C24 Successful Investments

After paying the medical fees, Wu Tian turned back to the doctor in white coat and asked: "I have already paid for the operation. Can we have the operation now?"

"Yes, yes." The doctor quickly nodded.

Seeing that this brat was rich and was a wealthy big boss, the doctor knowingly didn't dare to offend him, so he became very deferential towards Wu Tian.

"Hurry up and arrange for the best specialists to operate for my friend." Wu Tian urged as he glared at the white coat doctor.

"Yes, yes, yes." The doctor answered and quickly began to work.

Sun Xiaohao's legs went soft, as he directly kneeled in front of Wu Tian. He gratefully said, "Tian, thank you for paying for my mother's treatment."

"A man should have dignity and should not bow to his knees. Quickly get up." Wu Tian swiftly helped Sun Xiaohao up from the ground and said with a warm smile, "You used to help me often. It's only right that I help you now."

As the saying goes, the gift of dripping water will return to the springs. Sun Xiaohao has a good character, and used to help him often.

Now that Sun Xiaohao encountered trouble, naturally he could not just sit idly by.

"I really didn't expect this ..." Before Sun Xiaohao could finish his sentence, tears had already started rolling out of his eyes.

Never in his dreams did he expect Wu Tian to unhesitatingly give him a million when he needed help the most.

This one million might not mean much to Wu Tian. But to him, it was an astronomical figure.

"We are friends, so we should help each other." Wu Tian patted Sun Xiaohao's shoulder and said, "Men shouldn't cry. Also, don't kneel down so easily to others in the future."

"Alright!"

Sunn Xiaohao wiped away his tears and said with a trembling voice, "Tian, I'm really glad to know you. From now on, I, Sun Xiaohao, will pledge loyalty to you."

"There is no need to be that serious. We'll still be good brothers in the future."

"I'll definitely find a way to return this one million to you."

"We can talk about this later. Currently, treating your mother's illness is more important." After Wu

Tian said this, he took the initiative to change the subject: "Right, take me to see Auntie first."

"Alright." Sun Xiaohao forcefully wiped away the tears on his face before bringing Wu Tian to the ward.

When they arrived at the fourth ward, a middle-aged woman was lying on the bed. She looked thin and very old. Her body was completely pale white. This was Sun Xiaohao's mother. She had toiled for her family all her life, and in the end, she was infected with a disease.

"Mom ..."

Sun Xiaohao hugged his mother's arm and emotionally said, "We've already paid enough for the operation fees, I'll be able to treat you soon."

"I heard the operation costs more than a million yuan, where did you get all that money from?" Sun Yiyi's mother nervously looked at her son, anxious to know where the source of the surgery fee came from.

More than a million dollars was definitely not a small amount. For a family like theirs, this amount was simply astronomical.

And Xiaohao suddenly managed to receive over a million yuan. She was worried that the money didn't come from a legal source, so she hurriedly questioned.

"Mom, this is my classmate, Wu Tian." Sun Xiaohao pointed at Wu Tian and explained, "He was the one who lent me one million yuan for your operation."

When she heard this, Sun Yiyi's mother instantly became agitated as tears rolled down her cheeks.

"Child, thank you for helping us." Sun Yiyi's mother dragged her weak body as she prepared to climb out of the sickbed, wanting to express her gratitude towards Wu Tian.

Perhaps her body was too weak, but before she could get up, she fell heavily onto the bed.

"Auntie, your body is too weak, don't move around recklessly." Wu Tian quickly went forward and pressed Sun Yiyi's mother's body with his arms onto the bed, hinting for her to lie down and not move.

"Child."

Sun Yiyi's mother held onto Wu Tian's arm tightly and said with a trembling voice, "You are really the savior of our Sun family. I really thank you for your help."

"Xiaohao was good to me in the past and often helped me, so it's only right for me to help you now." Wu Tian said with a smile.

Hearing this, Sun Yiyi's mother cried even louder, "It's really Xiaohao's good fortune to have such a good friend like you."

"Friends have to help each other in times of trouble."
"Xiaohao, you must remember that Wu Tian is the great benefactor of our Sun family. You must repay him well in the future." Sun Yiyi's mother turned around and warned her son.

"I know." Sun Xiaohao fiercely nodded.

"Alright Auntie, have a good rest. I'll come see you another day after the doctor has arranged for you to undergo surgery." Wu Tian was afraid of affecting Sun Yiyi's mother's mood, so after a simple farewell, he left the ward.

After Sun Xiaohao saw Wu Tian out of the ward, he did not forget to gratefully repeat, "Tian, thank you so much for this time ..."

"Let's not talk about this first." Wu Tian interrupted and patted Sun Xiaohao's shoulder: "Take good care of Auntie. Call me if you have any problems. I'll be leaving first."

With that, he turned around and left the hospital. On the way back to school, he coincidentally had to pass through the Huiyue Restaurant. He asked the cab driver to stop and decided to check out the restaurant.

The restaurant was bustling with business and many people were continuously streaming in. Many customers were queuing up and waiting for their meals. The waiters were all extremely busy.

Seeing this scene, Wu Tian felt very gratified. Looks like investing in Huiyue Restaurant was the right decision. He believed that it wouldn't be long before the restaurant would make a return in his investment.

He stood in the corner, silently watching the guests and the busy waiters.

Soon, the Lobby Manager saw him. He eagerly went up to the boss, trying to curry favor with him,

"Boss, you're here. Why didn't you inform me of your arrival?"

"I don't need you to receive me. You just need to greet the guests." Wu Tian looked at the Lobby Manager and instructed.

When he was negotiating with Liu Jun regarding purchasing Huiyue Restaurant, the Lobby Manager was also there, so he had a deep impression of him.

"Boss Wu, what instructions do you have for us today?" The Lobby Manager maintained his radiant and bright smile

"I'm just here to take a look. Oh yeah, how's the restaurant's business going?"

"The restaurant has been doing very well lately. I'll show you the bill." The Lobby Manager said. He hurried over to get the bill.

After reading the bill, Wu Tian nodded in satisfaction: "You did well, the benefits are much higher than before."

"It's all thanks to Boss Wu's leadership."

"Stop chattering me." Wu Tian slightly rolled his eyes at the manager, smiled and said, "You and everyone else have worked hard. Wait until the end of the month, and I will give everyone a portion of the profit as a bonus."

"Thank you, Boss Wu." After thanking him, the Lobby Manager said to the other waiters, "Boss Wu is giving us a bonus, are you guys happy?"

"Happy!"

When the waiters heard that there was a bonus, they all gathered around and praised Wu Tian as a good boss who took care of the employees, going up one by one to express their gratitude.

"As long everyone follows me and does a good job, there will be a lot of bonuses in the future. I'll let you receive so much bonuses till your hand becomes tired." Wu Tian encouraged the crowd and said.

"Alright!"

The waiters cheered in unison as they spontaneously raised their hands to applaud. The entire restaurant was in an uproar.

"Alright, everyone hurry up and greet the guests. Don't worry about me." Seeing that more and more customers were gathering, Wu Tian reminded the waiters.

"Yes Boss!" The waiters continued to busy themselves.

Having such a good boss made them work especially hard, and they all felt really passionate and motivated.
