

Chapter 85 My Woman

Did Lin Fang just read my mind? I hurriedly drank the water to try to hide my nervousness, but as I drank, I saw a drop of red swirled and dissolved into my cup.

Lin Fang drew her face in towards my ear, and whispered, “You got a nosebleed.”

My heart skipped a beat. When she spoke, I felt her breath on my ear, making my heart stir restlessly.

I told her, stammering, that I need to use the restroom. Then I dashed into the restroom and washed the blood off my face.

When I was about to go back out, I suddenly realized, Lin Fang didn’t get angry. So... does that mean that I’m allowed to do something more now...?

I shook my head and kicked myself internally. Zhang Chao, how do you even call yourself a man, fidgeting around like a smitten little kid?

Lin Fang was my girlfriend already, so why am I letting her do all the work?

I worked up my courage and went back out, but by now, Lin Fang had already finished packing the medkit back up, and went to put it away back in the cupboard in her room.

Immediately, the courage that I finally worked up went away again. I scratched my head, completely lost as to what I should do.

I waited for a bit in the living room, but Lin Fang didn’t come back out of her room, and I knew that I’ve blown all my chances today. It was my fault, for not grabbing hold of the opportunities when they present themselves.

After thinking for a while, I knocked on her door and told her that I’m going to go back to the company.

Now that I’ve been hired back by the company, to outsiders, I still need to play the part of being Lu Tong’s driver. If others began noticing that I was absent too frequently, and that Lu Tong didn’t find it necessary to fire me despite that, people are going to begin suspecting things.

“Wait.” Hearing me, Lin Fang came out.

I thought she only came out to send me off, but when we got to the door, just as I was about to open the door, Lin Fang suddenly grabbed my hand and wouldn’t let me open it.

She turned me around to face her, and plastered herself against me entirely. Her lithe and soft body leaned and pressed against me, as she lifted her little face and looked into my eyes.

My brain was in shambles. The only thing I could think of right now was how soft her body felt, and how various bulges on her body feels against my body. I didn’t dare to even breathe too loudly, if this was a dream then I mustn’t do anything rash as to accidentally wake myself up from it.

Lin Fang looked at me, pouted, and hooked her arms around my neck, “Am I that unattractive to you?”

“W...what?”

Lin Fang was blushing furiously, “Are you really that slow? I’ve given you so many hints, can you truly not understand me? Or are you really that disinterested towards me?”

Something exploded in my mind, and I cupped Lin Fang’s face with my hands and kissed her as hard as I could, unable to think about any other things.

I grabbed and pulled at her shirt and skirt, and kissed her lips and her cheeks. Somewhere in my head, a part of me realized that she was whimpering softly and pushing against me with her weakened hands, but the larger part of me simply wanted to continue kissing her until the end of time.

Lin Fang resisted against me at first, but after a while, her arms tightened over my neck and hugged me back and pressed even tighter against me.

I kissed her cheek, and gradually moved my lips lower, to her chin, to her neck, and when I reached her chest, she whimpered, “D...don’t be too rough... my shirt, don’t tear it...”

All of a sudden, it was as if she threw a burning matchstick into my heart, and set it ablaze.

I picked her up in my arms and threw her on the sofa, then moved on to her.

Her sofa was narrow. Our bodies pressed against each other tightly, as we felt each other’s breath on our face.

It was as if Lin Fang’s body had been soaked in the finest of wine, she was red with blush all over. She looked so pretty, more than anything else.

My eyes lowered from her face, then onto her chest. Embarrassed, Lin Fang’s hands instinctively shot up to cover it, but I caught it and set them aside.

Lin Fang’s hands came up again, but this time around my face, as she kissed me, “Zhang Chao, I love you so much.”

My heart softened, and I wished I could make this moment last forever.

Lin Fang said, beside my ear, “But I’m also really afraid. I scared of Chen Yuzhou.”

“Don’t worry, before long, he won’t be able to cause you trouble ever again.”

“No, I don’t want you to have anything more to do with him anymore. He is... he is the devil. He is much scarier than you think. He... he even kills people.”

At the mentioning of Chen Yuzhou’s name, Lin Fang began worrying anew.

Looking at her frightened expression, I hugged her close and kissed her on the forehead then sideways to her temple.

Lin Fang said, “You don’t know he scary he is. In the past, he got someone pregnant, then... then he killed the woman, along with the child inside her. He is not a man. He is the devil. We’re no match against him. Let’s run away from this place.”

Gradually, the lust that burned within me became anger.

Before I came back to Tong City, God knows just how much Lin Fang had to tolerate Chen Yuzhou’s advances and unreasonable demands. Chu Xiaoxiao was right. Against someone as powerful and influential as Chen Yuzhou, it was impossible for lone frail girls like Lin Fang to defy Chen Yuzhou.

One day, I will make Lin Fang mine, completely mine, but not now. I want her to make that choice freely, by her own will, free from fear and worries.

Before that time comes, I’ll make sure to destroy him and make him answer for the crimes that he committed, and tell him exactly who I am in front of all the people, and that from that moment on, Lin Fang will forever be my woman, and that nothing can make her afraid anymore.

I straightened her clothes and buttoned them up for her. Lin Fang was surprised at the sudden change in my attitude.

I reassured her, “It isn’t that I wasn’t interested in you. Believe me, I have a mountain load of interests in you, but I want to save cuddling with you until after I take care of this Chen Yuzhou business.”

Lin Fang looked at me, then smiled, crying and laughing at the same time.

“Or, we can just leave him alone. You and I, we can go away somewhere else, somewhere where Chen Yuzhou can’t find us.”

I didn’t say anything. I don’t want to let my woman live a life of being terrified for the rest of her life.

I continued hugging Lin Fang just like that, until she fell asleep.

Though I haven’t done anything today, but I have no regrets. Before I finally make Lin Fang my woman, I want to take care of Chen Yuzhou once and for all.

After Lin Fang fell asleep, Chu Xiaoxiao’s call came, and asked me when I could go to the company.

“Chen Yuzhou came and caused trouble. Come back, quick.”

Just as well, I was worried just then that he might never come to me.
