

HEAVEN SENT 481

Chapter 481: Wrong PIN!

Su Bei had always been elegant. When she casually pointed at the clothes, her expression suddenly became different from ordinary people's. It seemed that she carried with her the air of a noble lady.

"T-These?" The sales assistant followed Su Bei's finger and saw that there were more than 30 sets of clothes. The clothes here were for four-year-olds to adolescents.

Everyone was shocked. "One, two, three! There are more than 30 sets in total!"

They had seen a lot of things in their lives. They had seen all kinds of rich people, but they had never seen anyone buy clothes like this. These were clothes for children and adolescents of varying ages. It did not make sense!

Besides, there were more than 30 sets, which would probably sum up to two to three million yuan. Just this commission alone would be a huge profit for the sales assistant.

All of a sudden, the expressions of the sales assistants changed. They immediately said, "Miss, we'll help you!"

"No, thanks. She can help me," Su Bei said to the sales assistant who had been serving her since earlier. "You can wrap these up for me. The commission is yours."

Since the other sales assistants did not want to serve her earlier, she would not let them earn a commission from her.

Therefore, she decided to let this polite sales assistant earn the money.

The sales assistant was a little incoherent as she stammered, "O-Okay. I'll wrap them up right away!"

The commissions the sales assistants earned were according to the sales volume. Hence, this sales assistant might just become the highest earner for this year.

For a moment, the other sales assistants felt regretful and unhappy. They were all embarrassed and didn't know what to say.

Han Junting snorted. Judging from Su Bei's way of buying clothes, she must be helping the organizers of a fashion show or a shoot buy these at the last minute. Otherwise, how could she afford so many herself? More importantly, it was impossible for her to buy so many clothes for daily use.

Actually, the clothes that Su Bei usually bought for Da Bao and Gun Gun were not expensive. She would always prioritize comfort and make sure the two boys would look decent when selecting clothes for them.

But this time, the situation was different. That was why she chose more expensive clothes for them. Besides, she knew that Lu Heting's income was higher than she initially thought, so she was willing to spend money like this. Otherwise, she would have left the money to her two children to pay for their education in the future.

Even so, she had saved enough money for their education. Lu Heting's income was enough for her two sons to live comfortably, and they could live in the house she bought too. Hence, Su Bei spent her money freely today.

Finally, the sales assistant wrapped up all the clothes for Su Bei and said, "Miss, the total amount is 2.35 million yuan."

Actually, she was a little worried that Su Bei wouldn't be able to afford it.

Such a figure was enough to buy a house in many cities in S Country. The main reason was that the way Su Bei bought these clothes was really strange.

"Are you going to swipe your card or pay by cash?" The cashier was also shocked.

"I'll swipe my card." Su Bei opened her wallet, handed her card, and entered the PIN.

After inputting it, the cashier's expression changed. "Sorry, your PIN is wrong. Please input it again."

Su Bei entered her PIN again.

"It's still wrong," the cashier informed her.

The sales assistants next to her immediately relaxed and burst into laughter.

At first, everyone had felt regretful for losing such a big client and commission. Now, they thought that Su Bei was just toying with them.

Wrong PIN? After entering it again, would she say that her card was locked and she couldn't swipe it anymore? Would she say she would come again next time? There would be no next time.

Chapter 482: An Extraordinarily Important Name

Han Junting also had the same thought. She could not help but smile and say, "It seems that this new sales assistant did all the work for nothing."

The sales assistant's face flushed with embarrassment. It was as if she had made a mistake. She comforted Su Bei, saying, "Miss, it's okay. You can just buy them next time. I can still serve you next time."

Su Bei found it strange. Why was the PIN wrong? The card she took out was just fine.

She lowered her head and checked her wallet. It was only then she realized she hadn't taken out her own card. She mistakenly took out the one Lu Heting and his mother had given her last time. It was a card that contained ten million yuan from the demolition money they received.

She knew the PIN, but she had never used it before. She had taken the wrong one by accident earlier, so when she entered her own PIN, the error showed up.

The other sales assistants were secretly amused. It turned out that this woman was just a show-off. It seemed that not only would the new sales assistant not get a commission, but she would also have to reorganize so many sets of clothes. She would be very busy today.

No one would be willing to help her.

Su Bei kept her wallet and said, "Help me swipe it again and I'll enter my PIN."

The cashier kindly reminded her, "Don't make any mistakes this time."

There were whispers all around. Everyone watched as Su Bei entered the PIN. This time, she would definitely humiliate herself!

However, as soon as Su Bei pressed the button with her long fingers, she successfully swiped the card.

The device printed out the bill.

The smiles on the sales assistants' faces froze.

Han Junting's smile stiffened unnaturally.

"Miss, please sign this." The cashier's voice was filled with respect now instead of the contempt from earlier.

Su Bei put down Lu Heting's name. She didn't mind swiping his card now. After all, she would give him all her money when the time came.

The new sales assistant smiled happily and said, "Miss, your purchase is done. These are your clothes. Please take them."

"Thank you." Su Bei gave her a big smile.

It was only then that the other sales assistants realized Su Bei looked beautiful and elegant when she smiled. Although the clothes on her were simple, they looked very comfortable.

It was just that she deliberately kept a low profile and pretended to be an ordinary woman. That was why they looked down on her without showing her any respect.

Seeing the new sales assistant so happy after handling this big shot customer's purchase, the rest of them were extremely jealous but they had no choice but to accept the outcome.

At this moment, the general manager and the person in charge of the mall appeared at the door.

It turned out that the name Lu Heting was an extremely important name in their shop. As soon as his card was swiped, the bank would immediately inform the relevant personnel to come and receive him.

They had not seen this name in a long time. Of course, Lu Heting did not need their reception.

However, this tradition persisted in the business world.

Therefore, when the general manager and the person in charge of the mall received the news, they immediately rushed over.

A smile appeared on Han Junting's face, and she felt a little embarrassed. Although Su Bei had spent a lot of money, it was not rare to see customers like her in the mall.

However, she was the young lady of Han Group. She had business dealings with the mall too, and she was also an important VIP in many shops.. These people must have come for her.

Chapter 483: Personally Send You Back Home

Not only Han Junting but even the sales assistants thought so. They hurriedly said, “Miss Han, why don’t you sit down for a while and have some coffee?”

By doing this, the sales assistants could also talk to the general manager and the person in charge of the mall.

Han Junting smiled complacently and said, “Okay, I want a cup of latte.”

So what if she didn’t spend as much money as Su Bei? If she had better connections and a better reputation than Su Bei, she would never lag behind her.

Now, Su Bei could finally see what her real status was.

The general manager and the person in charge went forward, where they said a few words to the cashier. Then they turned around and started walking over.

The two high-level executives walked over with smiles on their faces.

Just as Han Junting was about to greet them, the other sales assistants also smiled and were prepared to welcome them.

However, the senior executives walked straight to Su Bei and bowed. “Hello.”

They didn’t know Su Bei’s name and didn’t manage to find out. But since she had Lu Heting’s card in her hand, she was naturally someone from Lu Group.

She was the person closest to Lu Heting, the most mysterious big shot.

Of course, it was unnecessary to ask for her name. They just needed to treat her well.

Seeing them being so respectful to Su Bei, Han Junting’s face darkened.

What was going on? Didn’t Su Bei just buy a few clothes? Han Junting usually spent a lot of money in this mall too!

The sales assistants lowered their heads, not daring to look at the embarrassed Han Junting. Of course, they did not think that the two senior executives would treat Su Bei so respectfully either.

They had also received big customers like Su Bei before, but when had these executives ever paid so much attention to those customers?

“Hello.” Su Bei smiled in surprise. Was it really necessary for these two high-ranking executives to personally greet her after she spent some money?

She recognized them from the name tags on their chests.

From what she knew, if someone had spent as much as her in a luxury shop, receiving this treatment would be abnormal. However, in a shopping mall like this, both of these executives had already experienced many things and no longer found such situations strange.

The two senior executives smiled and said, "Miss, we'll personally send you back to your home. These clothes can be sent to your residence. You don't have to carry them yourself."

"No, thanks. I drove my own car here. I can just carry them back myself." Su Bei refused politely. "By the way, this new sales assistant is admirable. If you really want to do something for me, please take good care of your hardworking employees."

Su Bei picked up the bags of the clothes she just bought and left. She was really not used to having such high-ranking executives serve her.

Besides, she wanted to buy something for Lu Heting now.

Seeing that Su Bei had left, the two senior executives no longer insisted on sending her back. However, her words had caught their attention.

They took a mental note of the new sales assistant's name and asked her about her work in detail.

Soon, she would reach the pinnacle of her career. She would surpass her seniors and be the first to get promoted.

As for the other sales assistants, they could only regret their decisions at this moment. But it was already too late...

Lu Heting, who was in the middle of an important meeting, put his phone on the table.

When he received a message on his phone, he casually glanced at it and saw the notification about the amount deducted from his card.

Chapter 484: She Was Afraid That She Would Cry

A long time had passed and finally, his wife Su Bei was willing to swipe his card. This was the first time and marked an important occasion.

This was an extremely meaningful day.

Holding the phone in his hand, Lu Heting's cold face turned gentle. The smile on his lips made him look like he was a brand new man.

Lu Hang also saw the message, but he only saw the contents vaguely. He did not know what was going on, but his heart skipped a beat. "Mr. Lu, are you going to buy a bank?"

Actually, it seemed that all of Mr. Lu's arrangements recently had something to do with Su Bei.

Hence, which bank would Lu Heting buy for her?

It seemed that he would have to discuss it with Mr. Weijian

Su Bei carefully arranged the clothes that she had bought for Da Bao and Gun Gun into the closet before explaining the situation to Aunt Chen.

Aunt Chen just thought that Su Bei was going on a trip. Even so, she was worried.

Su Bei had also bought clothes for Lu Heting and put them in his closet.

“Okay, I’m leaving now.” Su Bei picked up her suitcase.

“Aren’t you going to wait for Da Bao and Gun Gun to come back?” Aunt Chen asked.

“No, I won’t see them, lest they find it hard to part with me,” Su Bei said with a smile. She looked around the house while thinking of Gun Gun and Da Bao.

She did not wait for them to come back.

She was afraid that she would cry.

She did not often shed tears, but she would definitely cry in front of Da Bao and Gun Gun.

With her luggage, Su Bei drove to the parking lot of Lu Group and called Lu Heting. “Can we go yet? I’ll wait for you in the parking lot downstairs.”

“I’ll be there soon.” Lu Heting needed to accompany her for a few days, so he had to deal with the company’s matters in advance.

Soon after Su Bei hung up the phone, Lu Heting appeared in front of her.

With a faint smile on his handsome face, he picked up his suitcase and got into her car.

“Mr. Lu, I’ve arranged your schedule for the next few days.” Su Bei smiled brightly.

Su Bei looked away and said, “Let’s go!”

She was about to go to the hospital for a check-up, which meant this was the last few days of her life.

Initially, she did not want to make Lu Heting worry about her, but she wanted to spend her remaining time with him. She wanted to be with him for the next few days. She selfishly wanted to be happy in her remaining days.

After getting down from the plane and leaving the airport, they soon arrived at the street where Su Bei and Da Bao used to stay.

“Where are we staying?” Lu Heting raised his eyebrows and asked.

“The apartment Da Bao and I used to live in.”

Lu Heting’s heart skipped a beat when he recalled that he was never around when the two were leading their lives here.

Now, she was letting him get a glimpse into their past. This woman, what did she want to do?

He could not get rid of the doubt in his heart, but he could not find any useful hints either.

With Da Bao around, he was sure that she would not run away from him this time. However, he could not figure out what she wanted to do.

When she passed by a cafe, she pursed her lips. She really wanted to drink some coffee, but she was afraid that she would suffer from jet lag later. If she drank it now, she would not be able to fall asleep afterward.

Forget it. She would drink it after her body had adjusted to the time zone here.

“Wait for me..” Lu Heting told her to wait and placed the luggage beside her.

Chapter 485: Her Only Debt

Thinking that he was probably going to the bathroom, Su Bei nodded and sat down to look at the scenery outside.

Thinking back to the time when she held Da Bao’s hand and walked through this place, Su Bei could not help but smile wryly. She had failed this wonderful life and her youth.

However, she did not let down those people and the things that happened in the past. She had done everything she could to give them closure.

Lu Heting... was her only debt.

A moment later, Lu Heting came back. His tall figure cast a faint shadow beside her.

Just as Su Bei stood up, Lu Heting put a cup of coffee in her hand.

It was already the beginning of winter, so Su Bei felt it warm her heart. While she was holding the cup of coffee in her hand, Lu Heting wrapped the scarf that he had just bought from the convenience store around her neck. Her fair neck was now covered.

Su Bei shrank back. She did not think he had realized she was cold and wanted to drink coffee.

Lu Heting picked up the luggage and said, “Let’s go.”

Su Bei followed him. She took a sip from the cup of coffee in her hand. The coffee tasted sweet and bitter.

The apartment Su Bei and Da Bao lived in previously was nearby, so they arrived very soon after.

It was a simple two-bedroom apartment. After entering, Su Bei looked for a pair of house slippers for Lu Heting. After searching for a long time, she could not find a suitable pair. Then, she remembered that she had packed a pair in her suitcase. She quickly opened it and took out the slippers.

Standing in the middle of the apartment, Lu Heting could see all the decorations. A woman had definitely decorated this place. It was simple, comfortable, and vibrant.

There were traces of her and Da Bao in this place.

“You can sleep in Da Bao’s room, and I’ll sleep in the master bedroom.” Su Bei pushed his suitcase to the other bedroom. “Da Bao’s personality is very similar to yours. You must have noticed it too. That’s why he’s been very autonomous since he was a child. He almost always slept alone. He doesn’t like durians.

If he eats them, he'll get rashes. When he's unhappy, he'll purse his lips and act just like you. He won't say anything, but his refusal is very obvious..."

Before she could finish, Lu Heting grabbed her hands and pinned her against the wall. "What's the meaning of you telling me all these?"

"He's your son. You should get to know him better."

"I've heard these words before," Lu Heting said while looking down at her.

Yes, Su Bei had almost forgotten about it. However, she could not help but continue.

With a bright smile on her face, Su Bei asked, "So you don't like to hear about your son?"

"Su Bei, you know this is not what I mean."

Looking at his dazzling eyes, Su Bei could not help but be mesmerized by them.

In the end, she still put on a smile. "Lu Heting, don't be like this. Here, this is Da Bao's room."

"Tell me what's on your mind."

If she dared to leave again, he would definitely overturn the world to find her.

"I'm wondering what your lips taste like." Su Bei stood on her tiptoes and kissed him lightly.

The man lost his train of thought and let go of her hand. Whenever this woman took the initiative, she never failed to make him lose control of himself.

While he was still in a daze, Su Bei had already left his arms and went to unpack her luggage.

Lu Heting: "So, what does it taste like?"

Chapter 486: On A Date With Su Bei

Lu Heting put his finger on his thin lips. The happiness he felt was too short.

There was not even an aftertaste.

He bent down and said in a low, hoarse voice, "I'll unpack the things."

"Okay, you can do it." Su Bei stood up and picked up her cup of coffee again.

It was no longer hot, but she still held it as if it was a treasure.

The speed at which Lu Heting unpacked the luggage was incredibly fast, and all his movements were neat. In just a short while, he had finished unpacking.

He guessed that Su Bei's coffee had turned cold by now and she had drunk half of it. Hence, Lu Heting took the cup out of her hand.

"Do you want to drink it?" Su Bei hurriedly handed it to him. It was only then she remembered he had only bought one cup. He must not have bought one for himself because he thought he would not be able to carry the luggage afterward. "I forgot to ask you just now. Let me go and boil some hot water for you."

"No, just this will do." Lu Heting never wanted to drink coffee in the first place. It was not good to drink coffee now because of their jet lag. He just did not want her to drink the coffee that had turned cold. He was also afraid that she would drink too much of it.

Thus, he drank the remaining half.

As a result, both he and Su Bei could not fall asleep despite their jet lag.

The two of them had unpacked their luggage, taken a shower, and eaten a little. They were both in good spirits.

It was already late at night in the United States, but he and Su Bei were still in high spirits.

"I can't sleep. Let's talk." Su Bei sat Lu Heting down on the sofa. She had bought a lot of things for him and wanted to present them to him, but she was afraid that she would expose herself by doing so. Hence, she did not say anything.

She poured a glass of warm water for Lu Heting and put it in his hand. Then, she handed him the keys and said, "I bought this house with my own money, and I'm giving you a copy of the keys. Don't lose it. I'm already clumsy enough. Let's try to avoid coming back one day only to stare blankly at each other while standing in front of the door."

"Okay." Lu Heting put it away solemnly.

As they could not sleep, the two of them continued to chat.

The more they talked, the less sleepy they got.

Su Bei was fine. She just wanted to spend her last moments with him.

However, it was different for Lu Heting. He was looking at the woman he had been thinking about all this while and the wife he had married. This time, Da Bao and Gun Gun were not around to interrupt them. He was feeling a little nervous.

His eyes darkened.

However, he did not want to scare her. He did not feel sleepy at all, but his voice was hoarse.

"Why don't we go and watch midnight movies? They always show many classic movies. Are you interested?"

"Sure." Lu Heting stood up.

Compared to an old couple who spoke to each other bluntly, he preferred the way they were now.

Su Bei was familiar with everything here, so she brought Lu Heting to the cinema.

Coincidentally, all the movies showing tonight were romance movies. Su Bei had no choice but to choose one of them.

In the cinema, the lights were off, casting shadows on their faces.

There were very few people in the cinema, so Su Bei could focus on watching the movie while eating popcorn.

Lu Heting did not like sweets, including popcorn.

Even so, he would reach out his hand to grab a few from time to time. Occasionally, he would touch her hand, but he would retrieve his hand after a quick touch.

This small joy made him feel like he was a young boy in love.

It could be considered that he was on a date with Su Bei now, right?

Lu Heting: "Do you want to be in a relationship? The kind that will last a lifetime?"

Chapter 487: Will You Take Care Of Me?

When Su Bei reached out again, Lu Heting grabbed her hand and put it in his pocket.

Su Bei leaned her head against his shoulder.

He was her blessing in life.

She wanted to cherish this moment together.

As she was not sleepy and because she did not want this moment of tenderness to end, Su Bei bought more tickets and watched the movies one by one.

She even used the plot of the movie as an excuse to cry and use up a bunch of tissues.

When they left the venue, it was already the next day.

She was still not sleepy. Maybe it was because she had drunk too much coffee. Perhaps it was something else.

However, Su Bei was tired. When they reached the stairs, Lu Heting bent down and said, "Come here."

He wanted to carry her up.

Su Bei leaned over and asked, "Aren't I heavy?"

"You're too light," Lu Heting said with a low chuckle, "You have to eat more."

"If I become too fat to model, will you take care of me?" Su Bei asked casually.

"You eat so little. It's not like I can't support you." Lu Heting carried her on his back and walked forward leisurely. Her weight was really nothing to him.

Su Bei smiled and leaned on his shoulder. Her face was very close to his.

Su Bei suddenly thought of the word 'intimate'. She leaned closer and did not say anything. She wrapped her arms around his neck and felt his warmth.

Lu Heting suddenly asked, "Su Bei, when you were pregnant with Da Bao, did you think of coming back to look for me?"

"It's my little secret. I don't want to tell you."

Lu Heting could not help laughing. "Actually, maybe you did the right thing by not coming back then."

"You didn't want me to come back?" Su Bei hit him hard.

"I'm just afraid that you would've gotten hurt by Gun Gun's appearance had you come back. Now that I think about it, everything was truly God's arrangement. Although I messed up plenty of times, he still left the best for me."

Tears were about to fall from Su Bei's eyes. She hit him and said, "Put me down."

Lu Heting put her down, and she rushed ahead. Then, she came back with a small bouquet of roses and handed it to him. "Lu Heting, I saved the best for you."

Lu Heting took it. "It's beautiful."

"No matter how beautiful a rose is, it'll wither sooner or later. I hope you can get a better one next time. You must accept it then." Su Bei smiled. Her beautiful teeth were revealed, which made her look bright, but her words were heartless.

She held Lu Heting's hand and said, "Let's go. I'll bring you around. We can go to the shops Da Bao and I often go to, as well as the computer and clothing shops that Da Bao frequented. They're all very good. Let me buy something for you."

Holding her hand, Lu Heting's eyes were full of affection.

In her eyes, were they on a date now?

The two of them were exhausted after a whole day of walking around and shopping.

When they returned to the apartment, Su Bei insisted on cooking for Lu Heting.

"Must you insist on doing it yourself?" Feeling sorry for her, Lu Heting held her from behind.

"Of course. Since you've come to my home, I must cook for you." Su Bei held the ingredients and waved them in the air. "Sit down and rest. Just wait for me."

"No, I'll wait for you like this." Lu Heting did not want to let go of her.

As a result, their meal took some time to prepare.

But at least it was done.

Chapter 488: Don't Ever Let Me See Her Again

For the sake of Da Bao, Su Bei had learned how to cook. Whatever she cooked would turn out delicious.

Besides, the food tonight was specially cooked for Lu Heting.

After their meal, the two of them, who had not slept at all and been walking about all day, finally could not help feeling tired and sleepy.

Su Bei did not reject Lu Heting's hug. She lay down next to him and slept with him for the first time.

However, she did not sleep for long before she got up.

Perhaps she had something on her mind, but she could not go back to sleep.

Lu Heting was really sleepy. He was the one who did all the physical labor during the day. He even had to carry Su Bei back and forth.

After sitting up, Su Bei returned to her room and tidied everything.

Most of her money had been transferred to Lu Heting's account. She had worked non-stop every day for almost a year, so she managed to save up a lot of money.

She arranged the medical records. After the sun rose, she would go to the hospital to have a check-up. She also wanted to tell Lu Heting the truth.

She could not hide it from him anymore.

It was just that she felt guilty toward him. She had wanted to give him hope even in the last moments of her life, but she had turned his hope into dust and despair.

She picked up her pen and wrote a long letter. However, she did not think it was a good idea. It was too pretentious, and it did not suit her usual open-minded personality.

She threw it away and continued to write on another piece of paper. Even so, she still felt that it was too much of a burden.

In the end, she kept throwing the pieces of paper away and writing on a new sheet.

At last, she just settled for: 'Lu Heting, you deserve a better woman. Get married soon. All the best!'

Su Bei was finally satisfied. She put it down and gathered her medical records. It was only then she realized that the sky was already bright.

She crept out of the room. Seeing that Lu Heting was still sleeping, she put on her clothes and went downstairs to buy him breakfast.

Like Da Bao, Lu Heting was picky about food. She knew that there was a shop selling fried dough sticks and soy milk here. The owner of the shop was someone from S Country. Da Bao, who was born and raised in S Country, liked the food there very much. Hence, Lu Heting must also like it.

After buying breakfast, she hurried back to her apartment.

However, at this moment, a pair of eyes that had been staring at Su Bei the whole time secretly winked at the two people behind her. Immediately, the two men in black went over to Su Bei.

Their movements were as fast as a ghost. Before Su Bei could react, they covered her mouth with their hands. The drug on the cloth quickly took effect on her and she fainted. Then, she was taken to a car that was parked by the side.

“Take her away. Don’t ever let me see her again.” A cold female voice spoke up at this moment, and it was full of hostility.

The two men in black were obviously stunned for a moment. “Then how do we explain it to our boss?”

“What’s the use of keeping a woman who has no loyalty to the boss and will only hurt the boss?”

The two men in black immediately drove away, leaving the United States to go to the country of Mexico.

It was the most chaotic region near the United States. Every day, countless people would sneak into the United States to seek survival. There were also countless vicious criminals who escaped from the United States and came to this chaotic lawless land.

Once Su Bei was sent there, there was almost no hope of her coming back—even if the boss made a move.

Chapter 489: Late-stage Gastric Cancer

When Lu Heting woke up, he found that Su Bei was already gone.

The corners of his mouth curved into a smile as he recalled the feeling of having her in his arms.

In the past two days, he was lost in his happiness that he had forgotten to have his guard up.

After all, she had stayed here for several years. Who would have thought that she would find herself in danger here?

When he got up, he found that Su Bei was not in the apartment.

“Su Bei?” Lu Heting called out her name.

When he found that her handbag and personal belongings were all in the apartment except her phone and keys, his first thought was that she had gone out to buy something.

He saw a lot of discarded papers in the garbage bin.

Although there was no sign that something had happened to Su Bei, Lu Heting still felt a little uneasy.

He immediately called Su Bei’s phone.

The automated voice sounded from the phone, notifying him that Su Bei’s phone was turned off.

Lu Heting did not have time to think about it. He opened the file she had left on the desk, and a letter suddenly appeared in front of him.

In her elegant handwriting, she had written a few simple sentences: “Lu Heting, you deserve a better woman. Get married soon. All the best!”

These words made Lu Heting’s eyes hurt.

Was she planning to leave again just like the last time when she left for five years?

However, he subconsciously thought that things were not this simple.

After spending so much time with Su Bei, he knew that she was a responsible and good woman. It was understandable why she left last time, but she would not leave for no reason this time around.

When he looked at the letter again, he immediately saw a few medical records.

It was all in English, but it was not difficult for Lu Heting to understand what was stated.

When he read it, he felt a chill in his heart. Su Bei was suffering from late-stage gastric cancer, and the diagnosis was given more than half a year ago.

Su Bei's name was clearly written on it, and her ID number was exactly the same.

She had late-stage gastric cancer. Was this the reason why she brought Da Bao back to look for him? Was this why she only accepted short-term jobs and refused to take on long-term endorsements?

The pain in his heart surged, and he almost lost his balance.

Had she gone to the hospital?

If she really did go to the hospital, she would have brought her handbag, wallet, and ID card along. No one would leave these essentials at home when going to the hospital.

Suppressing the surging emotions in his heart, Lu Heting immediately made a few phone calls.

He had come to the United States alone this time. He did not even have his assistant with him. However, that did not mean he knew nobody here or he had no resources.

Lu Group had been in the United States for many years, so it had its own power and resources.

After making a few phone calls, Lu Heting got people to investigate Su Bei's whereabouts.

Then, he immediately called the hospital where Su Bei received her diagnosis.

"Su Bei hasn't come to our hospital. I'm sorry, but the patient's condition is a private matter. We can't provide you with information on her condition. Please ask Ms. Su Bei to personally come to the hospital," the person said in fluent English.

The United States was a country that cared a lot about privacy matters. Since the other party refused to tell him and this was not the main issue right now, Lu Heting hung up.

Chapter 490: Couldn't Protect His Wife

"Mr. Lu, we've retrieved all the surveillance footage around the area that you mentioned. We're looking at them now. We haven't gotten any information about the woman in the photo you provided."

"Send me the surveillance footage."

Lu Heting received the surveillance footage and looked at it carefully.

There were even scenes of him and Su Bei appearing together yesterday, but there was no scene of Su Bei going out this morning. Obviously, the surveillance footage had been tampered with.

Who could have tampered with the surveillance footage? What did it have to do with Su Bei's sudden departure?

A name flashed through his mind, and he immediately went online to search for Lin Yu's phone number.

Lin Yu was not Su Bei's only friend in the United States. Lu Heting knew this, but he didn't know the rest of Su Bei's friends.

Now that he thought about it, Feng Feifei, Lin Yu, and Feng Ze were the only friends of Su Bei he had seen in person.

As for Feng Ze... Others might not know his identity, but Lu Heting knew that he was a mysterious existence. In fact, he was a strong rival. It was because Feng Ze was as excellent and capable as him.

Lin Yu was still asleep this early in the morning when his phone rang.

He grabbed his hair and asked, "Who is it?"

"Lu Heting."

"Lu... Lu Heting? Why are you calling me? I don't think we share that sort of close friendship, right?"

Lin Yu wanted to complain. It seemed that they were not just friends but also rivals in love.

Actually, Lu Heting was his boss' rival in love. No matter what, they were not on the same side.

Lu Heting said in a low voice, "I'm in the United States with Su Bei. This morning, she suddenly disappeared. I'm afraid that it has something to do with Feng Ze or his people."

"Lu Heting, don't talk nonsense! Our boss is not that kind of person. If he wanted to restrain Su Bei, he wouldn't have let her go back then and allowed her to do as she wished. Even if he really wanted to make her stay, what does it have to do with you, Lu Heting?" Lin Yu immediately felt indignant for Feng Ze, and he completely woke up from his sleep.

"But Su Bei has really vanished."

"That's your own fault." Lin Yu snorted. If Lu Heting had failed to protect his wife, why was he looking for him now?

Lu Heting hung up the phone.

Lin Yu was so angry that he jumped out of bed. "Hanging up on me? Lu Heting, who do you think you are?"

However, it was a big deal that Su Bei was gone. Lin Yu could not sleep anymore. He immediately called Feng Ze and said, "Boss, Su Bei went missing in the United States."

There was no sound from the other end of the line, but Lin Yu felt a chill down his spine. His boss was angry!

After hanging up the phone, Lu Heting asked someone to expand the search area.

If Su Bei had really been taken away by someone, the other party could tamper with the surveillance footage from around the area but they definitely wouldn't have the time or ability to tamper with all the surveillance footage.

Lu Heting logged into his computer as well and looked for Feng Ze's current address.

In the past, Lu Heting had not been able to find out anything about Feng Ze, and Feng Ze had not been able to find out anything about him.. However, now that Da Bao was the key to their relationship, it was no longer difficult for them to find each other.
