Chapter 1625 Had His Soul Transmigrated?

Lin Wenyu panicked. "What happened? Where is he?"

"No, no, no. He's fine. He's fine." Ah Guo stopped Lin Wenyu, who was about to rush out. "I just saw that he's been working out recently and undergoing high-intensity training. I'm worried that something like last time will happen again."

Lin Wenyu sat back in her office chair. "And?"

"I want to ask you to provide CPR training for me and everyone on our team. That way, if Brother Haoyang falls ill, we'll be able to help. Don't you think so?"

Lin Wenyu looked at him appreciatively. "You're smart, young man."

"Thank you for your praise, Doctor Lin." Ah Guo quickly thanked her. "When are you free, Doctor Lin? We'll follow your schedule and arrangements."

"Alright, let me take a look." Lin Wenyu flipped through her work schedule. "How about this? Come to the hospital tomorrow night. I'll make the preparations in advance. Coincidentally, our hospital has a first-aid course in this area. Come over at seven o'clock tomorrow night and look for me directly."

"Thank you, Doctor Lin! Thank you!"

"Don't thank me. Remember to remind Yuan Haoyang to be careful."

"Okay!"

The next night, Yuan Haoyang was about to practice dancing when he saw Ah Guo sneak out with the rest of the team.

After practicing for a while, he felt that something was wrong. At this moment, a violinist from the accompaniment team walked in and greeted, "Brother Haoyang!"

"Where did Ah Guo take the team?"

"Brother Haoyang, Ah Guo told me not to tell you." The violinist was put in a difficult position.

"Where did he go?"

The violinist was defeated by Yuan Haoyang's gaze and said, "He went to look for Doctor Lin. He said he wants to learn first aid and CPR. He wants our entire team to learn it."

Yuan Haoyang frowned. Why was he being so sneaky about it?

"Have you forgotten that you told everyone not to disturb Doctor Lin? That's why he's being evasive."

Yuan Haoyang: "..."

"Then why didn't you go?" he asked as he positioned himself with the gym equipment.

“It’s because my mouth ulcer is acting up. Doesn’t the training require mouth-to-mouth resuscitation? I don’t wish to offend Doctor Lin.”

Yuan Haoyang thought of something, and his face darkened. How could he have forgotten that CPR required mouth-to-mouth resuscitation?

He immediately took his clothes and walked out.

“Brother Haoyang, don’t be angry. Everyone is doing this for your own good. Calm down! Please don’t say that I was the one who told you!”

Yuan Haoyang put on his clothes and drove to the hospital.

If it was for emergency treatment, it was fine for Lin Wenyu to give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to others. However, if it was to demonstrate it to these brats, he would suffer from myocarditis just by thinking about it.

As soon as he entered the hospital, he immediately called Lin Wenyu, but no one answered.

He called Ah Guo and the others too, but no one answered.

Very well!

Yuan Haoyang held his phone tightly, his knuckles cracking.

“May I ask where Doctor Lin Wenyu is?” he asked a nurse as he pulled down the brim of his hat.

“Oh, Doctor Lin is in the emergency training room, teaching CPR. It’s over there!”

Yuan Haoyang strode over.

His face was ashen as he walked to the door. Lin Wenyu’s voice came from inside. “Yes, that’s right. Take a deep breath like me and breathe into the patient’s mouth. I’ll count to three and we’ll do it together! One, two...”

Yuan Haoyang kicked open the door. If Ah Guo was the person Lin Wenyu was demonstrating on, he was dead!

The door was kicked open, and everyone looked at Yuan Haoyang. As they were all familiar faces, they quickly recognized him.

“Brother Haoyang!”

“Brother Haoyang!”

“Brother Haoyang!”

Yuan Haoyang locked his gaze on Ah Guo and realized that he was kneeling on the other side and was not near Lin Wenyu.

He looked at Lin Wenyu again. Lin Wenyu was pressing a rubber man. When she saw him arrive angrily, her face was filled with surprise. “Yuan Haoyang?”

“Um...” Yuan Haoyang was a little embarrassed. He touched the tip of his nose. “Um... Continue!”

Lin Wenyu stood up. "Why were you running so fast? Do you even want your heart? Didn't I tell you not to exercise vigorously?"

Her pretty face flushed with anger. Just how many times had he ignored her instructions as a doctor?

Ah Guo was so anxious that he wanted to pull Lin Wenyu back. The others also looked at Lin Wenyu in panic.

Yuan Haoyang had always had a bad temper and was too lazy to hide it. Although he was not a bad person, how could he tolerate someone scolding him like this?

If he really lost his temper, no one would be able to persuade him!

Everyone had taken a huge risk to come to the hospital behind his back tonight. They were all afraid of making him angry. Now, Lin Wenyu was repeatedly scolding him!

Cao Kexiu was usually so arrogant, but she wouldn't dare to say those things to Brother Haoyang either!

Ah Guo gave the pianist beside him a look, which meant that when Yuan Haoyang lost his temper later, they would work together to stop him. The others quickly comforted Lin Wenyu and tried their best to control the situation so that it wouldn't get out of hand.

Ah Guo was about to walk toward Yuan Haoyang when Yuan Haoyang took off his mask and said slowly, "Got it. I won't run around again."

Everyone: "..."

What did they just hear?

Was this really Yuan Haoyang? Had his soul transmigrated?

Lin Wenyu was still angry. She ignored him and turned her face away.

"I was wrong, Doctor Lin." Yuan Haoyang walked toward her step by step.

Ah Guo seemed to have realized something and waved at the group of people, asking them to leave quickly.

Everyone wanted to watch the show, but they knew Yuan Haoyang's temper. How could they dare to stay?

In the end, they reluctantly left the emergency room.

"F*ck, what's going on? Did Brother Haoyang hurt his head from being in the hospital for so long?"

"That's right. What's going on? Although Brother Haoyang isn't usually fierce to women and has a good attitude toward his fans, he has never treated any woman like this!"

"Ah Guo, tell me, what's going on? Is this what Brother Haoyang is like when he's dating someone?"

Ah Guo had been with Yuan Haoyang for the longest time. He said confidentially, "Brother Haoyang has never been in a relationship before!"

“F*ck, Brother Haoyang has never been in a relationship before! He’s the perfect virgin! I thought a man with such hormones and endless charm would never lack women around him!” The cellist who spoke was the newest member of the team. At this moment, he could not believe his ears.

“It’s true. Brother Haoyang has never been in a relationship,” Ah Guo said. He hurriedly covered his mouth. “Don’t spread these words. Don’t spread them!”
