Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate

Chapter 101

Chapter 101. The strongest forces

"Thea? What are you doing here?" Athena asked in confusion after finding her very close friend standing in front of her and looking at her with a smirk. She shifted back to her human form after finding Thea there.

"Shouldn't I be the one asking you this question? What are you doing here?" Thea asked while walking closer to Athena while Athena wore the undergarments and robe she brought with her.

"What do you mean?" She asked with a frown while trying the knot of her robe "Your mate is sick back there and you are roaming around here, misusing your power." Thea teased. Athena rolled her eyes hearing her

"How do you know about Dominic? And what power are you talking about?" Athena asked with a frown

"Did you forget that I am a witch, Athena?" Thea asked in a smug tone.

"Did you use your magic to keep your eyes on us?" Athena asked in disbelief but she let out a sigh after that because she didn't expect more than that from Thea. Thea was a dirty witch with nice intentions for the people she loved. And Athena was on the list.

"To keep my eyes on our and my little pumpkin. I don't want you both to be in any trouble. Because trust me, sometimes I feel like the whole universe is against you both." Thea chuckled with a roll of her eyes. She acted as if she was angry but in reality she was angry and Athena could say that.

"So, you came here following me intentionally?" Athena asked with a raised eyebrow

"Duh, yes." Thea said with a roll of her eyes.

"You didn't have to be so savage and smug about it and tell me what you want to tell me." Athena said with a sigh as she sat down on the ground. Her feet were aching from running so much. Thea joined her on the ground.

"I came here to free you from two of your biggest miseries." She said with a small smile, earning a frown from Athena.

"And what are they?" Athena asked

"One, your recently discovered power. And two..?" Thea stopped herself in the middle and looked at Athena,

"Two?" She asked with a frown, waiting for her to continue her words,

"Dominic."

"Dominic? How can you help with Dominic?" Athena asked in confusion but with a hopeful look on her face.

"Calm down, pretty bitch. Let's go step by step." Thea said with a smirk.

"You are a mean bitch, do you know that?" Athena scowled at her.

"I will take that as a compliment. Now tell me, do you know what just happened now?" Thea asked, getting serious.

“Err. No, but I guess I was able to control the... Fire? I think I was able to erupt the volcano?” Athena said in confusion, not sure of what she was saying “Absolutely correct. I have come here to study you about your wolf and your powers. Because as a witch, we study it more carefully than those bratty wolf dogs.” Thea said in a teasing tone, immediately earning a glare from Athena.

“Hey!” She shouted at her while glaring at her.

“No offence to you because you are a pretty bitch.” Thea gave her a cheeky smile.

“Tell me what it is.” Athena said, jumping on the main topic.

“As a red wolf, you have the power of fire. You have two major powers regarding fire apart from many other small powers.”

“What are they?”

“One, you can control the fire. Any kind of fire. Make a small fire turn into a disaster and tame down a disaster within seconds. You can light up a fire and burn everything into ashes using one single hair from your wolf’s body”

“That sounds so unreal.” Athena exclaimed in astonishment

“I know but there are drawbacks as well.” Thea said with a frown, Athena looked at her with a similar expression

“What is it?”

“You can be tamed easily by another force of power.”

“And what is that?” Athena asked as she didn’t like the sound of it.

“The water.” Thea answered, making Athena confused.

“The water?”

“And guess who’s that person?”

“Who?”

“Your mate. Dominic.”

That came as a big shock for Athena.

“Dominic?” She exclaimed in shock and disbelief.

“Yes.”

“He holds the power of water. All your mighty power would fall empty in front of him. He can easily tame you. But you don’t hold the power to do the same to him and that’s the drawback.” Thea explained.

“Is that why we are mates?” Athena wondered, feeling really special.

“That is why you are mate and that’s why you guys are stupid to reject the mate bond.” Thea scowled at her.

“Will you ever stop?” Athena said with a frown.

“Nope.”

“Fine, whatever! Now tell me how can I help Dominic? It’s a must for him to wake up.” Athena asked in a desperate tone and Thea let out a sigh.

“I know and here’s how I can prove that you guys are stupid once again.” She said with a smirk, making Athena frown

“How?”

“Dominic didn’t take back the rejection and you didn’t do anything to make him take it back. If the rejection was gone, you could have easily broken the magic.” Thea stated in a ‘duh’ tone, making Athena look at her with a frown as a word stuck to her.

“The magic?” She exclaimed in shock and confusion.

“Oh yes, the silver of the arrow was made with magic which is why every treatment was failing on him.” Thea broke another news to her and that angered Athena beyond limit. “What the fuck?!” She exclaimed loudly in shock and fury.

“Yes.”

“Then how can I free him from the magic?” Athena demanded to know as she was furious as well as desperate. Thea looked at her with a smirk, she knew she was going to love the look on Athena’s face when she told her the solution.

“You need to mark him.”

And the expression was priceless.

“Did you hear it?” A voice from the dark said while looking out the window, looking at the large mountain

“Yes, I did.” Derrick’s rough voice grumbled out the world.

“Do you know what that means?” The man from the dark side said in anger.

“Yes, Athena is aware of her powers now. She knows who she is now and that’s bad for us.” Derrick answered with gritted teeth.

“Exactly. If she learns to control her powers properly before we do something, we will be doomed.” The man said.

“I know. You don’t need to tell me that.” Derrick grumbled out as he still caressed the wound which Dominic gave him the last time.

“This day wouldn’t have come if you were fast and smart enough to find out about her power and over power it.” The man said in an annoyed tone while glaring at Derrick.

“Two strong witches were protecting her. What do you expect from me?” Derrick exclaimed with a roll of his eyes, feeling really irritated

“I expect nothing from you now. You already did enough to break my trust.”

“Don’t put all the blame on me when you failed to do shit as well. Your dear daughter is in the dungeon of Alpha Dominic’s pack

Not only she failed to mark alpha Dominic, she messed up so fucking bad that now we have to rescue her.”

“I am going to destroy Alpha Dominic for doing this to my daughter. Trust me, his days are near. I will prove it to him once again that he stands no chance in front of me.” The man said with gritted teeth while Derrick rolled his eyes at him.

“You will not stand any chance in front of him if Athena and Dominic mark each other. They are going to be the strongest force ever.” Derrick stated the obvious, making the man angrier.

“That’s why I started this game of war. Now we need to provoke our trump card a little more for him to declare the war before Dominic wakes up. Things will be under my control again.” The man said as he laughed out loud like a maniac.

“What if Dominic wakes up before that?”

“There is still going to be a war. That’s enough to do the damages. And we will get what we want in no time then.”

“And what is it that you want?”

“The North and the South region. These two regions have always been the strongest force from eternity. The moon goddess created these two regions with great care which is why these two are filled with more power and more mystery. And I am going to own it all if I can defeat the holders of these powers.”

“Who are the holders?” Derrick asked in confusion.

“Dominic and Athena.”

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate Chapter 102

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate

Chapter 102

Chapter 102. Marking him

"D. Dominic. L. L. found a way to heal you." Athena cried out in happiness as she got inside the room and fell on the bed, on top of him. She couldn't control her happiness after finding out the way of healing him.

"Oh my god! I am so happy! B...but... But it needs... It needs me to mark you." She mumbled out in a nervous tone.

*1. I am scared, Dominic... I am very scared." She cried out softly.

"If... If...after waking up... You don't take your rejection back, if... if you ever reject me again... I am going to die, Dominic. I am going to turn into ashes. Did you hear me?" She asked while shaking him by the collar of his shirt.

"I...I know, I trust you. Trust me, I trust you a lot. I am ready to die for you. But I don't want the death of betrayal. I am not going to get peace even after dying like that." She cried while keeping her head on his chest. She suddenly raised her head and looked at him in determination while wiping her tears away.

"So, at this moment, I am putting my life at the power of your palm again. You either protect it in the strong fist of yours or crush it under the strong fist of your." She said as her eyes glowed red like some burning fire and her canines came out.

"I am sorry for marking you without your permission. Hope you know why I am doing this and understand me. I lo..." She stopped in the middle of completing her sentence. She was deciding if she should complete it or not.

"I love you." She mumbled out at last, thinking what if she gets this opportunity again or not.

With that thought, she lowered her head near his neck. She didn't let any other thoughts block her mind and inserted her canines at the flesh of the crook of his neck, marking him under the bright moonlight, keeping the moon goddess as a witness.

"UGH!!" A loud growl grumbled under her and she quickly pulled herself away to find Dominic groaning in pain. He moved his face and body a little while slowly opening his eyes.

"Do... Dominic! Dominic! You are awake! You woke up! Oh my god! This actually worked!" She exclaimed out in happiness.

"A... Athena..." He mumbled out after a few adjustments with the sudden surroundings.

"Yeyes, Dominic... You want to tell me something?" She asked with a worried frown, not ready to hear anything from him.

"Ye...yes..." he breathed out.

“What is it? No, wait. That can wait. First, let me give you water. Are you feeling any pain? Do you want me to call the doctor?” She blubbered out in worry. She was overwhelmed with feelings which weren’t letting her think properly.

“Shh shh... I want to tell you this now.” He opened his eyes widely and looked at her in the eyes while breathing hard.

“No, that can wait, Dominic.” She said in an adamant tone, she didn’t want to hear anything from him. She was scared of some disaster if he said something wrong.

“This can’t wait anymore. This has to be done now only. I have waited long enough. I have taken enough time. Not anymore.” He said in a serious tone. His tone showed that he wasn’t going to listen to anyone.

“Do... Dominic... I... Don’t think you know or not but..... I am going to die if you reject...” She started to mumble out when he shut her up with a kiss and when he pulled back from the kiss, his next set of words silenced her completely.

“I, alpha of alphas of South region, Alpha Dominic, I take back my rejection and accept you, Athena, as my mate, if you accept our mate bond as well.” He voiced out in a large and clear tone while looking her in the eyes. She cried out softly after his words registered on his head.

“I what? L I thought you were going to reject me...”

“How could you even think so, Athena? How could you think that I would reject you after all these?” He asked while sitting up and looking at him with teary eyes.

“I I was scared... Dominic.” She couldn’t stop the tears from falling down.

“Shh don’t cry. Don’t think I am ever going to leave you again. You are mine. I am never going to let you go.” He said while pulling her on his chest and hugging her in an assuring way.

“Did you take the rejection back because.” She couldn’t help but wonder if he was doing this as a payback

“No It hurts to know that you think I took the rejection back because you saved my life. But that’s not true. The day all these happened, I went out for a run to think of ways to win you back again and that’s when I realised the mistake I was making. As soon as I realised it, I was on my way to run back to the pack but I was attacked” He explained.

“You plan to take back the reaction that day only?” She asked with happy tears.

“Yes, my love.” He said with a big smile.

“Oh my goodness! You don’t know what a big relief it is to know that.” She exclaimed in happiness while throwing her arms around him.

“Thank you so much for saving my life, Athena,” He said in a grateful tone while wrapping his hands tightly around her.

“How couldn’t I? You are my mate, Dominic. You are my everything. I would have died if something had happened to you.” She mumbled out on his chest as the tears kept rolling down her eyes.

“But you haven’t replied to me yet.” He suddenly spoke up, making her confused.

“About what?”

“Do you accept our mate bond and take me as your mate?” He asked in a hopeful tone and the bright smile on her face already gave him his answer

“Yes! Yes, I, Athena, take you, alpha of alphas, alpha Dominic as my mate and life partner.” She said with a beautiful smile and he immediately pulled her into a kiss.

They kissed like they were dying without each other and poured all their emotions into that. They stayed in each other's arms for a few minutes in peace and silence.

"A lot of things happened in this one week, Dominic." She suddenly spoke up.

"I know." He answered, making her look at him with a frown.

"How?"

"I wasn't in a coma, Athena."

"What?! Were you acting then?!" She exclaimed loudly in shock and disbelief.

"No, silly. I was under the magic. All my senses were active. I could hear you, smell you, feel you, sense you but couldn't open my eyes or move at all. That's because of the magic." He explained and she nodded at him, understanding what he meant. Then suddenly she remembered something.

"Does that mean you heard everything?" She asked with widened eyes, already trying to remember if she had said something she shouldn't have or anything like that.

Oh god! She talked so much with him! If only she knew, she would have controlled herself a little.

'If you had known, wouldn't you have marked him fast to wake him up, silly?' Her over smart wolf spoke up, making her push her back, just like always.

"Everything." Dominic spoke up with a smirk, his hold around her got tightened as a teasing look appeared on his face. She gulped seeing that as she knew he was not upto any good.

"From when?" She asked in a nervous tone while looking at him carefully. But she became a little confused when she looked at the sad smile on his face as his eyes dropped from her face and landed on the blank space ahead him.

"From the start. From the time you threatened the poor doctor on my name till your last words, I heard everything." He spoke up with a small smile at the corner of his lips. He was trying to make it less saddening but what he went through was really worse for an alpha. He was so helpless that it was agonising.

"Wasn't it painful?" She asked in a careful tone while inching close to him to give him the much needed comfort which he craved. She wrapped her warm hands around him.

"It was but at the same time it was very interesting as well. Sometimes it made me feel so helpless and sometimes it made me feel so special." He said with a small chuckle at the memory. She looked at him with a little bit of confusion, unable to understand what was going through in his mind.

"What are those times when you felt helpless the most?" She asked in a soft tone.

She could feel his heartbeat increase and lips tremble. She understood it wasn't a good experience. She got up and sat on his lap on her own and wrapped her arms around his neck and pulled his neck on her chest. She wanted him to hear her heartbeat which might help him calm down.

"The times when you cried on my chest, I felt the most helpless that time. I felt so angry that I couldn't hold you back and stop you from crying. I tried so hard to break free the curse but couldn't and that's when I felt most helpless. Apart from that, I could feel how restless you all were with the pack issues and I couldn't do anything to help you all. It was very painful as well because I felt like I was failing you all as your Alpha." He said as his voice trembled and his hold tightened around her as if he started to feel his body unable to move just like when he was in the coma.

"Don't think like that. You are the best alpha anyone could get and your friends and pack members know that as well.” Athena said in a strong tone while making him look him in the eyes. She wanted him to believe what she just said. The small smile on his face told him that he believed her.

“These are times when I felt happy and grateful. To know how much I meant to my friends was really great. I always knew they loved me but this incident proved it once again and I am very grateful to my pack members as well for knowing from you that they were ready to fight for me to protect me. I can’t thank the moon goddess enough for this.” He said in a happy tone while snuggling close to her

The position was like heaven to him. Her on his lap, their arms wrapped around themselves. Their heart beating in sync and what else they could ask for?

“Yes, you are very lucky to have them as your pack members. And I am very lucky to have you as my mate.”

“I should be the one to say that.”

“Was there any time when you enjoyed being in your state?”

“Of course.” He said with a smirk, making her look at him with a raised eyebrow.

“Really? When?”

“When you used to blabber sweet things to me, thinking I wasn’t listening. And the time, when you used to look at me and touch me lustfully in the name of changing the bandage.” He teased and her eyes widened hearing him.

“Dominic!”

“What? Are you going to deny that you didn’t enjoy touching my hot body!?” He asked with a raised eyebrow.

“No!” She flushed red hearing him.

“Okay, then, I remember we had a deal.” He said with a smirk, making her confused.

“What deal?” She asked.

“That I am going to return all your touches back to you as a payment for healing me.” He said while wrapping his arms around her waist, pulling her on his lap.

“What?! No! This wasn’t the deal-...!”

“Shh...now I am going to return all your touches back to you.”

Hiding His Baby The Alpha’s Rejected Mate Chapter 103

Hiding His Baby The Alpha’s Rejected Mate

Chapter 103

Chapter 103. Pleasuring her

Dominic slowly freed herself from the rob she was wearing after the run. The rob fell lazily around her waist as she was sitting on the bed. Her breath hitched as she sat there with her bare front right in front of him, just with a bra.

at him. He held her hand and brought it up. He locked her fingers with each other at the back of his head, as a result, her bust pushed up into the air. Her head was on his shoulder

“Keep them there.” He ordered taking his hands back from her, freezing her movements with his cold stares. “Relax and take a deep breath.” He ordered once again and she obeyed him once again. He had again overpowered her mind and now it was working according to his will. She didn’t have any control over it. Just like she didn’t have years ago.

She took a deep breath and her chest heaved up which made him curse under his breath. His lips were very close to her ear so it was not hard for her ears to catch it.

“Leave your body free, Athena.” He guided her and she loosened herself and placed her head on his chest. “Forget about your fears, discomfort, scars and responsibilities, everything, just remember me and my touches and the effect my touches were leaving on you. Let me touch your soul.” His words were leaving her in a breathing mess.

His hands were not touching her at the moment, but his hot breaths were enough for her to get breathless. The tip of his fingers brushed the bare skin of her waist making her squirm under his touch, as she felt tickles over her skin. She shivered at that.

“Sit still.” He ordered once again but this time in a hoarse voice, halting her movements. His fingers moved up towards her breast in a very slow and tantalising way. His fingers were touching her like a feather, like they were teasing her, sending a wave down her body, making her shudder under his touch.

His hands stopped at her boobs. He waited for a few seconds to let her relax before cupping them when he didn’t receive any kind of resistance from her side.

The mere thought of resistance flew away from her brain minutes ago. The only thing that is dominating her mind at the moment was just him and his touch, the exact things he wanted. The exact thing she wanted.

He squeezed her full boobs, with his large palms and placed his hot yet soft lips behind her earlobe which made her shut her eyes more tighter than before and blackout from the world.

She could see nothing else than the darkness and could feel nothing else than his sinister hands and lips, doing traitorous things, making her feel good and relax for some weird reasons. She didn’t know what was happening to her but the way he is doing it is feeling too good and too wrong to resist.

He kneaded her boobs. It was painful yet pleasurable as he placed another hard yet soft kiss just below her ear before losing his grip on her assets. Just when she was going to release a breath, he squeezed them again and placed another kiss one millimetre below the previous one. He kept on doing this until he reached her shoulder where the strap of her bra was resting, his every kiss and every squeeze was sending a buzzing sensation down to her lower region.

She opened her eyes when she realised he was no longer kissing her and his palms were resting over her boobs without doing anything. His face was tilted down to her shoulder, lips were just above the bra strap and eyes were up, looking directly into her eyes through the mirror that was in front of the bed.

As if he was waiting for her to open her eyes and witness what he was doing, he squeezed her breasts tightly, at the same time took the bra strap in between his teeth, and moved it down her shoulder without moving his gaze from her. She shivered under his captivating gaze

His eyes burned into her from the mirror, daring her to even blink, while his tongue darted out. The tip of his tongue was making its way from her shoulder to the back of the ear, the area which his lips had just worshipped, slowly and sensually.

Her breath caught in her throat as she had never experienced such things in her life. No one has ever touched her like this ever before him and after that night yet. A weird kind of sensation was taking place at the centre of her body which she was not able to control. It's been years since she felt this again.

When he reached the back of her ear he sucked that spot before blowing over it making her moan in pleasure. The voice that came out of her throat was very different from all the previous moans she had let out. It was the most intimate encounter she has ever had after years.

"You like it, baby girl?" He asked to take the earlobe in between his teeth this time as she nodded lightly, feeling too drained out of energy to move her lips to answer.

"Then you will like it even more." He said and in a flash, his palms from my boobs were gone and it was replaced by his arm. He used his left arm to cover her left boob while its palm held her right boob. His right hand made its way downwards to cup her womanhood that was covered with the thin lacy panty. Her eyes widened when she felt his touch down there.

"What are you..." She was going to ask in shock but couldn't complete her sentence.

"Shhh." He cut her off. "Just feel it, baby." He said in a soothing tone.

He started stroking her down there making Athena forget everything, even her existence.

She saw their reflection in the mirror and her breath shortened looking at themselves.

She felt her entrance getting wetter. His left arm was covering her upper part, making sure to have a firm hold on while his right palm was covering her vagina as if he owned them

He pressed her clothed intimate part with his two fingers for a few seconds before releasing the pressure. She gasped as he did that. His actions were leaving her breathless.

"S... stop..." She gasped out, trying to push his hand away or more like acting to push his hand away.

That night when they got this close, he wasn't sweet and patient. That was rushed and they were in the brim of their lust but at that moment, she felt as if she was experiencing all these for the first time. Which was true. She was actually feeling this for the first time. He was worshipping her body for the first time and she loved every bit of it.

"I have not even started yet, baby girl." He whispered seductively in her ear which built up more heat down there.

"Oh my God!" She gasped once again as it was getting too much for her. She couldn't wonder what he was doing to her. Her hands are still wrapped around his neck while his hands were playing with her body the way he wanted. Her brain was so fogged up with the heat of the moment that she didn't want him to stop even for a second. She could feel beads of perspiration forming on different parts of her body. Her breath was becoming ragged and a different yet pleasing sensation was forming in her lower abdomen

She flinched when he started stroking down there fast, making her forget her existence for the second time. And then going slow again “Too sensitive. Just like I remember” He whispered near her ear in a pleasing tone and she shuddered.

She was too lost in her own world to give heed to things he was saying. While he was stroking her clits above the thin fabric, his eyes were not ready to leave hers. It seems like he was trying to control her, make her believe what he felt..

He was moving his index finger in the crack of her clits from the head to the base, then coming back to repeat the process. His strokes were teasingly slow and for some weird reason, she wanted him to move his fingers faster. As if it was not of enough torture on her body, he started squeezing the breast that was covered by his left palm and at the same time, his lips and teeth began sucking and nibbling the side of her neck.

“D. Dom... Dominic...” She moaned out loud as it was too much for her to handle. Her breath and heartbeats picked up their pace and her body started to become rigid again. There was some kind of knot forming in her stomach which wanted a release. She wanted that badly but didn't know how. What was happening to her? She squirmed under his hold to get the release and the moment she thought it would be over he removed his lips from her neck and hand from clits. His left arm was still wrapped around her breast to keep her in place.

And everything was gone just like that except that knot in her stomach which was making her irritated beyond limit.

“What!” She snapped at him as her eyes were glistening with moisture.

“The thing I am going to do with you will give you immense pleasure and will release all your stress.” He told her and she believed Do you trust me?

His eyes wanted the answer to be positive, so she told him the truth and shook her head positively. He smirked triumphantly at her response. She thought now she was going to get what she wanted but he still wasn't done teasing her.

“Why?” He inquired

“I know you are the one who will love me and cherish me forever.” She answered while looking at him deep into the eyes as if giving him some kind of hint. He kept his face void of any emotion other than desire. He nodded at her with a smirk, impressed by her response.

“You have made me happy and so you deserve some presents.” He said with a smirk

“I thought it was your payback time ” She breathed out in a seductive tone, making him groan. It was getting painfully hard for him.

“We will get there, but for now, get ready for your pleasure, baby.” He breathed in her ear.

Before she could register his words, he used his right foot to push her right foot aside and spread her legs apart. And before she could protest, he slid his hand in her panty and cupped her bare womanhood making her moan in pleasure.

She was not alone who made this sound of pure lust and pleasure as the same sound came out of his throat too when his fingers touched her most intimate part.

“You are already more than prepared.” He groaned.

His palm stayed there, covering her wet entrance perfectly while his breathing became heavy. She could feel his chest going up and down and something very hard was poking her lower back. It didn't take her time to understand what it was and that was enough to make her heart go crazy in anticipation.

His hold on her breast tightened when he started moving his index finger at the little space between her vaginal lips. After a few strokes, he slid his finger through the passage and started doing the same.

His long index finger does not need to move a lot as it was already covering most of her part. Pressing his finger on the head of her womanhood he moved his finger down to the end and repeated the process till she was trembling under him, low whimpers were leaving her lips as if they were asking for more of it.

The tip of his finger then started drawing circles on the head of her entrance, making her close her eyes and shut her thoughts. She moaned aloud when he picked up the speed and she fell back on his shoulder as she was feeling too weak to stand on her own. She could still feel his burning gaze on her in the mirror

Soon his finger was replaced by his thumb, while his finger moved down and invaded her most intimate hole. Her eyes snapped open at the sudden attack and a low shriek left her lips.

"Shhh.." He cooed while kissing her cheeks turned to calm her down and let her relax.

"It. It is pain...paining..." She managed to say in the middle to those small gasps.

"Soon the pain will subside and you will feel immense pleasure, Athena. Do you trust me?" He asked her. That was a really tough question in a situation like this but she was not in the situation to answer otherwise.

"Yes..." She moaned out loud when he pinched her nipple hard while getting impatient for the answer.

He started pumping his finger in and out while leaving feather-like kisses on the side of her neck to make her feel good. She never thought that he could be so gentle toward her.

His finger and thumb increased their pace and the pleasure overpowered the pain. She closed her eyes in anticipation as it was feeling too good to focus on nothing else other than his fingers' motion down there. The knot again started forming at her lower abdomen and she could feel her face turning redder with every stroke. Her eyes squeezed tightly on their own as it was getting uncontrollable for her. But suddenly he spoke up.

"Open your eyes." He ordered, slowing the pace which she didn't like at all. A whine left her mouth as soon as he did that. "Look at me. Look at yourself to see what I can do to you." He said in a hoarse voice. But she wasn't in the state to listen to any command. Her whole consciousness was on something else. She was becoming a mess and he understood that.

"Open your eyes, Athena." He ordered again. This time it came out politely so she opened her eyes slowly and he started to move his fingers faster once again, pushing her to the edge again

"Let it go, baby, release your stress."

He cheered and she let it go, moaning in ecstasy. Her hands dropped down, her head fell back as her eyes were closed once again and she was feeling herself on the ninth cloud. The sensation was too good to describe in words.

She was so lost in the world of pleasure that she didn't notice him picking her up in his arms and walking in the middle of the bed.

She knew it wasn't over yet.

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate

Chapter 104

Chapter 104. Worshiping her

"You have no idea what I have planned for you." He said while pulling out her lip and slamming his lips over her.

His lips moved demandingly slow against her frozen and immobile one. He licked her lower lip twice to get any response and groaned when she didn't join him.

"Kiss me back with all the passion you have, love." He commanded her before placing his lips back on her.

They waited long for this day and now they are not going to stop until they are done. Her heart skips a beat whenever he calls her that. Her lips started moving against his, on their own.

His chest reverberated with a moan as her lips moved in sync with his. He tugged on her lower lip, and she gave his tongue a way to slip into her mouth. Plunging in, his tongue swirled and pulsated in her mouth, overpowering her senses and making her eyes shut on their own to feel the touch of his warm tongue against her.

She was kissing him back the way she knew and every stroke of his tongue and movement of his lips against her was pushing her into the depth of the sea of pleasure.

The way he was lapping against her mouth was implying that he was equally enjoying it. It seemed like their lips were waiting for this moment for a very long time.

They parted when she was out of breath and this time it was not only her who was gasping for breath. Giving her ten seconds to fill her lungs with the required oxygen, he again slammed his lips on her, this time hungrily. He used his palms to keep her head at its place and kissed her demandingly, pinning her down on the bed, making her completely immobile, leaving her at his mercy under his huge weight

He started grinding himself against her, she was feeling weirdly nice when his hard shaft came into contact with her core. Hardly able to keep her feelings to herself, she moaned in his mouth, which encouraged him and his tongue and hips picked up their pace.

It seems like he was losing his control over himself, getting lost in his own world. Moving her hands up, she grabbed his biceps, which were too muscular and broad to fit in her small palms.

When he felt like she couldn't take it anymore he moved back. While she took time to catch her breaths back he peppered feather like kisses on her closed eyes, nose, cheeks, and jawline before moving down to her neck.

His lips pressed on the junction where the jaw meets the neck. His lips trailed down to her neck, leaving every kiss deeper than the previous one. Every time he kissed, her skin dipped and a zap of electricity ran through her body, pooling desires down there. His right hand came down to grab her neck. Wrapping his fingers on the right side of her neck and placing his thumb on her chin, he tilted her head to the right, granting his lips more access to her neck. Her eyes closed, her body getting lost in the amazing feeling, her hands moved up to his nape and into his hair. She tugged lightly, and he bit her hard on her neck making her flinch, a little in pain, mostly in pleasure..

She felt him grinning against her neck on her reaction and he bites her again earning the same response one more time..

He was enjoying it. She was enjoying it. The desire consumed both of them.

His hand that was holding her neck, moved down and rested above her breast while his lips took the position of his hand, giving equal attention to the other side of her neck.

This time, she turned her face to another side on her own, without his guidance and he moaned in encouragement.

He kept on licking, sucking, and nibbling on her skin till he was not satisfied. By the time he was done with her neck, she was already feeling flushed and too lost in another world with no intentions of coming back any time soon. His lips moved down and kissed all over her cleavage, not leaving even a single inch of her exposed skin untouched by his lips.

Sucking on her sweet spot for the last time, he sat on his knees just above her waist, their bodies no longer in contact with each other which forced her to open her eyes. He grinned from ear to ear in victory, when he saw the look of disappointment in her eyes. It was not even one second of him moving back and she was already missing his touch. This is not her! She couldn't recognise herself at that moment! She had never craved for anyone to touch her or kiss her. He has either drugged her or has used some strong spell to keep her under his control. She couldn't think of anything else other than that to explain her body's reaction.

"Time to remove all the hindrance between us," He said while eyeing the remaining clothes from his body.

He moved down a bit, his groin came in contact with Athena's core and she felt something hard poking her down there.

"Fuck." Closing his eyes, he cursed under his breath and took a sharp, deep breath.

His eyes fluttered open and bored directly into her, and she felt a kind of electricity between them, which she was sure he felt too. Thick and hot desires were pooled into his eyes, which made her heart thump even louder in her chest.

Their gaze rampaged down to their bodies, taking in each other's frame. The yellow light was reflecting on his perfect Greek God like body, enhancing its beauty even more. Her eyes were enjoying the view so much that they could stare at the sight in front of them all night long. She didn't want to look away even for a second.

"You are very beautiful, my love." He whispered in appreciation and astonishment. He sounded speechless.

Her eyes snapped to him and her heart leaped a beat as he again called her love and complimented her once again which had the same effect as the first time. His eyes held veracity implying that he has said each and every word by his heart.

At that moment, she was lying in the middle of the king-sized bed while he was straddling her.

“I am going to ravish your innocence tonight.” He said in a hoarse tone as his hands reached out for her.

Taking her wrists in one large palm he guided them above her head. His face came down and stopped just above her and her eyes followed him on their own. She was not getting what he was trying to do. He looked down into her big, wide orbs, his eyes were reflecting the battle that he was fighting, his mind contemplating over some thought. After a few seconds, he opened his palm, setting her hands free.

“Let them free for tonight.” He spoke up while clicking his tongue. It seemed like he told this more to himself than to her.

His hands came down and rested on the straps of the bra while his nose started grazing her neck.

“You smell heavenly.” He murmured against her skin. His mere words aroused goosebumps all over her body and sent shivers at the place where his breath fanned her skin.

His lips trailed down, fingers mirroring the action of his lips, and he pulled the bra strap down her shoulder. His lips changed the side of her neck while his left hand did the same to the left strap. Sitting back on his knees, he hauled her against his body, squeezing it against his, before pushing her down to the bed again.

Her body, her brain, her heart, her eyes, her thoughts, her movement every single thing was being controlled and overpowered by him. He was moving her on his fingers and she was letting him do that on her own. It seemed like he had taken away all her power leaving her at his mercy, under him.

Grabbing her hands away, he pulled them away, leaving her breast bare to his eyes. As if that tug instilled some senses in her brain, she flinched and covered her bust with her hands.

His eyes snapped up to her along with blood that rushed to her cheeks. Taking the lower lip in between her teeth, she started chewing it.

“Fuck Athena, do not make this difficult for me. I am trying everything not to fuck hard, right now, the way I want because I want to make it easy for you.” He scolded and she immediately left her lips which had then turned a darker shade of red.

His hands moved up and grabbed her elbows. He moved her hands away, exposing her round and full bosoms to his thirsty eyes.

“Do not hide yourself from me.” He said in a soft tone which sounded like an order.

Once her hands were all the way down his eyes stopped at her breast and stayed there for more than a minute. Her breaths became heavy and suddenly she was feeling the need to take deep breaths. The room appeared very small and hot to her. Her chest heaved up and down in anticipation. Her nervousness was on its peak.

His hands and eyes moved up, his eyes stopped at her and his hands grabbed her bosoms, without even blinking

“You are just perfect for me, Athena.” He said, looking directly into her eyes.

His type of words weren't helping her much in keeping control. She was going crazy. They were no longer breathing and it seemed like their world was paused in each other's eyes.

Without taking his eyes off of her, he leaned in and clasped his lips around her right nipple, her eyes closed on their own and an involuntary moan passed her lips. She could feel her nipples hardening under his hold.

His hands squeezed her bosoms and at the same time, his tongue swirled around the nipple, before taking it in between his teeth and tugging on it

She gasped in pain as the pain shot up in her breast which travelled down to the centre of her body in the form of an electrical short. He chuckled at her response and licked and sucked it to soothe the pain. Soon pleasure overpowered the pain and she began to enjoy the unfamiliar feeling he was giving to her.

He blew over the one nipple while his free hand pressed the other nipple between his fingers, elongating it. Her nipples hardened even more and she melted under him. The sensation was making its way from her chest down to her groyne, building of desires down there.

His lips switched the nipple and gave equal attention to the other one. The moment his warm lips started sucking it, she clasped the sheets in tight fists, threw her head to one side and nearly convulsed.

His lips and fingers that felt so experienced, were blazing every nerve of her inexperienced body, making her pant in want. She herself was amazed by the way her body was reacting under his touch.

His lips moved to the valley of breast and he left feathery kisses in a line till her navel, his tongue dipped into her navel making her palpitate under him.

“Don’t move.” He said in a hard tone and gripped her waist from both sides to keep her in place.

His tongue repeated the process and every stroke was sending a zap of electricity to her core. His lips moved further down and stopped just above her vagina that was still covered with the thin fabric. He nuzzled over there and moaned in satisfaction before pressing a kiss above it and her nose scrunched up in the sensation.

As if he read her thoughts, his hands moved down to her thigh, and twisting it a little, he planted soft kisses on her inner thighs making her quiver.

It tickled and she was very ticklish!

As he planted more and more kisses on her inner thigh his beard scraped the skin, and she burst into giggles. He stopped all of a sudden and looked up at her with knitted eyebrows.

“What!” He sounded irritated.

“It is ticklish.” She said in between giggles.

He chuckled at her response and kept staring at her laughing face.

“You are full of surprises.” He said, which made her stop laughing.

He then lifted her left foot and pressed a thumb at her instep before scraping it with his thumbnail which again shot up the weird sensation to her groyne.

Why does every kind of feeling go to the same place? She wondered.

He repeated his action which made her squirm under him. She was trying her best to stay calm but it was near to impossible for her. He chuckled lightly.

“You have just shown me one of your weaknesses. I will use it against you.” He slyly said as a smile plastered on his lips.

Before she could say something, his hands moved up, tugged her panty off, and threw it away before racking his eyes all over her naked self. She tried to close her legs but his hands kept her thighs in their place.

His eyes were touching every corner of her frame and suddenly she became conscious about her body. Her skin started burning under his fierce, penetrating gaze, she was feeling hot and cold at the same time. Although she was butt naked in front of him before as well, she still felt shy.

“Beautiful.” That was the only word that left his mouth. All the heat rushed to her cheek and she bit her lips to hide her shyness. “You will be the death of mine.” He mumbled before leaning in and capturing her lips in between his.

His hands made their way down there and his fingers circle around her skillfully making her moan in his mouth.

“Oh fuck! I want you so much.” He breathed out.

Without any warning, his finger invaded her and she cried out in pain which was muffled by his lips. He kept on pumping it in and out, making her whimper in pain and pleasure.

His second finger joined the first one and she squeaked in pain. His thumb started drawing circles which eased the pain and pleasure overtook her. He increased his pace, she felt a knot forming in her stomach and her legs stiffened. He moved his face away and placed his forehead on her, looking back into her eyes, daring her to even blink.

“Let it go.” He commanded with authority in his eyes. She didn’t need his words to obey his orders as his fierce eyes full of desires were enough to make her cum.

He moved back as she tried to take deep breaths to collect her shattered body. It was a thousand times better than the last one She never knew that she was unaware of such feelings for so many years

She opened her eyes when she felt him parting her thighs even more. He was looking down at her, freezing her at her place through his dominating eyes while he tore the foil packet with his teeth. He was looking freaking hot while doing that.

She was so lost in his eyes that she didn’t notice when he positioned himself against her.

“Are you ready, baby?” He asked while rubbing his shaft against her vagina.

His eyes held so much power that her head nodded in yes on its own. Her body has already surrendered to him and it is working according to his will. She had no more control over herself.

He smirked playfully before hovering above her and guided himself into her.

“Ahhh.” She cried out in pain as he entered her in one swift thrust, breaking all the hindrance between them.

“Fuck, you are so tight.” He groaned, his breathing harsh and heavy.

Her hands shot up and she scratched his shoulders to get relief. He was not even fully in and she became a crying mess. He was pushing it in very slowly, allowing her to adjust to his size. His face was implying that he was trying his best not to push himself into her in one go.

“I- I can’t.” She cried out. He breathed and pushed into her. She cried out again.

He stilled as he was all the way in, giving her time to assimilate the feeling of him being fully into her, and smiled triumphantly while she was whimpering in pain. He is too big for her, she realised. How did she have him inside her the first time.

He leaned in and took her quivering lips in between his and sucked on it to reduce the pain but nothing worked. A single tear escaped the corner of her eye which he rubbed away with the pad of his thumb.

“Don’t cry.” He cooed “If you want I can take it away.” He proposed in a caring tone.

“Ju-... just go so...slow.” Her voice cracked up but she managed to say that out through whimpers.

He nodded in understanding and moved back before pushing in again, very slowly and sensually, making her warm all over again. But the pain was still there.

“Is this okay?” He asked with concern in his voice while caressing her hair soothingly.

She was still not fully accustomed to his size yet it was better than before. She was slowly getting adjusted. It was not hurting that much to her so she nodded.

He closed his eyes as his jaw clenched tightly. It seemed like he was struggling to not be too hard and fast. He was in pain and she knew that.

With closed eyes, he pulled back only to push again and she cried which made his eyes shot open.

“Ok... I am ok...” She told him as she read the concern in his eyes. He stayed still until she didn’t ask him to move.

He picked up a smooth and slow continuous rhythm and her body became accustomed to him. He picked up the speed a little as she moaned and the pain disappeared on its own. He came down to her nipples and started his sweet torture again, which made her forget the pain.

She again felt something building up in her stomach which she was not able to keep for long because of his continuous thrust and warm lips and palms around her bosoms.

Her thoughts started to shatter at the unfamiliar feeling and the only thing that she could focus on was him. She was about to come when he stopped and she opened her eyes in confusion and agony. Smirking triumphantly he picked up the pace again.

He was such a tease!

“Come.” He breathed out and she came with a scream looking into his eyes and he followed her soon after a few thrusts.

He pulled himself back and she winced at the strangeness.

“You took it nicely.” He kissed her forehead once, before scooping her into his arms.

“I am not done with you yet, but I will not go for another round as it’s your first time after years, it’s going to hurt just as the first time.” He said and hid her face in his chest.

Wrapping his arms around her waist, he placed his chin on her head.

“Sleep, we still have a lot of nights waiting for us.” He mumbled and caressed her head and back with his knuckles very gently

Hiding His Baby The Alpha’s Rejected Mate Chapter 105

Hiding His Baby The Alpha’s Rejected Mate

Chapter 105

Chapter 105. Moming shower with Alpha mate

“Good morning, beautiful!” The hoarse yet husky voice of Dominic woke Athena up from her peaceful sleep.

It was the most peaceful sleep she ever had in her life. Her mate took back his rejection and respectfully accepted her as his mate with her permission. They made love. The night just kept turning beautiful with every passing second and she loved every second of it even though he still had a few things left to do to set things between them completely right. Without having any set back.

But she has full trust in him. She knew that he was going to set everything alright very soon. She just needed to give him time and trust which she was willing to give.

“Good morning, Dominic.” She mumbled lazily with her eyes still closed as she snuggled on his chest while winching a little from the pain. A worried smile came up on his face as soon as he heard her. His hold around her got tightened as he sniffed her scent.

“How are you, love?” He asked while caressing her face to make her open her eyes.

She opened her eyes but couldn't meet his eyes in shyness. The red blush on her cheeks made him feel proud and happy because he was the cause of it. “Look at me in the eyes, love. I want to see your beautiful eyes filled with love for me.” He said in a husky tone with a lazy smirk plastered on his face. She blushed harder hearing that but nevertheless opened her eyes and looked at him in the eyes, fulfilling his wish.

“I am great. A little sore down there.” She said in a shy tone, finding it really hard to maintain eye contact.

‘You are a mother of a child!’ Her wolf snorted at her, making her roll her eyes.

Thanks for the reminder.’ She scoffed back at her before pushing her back to her mind.

“Of course, you are sore. It was your first time after years. I am sorry.” Dominic spoke up in a soft tone while caressing her face once again before landing a small kiss on her nose, making her giggle.

She was excited for the morning which is why she was so cheerful early in the morning. She couldn't contain her excitement to let everyone know that Dominic had woken up. That would be the greatest news the pack would ever get. So, all the pain was meaningless in front of that excitement.

“Oh, don't be sorry. I loved every moment of last night.” She said with a grin, making him grin back at her.

“And I love-...” He suddenly stopped from saying whatever he was going to making her look at him with a little widened eyes. Her heartbeat rose as she looked at him expectantly.

“Y-...you love...?” She stammered, unable to make out a proper sentence. His face went neutral to casual as he looked at her with a heartwarming smile before shrugging his shoulders carelessly.

“Uhh... Nothing...” He said with a small smile. Her face fell hearing that as she was expecting something else to hear but she quickly shook it away before looking at him with a small smile as well.

“Ohh... Uh... Let's get up and have shower quickly. Then you have to meet everyone as well. Mostly, Ace! He is going to be ecstatic seeing you awake!” She exclaimed in excitement while pushing all those thoughts away. She looked at him with sparkling eyes, ready to run out of the room to announce the news to everyone. But he quickly held her down with a serious look on his face.

“Well, about that... I want you to do something for me.” He spoke up in a serious tone as well, making her look at him with a frown. She didn’t like the sudden serious atmosphere but she stopped herself from thinking otherwise.

“Okay? What is it?” She asked in a careful tone, preparing herself for any possible bad thing. But he shocked her by suddenly getting down from the bed while picking her up in bridal style. She let out a loud gasp as she tightened her hold around his neck and looked at him with amused eyes. “Dominic! What are you doing?” She exclaimed in amusement.

“I will tell you in the shower.” He said with a smirk while walking toward the bathroom with her in his arms. She blushed hard after hearing him, making him smirk more.

“We are going to shower together?” She asked in a shy tone, making him look at him with a raised eyebrow

“Is that even a question?” He asked in a ‘duh’ tone while kicking open the door. He got inside the bathroom and kicked it closed again, making her giggle

“We are going to shower together.” She said with a chuckle as he put her down. He went under the shower and turned it on. Cold water poured down his body, making him look hotter than ever. She couldn’t even admire him completely, he pulled her to his body so she could enter the downpour of water.

“What’s the reason for the cute frown?” He asked when he saw the thoughtful look on her face.

“It’s nothing important. I was just thinking.” She said, as he caressed her body, like he was bathing her or something

“Thinking about what?” He asked her with no interest in hearing her answer as if he already knew what she was thinking about

She didn’t reply as well as she was lost with what he was doing to her. He turned her around slowly, until her back was to his front, his lips found its way to her neck and his hands sled to both of her breasts, giving them gentle squeezes that made her forget that he was ignoring her previous question about what he wanted her to do for him. He placed kisses on her wet skin, making her feel all warm inside One of his hands made its way to her clit as he began to stroke it lightly, making her shudder with pleasure

The warm water hits their skin, making them hot and wet for each other. She would never ever get used to the ever pleasant feeling she gets whenever Dominic touches her

“I love doing this with you ” Dominic whispered to her ears as he turned her to face him, his lips found its way to her as they shared a hot passionate kiss.

He swept her off her feet so that her legs could straddle him, when he entered her, she let out a moan of pleasure due to the feel of him inside her Her back was plastered to the wall as he continued to thrust into her. She kissed his neck and tangled her fingers t o his hair, getting lost in the moment again

She is guessing this will be her new favourite thing

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate Chapter 106

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate

Chapter 106

Chapter 106. The young force

"What's wrong, Athena?" Nathan was the first one to open his mouth to ask the question, unable to hold himself back anymore. The environment was filled with tension "Why did you call this sudden meeting?" After Nathan, it was Justin who asked in a desperate tone while looking at her with a frown.

Athena called a serious and urgent meeting suddenly, making them tense. They tried to ask the same questions before but she requested that they don't ask such questions. Which is why they were worried more than anything.

"I don't like the look on your face. What's wrong?" Suzanne asked with a frown. She was still acting a little distanced from Athena but she couldn't hold down the worry anymore and ended up asking. Athena bet Suzanne's hands were itching to hug her.

"Did something happen to Dominic? Is he okay? Should I call the doctor?" Patricia ended up asking the triggering questions for everyone and their eyes widened thinking of the possibilities of that happening. But before they could attack her with all those questions, she raised her hand to shut them all up with a blank look on her face.

"Please don't ask me any questions. I can't answer them. I would like to talk to the pack members directly only." She said in a serious tone while not looking at their faces, earning scowls from each of them.

"You are scaring us, Athy!" Suzanne spoke up in her usual worried tone, unable to hold it back anymore. Athena's face softened a little after hearing Suzanne's tone. But she again held herself back.

"Bear with it a little longer. It will all be over soon." She said in a low tone while turning around to look down at the pack members who gathered downstairs like everytime. She noticed that everyone was there already but she still waited for confirmation from the head guard.

"Luna, we are all here!" The head guard said and she nodded at him before roaming her eyes around once again. She knew they were going to attack her with questions once again.

"What is it you want to talk about, Luna?"

"Is everything okay?" "Is our alpha okay?"

The series of questions immediately came at her from everywhere, making her sigh. But she couldn't back down at that moment. She had to end what she started. So, she put on a serious face one and looked ahead of her.

"I would like to stop you all before you start attacking me with all the questions and start with the reason why I called this meeting. "She started in a blank tone, sending off the tense environment around them. As she always approaches them with a happy and assuring tone, they weren't used to her current tone yet.

"Okay, Luna." They mumbled out with frowns on each of their faces.

"I want you all to answer a few of my questions." She spoke up and everyone gave her worried looks. Her friends looked confused, unable to understand what happened to her early in the morning.

"We are ready Luna." They all spoke up together in a determined tone and she nodded at them. She closed her eyes and took a deep breath, preparing herself, before letting it go and opening her eyes back. "First question, do you guys trust me?" She asked in a very serious tone while looking down to examine their faces for any oddness. But before she could find any, they all spoke up together once again.

"We do, Luna." She let out a sigh after hearing them. That was too easy, wasn't it? She thought of trying again.

"Why do you guys trust me? Don't tell me because I am your alpha's mate. He didn't even announce or accept me as your and his Luna yet. So, do you have any answer other than that?" She asked the question again but in a composed manner. Everyone went silent after the question and she could say that they were mind-linking each other. Soon one of them raised her hand and she nodded at her to go ahead.

"You saved our alpha's life. That's enough reason to trust you with our lives." The woman spoke up with confidence, making her feel proud but that wasn't enough as a few seconds later, another man spoke up.

"You handled us when we needed it the most, that's enough reason to trust you." The man said, making her look at him with astonishment. But again that wasn't enough as another one spoke up.

A pack falls apart without their alpha but you hold us tightly, hardly letting us meet our alpha. You earned our trust" This time it was a teen-ager which surprised her a lot. But she noticed one thing, their answers always ended at their alpha.

"You love your alpha very much, don't you?" She asked and they immediately nodded at her.

"That can never be a question, Luna." One of them spoke up with his chin raised high. She nodded at him after hearing that.

"Indeed. So, tell me, how far are you willing to go for your alpha?" She asked with a raised eyebrow, slowly her tone was changing to manipulation which her friends caught and got worried.

"What do you mean, Luna?"

"If I say you have to select ten members out of you all to sacrifice to save your alpha? Can you do that?" She asked in a menacing tone while looking down. Her friends were shocked hearing that and Nathan immediately spoke up.

"Athena?! What are you talking about?" Nathan asked as his tone was filled with shock and disbelief.

He shared a look with Suzanne, Patricia and Justin. They were all confused by Athena's questions. They were worried that Athena's questions were going to raise unnecessary tensions among the pack members. They were going to assume the worst even if the situation isn't that bad. And they were worried that pack members didn't trust Athena enough to take the question normally.

"Answer me." Athena growled in command, ignoring Nathan completely. She used her power in her tone which didn't let them oppose or interrupt her again. But they were shocked by the pack members' smartness after they heard their answer.

"We all are willing to give up on our lives but we have a request." The man in duty of speaking behalf of the pack spoke up, taking their attention to him.

"What is it?" Athena spoke up with a frown. Even she was shocked after hearing that they were ready for something like this as well! So, she was excited to know their request.

"Please choose five destined couples if it's a must to save our alpha. Because it's going to be difficult for the other one if you chose randomly." He spoke up in a heavy tone, making Athena gasp.

But everyone looked so serious and supportive of that decision that it made her nervous. She couldn't look them in the eyes anymore. So, without reacting to their answer, she looked down and with gritted teeth, she spoke up once again. She was trying hard to maintain her facade.

"One last question." She breathed out but everyone heard her anyway by their super hearing power.

"We are ready, Luna." They spoke up again in a confident tone. They felt as if Athena was taking their test and they were determined to pass the test.

Athena closed her eyes once again and took another deep breath. As if this last question was the hardest for her to ask. As if she was having difficulty in even thinking about it. Nathan and others couldn't think of what was going on with her. They have never been this confused in their lives. But they couldn't do anything other than waiting to see what she had planned in mind

"What if...what if your... your alpha rejects me and...and doesn't accept me as your and his Luna?" Athena choked while bringing those words out of her mouth. She closed her eyes, not ready to hear the answer.

No matter how much they loved her, they would never go against their alpha, would they? So, she already knew the answer of the question but she couldn't accept it. It was hard for her to even think about it.

"That's not possible, Luna."

A young voice doomed in the silent living room, making her open her eyes and look at the source of the voice with widened eyes. Her shock doubled when she saw it was a ten year old kid. She recognised him as Ace's play mate. She looked at him in shock and disbelief to see what he got to say about this matter.

"If we can give our lives for our alpha, we can fight with him for our Luna as well."

Another kid spoke up with a fire in her eyes, She was around the same as the previous kid. Maybe a little younger.

But damn her words! It was nowhere near a kid's word!

"We are not going to let that happen ever!" The whole team of kids shouted in determination and power while the elders nodded in agreement. They were all proud after seeing the maturity of their children

But that wasn't enough shock for early in the morning. They got the biggest shock next after hearing a very familiar voice

"That's not going to happen ever as well!" A voice spoke up, silencing the room.

It was the same voice they have been wanting to hear for a long time.

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate Chapter 107

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate

Chapter 107

Chapter 107. Emotional everyone

"ALPHA!"

"DOMINIC!"

The whole mansion roared as everyone shouted out loud. There were many emotions in their tone. It was filled with shock, disbelief, happiness, relief and many more ecstatic emotions. The whole mansion filled with mumbles of happiness from the time everyone's eyes fell on the person standing at the entrance of the pack house. Dominic stood there ever so gloriously with his head held high with pride and an unknown feeling. He walked inside the room as everyone made way for him by moving away from his way. Nobody said anything as he kept walking upstairs to reach Athena and the team.

Everyone was in shock apart from Athena who had a frown on her face. She looked away from him as he approached them. He just smiled secretly a little at her but masked his expression before anyone could see that.

"Oh my god! Dominic! You woke up! I am so happy!" Justin exclaimed in a loud and happy tone as he jumped on Dominic and hugged him tightly.

Everyone chuckled a little at his antics while Dominic hugged him back with small pats on his shoulder. They pulled back after a few seconds. Dominic looked at each of their faces for a few seconds. It was clear from his expression that he missed seeing them. But didn't say anything and looked at Nathan.

"How are you doing, Beta?" He asked in his signature neutral tone, making Nathan look at him with a raised eyebrow.

"As you can see. Forget about me. Why was Athena asking all those weird questions?!" Nathan asked with a frown. They all kept their tone in control so that no one else could hear them from up there.

"Don't tell me, she already sold ten souls to wake you up?" Patricia exclaimed with a loud gasp, but kept her tone covered again so that it doesn't go out of the coverage area. Hearing her, Suzanne realised something and her eyes filled with anger as she glared at Dominic.

"And why was she talking about you rejecting her? I swear to the moon goddess, I will cut-...!" Suzanne just started talking when Athena stopped her while looking at her with widened eyes.

Athena didn't want to even think about what Suzanne was going to say completely. Oh god!

"Shh, Suzanne! Calm down!" Athena hissed at her with her cheeks turning red for no actual reason. But she hardly calmed Suzanne down who was looking at her with a frown when Patricia spoke up in that same tone as Suzanne.

“Don’t tell her to calm down! I am telling you Dominic, I am with Suzanne in this. If you dare to do anything stupid which would hurt Athena, I will-..!” Just like Suzanne, Patricia couldn’t complete her sentence as well but this time Dominic was the one to stop her. He gave Athena a pointing look who immediately looked away while keeping her eyes closed tightly. He turned to look at the fuming girls with amusement filled eyes.

“I am amazed by your attitude. I was in a coma for just one week and this is the treatment I get after getting up? Getting challenged by my beta and gamma female?” He asked in a joking tone, finding the situation really amusing and hard to control his laugh, making the girls somewhat nervous. They knew making an alpha feel challenged was a dangerous thing. Athena looked at Dominic with squinted eyes for pulling her friends’ legs.

“Dominic, stop! And girls, I love you both so much. Thank you for standing up for me. But you two calm down too. Calm down and let him talk.” Athena said with a sigh while rubbing her forehead as handling them was harder than handling Ace.

But Dominic couldn’t control his chuckle anymore and ended up chuckling out a little, making everyone confused. Because it’s the first time they are seeing him acting so casually. They were worried if the attack affected his head somehow or what..?

“Thank you, Athena. They are going to listen to you only now.” Dominic joked and Athena had enough of him by then.

“Dominic!” She exclaimed out loudly while glaring at him, making him a little scared after all. “Stop wasting the pack members’ time. They are waiting for you. Go, have a talk with them.” She said in an ordering tone. No alpha can go along with the ordering tone but Dominic didn’t mind at that moment as he gave her a smirk.

“Okay, alpha lady.” He said with a smirk before quickly turning toward the pack members before she could say something more. He looked down at everyone and they all cheered out loudly again. “Okay, so, my dearest pack members and friends, how are you all?” He asked with a neutral face on, not letting any emotions slip.

“We are great, alpha. How are you?” They all asked at the same time which made the mansion shake once again, making Dominic’s heart fill with adoration for his teammates. Dominic was relieved that the Mansion was built with strong and trustable material.

“We will come to me later. Tell me, did you miss me or forgot about me completely after getting your Luna?” He asked in a teasing tone, raising the corner of his lips to the left a little. That was the first emotion he showed to the pack members.

“We missed you a lot, every moment but enjoyed our new experience with our dearest LUNA!” The speaker spoke up on the behalf of the pack. His tone was filled with teasing, making Nathan and everyone chuckle when they saw Dominic look down at them with amused eyes. Dominic shook his head with a small smile playing at the corner of his lips as he gave Athena a small look who was trying her best to look away from his way.

“That I could say. You started loving your Luna more than me. What do you say, Athena?” Dominic asked Athena in a taunted tone while looking at her with raised eyebrows. His tone was playful, accusing which was saying, ‘You stole my pack members away from me!’

“I can’t really guarantee that but I would love it if that’s true.” Athena replied smartly while hiding a smile and looking at the pack members, leaving it on them to answer. “You both complete each other. You both complete us! Then how can we divide our love for you both. We love you both equally, what do you say, everyone?” Nathan spoke up to save everyone from the dangerous question, making both of them feel proud once again.

“Absolutely true, beta.” The pack members shouted with complete agreement. This time Dominic didn’t hide his emotions anymore and looked at them with a big and grateful smile.

“Thank you everyone for all the love, care, understanding and maturity you showed in this one week, Your unity saved the pack from huge possible danger. I am very proud of you guys and very grateful to you all for this.” He spoke up in a loud and clear tone, making them look at him with almost teary eyes. They were really happy that he was up from the coma.

“This is our pack as well, alpha. Protecting it is our responsibility as well, not only yours. One of the pack members spoke up “That’s so true.” Justin spoke up in agreement. He was getting emotional as well and Patricia quickly hugged him to comfort him.

“Hearing that you are proud of us is the best thing that ever happened to us. Thank you alpha.” Another senior pack member spoke up, making Dominic feel really great.

“No, thank you all. This one week has been the toughest one week in my life. I could hear everything Athena used to narrate to me that happened in the pack. Every difficulty, every happy moment. I felt so helpless that I couldn’t be there for you all. To help you to support you. It was really hard. I felt completely useless to be your alpha.” He spoke up truthfully, showing all the raw emotions. His eyes glistened with tears which he held back with difficulty.

“Oh, Dominic...” Athena mumbled out softly while keeping her hand on his shoulder and gave it a small squeeze to show some support.

“Please, don’t feel so, Dominic. You are the best alpha we could ever get.” Patricia spoke up softly while looking at him sadly as well. She has never seen him so emotional so it was emotional for her as well.

“Yes, also Athena was here to handle us and give us shoulders like a true Luna leader.” Nathan spoke up in a happy tone to lighten the situation a little bit. He thought to tease Dominic some more on the name of Athena but he was a little taken back by Dominic’s next set of words. “Yes, that I know and that’s what I wanted to see.” Dominic spoke up with a smirk, making everyone look at him with widened eyes.

“What do you mean?”

108. His garden

"What do you mean you wanted to see this? What did you want to see?" Nathan asked with a deep frown. His tone was filled with confusion.

"And what was it all about all those questions?" Justin asked with a similar expression as Nathan while Dominic just smirked at them. Athena looked at him in disbelief before looking away from him with a sigh. But that didn't stop Dominic from playing around with them.

"Did those questions scare you all?" Dominic asked with a small chuckle, it was clear from his face that he was enjoying whatever was happening.

"To be honest, yes alpha." Suzanne replied with an offended frown on her face, ready to throw a fist once again if necessary. But Dominic didn't give her the chance to do anything anymore. He looked at the pack members who were looking at him very eagerly.

"But you handled it very bravely. Don't be scared. It was just a test." He said with a small smile, making everyone confused.

"Test?" The team members asked at the same time. Their friends didn't ask anything this time and waited for him to explain himself.

"Yes, all these days, I have heard so much about her leadership skills and about my pack members' smartness. I was jealous of Athena that only she got to experience and witness all that. I wanted to witness that as well. So..." Dominic was explaining himself but trailed off at the end and looked at Athena with a smirk, giving her a chance to complete the sentence for him. She shook her head at him before looking down at the pack members.

"So, he forced me to ask all those weird questions to you all and create a disturbing environment." Athena completed the sentence and at last showed a small smile.

"I didn't force you, Athena. You shouldn't lie. We made a deal and I already paid you half of the amount. You will get the rest later." Dominic said with a smirk, his eyes were filled with mischievousness. Athena's eyes widened when she realised what he was talking about.

"What deal?" Justin asked with squinted eyes, while looking at them with suspicious eyes.

"NOTHING!" Athena exclaimed out loudly, making them look at her with more suspicion. Dominic was having a hard time handling his laugh. But before anyone could say something, she quickly spoke up. "So, what I was saying, he made me do this stupid thing to see how I perform as a Luna and how you guys react to these stupid yet scary questions. You guys kept my pride." She said in one breath while grinning nervously, praying that they forget about it.

"You shouldn't doubt our Luna, alpha."

"She is the best Luna we could ever get."

Two of the pack members shouted in excitement.

"There is no doubt about that. I saw what a great Luna she is." Dominic said in a soft tone while looking at her lovingly. "So, the rejecting thing is... nothing? Right?" Suzanne said in a slow tone, making sure. "Yes, in fact, I have something really important to do which I want to do by keeping my whole pack as a witness." Dominic said, suddenly getting serious. He turned toward Athena suddenly, getting her caught off guard. "What is it. Dom...?!" She shrieked out loudly when she saw that he suddenly kneeled down in front of him. Her eyes widened in fear and shock. "Dominic, what are you doing?!" She shrieked out once again. "I am doing what I should have done a long time ago. I am sorry for taking so long." He spoke up.

"Wh...what are you talking about?"

"I am sorry, Athena. I am sorry for all the pain I caused you. I am sorry for rejecting you before. Sorry for not being there with you when you were pregnant with my child, my heir, Ace. I am sorry for every hardship you had to go through alone and all because of me, because I rejected you." He apologized with utmost sincerity. Athena's eyes teared hearing him. This is what she wanted from the start and she finally got it.

"Dominic, you don't have to do this. You already took back the rejection." She said in a soft tone.

"No, that's not enough. I need your forgiveness to start this from the start with a lot of power and strength. So, tell me, do you forget me for all the stupid things I did?"

"Yes, yes. I forgive you. From the core of my heart. Now get up. It's over." She spoke up in a shaky tone, trying to pull him up but he didn't let her do that.

"It's not over yet."

"Oh, my god! What's more left?" She groaned, having a great difficulty in controlling her emotions. And it was so overwhelming for her and she didn't want to break down in front of all these people.

"I am yet to respond to you." Dominic spoke up while looking at her with love.

"Respond to me? About what?" She asked in confusion No one interrupted them.

"I love you too, Athena. I love you from the core of my heart. I wanted my whole world to know this. And soon, I will make sure the whole world knows that you belong to me."

"Oh my god, Dominic! You made me the happiest person alive today. You fulfilled all my emptiness and completed me today! I love you!"

"I love you too!"

They both had their moment in front of all of them but no one interrupted them until then. But as soon as they confessed to each other, the whole pack started shouting.

"Mark her!"

"Mark her!"

"Mark her!"

Athena looked at them with widened eyes before looking back at Dominic.

"I will definitely mark her but not now! Such a big occasion should be done through celebration, Grand celebration. Exactly two nights from today, it's the full moon night. I will mark her as my mate and Luna that day." Dominic announced in a serious tone.

"That's going to be the happiest day for the pack." Nathan spoke up in a happy tone.

"Yes, so you have only two days to make the preparation which I am leaving up to you all completely." Dominic ordered with a smile while looking at them.

'Can we do everything?' One of the pack members asked

"Yes, even use the red roses from my garden because she is the queen red rose of my garden and I have her with me.” He said white looking at Athena with loving eyes.

“Don’t worry, alpha leave it on us.”

“We are going to make it a memorable day in our history.”

Patricia and Suzanne said with excited smiles.

Hiding His Baby The Alpha’s Rejected Mate Chapter 109

Hiding His Baby The Alpha’s Rejected Mate

Chapter 109

109. Kisses

IN THE MEETING ROOM

“Oh buddy, come here!” Nathan exclaimed, getting emotional as he pulled Dominic in a hug the moment they got inside Dominic’s meeting room in the pack house. Dominic’s eyes widened in shock but before he could react or say anything, Justin jumped on them as well.

“Oh, let me join as well!” Justin said as he hugged Dominic from the back. So, Dominic was sandwiched between Nathan and Justin who were making sure to hug him with all his strength.

“Ugh! I can’t breathe! You guys stink!” Dominic groaned out loudly while trying to push them off himself. It was clear from his red face that he was actually getting suffocated. But the guys weren’t moving a little bit.

Among all these, the girls were the ones who were enjoying these a lot. They laughed out loud seeing them acting like some college boys and goofing around. The scene was really funny and blissful even though the experience wasn’t quite the same for Dominic.

“Don’t make me punch you and just hug us back!” Justin groaned as he rubbed his face on Dominic’s back, making Dominic groan louder. It looked from his face as if he was being tortured and he wanted to get away from him as soon as possible.

“Ugh! Goddess, fine!” He breathed out as he slowly hugged them back in a weird position. His right hand was at the front, on Nathan’s shoulder while his other hand was twisted back to touch Justin somehow. He awkwardly patted them thrice before trying to push them away again.

“Look at the attitude of this man! If only you weren’t my best friend.” Nathan said with a frown after letting Dominic free from his steel grip. Dominic took some deep breaths while frowning at his two idiot best friends. But everyone could see clearly the small smile he was trying so hard to hide.

“I am your alpha as well.” Dominic said with a small roll of his eyes as he stood straight while straining his posture.

“You are my best friend first.” Nathan immediately snapped back with a similar eye roll as Dominic to mock him. Dominic let out a small sigh at that.

“Okay, can’t argue on that.” He said as a small smirk raised at the corner of his lips slowly. Nathan smirked back at him but they couldn't enjoy that for longer as Justin scowled at them loudly.

"Look at these two! Excluding me again!" He shouted while pushing them away from him. His face blew like a balloon in anger because Dominic and Nathan were having their moments without him.

"Look at him, acting like a jealous mean girl again!" Dominic said in a teasing tone while smirking at him, making Justin glare at him. But he understood it was not going to work on Dominic so he turned to look at Athena with a frown who was standing close by.

"Athena! Are you going to say something or not?!" He demanded in a complaining tone while pouting angrily. Athena looked a little taken back after getting dragged into this drama before she decided to play along. She took a step close to Justin to show her support for him before looking at Dominic with a playful glare.

"Hey! Stop troubling Justin because he is my favourite out of you all!" She said with a cheeky grin

"Yay, that's my best friend's mate!" Justin said as he pulled Athena by her arm and took her in for a side hug. But as soon as he did that two loud growls were heard in the room and Athena was pulled away. "Hey, hands off my mate!"

"Stay away from my mate!"

Dominic and Patricia shouted at the same time as Dominic pulled Athena into his arms and Patricia got into Justin's arms. Dominic and Patricia glared at each other's partners as their possessiveness were at their peak. Athena just rolled her eyes a little at them while Justin looked down at Patricia with a sheepish look.

"Oh, Cia, baby! I am yours only." He said in a cheeky tone before planting his lips on hers and kissing her in front of their friends.

"And you are mine only, Thena baby!" Dominic said just after that, copying Justin, before he did the same. He pulled Athena close to him before kissing her on the lips passionately as well, without caring about others. Suzanne looked at them in shock and disbelief.

"Oh my! The level of cringe I am getting from witnessing this scene. Thanks to the goddess that Ace isn't here" She exclaimed out loudly in fake irritation but it was gone as soon as Nathan closed the distance between themselves as well and wrapped his arms around her waist. He pulled her close to him in urgency.

"Well, as he isn't here, why don't we both take advantage of the situation as well?" He said with a smirk and Suzanne's eyes widened when she understood what he meant.

"Oh my, Nath – !" She couldn't complete her sentence and she was cut off by his lips on hers. (Comment down what you think of the chapter and please leave me a review and rating at the front of the page where the synopsis is! It motivates me a lot to write! Thank you so much! I love you all!)

Hiding His Baby The Alpha's Rejected Mate

Chapter 110

110. Business

"Enough of Runion, let's talk about business now, guys." Dominic spoke up in a serious tone while sitting on his chair.

How much he missed this chair! The chair missed him as well. He needed to get back to work and take control over everything once again.

There were three of them present in the room at that moment. The alpha and his second and third in command. Athena and the girls left the room to give them the privacy to get back into work. Justin sat in front of him after closing the door behind him.

"A lot of things happened in this one week." Nathan spoke up in a serious tone. The environment of the room suddenly turned cold as if the temperature dropped to zero.

"I hope you managed to keep things away from Athena?" Dominic asked in a cold and mysterious tone which they both understood.

"Don't worry. Even though she was handling the pack's office and paperwork, she handled only what he wanted her to handle. She is not aware of the other things." Nathan explained with a deep frown which deepened after he shared a look with Justin. Justin had a frown on his face as well.

"What is it?" Dominic asked in a commanding tone after noticing the look of exchange between his beta and gamma. He knew something was off.

"Well, even though we tried to keep things away from her, we think Athena managed to connect some dots already." Justin spoke up, making Dominic frown.

"What do you mean by that? What dots?" He asked in a cold tone.

He didn't want Athena to get a single hint about the 'thing' going on in his pack. Because the 'thing' is really dangerous and can even put her life in danger. Considering how emotional and hotheaded Athena was, he can bet that she would jump directly into this thing if she finds out about this.

"Well, we were discussing the man who attacked you and she came to the conclusion that the man might be from the south region. She was trying to understand why he might have attacked you, which we tried to cover up by saying that it must be because he has their Princes in hold, aka Stacey." Nathan explained and stopped a little to let Dominic process things. Dominic looked at him with a confused frown.

"Well, that was a good cover up. Then why are you worried? And how did she connect the dots after that?" Dominic asked.

"Well, Athena is smart. She is looking for her identity at the same time. From Patricia I got to know that Athena thinks that she might have some connections with the south region." Justin broke the news which shook Dominic to some extent as he sat up straight and looked at him with widened eyes.

"What? Connection? With them? What kind of connection and why might she think that?" Dominic asked in confusion as he tried to connect some dots then. "Is it because the man called her 'alpha lady'?" He asked as he remembered this weird thing as well

"Yes, and her point is, if the man is from the South region, he should be angry with her as well but as he showed her so much respect, she might be connected with them with positive ties. But if she has some positive ties with them, what relation she might share with Stacey? That's Athena's question." Nathan explained and Dominic nodded at her with a frown.

"She has valid points. Did she come into any conclusions to that question? Did she have any options which she shared with you both or Suzanne and Patricia?" Dominic asked with a frown. He needed to know how Athena is thinking to keep her away

"Yes, she thought of two possible options." Justin spoke up.

"What are they?"

"One, she might share some connection with the alpha leader of the regions which means Stacey doesn't have any connections
