

Chapter 671: Finally Learn The Truth

Fang Yourong generously changed the topic. "Everyone is interested in the second female lead and the second male lead. Don't you want to know the story of the female protagonist?"

"Yes, yes, we want to know what kind of woman Hua Yingrong is."

"Hua Yingrong was born into a scholarly family. Because she's talented in poetry, she disguised herself as a man to gain fame. Then, she helped Xiao Jing ascend the throne and became a virtuous queen. Therefore, the two phoenixes refer to both her status in the family and her position as Empress. Of course, you can also say that the two phoenixes refer to Hua Yingrong and Ni Huang because Ni Huang is also one of the influential figures."

The reporters couldn't help but be very interested in her.

"So what about Ni Huang?"

"She was initially a heroine who led troops to war and is talented in martial arts. However, her true identity was later discovered and it turns out she's the princess of an enemy nation..." Fang Yourong continued to share with everyone.

Just then, the sound of a car engine came from outside.

Everyone looked over and finally saw Su Bei's tall figure appear in front of them.

"Su Bei?"

"Why is Su Bei here?"

"This isn't a runway show?"

"Could Su Bei be... the actress playing Ni Huang?"

Guo Feng stood up excitedly. She was finally here! Su Bei was finally here!

Fang Yourong and Pei Chao were stunned. Could it be that Su Bei was really playing Ni Huang?

Even though the expressions of the two people did not change, they felt a chill in their hearts and felt insulted.

Ever since Fang Yourong debuted, she had starred in more than 20 television dramas, and many of them had high viewership ratings. Although the movies she previously acted in were all supporting roles, she was experienced and had good acting skills.

As for Pei Chao, there was even less of a need to talk about him. He had always been a movie star. Although he hadn't won many awards, he was still a true actor. He was publicly recognized as a candidate for Best Actor. Even though he hadn't won any awards, he came close each time. The reason he chose Two Phoenixes this time was to win an award.

Now, it turned out that the second female lead was Su Bei?

For a popular female artist to play such a big role in a Chinese martial arts movie, Pei Chao was naturally full of doubts!

Su Huixian and Tang Yue were equally shocked.

Su Huixian was still fine, but Tang Yue was furious. As the investor of the movie and the boss of Sheng Tang Entertainment, no one had told her that Su Bei was going to act in Two Phoenixes!

She had to find out the truth right now!

Su Bei was wearing a simple dress today. Her hair casually hung on both sides of her shoulders. She looked calm and elegant. She was a far cry from General Ni Huang in the movie who led troops to kill enemies!

Amidst everyone's doubts, she walked toward the second female lead's seat and sat down calmly.

Guo Feng announced to the reporters, "Everyone, this is the second female lead of Two Phoenixes. She'll be playing the role of Ni Huang. It's Su Bei!"

Instantly, the reporters were in an uproar. Their questions immediately became sharp. "Director Guo, Ni Huang's scenes are comparable to Hua Yingrong's. Su Bei doesn't have any foundation in acting. Do you think she can take on this role?"

"Director Guo, you're using a popular artist in your big production. Are you planning to get more fans to watch the movie?"

"Director Guo, what did Su Bei use to convince you to get the role of Ni Huang?"

"Director Guo, will this movie continue on the path of excellence or will you give up your original intentions just to satisfy Su Bei's fans?"

Chapter 672: Control Everything About Su Bei

Their doubts about Su Bei became doubts about Guo Feng's professionalism.

It could be said that the entire venue agreed with the reporters' questions because the reporters had voiced out what they were thinking.

Since Guo Feng was the one who insisted on choosing Su Bei, he had naturally mentally prepared himself. He waited until the reporters' voices became softer before saying, "I chose Su Bei naturally because I'm confident she's up for the task. This movie of ours is filmed not only for fans but also for tens of millions of viewers who truly love movies. It's also filmed for our ideals. Therefore, everyone need not doubt my choice. Regarding Su Bei's performance, we can wait and see!"

"What about you, Su Bei? What prompted you to enter the film industry when you found success on the international modeling stage after finishing the four major fashion shows?"

Su Bei smiled. The confidence in her eyes caused the reporters to be slightly stunned. She indeed did not have any acting skills, but her smile and aura seemed to be in sync with the decisive General Ni Huang.

“Because I like Ni Huang, and I like this story even more,” Su Bei said frankly.

Hence, when Guo Feng presented her the contracts for both the female protagonist and the second female role, she chose Ni Huang, the latter.

The second female character had a complicated personality and more difficult scenes, while the female lead only needed to dress beautifully and strategize in the harem.

Because of Su Bei’s imposing manner, the reporters’ questions became much gentler. Finally, the press conference ended smoothly.

Tang Yue angrily called Tang Xinru. “Why didn’t you tell me that Su Bei is acting in Two Phoenixes?”

“Why should I tell you?” Tang Xinru asked in amusement. “Investing is the investment department’s decision. The casting of an artist is the director and the crew’s matter. You don’t want me to report all of Su Bei’s schedule to you, do you?”

Tang Yue was rendered speechless.

Subconsciously, she wanted to control everything about Su Bei.

But why? Because she’s her sister?

[Su Bei will be acting in the movie Two Phoenixes. She’ll be playing the second female lead!]

[A temporary career shift or a complete change in career? Why did Su Bei choose to be in the movie?]

[To hell with integrity, popular female artists will soon dominate the big screen!]

[How terrifying! The film market has been infiltrated by investors. One of the ten sins of the country’s film market is casting actors unsuitable for the roles.]

After Su Bei’s role as Ni Huang was released, it caused dissatisfaction in everyone. Some marketing accounts even reached a collective climax. They made it seem that Su Bei had committed a heinous crime and implicated the entire film industry of S Country. She wanted to use her own strength to drag the entire film industry down into the abyss.

Fang Yourong and Pei Chao’s fans were the most dissatisfied. They went around telling the film crew and Guo Feng about it, warning them to fire Su Bei immediately. Otherwise, the fans would collectively boycott this movie. They would definitely not let Su Bei be involved in this movie.

[An actor is an actor, an idol is an idol, and models walk the runway. Everyone has their own job. Su Bei, aren’t you being a little greedy?]

[Don’t think that you can earn money from the film industry.. It’s not easy to survive in the film industry, and it’s not a place where you can earn quick money. Do you think you can act in a movie as easily as walking the runway? You must be joking!]

Chapter 673: To Highlight Her Youth?

[Previous commenter, you're too much. Do you think modeling is as easy as walking? Since you can walk too, why haven't you become a supermodel yet?]

[Our Su Bei can do whatever she wants, so acting in a movie is naturally not a problem! She gave up the top international resources to film Director Guo's movie to learn more things, not to make quick money!]

[Learn more things? She must have been kicked out by the international modeling industry! Otherwise, who wouldn't want to succeed in the supermodel industry and choose to act as the second female lead?!]

Su Bei did not look at the comments on the Internet. Instead, she stayed at home and read the script seriously.

The more she read, the more she liked it. Her heart was filled with passion.

The comments from the outside world had no effect on her at all.

However, she suddenly jumped up and exclaimed, "Oh no!"

Lu Heting was reading some documents at the side. Hearing her words, he quickly reached out to hug her. "What happened?"

"Look at her. Does she look familiar?" Su Bei took out her phone and showed Lu Heting Fang Yourong's photo.

Lu Heting took a closer look. "She does look familiar, but I'm not sure where I've seen her before."

"Doesn't she look like the patient who took my information form to do a check-up and was found to have gastric cancer?" Su Bei asked.

"A little." Lu Heting nodded, but he wasn't sure. The woman in the surveillance footage was slightly fatter, while Fang Yourong was more exquisite-looking.

"When I saw Fang Yourong today, I felt a sense of déjà vu. I'll ask her about it tomorrow."

Because it concerned someone's life, when Su Bei went to the filming location the next day, she went straight to Fang Yourong.

However, this was not a topic that could be casually brought up. She was not very familiar with Fang Yourong, so she bought a cup of coffee and carried it with her before walking toward Fang Yourong's dressing room.

Fang Yourong was putting on makeup when she heard a knock on the door. She said lightly, "Come in."

After Su Bei walked in, Fang Yourong immediately straightened her back and was very guarded. She smiled and said, "Su Bei? Please sit."

The reason why she was on guard was that she was worried that Su Bei would snatch away her role as the female lead. Fang Yourong valued this role very much and had placed all her chips in it. If it went well, she would be able to get more opportunities to work with more directors in the future. If it didn't go well, she would have to go back and fight for roles in idol dramas with young actresses.

She was no longer young. Sooner or later, she would have to change her style. The earlier she made the transition, the safer it would be.

Therefore, she was abnormally guarded against Su Bei. She was afraid that Su Bei would do something cunning.

"Sister Yourong, when I went to buy coffee just now, I bought an extra cup. I thought that since your scenes today are all being filmed early, I brought it for you." Su Bei placed the coffee in front of Fang Yourong.

Fang Yourong was a senior. Su Bei heard others call her 'Sister' and also respectfully called her that.

Fang Yourong said, "Thank you."

However, she would not drink it at all. This little trick could not escape her eyes. This female lead role was definitely hers.

Calling her 'Sister'? Was Su Bei trying to highlight her youth?

"Actually, I've always been working in America. Sister Yourong, I wonder if you went there last year?" Su Bei smiled and asked casually.

She had to at least know if Fang Yourong had been to America before she could confirm her speculation.

Fang Yourong was overwhelmed with shock and fear.. She suddenly recalled the incident in America.

Chapter 674: Am I Very Familiar With You?

It had always been difficult for Fang Yourong to change her style because of her fleshy face. In fact, her face was not suitable for the big screen.

When she was young, it was still alright. She could be said to be very youthful and beautiful. But now, she was already 33 years old. Her plump cheeks were now saggy.

Hence, she made a trip to America to make adjustments to her face. She removed the excess fat and carved her face into an exquisite sculpture.

The doctor's skills were not bad. Not only did he ensure that the lines on her face were gentle and detailed, but he also preserved her original characteristics.

Therefore, when Fang Yourong appeared in public again, no one suspected that she had done something to her face. They all thought that it was because of age.

Many people were envious of her face. They felt that she was so beautiful when she was young. She was able to naturally transform into such a beautiful woman with a face suitable for the big screen after she got older. She was really a classic example of a goddess in the entertainment industry.

Hearing Su Bei mention America, Fang Yourong was shocked. Did Su Bei know about her plastic surgery? Was she testing her?

Fang Yourong was already full of doubts, but the instincts that she had cultivated over the years made her able to maintain her expression. She showed a small smile. "Who hasn't been to America? I've even been there with the crew before. What's wrong?"

Su Bei smiled and asked, "Nothing much, I'm just chatting casually. I had my stomach checked in America and the doctor told me to drink less coffee. Sister Yourong, how's your stomach? If you can't drink coffee, can I get you something else to drink?"

"Su Bei, am I very familiar with you?" Fang Yourong's attitude gradually hardened. "Or are you planning to switch careers to become a paparazzo?"

In fact, Su Bei's question was very normal. If anyone else heard it, they would only think that Su Bei was chatting with them.

But Fang Yourong had a guilty conscience and felt that every word Su Bei asked was full of probing.

It was a secret that nobody could know about. If anyone tried to probe, it would make her jump. How could she stand Su Bei's questioning?

The makeup artist was very familiar with Fang Yourong and said to Su Bei, "Miss Su, these are all personal questions. Can you not ask about it? Furthermore, our Sister Yourong has always had a good stomach. How could there be any problems? Your question is really strange. Some might think that you're concerned about our Sister Yourong but those who don't know any better would think that you're cursing her."

Su Bei did not expect Fang Yourong to be so upset by a question about her stomach and America. Thinking that there might be some hidden reason, she tactfully said, "I was a little rude. Sorry."

With that, she turned around and left.

Only then did Fang Yourong loosen her grip slightly.

The makeup artist said in a low voice, "Sister Yourong, what does Su Bei mean? Does she really want to steal your role?"

"How is that possible?" Fang Yourong lowered her voice and felt a cramping pain in her stomach.

She took the stomach medicine and clasped her hand over her stomach to suppress the pain. She did not want to go to the hospital.

Now was the time for her career to rise. Every minute was precious, and she didn't want to waste her time in the hospital.

Chapter 675: Stopped By Su Bei

When she was in America the last time, didn't the doctor say that she only had a mild gastric ulcer and the pain was normal?

Hence, whenever she was in pain, she would take medicine.

She had already thrown away the list of examinations that she had undergone in America the last time and did not bring it back. It was really troublesome to keep those useless things.

Fang Yourong paused for a while before remembering that Su Bei did look familiar. She seemed to have seen the name before.

However, she was too busy and had so many things to do every day. Furthermore, Su Bei's name was like a thunderclap in the entertainment industry, so it was normal to have heard her name.

Hence, Fang Yourong did not think too much about it. If Su Bei came to test her again, she would definitely teach Su Bei a lesson!

All the cast members were present except for the second male lead.

Wherever Su Bei passed, the people around would be stunned. She was tall, had long legs, and was so beautiful that she looked free and easy. No matter where she went, there was no lack of people looking at her.

However, some professional actors were not convinced by Su Bei.

Zhou Yao was the most displeased one among them. As Fang Yourong's junior from the same company and also the person Fang Yourong supported the most, her acting skills were quite good.

However, she had yet to become popular.

This time, they originally thought that they could get the second female lead role for her. Who knew that they would be intercepted by someone like Su Bei?

Her sarcasm was particularly harsh. "Does she really think that she doesn't need any acting skills to act in movies? Does she think she can simply play the role of Ni Huang just because she has the face and figure?"

The other cast members couldn't help but murmur in agreement. "That's right. Just be a model and go back to your own industry."

Su Bei walked past them and did not even look at them.

Director Guo Feng trusted her. Because she was too busy previously, she hadn't even taken any photos yet.

Su Bei did not listen to those sarcastic remarks. Life was short. Who should she waste her energy on irrelevant people?

"Director Guo Feng, I'm here!" Su Bei stood in front of Director Guo Feng.

Director Guo Feng smiled in satisfaction. "Go get changed and put on your makeup. There's going to be a scene soon."

"Okay, I'll go now." Su Bei turned around and went to the dressing room.

Immediately, the cast and crew frowned as they looked at Su Bei with doubt in their eyes. They did not believe that she would be able to take on this role.

Su Bei was indeed beautiful. However, she had no experience and had never filmed a movie before. If her acting skills were not up to standard on the big screen, her mistakes and lack of ability would be glaring.

"Director Guo Feng has always been fair and just. This time, he probably chose Su Bei because Sheng Tang Entertainment invested in our movie, so he had no choice but to use someone from the Tang family. It can't be helped. After all, everyone needs to eat," the cast and crew secretly discussed.

Thinking about how Director Guo Feng had always tried his best to not be corrupted by money but had no choice but to bow down to capitalism this time, everyone felt uncomfortable.

The assistant director, who was in charge of the cameras, had already secretly made a decision. In his heart, he thought, 'When it's Su Bei's scenes, I can just use more techniques and not give her too much special attention. I think it shouldn't be a problem.'

Su Bei was playing the role of Ni Huang in the drama. In the beginning, she was a princess of the Great Xiao Empire. However, she did not like to put on makeup and loved to be in armor.. Since she was young, she liked to hang around in the military camp, so her martial strength was off the charts.

Chapter 676: Sharp Eyes

When Ni Huang was only 12 years old, she followed her uncle into battle. At the age of 16, she took control of the army and became the youngest heroine in the history of various empires.

Therefore, Su Bei changed into military attire. Her hair was combed high and she looked very capable.

This was also an important reason why the cast and crew did not trust Su Bei. Su Bei's skin was fair and there was no doubt that she was beautiful. However, the more beautiful she was, the harder it would be for her to take on this role.

Moreover, there was a huge reversal in her background and story. It would be very difficult to manage her emotions. If she wanted to be outstanding, she had to have superb acting skills.

In everyone's eyes, Su Bei was clearly not suited for this character.

The entire cast and crew were quietly discussing this. They had no expectations for Su Bei.

When Su Bei came out after changing her clothes, she stood in front of everyone. One of the director's assistants accidentally saw Su Bei's makeup and couldn't help but stand up. His eyes didn't move an inch.

Su Bei's appearance was exactly as he had imagined.

“Quick, look...” He turned to the person beside him.

Immediately, someone looked over at Su Bei and couldn't look away.

Su Bei, who was standing in front of everyone, no longer had the beautiful and fashionable feeling from before. With a change of her makeup style, she gave off the feeling that she had just come from the battlefield. She carried a fierce and decisive killing intent, looking noble and proud. The firmness in her eyes was something that only experienced warriors would have.

Everyone looked up, completely convinced by Su Bei's appearance.

When they were discussing the script, they had even drawn images of the characters. Even Fang Yourong, who was unanimously acknowledged by everyone, was still slightly different from what they had imagined her character to be.

However, Su Bei was like those hand-drawn images that came to life. She was standing in front of them at this very moment.

The assistant director, who was in charge of the camera work, thought to himself, 'Maybe I can give Su Bei more shots. At least she looks qualified. When she says her lines, I'll reduce her scenes.'

Director Guo Feng clapped his hands. “Just as I thought! Good, good, good!”

“Then can I begin?” Su Bei asked with a smile. When she spoke, her expression was pretty and beautiful. It wasn't like a heroine, but it suited her status as a princess. Once she returned to the harem, she was the proud and favored princess!

“Begin!” Director Guo Feng got someone to bring her to prepare.

After Su Bei left, the members of the crew came back to their senses. “Director Guo Feng's eyes are really sharp!”

“Of course, Director Guo Feng is Director Guo Feng, while we're assistants!” Everyone admitted it.

Su Bei's character did not appear much in the early scenes.

Her first scene was when she returned from the battlefield and met up with the people from the Imperial Court. She didn't have many lines. Their characters just gave way to each other and entered the city together.

Therefore, even though her appearance shocked the entire crew, she didn't get to perform much during the shoot. To the actors who came to watch, she was just a pretty face.

“That's because of the stylist and makeup artist. What does it have to do with her?”

“Isn't she just standing there and taking a few steps? If it were any of us, would we do worse than her?”

Chapter 677: Su Bei Is Too Average

“I'm guessing she'll just read out numbers when it's time for her to do the lines and it'll be dubbed in post-production.”

“If it were Sister Zhou Yao, she would probably easily outperform Su Bei!”

Zhou Yao stood at the side and couldn't help clenching her fists. She had been thinking about acting as Ni Huang for a long time. She was indeed confident that she could beat Su Bei!

However, while they were discussing, they did not know that the cameraman had already recorded every close-up shot of Su Bei.

The emotions in her eyes were very immersive. There was clearly not much she could do in this scene, but in Su Bei's eyes, there was doubt toward the people who came to welcome her and worry for the soldiers behind her. It was an expression that only appeared when a general was constantly on guard.

When she observed that the people who came to welcome them had no ill intentions, the farther she walked, the more her eyes revealed the joy of returning home.

These were the delicate expressions that actors could give if they had a good understanding of the script and the character.

As there were very few close-up shots in this scene, most of them were from afar, so the director did not have any requirements for this specific part. However, Su Bei still accurately expressed the character's thoughts. The cameraman could not help but sigh in admiration.

Director Guo Feng also noticed this and sighed in his heart. This woman's future was limitless. Luckily, he had pulled her into the movie. Otherwise, her talent on the runway would have been wasted.

When the filming was over, the crew members were full of joy. From their professional point of view, Su Bei would be able to take on this role. It would just depend on Su Bei's performance in the later stages and her skills in delivering her lines.

Those who were rejoicing in Su Bei's misfortune were not professional to begin with. They only cared about nitpicking, so how could they see the exquisiteness of Su Bei's acting skills?

“Not bad. Keep working hard.” Director Guo Feng was afraid that she would be proud, so he only encouraged her and didn't praise her.

The others felt that their thoughts were right. Even Director Guo Feng gave such a plain evaluation, which meant that Su Bei was too average.

Fang Yourong, who was at the side, did not look closely at Su Bei's scenes. She thought in her heart that this was good. Su Bei's role would probably not outshine hers.

Two phoenixes could also be used to refer to Hua Yingrong and Ni Huang. However, it looked like Su Bei would really have nothing to do with it.

After Su Bei finished filming, she was done with her scenes for the day.

When she saw Fang Yourong sitting at the side, she only nodded at her and left.

Su Bei had given up on testing Fang Yourong.

She could tell that Fang Yourong was not an easy woman to deal with. That woman did not want to accept her kindness at all.

If it weren't for the fact that this matter concerned her life, Su Bei wouldn't have bothered.

When she got home, she took out the test report. She took photos of it then printed it out.

Seeing how busy she was, Lu Heting stood behind her and asked, "What are you busy with?"

"Printing my misdiagnosis report. Fang Yourong has a bad temper, so I don't want to communicate with her anymore. I've already sent her my personal information, so I'll quickly hand this to her. If it's really her, she should be able to understand everything after seeing this.. If it's not, she can just ignore it."

Chapter 678: Don't Get Injured Again

"Smart." Lu Heting nodded in agreement. He buried his head in her shoulder and asked, "How was the shoot? Was it tough?"

"It's not hard at all. It's just that the military uniform is more than 20 kilograms. It's made of real metal. Director Guo Feng is really willing to spend money on props." Su Bei sighed. "But when I wear it, it looks really impressive. If it wasn't for Director Guo Feng forbidding everyone to take photos, I would have shown you the situation on set."

She said it happily, but Lu Heting knew that it had been tough.

He reached out to lift her collar and found that there were indeed scratches. Instantly, his heart ached as if it was being pricked by needles.

"Don't move. I'll go get the medicine." Lu Heting pressed her down on the sofa.

Her skin was too tender, so she got hurt easily.

After taking the medicine, Lu Heting pursed his thin lips and did not say a word.

Su Bei reached out and smoothed his good-looking eyebrows. He smiled and asked, "What are you thinking about?"

"I was wondering if it was a wrong decision to encourage you to take on Director Guo Feng's movie." Lu Heting's voice was low. When he saw her frown, he couldn't help but want to do her job for her.

"Of course not. When I put on that set of armor today, I could put myself in Ni Huang's shoes and realized that I really want to do this. I want to play this role, tell her story to everyone, and show everyone a living Ni Huang." As Su Bei spoke, her eyes were filled with radiance.

She liked her job, and it was almost as if she was nourished by it.

Lu Heting was swayed and stopped arguing. As long as she liked it, he would support her in anything.

"So, even if it's a little tough, I'm not afraid."

Lu Heting hugged her. "But my only request is that you don't get hurt again. Otherwise, I don't know what I'll do."

Su Bei leaned on his shoulder and felt the man's low mood. She comforted him and said, "I'll try my best. Don't feel bad."

That night, Su Bei sent the misdiagnosis report to Fang Yourong. It would be sent directly to the crew and she should receive it the next day.

The next day, Su Bei paid a lot of attention to the status of the express delivery to the crew. When she found out that Fang Yourong's assistant had received it, she was relieved. Now, whatever happened to Fang Yourong after this had nothing to do with her.

"Sister Yourong, you have a package." The assistant placed a big package in front of Fang Yourong.

Zhou Yao also came in as she had bought Fang Yourong breakfast and coffee. Her scenes were limited, and she hadn't been on set recently, so she had a lot of time. She would stay by Fang Yourong's side.

Fang Yourong said, "Maybe my cover magazine and the brand's gifts have arrived. Help me open it."

"Okay," Zhou Yao replied and helped to open the package.

After Fang Yourong slowly ate a few mouthfuls of breakfast, she went to the bathroom to wash her hands and rinse her mouth.

When Zhou Yao flipped open one of the documents, she realized that it was just a thin piece of paper. It was written in English. What was it?

But according to her guess, this was a hospital's medical report.. She didn't recognize the other words on it, but she recognized the word 'cancer'. Could it be a prank?

Chapter 679: Selfish Side Revealed

She first took out the document and placed it aside. She would be scolded to death if she let Fang Yourong see this so early in the morning.

Zhou Yao took out her phone and studied the contents of the document that was in English. The more she read, the more surprised she became. Could it be that Fang Yourong had late-stage gastric cancer?

She had always known that Fang Yourong was suffering from stomach problems. She had even bought stomach medicine for her several times.

The series of symptoms and conditions indicated that the patient had gastric cancer. There were also some suggestions from the doctors for immediate follow-up and treatment.

It seemed like this was an American hospital.

She recalled that Fang Yourong's symptoms were really similar to gastric cancer. For example, she was skinny and often suffered from gastric pain. She was afraid that Fang Yourong was really suffering from this terrifying illness.

Looking at the treatment methods on the internet, this kind of illness could kill...

Zhou Yao was scared out of her wits. She returned to Fang Yourong's waiting room and said, "Sister Yourong, the hospital in America..."

"What hospital in America? What's wrong with you?" Fang Yourong was suffering from gastric pain. When she heard the topic she least wanted to hear about, she immediately scolded Zhou Yao angrily.

To others, she might display the gentleness of a senior, but Zhou Yao was very familiar with her and she was also the junior she had always taken care of. Hence, she never had any scruples when speaking with Zhou Yao.

Zhou Yao felt a little uncomfortable after being scolded. She clearly did so much for Fang Yourong's own good and went to find out so much information to tell her about it, but in the end, all she got was a scolding.

She was very embarrassed, and her expression was not good.

Fang Yourong glared at her unhappily. "Why are you still here?"

When Zhou Yao heard this, she couldn't help but turn around and leave. 'Stomach cancer? Go f*ck yourself!'

Fang Yourong covered her stomach and said unhappily, "What's up with America? Will they die if they don't mention America?"

After Zhou Yao walked out, she crumpled the paper into a ball and threw it.

However, after thinking about it, she still picked it up and looked at it carefully. The personal information on it was blurred, but from the looks of it, the person who had gastric cancer was undoubtedly Fang Yourong.

Looking at Fang Yourong's expression, she seemed to know nothing about her illness. Every time her stomachache acted up, she would rely on some stomach medicine.

Zhou Yao had just checked and found that one could not survive for long if one had late-stage gastric cancer. If Fang Yourong was really sick, she would only be able to live for a few years at most. If she was unlucky, she would not even be able to survive for half a year.

If Fang Yourong really died, there would be more resources in the company and her position would be vacant.

At that time, she would need to be replaced by someone. As Fang Yourong's junior, she had the highest chance of obtaining all of this...

Thinking of this, the selfish side of Zhou Yao was revealed.

Fang Yourong did not like to go to the hospital. Zhou Yao had already fulfilled her duty of trying to inform her but she was the one who refused to listen.

She could not be blamed for all of this.

After Su Bei fulfilled her duty of informing Fang Yourong and saw that she had received the parcel, she was relieved.

However, Su Bei saw that Fang Yourong was still relaxed and did not seem to care about her illness. She also did not ask for leave from the crew.. Su Bei shrugged her shoulders. Could it really not be her?

Chapter 680: It Can't Be Solved With Money

Su Bei thought to herself that she might have made a mistake.

There were so many similar people in S Country. That person might not have been Fang Yourong. If that was the case, she really did not know where that poor patient was.

It was silent on Fang Yourong's side, while Su Bei was constantly being scolded by people on the internet who questioned her acting skills. It had not stopped till now.

With Zhou Yao, Zhong Xiu, and Zhu Fenfen fanning the flames, Su Bei had now become the main culprit of the disaster in S Country's film industry.

Words such as 'bringing funds into the production' and 'asking to be condemned by the heavens' became the latest labels to be put on Su Bei.

All kinds of insiders on the internet said in detail: [Su Bei single-handedly dragged down the progress of the entire production team. Everyone's time has been wasted.]

[It's such a pity for Fang Yourong and Pei Chao. They wanted to win awards with this movie, but what's the point of acting so well? How can a movie with someone dragging them down become a masterpiece?]

[Guo Feng is going to suffer in this movie too. Even a big director can't resist the temptation of capitalism.]

Hence, the crew also started to doubt Shengtang Entertainment, who was one of the investors.

Tang Yue was the first to react.

She went straight to Old Master Tang and told him about it.

Old Master Tang had indeed heard about this matter. Because of Su Bei, he had been watching the entertainment news often.

"Let her. Our family doesn't lack money anyway. As long as she's happy, that's all that matters. After she's had enough fun, she'll come home." Old Master Tang smiled and said, "Just like back then, didn't I also spend money to invest in Sheng Tang Entertainment for you and Xinru?"

"But Grandpa, this is different," Tang Yue said earnestly. "Previously, when my cousin and I set up the company together, the pressure we faced was completely different from what Su Bei is suffering now. Su Bei is being scolded all over the internet, and those insults are extremely unpleasant. Can she have fun like this?"

Old Master Tang fell silent.

“Words are more hurtful than swords. Su Bei used to be a model and is used to having it smooth sailing. Now that she’s switched careers to being an actress, it’s completely different. Under this kind of pressure, even we’re being scolded now. It’s fine for us, but I’m afraid that Su Bei can’t handle this kind of pressure. Look, how many artists have committed suicide due to hate comments?”

Old Master Tang panicked. This was not good.

He was willing to let Su Bei play outside, but he could not bear for her to suffer. However, the insults online could not be resolved with money.

The only way was for her to leave the cast and return home.

Tang Yue’s eyes reddened as she said, “I only have this one sister. When we were young, we had such a good relationship. My heart also aches for her. If I voice out my concerns, Su Bei might hold grudges, but if you do it, I’m sure she’ll understand. If she wants to play in another industry when she comes home, isn’t it just a matter of a word from you, Grandpa? Why must she stand in the heart of the storm and be criticized by others?”

Old Master Tang immediately said to his assistant, “Get me Guo Feng. I want to meet him now.”

Seeing that her words were effective, Tang Yue went forward to massage Old Master Tang’s back obediently.

Old Master Tang felt that he had wronged Tang Yue. It turned out that she really did not have any bad intentions toward Su Bei.. It was just that she loved Su Bei too much.
