

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1731

Chapter 1731

It was impossible that the cornea couldn't be found in the whole world.

She dialed Ben Schaffer's number, and after Ben Schaffer connected, he complained: "Didn't you put me on the blacklist again? Why did you pull me out again?"

"I was so angry last night! I know I shouldn't blame you, but you and my second brother have such a close relationship, and the two of you do everything together..."

"He and I are business partners, it doesn't mean that we both treat our feelings the same way." Ben Schaffer retorted her, "He is indeed a little abnormal to Avery this time. I think he may suspect that Mike did this. You also know that the relationship between Mike and Avery is better than that between me and your second brother. Intimacy."

"My God! What do you mean, my second brother suspects that Rebecca was killed by Avery?" Gwen's jaw dropped in shock.

"I don't know exactly what he was thinking. He is in a low mood and has no desire to talk. Even if I ask him, he won't say anything. I just made this guess based on his attitude towards Avery." Ben Schaffer thought a lot after learning about Avery's blindness.

It was the only answer he felt was close to the truth.

"I don't think so. Avery is not such a person." Gwen couldn't accept the result, even if it was just Ben Schaffer's guess, "I don't think Mike is such a person either."

"Gwen, you only know them. How long? Your second brother and I have known each other for a longer time. I know them better." Ben Schaffer frowned when he heard her crying voice.

Gwen: "Don't say it! I don't want to hear such words!"

"Okay, I won't say it. Did you go to see Avery today? How is she?" Ben Schaffer changed the topic.

"She's not very good...Although she pretended to be good, she couldn't find the cornea she used for the surgery." Gwen said this and couldn't help choking, "Ben Schaffer, go to Aryadelle to see if there is a healthy cornea, Avery can have surgery in half a month... If you can help Avery find the cornea, I..."

"I'm looking for it! I'll look for it right away! You don't have to promise me anything, Avery and I are friends from the beginning. Even if she divorces Elliot, it's still her and Elliot's business, and it won't affect me treating her as her own friend." Ben Schaffer interrupted Gwen.

Gwen's nose is slightly sour. She felt ashamed that she had blocked him last night.

In fact, some things are not as one-sided as she imagined.

A week later, Ben Schaffer found a healthy cornea in Aryadelle. After he called Gwen to tell him about it, he prepared to send the cornea to Bridgedale in person.

He mainly wanted to see Avery with her own eyes.

After Gwen thanked him, she happily called Mike about it.

Mike's response was a little indifferent: "She may not accept it. After all, Ben Schaffer and Elliot are in the same group."

Gwen seemed to have been poured a basin of cold water: "Mike, persuade her! Do the surgery first! If she doesn't regain her light, what will she do in her future life?"

"It's not as scary as you said. Even if the cornea cannot be found in a short time, it will be found in a while. Even if it is not found, there is still an artificial cornea." Mike said.

"Oh...but Ben Schaffer has already booked a flight ticket and intends to deliver the cornea he found in person." Gwen said.

"Then let him come! When he brings the cornea, let Avery choose for herself." Although Mike was displeased with Ben Schaffer, in the face of Avery's health, all grievances and grievances can be put aside.

Avery's second eye examination after the operation was not bad.

Doctors put her in the hospital immediately.

Avery wondered: "Isn't there a donor yet?"

The doctor said, "Didn't Mike tell you? Your friend from Aryadelle sent a donor for you. Do you want to use a human cornea or an artificial cornea? I suggest you use a human body..."

"What friend?" The expression on Avery's face suddenly became solemn.

She stretched out her hand and fumbled around, trying to find Mike and ask clearly.

Mike immediately took her hand and explained in a low voice: "It was sent by Ben Schaffer. I didn't tell you in advance, because I was afraid it would affect your mood."

“Oh...” Avery got the answer, Her expression quickly returned to tranquility, “I use an artificial cornea.”

In fact, whether artificial corneas or human corneas were used, there was a risk of failure.

Because artificial corneas had only been developed in the past two years, in addition to the high price, the risk of failure was greater than that of human corneas.

So the doctor just suggested Avery to use human cornea. But Avery refused.

“Avery, listen to the doctor. The doctor said that the human body is better than the artificial one.” Mike persuaded her, “Let’s put other things aside. It’s the most important thing to heal your eyes first.”

Avery replied calmly: “I’d better try the artificial cornea first! What if it succeeds?”

The doctor saw Avery’s insistence, so he said, “It’s okay. If the artificial cornea fails, a human cornea will be transplanted.”

Avery cooperated.

“Then you have a good rest today and surgery tomorrow.”

“Okay.” Avery’s heart beat fast and uncontrollably.

The two months of blindness made her experience the hardships and tortures of life that she couldn’t take care of herself. She was looking forward to getting back to light again.

Doctors told her that if the operation went well, she would need four to six months of recovery.

It means that after her surgery tomorrow, if there is no bad accident, it will take half a year to restore her vision.

The doctor gave Avery an inpatient order, and Mike took her to the inpatient department.

“Avery, Ben Schaffer has come to Bridgedale. He wants to see you...”

“No.” Avery refused without hesitation, “I don’t want to see anyone like me now.”

Mike nodded: "Okay. Yes, I'll tell him. You can just wait for the surgery now, and you don't have to worry about the rest."

"Did Gwen ask Ben Schaffer for help?" Avery guessed.

"Yeah. Gwen heard that the cornea couldn't be found here, so he couldn't be more anxious. Although Ben Schaffer is quite frustrating, as long as he can help her find the cornea, it's a good thing."

Avery didn't answer.

After completing the hospitalization procedures, Mike sent Avery to the ward to lie down.

Mike sat down beside the hospital bed and looked at her expressionless face: "Avery, you don't say anything, but I can feel that you are unhappy every day. You can't do anything because your eyes can't see. Once a person has nothing to do, it is easy to think wildly. I hope you can quickly restore your light and your life will be enriched quickly."

"Mike, I choosed artificial cornea because of Ben Schaffer's relationship." Avery confided, "I have given the custody of my two children to Elliot, and the company in our country also gave him, but he actually treats me as an enemy."

Mike Gritting her teeth, "This shows that Elliot is a narrow-minded villain. Have you seen his true face now?"

Her breathing was suddenly solemn, and she didn't answer the question directly.

"Has Hayden been very busy recently?" Avery asked.

Every morning, Hayden would take the initiative to feed her breakfast, but he came back late at night.

"Yeah! There is a professor in the university department of their college who insisted on accepting Hayden as a student. Hayden agreed. The reason why Hayden didn't tell you is because you were worried that he would affect the original course like this." Mike said to Avery.

"What professor? What's his name?" Avery's eyebrows were already wrinkled.

"He's a senior professor in the School of Mechanical Engineering. I'm not familiar with this field. Anyway, I heard Hayden say that this professor is very good, and Hayden is willing to learn things from this professor." Mike has been taking care of Avery, and he has not seen famous professor before.

Although Hayden is not yet ten years old, he has matured precociously since he was a child, and his intelligence is far superior to ordinary people. As long as he is interested in something, he can get started and master it in a very short time.
