

The Heir's Revenge by Twine Twin Chapter 12

Dennis's Birthday

Lewis nodded his head, after which the two of them talked in a private room. "Lewis, I've read many articles about you too, you are not only Mr. Dennis' personal assistant, but you are also the one who raised him during Mr. Dennis' separation from Mrs. Berlin."

"Yes, that's right, Miss Bella," Lewis said. "Lewis, I want to ask you, why is Dennis sometimes warm and sometimes cold to me? Isn't Dennis interested in me?" "Oh, I think there's no a man in the world who wouldn't be attracted to a Bella Cathlin. But Mr. Dennis does have an unpredictable character, Miss. Actually Mr. Dennis is a very friendly and humble person, but when he is busy, he is also often cold to others. I hope you're not offended."

"I heard Mr. Dennis already has a daughter, does that mean he already has a wife?" "Mr. Dennis does have a daughter, but he doesn't have a wife. They're divorced." "May I know who is his ex-wife?" "Sorry, I can't tell you because Mr. Dennis doesn't want to tell the public about the identity of his daughter's biological mother." "But does Dennis still love his ex-wife? Is there any possibility for them to reconcile?" "I don't think they'll ever reconcile. Miss Bella, don't worry, you still have a lot of opportunities to become Mr. Dennis' wife." Bella immediately smiled at Lewis's words. "That's exactly what I want, please support me, Lewis."

"Of course, Miss. I would also be very happy if Mr. Dennis and Miss Bella got married, you two would be a great couple." Bella's smile grew wider.

In the talk show which was attended by Dennis in the evening, he also received the same question from the presenter.

"Doesn't your wife regret when she seeing you now?" the presenter asked Dennis. Dennis smiled. "I think she must be regret." "If she comes to you and apologizes, then begs to be your wife back, will you accept it?" "She's already done that, and I've turned her down. My principle, forgiving is easy, but forgetting the wound is difficult. There are no second chances for those who waste their first chance."

Dennis's words were immediately greeted with boisterous applause by the audience.

“Wow! You’re a very principled man, Sir. You deserve to be a leader of a big company,” said the presenter. “Anyway, since you have agreed to appear on this talk show, we have something for you.” The presenter also snapped her fingers to give the code, after which the music immediately echoed in the studio, the singer sang a birthday song for Dennis. And there were some crew who brought a big birthday cake for the CEO of Argonius Company.

“Wow! What a wonderful surprise it is!” Dennis’ eyes sparkled, he got up to welcome the surprise that was prepared for him. It was the first time in his life that Dennis felt so appreciated, that many people even remembered his birthday. From backstage, a young woman jogged with a plate and knife to cut the birthday cake. She wore a kokarde which indicated that he was also one of the event’s crew. But suddenly the girl stumbled, she fell on the birthday cake that was ready to be cut. “Oh my God! What’s going on?” The studio immediately turned boisterous. The event was broadcast live on television to be seen by many people. The show’s producers immediately asked the crew to run a commercial so the audience at home wouldn’t see the mess, but the atmosphere in the studio was already very chaotic. “S-m-excuse me!” The woman lowered her head to apologize to Dennis and everyone else in the studio. But someone first pulled her off the stage. “Mr. Dennis! We are truly sorry for this mess!” The presenter also apologized to Dennis. “Yes, it is okay. But what about that young woman? Is she okay?” “We will punish her for causing this mess.” “Why is she being punished? I’m sure she didn’t cause the mess on purpose,” said Dennis. But the camera is back on the show will resume again.
