

Hidden Billionaire / C21 Make a Fortune

C21 Make a Fortune

After the two of them had signed the contract, they chatted about some of the details regarding the cooperation. Eventually, after reaching a mutual agreement, they both left.

When they walked out of the coffee shop, Long Yun looked at Wu Tian with a strange gaze, "Young Master, I didn't expect you to be so courageous and direct during business negotiations."

"Is that so?" Wu Tian grinned delightfully. Being able to get the affirmation of his secretary, Long Yun, made him feel a sense of accomplishment. To be honest, he didn't have any confidence during the negotiations.

However, he understood one important principle. Cooperation had to be mutually beneficial, both to maximize one's own benefits and also to take into account of the demands of others.

Successful cooperation could only be achieved when the interests of both sides coincide at a certain point, and they both benefit from each other.

"However, I still feel that the risk of investing in Seafood TV is too high ..."

"Stop!" Wu Tian directly interrupted her words, as he lightly smiled, "Now that we've invested all our money, it's already too late to say anything. Instead of regretting our decision, we might as well do our best instead!"

"That makes sense. This is the only thing we can do now."

"I'm in a good mood today. Let's go, I'll treat you to a meal." After Wu Tian said this, he brought Long Yun to a nearby restaurant.

While he was eating, his phone suddenly rang. He took out his phone and saw that it the call was from Teacher Mu Ran.

He hurriedly picked up the call and acted like out an expression of obedience. He turned to his phone and politely asked, "Teacher Mu, what can I do for you?"

"Classmate Wu, you haven't been coming to class for a few days. What's going on?" On the other end of the phone, Mu Ran's tone was as cold as usual.

"My stomach's been hurting for the past few days. I feel a bit uncomfortable." Wu Tian hastily made up an excuse as he explained towards the phone.

"Is your stomach still hurting? Did you go to the hospital for an examination? " Mu Ran's tone suddenly became much warmer.

Her tone made Wu Tian a little uneasy. He didn't expect the usually fierce and beautiful teacher to have a gentle side to her.

After a moment of silence, he quickly said into the phone, "Teacher Mu, I'm fine now. I'll come to class tomorrow."

"Alright, don't be late tomorrow."

"Alright, goodbye teacher." When Wu Tian finished his call, he noticed that his secretary, Long Yun, who was holding the chopsticks in her hands, was in a daze.

He reached out his hand and shook it a few times in front of her eyes, and smiled with concern,

"Secretary Long, what are you thinking about?"

"Nothing." Long Yun came back to her senses and lowered her head to continue eating.

Seeing Long Yun in such a state, Wu Tian couldn't help but tease her, "Secretary Long, is it because you've been single for too long?"

"No."

"Did you ever date a boyfriend before?"

"Nope."

"For a woman with such a great figure like you, not dating others is simply a waste. Don't be distressed, I'll definitely introduce you to a boyfriend another time." Wu Tian was in a good mood as he joked endlessly.

After dinner, the two returned to their residence.

It was still early, so Wu Tian walked into the study and continued his reading.

Seeing a Futures book, Wu Tian involuntarily had a deep urge, and he couldn't help but try buying a million yuan worth of Futures online.

After buying them, he continued to read. Before going to bed, he turned on his computer to look, and found that the Futures he had previously bought had risen to more than eight million in value.

"What the f * ck!"

Wu Tian was so excited that he directly jumped up and down the bed, while his pair of eyes were fixated on the numbers on the computer screen. He had never thought that in such a short period of time, the profit would actually increase by more than eight times.

This method of earning money was way too fast. He actually earned a few hundred thousand in a mere few hours! This was far more satisfying than robbing a bank.

Just as he was getting ready to continue, the computer suddenly died. The computer had just froze and got stuck.

Who would have thought that the computer would crash at such a critical moment. Wu Tian was extremely furious , as he ferociously slammed the table in anger.

It seemed like he had to change to a better computer. In the future, he still had to rely on a computer to earn more money. And this computer is really too bad.

It took him a long time to turn on the computer, but when he opened the Futures interface, he found that the previous 8 million yuan had gone down by more than a million.

Dammit, he lost over a million in just a few minutes. He had never felt anything as thrilling as he did today. He could feel that his heart was still pounding rapidly. In just a few hours, he had earned more than 7 million with just 1 million, and then suffered a huge drop of over a million.

This was too damn stimulating. It felt like he was on a roller coaster.

Seeing that there was still a downward trend, Wu Tian was so scared that he quickly withdrew his money and returned the remaining 7 million yuan back to his account.

Although playing with Futures could earn money quickly, it could also lose money really fast. In the worst-case scenario, he might even lose his entire capital in a short period of time.

After finishing the operation, Wu Tian sat on the chair and let out a long sigh. His heart was still pounding from all the ups and downs he had experienced just now.

As the waters for such Futures was too deep, if he was not careful, he might even drown into it, leaving him unable to recover his money at all. Looks like he won't be able to play with the Futures anymore. At the moment, he wasn't short on money. But if he was caught with a loss, it would be rather troublesome.

He turned off the computer and went to bed. The next day, Wu Tian got up early and rushed to school, afraid that he would be chided by Mu Ran if he was late again.

He hadn't had went to any classes for several days. Today, Wu Tian stayed in the classroom obediently and left only after a few compulsory lessons.

The computer at home was poorly configured, so he decided to buy a better computer to avoid another crash like last night.

He took a taxi to Guangmei City. This was Luzhou's biggest computer market, there was basically almost everything sold here, with any type or brand of computer available for purchase.

Guangmei City was separated into two areas. The A area was where high-end computers were concentrated in, while the B area's computers were relatively worse, with mostly ordinary home computers.

Wu Tian walked around area B for a while and felt that the computers inside were too terrible, so he decided to just go to area A instead.

The computers there were all high-end brands. Even the cheapest would cost more than 10,000.

There were even work computers here that cost tens of thousands or even upwards of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Wu Tian was quite satisfied with the computers, but no one paid him any attention even after he had walked around for a long time. He was completely treated like air by the people at the counter.

"Auntie, I want to buy a better computer." Wu Tian walked over and said as he lightly smiled towards one of the owners of the counter.

"You want to buy a computer?" The middle-aged woman glanced at Wu Tian with an appraising gaze, her eyes filled with disdain and despise.

"Yes!" Wu Tian nodded and smiled: "Can you recommend one to me?"

"Do you see the B area on the other side? The computers there are all very cheap and are more suitable for you." The middle-aged woman pointed to the other side and said in cold mockery.

With that said, she started to work, too lazy to bother with this poor looking penniless loser in front of her.

Wu Tian bitterly smiled as he shook his head when he saw how this woman looked at him with contempt. He did not say anything, and just turned around and walked to the counter opposite.

After walking a few steps, he heard a shout echoing in his ear: "Wu Tian!"

Turning his head, he saw a man standing behind a computer counter opposite him, smiling at him with some arrogance.

Dagaang?

This man was none other than his high school classmate, Dagaang.

There was a pretty girl standing beside Dagaang. It was his girlfriend from high school, Lee Mi. She wore thick makeup and was covered in gold and silver, and had the bearing of a boss.

Seeing the couple, Wu Tian felt as if his heart was pierced by needles and his mood instantly became constrained.

To be honest, he hadn't expected to meet his high school ex-girlfriend here either.

Looking at the familiar face of the lady before his eyes, his mind raced, and the memories of the past surfaced within his mind.

Read next chapter