated from the girl you like."

Of course, Lu Heting knew how it felt. In fact, he knew it better than Gun Gun.

He said in a low voice, "A poet said that there is nothing more charming on the neck of a young man than the brilliant jewel of professionalism. Don't you want to see Bei Bei more charming?"

Finally, Gun Gun nodded.

After entrusting Gun Gun to Aunt Chen, Lu Heting drove straight to the airport.

Soon, Su Bei and Lv Shan also arrived at the airport.

They didn't expect to run into Su Huixian, Du Luo, and Qiu Minxuan there.

Walking hand in hand, Su Huixian and Du Luo looked so intimate, whispering to each other and laughing. They wore lovers' baseball caps.

When they saw Su Bei, they all stopped in their tracks, slightly surprised.

Qiu Minxuan took a few steps forward and said with a smile, "Su Bei, are you going to the United States too? Let me guess. You're going to audition for Jin Xiu brand ambassador, right? Well, I'm so sorry to tell you, but they have already chosen Huixian."
