

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 947 | Simple Silence

Chapter 947

Last night, the bodyguard called for surveillance and found out when the person came over.

The man came after it got dark. He came to squat for about 20 minutes before Elliot came back.

After seeing Elliot, The man left.

His car was parked in the surveillance blind spot, so it was not photographed. Without knowing his license plate number, it is impossible to find out his personal information.

And before The man saw Elliot, he kept his head down, and the surveillance did not capture his clear face.

Only when he and Elliot looked at each other, his face was photographed.

But because of the lighting problem, the picture was very blurry.

The bodyguard took a screenshot of the video, printed it out, and showed it to Elliot.

Elliot checked the photo over and over again, but he didn't remember that he had seen this person, but he felt that this person seemed a little familiar.

This person came over last night to stand guard, just smiled at him and left, so weird!

If he sees this person next time, he will definitely grab him immediately.

At 8 a.m., Elliot came out of the room.

Mrs. Scarlet said to him, “Sir, the coffee and breakfast you want are ready.” After a pause, she said, “Mrs. Cooper sent me a message saying that Avery and the others are ready to go to the hotel. Let’s go to the hotel!”

Elliot said, “So early?”

“Well, Eric came very early.”

Elliot looked disdainful, and his tone was even more disdainful:

“He is attentive.”

“Yes! He treats Avery and the children. It’s just that you are here, no matter how diligent he is. Avery’s heart is with you, and no one can take it away.” Mrs. Scarlet’s words made Elliot feel comfortable and exhausted.

Avery left him for dinner last night, and she thanked him when she left.

Her attitude towards him changed significantly.

Elliot believed that it would not be long before she accepted him again.

“By the way, Mrs. Cooper also said that Wesley sent a package. It’s a birthday card for Hayden and Layla.” Mrs. Scarlet said about Wesley, her face darkened, “I don’t know where Wesley is now, Where did you bury Shea again?”

Elliot’s eyes flashed a bit of bone-eroding chill, his fingers clenched tightly and his phalanx turned white.

He hated Wesley, but he couldn’t hate it.

Shea is important, and Robert is also important. God will only give him this choice if he makes fun of him.

Wesley just made a choice for him.

If Elliot had been asked to choose, he would have chosen Shea. And after choosing Shea, he will feel guilty for Robert for the rest of his life.

There is no correct option for this question, how could Elliot blame Wesley?

If Wesley appeared in front of Elliot now, Elliot would not do anything to Wesley, but there was no way he could treat Wesley as a friend.

“Sir, let the past be in the past! Today is a festive day, so don’t be so sad.” Mrs. Scarlet adjusted her mood and comforted Elliot.

Elliot responded in a deep voice.

At Hotel, banquet hall.

Guests arrived one after another.

Avery, as the host, greeted the guests at the entrance of the banquet hall.

Mike was entertaining guests in the banquet hall.

Many children came today, and the atmosphere was very lively.

Suddenly, a boy walked up to Avery and asked, “Auntie, will Hayden’s father come today?”

Avery recognized the boy. He was Hayden’s best friend at school, Daniel.

“It will come.” Avery answered him.

Elliot came and was wearing a haute couture suit today, looking bright and handsome. He strode up in front of her and stopped. His deep eyes fell boldly on her face.

Avery also boldly looked directly at him.

Elliot’s dressed up brightly today, and he’s not bad either.

Avery wore the most expensive dress in the wardrobe, with delicate light makeup, and her hair was simply tied up, gentle and generous.

“Come in!” Elliot said.

“You go first! I’ll wait.” Avery was waiting for Tammy.

Elliot frowned, “Aren’t you waiting for me?”

Avery said incredulously, “You are not only beautiful, but also ashamed. I am here to welcome guests, I am waiting for all guests, but you are not included in the guest list.”

Elliot glanced at the guests in the banquet hall, and then said to Avery: “Go and rest for a while, I’ll greet the guests here.”

“Tammy and Jun are the only ones left.”

Avery said, “You Call Jun and ask.”

Elliot took out his mobile phone and called Jun.

But no one answered.

Then Elliot dialed Tammy. The phone was dialed, and it took a few seconds to be answered.

It was Jun’s voice that came over the phone.

“Sure, what’s the matter with you and Tammy? It’s just the two of you.”

“Oh, I’m going! We both drank last night, so we overslept! We’ll get up right away! You eat first, don’t wait for us!” After Jun finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Elliot walked up to Avery and wrapped her arms around her waist:
“Go ahead! The two of them haven’t woken up yet.”

“What’s going on? It’s 9 a.m now, even if it’s normal, it’s impossible to sleep so late!” Avery wondered.

“They both drank last night, so they overslept.”

“Drinking?” Avery was stunned for a moment, “Why do they want to drink? I told Jun, let him look at Tammy don’t let Tammy drink.”

Elliot said, “Avery, you are sometimes smart but sometimes not. It’s boring at the time.”

Avery was very unhappy when he was clearly mocking her, so she opened her palm on her waist, “Don’t think I didn’t know you were secretly hugging me.”

Elliot was disgraced, but he didn’t angry or annoyed: “Drinking can strengthen your courage. Think for yourself why they drank last night.”

After being called by him, Avery immediately understood what Elliot meant.

“It’s a cure for the symptoms but not the root cause. It’s impossible to get drunk every time...” The words behind her got stuck in her throat.

“It’s better than nothing. And it’s definitely not forcing Tammy, it must be Tammy’s idea.” As Elliot spoke, his eyes suddenly fell on Daniel, and his voice suddenly became a little colder, “That little boy What did Fatty say to you when he ran up to you just now? He actually ran to talk to my daughter again!”

Avery was startled by the hostility emanating from him.

“Elliot, Daniel is only 10 years old. What do you think a child of his age can do to our daughter?”

“That’s because you don’t know the boys now. The children are precocious.” Elliot didn’t wait for Avery was persuaded and walked directly towards Daniel.

Before Elliot walked in front of Layla, Hayden took a step to block Layla.

“I warned you, stay away from my sister!” Hayden frowned and said coldly to Daniel.

Layla grabbed Hayden’s arm and explained softly: “Brother, he asked me if I had a phone watch, and I said I didn’t.”

“Hayden, don’t be angry! I won’t bully your sister. I just... I just want to be her friend.” Daniel’s cheeks flushed, and he changed the subject, “By the way, I asked your mother just now, and she said that your father will come today! You can see your father now. Are you happy?”

Daniel’s voice was settled, Hayden immediately raised his eyes and saw Elliot standing not far behind Daniel.

Layla saw him too.

Layla almost blurted out ‘Dad’.

At this point, her arm was pulled, and her entire body was taken away.

Hayden pulled Layla and walked to the other side, not wanting to meet Elliot.

When Elliot saw his son pulling his daughter away, a flash of loss flashed across his eyes.

“Uncle, you look like a famous person.” Daniel saw Elliot and immediately came to strike up a conversation.

Elliot understood, this fat boy has social bullsh*t.

“The celebrity you mentioned is over there.” Elliot pointed in the direction of Eric, then turned to find Avery.

“Uncle! I’m not talking about Eric! I’m not chasing stars!” Daniel caught up with Elliot, “Are you Elliot? A famous businessman! The annual tax you pay is higher than the GDP of other countries. The value is high! I adore you so much!”

Elliot remained silent.

Daniel said, “Uncle, can you sign your name? I want to regard you as my idol, learn from you in the future, and strive for Be a great person like you!”

Elliot looked at Daniel's pious and sincere eyes, and suddenly felt sad in his heart.

Daniel regarded him as an idol, but his son avoided him like a plague.

How ironic.

"Sorry, uncle didn't bring a pen today." Elliot declined his request.

Elliot knew that Daniel was the best student in Hayden's class. He is Hayden's classmate and Hayden's competitor.

As Hayden's father, Elliot did not want to leave the impression of a kind elder in Daniel's heart.

"Uncle, I brought a pen!" After Daniel finished speaking, he took out a pen and paper from his pocket and handed it to Elliot, "Uncle, please sign for me!"

Elliot's expression was cold and his body was a little stiff. He didn't want to sign the kid.

At this time, Avery came over and glanced at Elliot, "What are you doing? It's not like asking you to sign a contract, is it so embarrassing?"

After speaking, Avery took the pen and paper from Daniel's hand, "Daniel, repeat what you said just now, auntie wrote it for you and asked him to sign."

Daniel was so excited that he immediately repeated what he just said.

After Avery wrote that paragraph on the white paper, he handed the paper and pen to Elliot.

Elliot looked at her helplessly: “Don’t you know that you can’t reveal your signature casually? Are you unprepared?”

After he finished, he signed his name on the paper.

For a 10-year-old child, is it necessary to guard against this?

If it’s a child you don’t know, it’s okay to take precautions, but Daniel is Hayden’s classmate, and the teacher said that Hayden doesn’t usually interact with other students, and only gets close to Daniel.

Under such a premise, what’s wrong with giving Daniel a signature?

“Avery, it’s enough for you to spoil your own children. Other people’s children are hurt by other people’s parents.”

Although Elliot was crusade against her, he still accepted his fate and took the paper and pen from her hand, next to her name, sign his name.

After handing the paper and pen to Daniel, he took his shoulders and walked away.

“You treat that kid just now, better than me.” He was dissatisfied.

“Then you call me auntie, and I’ll sign your name?” Avery teased him, “Is it interesting that you don’t go with the guests, you just stare at the children? Everyone else is watching your jokes.”

He froze for a moment: “How to accompany the guests?”

“Your assistant is over there, go and ask him.” Avery said, looking at his big palm on her shoulder, and asked, “Do you think there are many guests today, I dare not talk to him? Are you arguing?”

Chapter 950

Avery was right that Elliot did have such careful thoughts.

In addition, Elliot also took the oath of sovereignty in front of all her relatives and friends.

Although they are not yet reconciled, they are almost reconciled.

Other men, especially Eric, had better not hit Avery again.

Elliot took his hand back and prepared to accompany the guests.

Avery was worried and confessed: “Don’t keep your face sullen today. All people here are guests. If you don’t want to drink a toast, you can politely refuse, don’t refuse too bluntly. The same is true in other aspects. For example, the child just now, why do you make people unhappy?”

Elliot took her account to heart.

“I see, look at my performance.”

Avery saw him walking towards the guest, but she was reluctant to take her eyes away from him.

Not because she has changed, but because she has always been fascinated by him.

“Mom, I want to eat cake! Come and help us cut the cake!” Layla ran over, took Avery’s hand, and dragged her to the children’s table.

Elliot watched Avery being taken away by his daughter, and his heart flew over.

“Boss, Robert is also here, rest in the guest room.” Chad said to him, “If you want to see the child, you can go and see it anytime.”

Of course Elliot wanted to see Robert, but he didn’t forget what Avery told him Task.

As the father of two little birthday stars, he wants to accompany the guests today.

“Avery asked me to accompany the guests, did he agree with me as the father of the child?” she asked.

Chad was shocked: “Boss, even if Avery doesn’t agree, you are the father of the child! She has to disagree with this kind of ironclad matter.”

Elliot looked at him contemptuously: “You don’t understand how important her approval is to me.”

Chad opened his mouth, but in the end he didn’t say a word.

That’s right, the boss is the big love they stamped in private.

Avery is his heaven and also earth. Avery’s approval is more important to him than legal approval.

“Am I going to toast them?” Elliot asked, “I don’t know their identities very well, Avery didn’t tell me.”

Avery didn’t say the identities of these guests as long as Elliot accompanied them.

Chad solved the problem for him: “You don’t need to toast them, you just need to listen to them flatter you, and don’t show any impatience.”

Elliot said, “Will this make them neglect? They are all Avery’s guest.”

Chad said, “But your alcohol intake is not very good. If you drink too much, you will not be able to entertain guests.”

After a pause, Chad also added, “You are right to listen to me, believe it or not, etc. When they go back, they can play with their friends all night.”

Elliot followed Chad’s advice.

Chad was afraid that Elliot would be too tired to entertain guests alone, so he accompanied him to entertain.

With the two of them entertaining guests, Mike finally got some rest.

Mike sat down beside Avery and ate.

“I don’t know what Eric is thinking at the moment.” Mike picked a piece of cake into his mouth and looked at Eric.

Since Eric entered the banquet hall this morning, he was surrounded by female fans.

Except for Avery, all the women in the banquet hall were by Eric’s side.

In fact, Eric is also a guest, but obviously, Eric doesn’t think so.
