When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2882– “Is the wedding of Layla already prepared?” Gwen asked, “When do you plan to set it up?”

Avery: “The preparations are almost done. After all, there are so many people helping. If you want to do it, you can do it at any time. The reason why the date is not fixed now is that everyone is celebrating the New Year these few days! I don’t want to disturb everyone.”

Gwen: “Set the date early, and then send out the invitations to everyone first!”

Avery: “I’ll ask Layla and Eric later to see when they want to decide.”

“Layla is getting married, she still look like a child now haha!” Gwen thought about the scene of Layla taking a group of younger sisters upstairs, and suddenly felt it was funny.

“Aren’t we in our twenties the same as Layla?” Avery recalled when she was young, and always felt as if it was still yesterday.

Everything was vivid, but everything had been separated for a long time.

After a while, Maria ran down the stairs.

In her hand she held the gift she had just received.

“Mom, this is a New Year’s gift from Sister Layla and Sister Hazel.” Maria showed her a beautiful box bag, “Mom, look, this box bag is in the shape of a slot machine, it’s really beautiful I really like this bag! Sister Layla also gave her one as a gift.”

After showing the bag to her mother, the little girl opened the bag and took out a pearl hair clip from inside.

“Mom, this hairpin matches your outfit today. Wear it for me.” Maria took the pearl hairpin and carefully put it on Shea’s hair.

Shea wore a thin white V-neck shirt today along with a pink pearl necklace.

Now paired with the pearl barrette her daughter put on her hair, it looked really good.

After Maria put the hairpin on her mother, she ran back upstairs again.

Gwen saw everything in her eyes, with envy written all over her face.

“It’s good to have a daughter. A daughter is a little padded jacket, how caring! My son must be hiding and playing games right now.” Gwen sighed.

“It’s okay to let the child play for a while during the break.” Avery helped Leerain, “It’s not good to push the child too hard.”

“I came here according to the study plan you made for Robert before.” Gwen explained, “I definitely didn’t add any extra study burden to him.”

“The study plan I made for Robert is based on Robert’s actual situation. This plan is suitable for Robert, not necessarily for Leerain. You should pay more attention to Leerain emotions, you can’t let children learn with negative emotions. Didn’t you find a teacher for Leerain to help with homework?” Avery asked.

Gwen said: “You introduced me to a teacher who I found. In our private conversation, the teacher admitted that Leerain does not enjoy learning as much as Robert does. I think the teacher said it more implicitly. The teacher actually wanted to say that Leerain is not as smart as Robert.”

“Don’t compare Leerain with Robert. As long as Leerain has improved compared with himself.” Avery told her not to be so anxious, “It’s good for a child to have better grades, but don’t think that the grades are not that good. It seems that the child is going to die. You can see that Ben is not in a hurry.”

“He has never been anxious about Leerain. Oh, he is only anxious when Leerain stumbles in school. He doesn’t care about learning. He only wants Leerain Just get a diploma in the future. Say what Leerain is interested in in the future, and then help him pave the way.”

“Gwen, look, my two daughters are not doing very well either.” Shea said, “Lilly and Maria both are not children who love to study. We don’t force them either.”

Lilly and Maria were both interested in beauty, and Wesley and Shea did not have such high academic standards, so the two children were in the middle of their studies.

“But your two daughters are obedient, and beautiful. If my Leerain doesn’t study hard, I’m really worried that he won’t find a wife in the future.” Gwen expressed her worries.

“You really worry too much.” Avery sighed.

Shea also sighed: “Gwen, you should think about other things more. This way you can relax, and your son, Leerain can also relax.”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2883– “Okay!” Gwen looked sad, “The main reason is that Avery’s children are so good. Every time I think about the gap between Leerain and them, I doubt whether my brother and I are biological. But now I am basically relieved that every child has different talents, maybe when Leerain is a little older, I will be able to discover his shining points.”

“Even if he doesn’t have the bright spot you imagined in the future, don’t be discouraged. Everyone hopes that their son will become a dragon and their daughter will become a phoenix, but most people in society are ordinary people. Children with integrity and good health are actually the education. It was a great success.”

Avery’s words made Shea nod her head sharply.

“Okay, I’ll leave him alone this Spring Festival.” Gwen let go of the heavy burden in her heart.

“You can’t ignore the child, you have to make good rules with him. Don’t push too hard, and you can’t let it go completely. You must pay attention to relaxation...” Avery shared her experience with Gwen.

Gwen’s head was getting bigger.

“If you feel that the management is too tiring, then let Ben take care of it. Don’t worry, Ben must know it well.” Avery advised her.

“I feel that after Leerain knew that I wanted a second child, he was not as good to me as before.” Gwen said the lump in her heart, “Children are quite selfish. What’s wrong with having one more brother or sister!”

“You really need to have a good talk with Leerain about this matter. The main reason is that there is a big age gap between your second child and Leerain.” Avery said.

Gwen: “Isn’t it impossible to get pregnant? And we both talked with Leerain. He said it doesn’t matter, but his behavior doesn’t seem to matter.”

After chatting downstairs for a while, the three of them saw that the children hadn’t come down, so they went upstairs to see what they were doing.

After a while, Tammy made the video call.

“How did you arrange it at night? If you want to play poker, call me!” Tammy wanted to play with them very much.

But today Tammy wanted to have a family reunion dinner with her parents.

“Will you come all night?” Gwen asked with a smile.

“Come on!” Tammy agreed without thinking, “You alone, me alone, who else is there?”

Tammy knew that Avery was not someone who would play all night.

“There’s Avert! Call Wesley again.” Gwen replied without thinking.

Shea blushed and said, “Let me fight with you! I want to be lively too.”

Tammy laughed loudly: “Your husband won’t agree. Neither will your brother. We dare not take you to play all night.”

Shea: “I’ll just tell them.”

Tammy: “Okay! If you make an agreement with them, of course it will be fine.”

After hearing Tammy’s words, Shea immediately went downstairs to find Wesley.

“What’s wrong with Shea? You want to play all night.” Tammy asked wondering when she saw Shea walking away.

“Maybe she just wants to have fun!” Avery replied.

“What are you doing now? I’ll go and play with you after I have the New Year’s Eve dinner! My daughter, Kara, is making a fuss about going to your house early in the morning!”

Avery: “We’re going to have lunch until 12 o’clock. You can come anytime.”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2884– In the afternoon, Hector called Elliot and said that Hazel’s press release was ready.

Elliot immediately asked the driver to pick it up from the TV station.

After the driver brought back the press release, Hazel took it back to her room and recited it.

Avery called Layla aside and asked her: “We’re almost ready for the wedding, when do you want to hold the wedding?”

Layla: “Choose a day in the next year!”

“You guys have to choose! I have to write invitations and send invitations to relatives and friends.” Avery opened the phone calendar and showed her, “Your father and I listen to you. See if you want to ask Eric’s parents.”

“Listen to our arrangement!” Layla took her mother’s phone, and poked a time on the calendar with her fingers, “March 1st! The main reason is that I didn’t expect the wedding to be so planned. Hurry up. The invitations haven’t been sent out yet!”

Avery: “March 1st is fine. Then I’ll talk to your father now.”

“Let’s talk together!” Layla held her mother’s hand, feeling a little emotional, and asked, “Mom, will you cry when I get married?”

Avery: “Do you want me to cry?”

To be honest, Avery didn’t know if she would cry at her daughter’s wedding. After all, the family was reunited today, and she was very happy all day.

“Mom, do you mean that if I tell you to cry, you can cry, and if I tell you not to cry, you can stop crying?” Layla couldn’t help laughing, “If you have such good acting skills, you can even go to acting.”

Avery: “Your marriage is a great day. In the future, you and Eric will live a happy life. If you are happy, your mother will be very happy too. What your mother said is the truth.”

“Mom, I also hope you are happy. I know If I move out of the house suddenly, you and dad will definitely feel a little bit reluctant, but if I stay at home without getting married, I am afraid that you and dad will also worry.”

“Yes! You will go back to Eric house at night. In the evening, our house must be very noisy tonight, you will definitely not be able to sleep well if you stay here.” Avery confessed.

“I agreed to something with Eric. I’ll stay here to play while he goes back to sleep. My younger sister’s return for the New Year is new this year. Why am I not present? We’re going to take a family picture on New Year’s Eve and send it to my younger sister because she’s going to the TV station at that time.” Layla had already made all the arrangements.

“Okay.” Avery clearly felt that her daughter had become more and more mature since receiving the certificate.

As night fell, the TV in the living room was turned on and the Spring Festival Gala began.

The children set off fireworks in the yard.

Hazel saw the fireworks outside the window in the room, couldn't help but put down the manuscript, and went downstairs to play with everyone in the yard.

"Hazel, have you finished memorizing your manuscript?" Layla asked.

"It's almost there." Hazel's condition was not very good today.

She memorised the manuscript alone in the room while the rest of the family played, constantly daydreaming and wanting to put down the manuscript a thousand times and ten thousand times to join in on the fun.

"Don't worry, don't you have a teleprompter? You can take a rest." Layla patted Hazel's head.

"Yeah. The fireworks are so beautiful!" Hazel looked at the bright fireworks in the sky, and her mood instantly healed.

"The zero o'clock one is more beautiful." Layla replied, "This year, the show will start half an hour earlier, so you can watch the fireworks before going to work."

Hazel: "Sister, I feel so happy!"

"I also feel very happy." Layla also said with emotion, "Every year from now on, we will go home to spend the New Year with our parents, okay?"

"Okay!"

Hazel agreed without thinking.

Indoors, after Gwen looked at the time, she called Tammy and Avery to play poker.

"Shea, have you made an agreement with Wesley?" Gwen asked.

Shea shook her head: "He doesn't agree."

"Haha, I knew Wesley wouldn't agree. Then Wesley will fight with us!" Gwen called Wesley over as she said.

"Shea, take your child to sleep in the guest room on the third floor later. Be quiet on the third floor." Avery confessed to Shea.

"Yeah." Shea was not very happy.

Originally, she really wanted to play poker with them tonight, but Wesley refused to agree.

“Don’t be angry with Wesley. It’s really not suitable for you to stay up late. I won’t let your brother stay up late either,” Avery held Shea’s hand and comforted her, “You can watch us play cards and then go to bed at 12 o’clock. “

Shea nodded.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2885-At 11:30 p.m., the fireworks in the yard were lit.

In an instant, the night was lit up, and brilliant colors appeared in the sky.

Everyone came out to watch the fireworks and take pictures.

Hazel didn’t know if it’s because the fireworks were too dazzling, and thrilling, her tears couldn’t stop falling.

She recalled many fragments of past memories.

She remembered very clearly that one year her mother-in-law took her to the city center to watch large-scale fireworks, but when she was watching the fireworks, her mother-in-law’s wallet was stolen.

As a result, after watching the fireworks, they had no money to go back by car.

On that cold night, she and her mother-in-law walked for nearly three hours before walking home.

In her mind, there were still many memories related to poverty and cold.

It’s just that she rarely took the initiative to recall these now.

But that didn’t mean those memories won’t come flooding back suddenly.

at 12:00 o’ clock, the new year has started.

The fireworks in their house were over, but other houses had started to set off.

The sound of fireworks and firecrackers one after another is full of people’s good expectations for the New Year.

After everyone took a group photo together, Layla sent Hazel to the TV station.

“Are you still intern after winter break?” Layla asked.

Hazel shook her head: "Academics come first. Internships are only done during vacation time."

"Well. I'm just afraid that if you plan to continue working after university starts, it will be very tiring. You are very popular on the Internet now, and the TV station will definitely want to keep you working. You have to stick to your own ideas and don't be fooled by others' words. "

"Teacher Joly respects me very much." The corner of Hazel's mouth rose, "He said that I can continue to do internships during the holidays."

"Their TV station is getting cheap and your skill is really good and with your current online traffic, which TV station doesn't want you?!"

Hazel: "I think internship is more important than traffic. Traffic without strength cannot be retained."

"You are quite sober." Layla boasted.

After Layla sent Hazel to the TV station, she actually wanted to go in with her sister.

But considering that if she did this, she would definitely be recognized by the people on the TV station.

After the official announcement of her relationship with Eric, there were probably not many people who didn't know her now.

"I won't get out of the car. Get in quickly!" Layla said to her sister while sitting in the car.

Hazel: "Yeah. Sister, go back and rest quickly. It's very late."

Layla: "Yes. I'll send you a message when I get home."

Hazel: "Okay."

After entering the TV station building, Hazel took the elevator to the studio hall.

A staff member saw Hazel coming to work, and immediately went to Hazel's side.

"Hazel, Happy New Year! Have you memorized the manuscript?"

Hazel nodded blushing: "It's almost done. I also wish you a happy New Year."

"Did you know? I didn't even see that the two of them were in a relationship!"

"How did you know about this?" Hazel was a little curious.

About Lennox and Sloane's love affair, Hazel didn't tell others.

"Sloane was fired. But it wasn't because she was in a relationship with Lennox. It was when your manuscript was changed, and the two of them were the only ones in the backstage at that time. Since they were in a relationship, it means that their words are not credible. The leader told them both to tell the truth, or leave together."
