

His Purchased Wife Chapter 103

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

She knew he has a dark side, she knew that from the way he spanked her on the island that he has anger issues and she needed to accept this about him. She would not tolerate the abuse in any way but she needed to handle his mood swings with maturity.

Communication was the key to any relationship and they both needed that in their relationship. Aurora went in search of Liam, once again he was nowhere to be found. She went to the kitchen, Paulina was preparing a food trolley when she entered.

"I was just coming with your dinner, madam!" She said thinking that Aurora came to get dinner.

"No, I came to ask if you know where Liam is? I couldn't find him."

She went silent and Aurora understood what she was thinking. "We had a little argument!" She whispered, tucking a lock of hair behind her ear in apprehension.

Paulina nodded in understanding. "That's understandable, madam. Sir has a short temper but he is not a bad man. I think you should check into the bar area."

Aurora swallowed once again and followed the instructions Paulina gave her. She was right, Liam was there drinking. She inhaled sharply and walked further inside the bar. "Liam..."

Liam was trying to calm his raging fury, he wanted to kill, maim, torture but he couldn't do that, what he was doing is acting like a lovesick puppy. He felt degraded, damn his father and his friendship with Ethan Kings.

"Liam, Please look at me," she whispered, resting her hand on his shoulder.

Liam jerked her hand away. "Maybe I am harassing your privacy, Mrs Knight!"

Aurora moved in front of his face and looked into his eyes. "Liam, try to understand me, It's difficult for me to accept..." Aurora stopped when she saw he was not paying attention to her Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! and made him look into her eyes.

"I am sorry," she placed a soft kiss on his head. Liam mentally sighed, anger poured Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! her neck and attacked her lips. He kissed her with all his pent up anger and frustration but Aurora answered it with her softness and love.

In the end, the kiss which started as punishment turned into a passionate one. Liam broke the kiss and touched his head with hers, their breathing heavy and mingled with one another.

“Don’t hide things from me, please!”

Aurora understood the plea in his voice. She needed to handle it in other ways. “Have you never lied to someone, Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! squeezed his eyes tightly. He understood where she was hinting with her words. The island fiasco was nothing but a farce, she caught him red-handed in his villa there. “I have but that’s because I wanted to spend time with you, Aurora. I wanted to woo your heart.”

Aurora nodded. “If you want me not to hide things from you then you’d have to do the same Liam, just because I am not telling you something doesn’t mean I am hiding something or lying to you, no. I am not betraying you, Liam. I just need a little time to get my emotions under control so that I could share the thing with you. Please remember these words always.”

Liam’s eyes sharpened, he pulled her in his arms and kissed her neck softly, “hungry?” He asked.

Aurora chuckled. “Very.”

He scooped her in his arms and took her back to his room where they teased each other with food. “Here,” he offered a piece of steak to her lips. Aurora tried to take it but he pulled it away again.

“Liam!” She whined and punched his chest lightly. After the Romantic dinner, they were lying in each other’s arms with Liam scooping her from behind, his one hand caressing her hair while with the other he was shaping her brst. Aurora was loving the way he was cuddling with her. She felt complete in his arms as if she was meant to be here. There was nothing sexual in the act but compassion and comfort.

On the other hand, Susan fluttered her eyes open with great difficulty. She felt pain everywhere in her body. She squeezed her eyes shut when the sunlight hit her face. A low grumpy sound left her mouth as she settled in the soft bed.

Hangovers are a bitch!

She moved her hand to open the drawer of the side table where she kept her medical box. But she couldn’t reach it. Every time she tried her hand ended up in the air. She felt grumpy and angry at the same time. She blinked continuously to clear her vision but the slightest moment was painful for her.

Susan’s eyes widened in shock, even though it hurt her head but she could not stop herself from screaming through her lungs out. Susan Kelly was in a beautifully decorated room but the room was not hers. She was in an unknown place, alone, and she didn’t even know how she ended up being here.

“Where the fuck am I? She asked herself, trying to search her phone in but it was nowhere to be found. Her purse and mobile were not with her and she panicked.

Susan stood up from the bed and threw the quilt on the floor, still empty-handed. She had watched enough mafia movies to get to the worst kind of conclusion but she reminded herself to be practical. This was not some fictional movie but real life and the Mafia boss doesn't exist in real life! Right?

"Calm yourself, Susan. There is no need to panic. Do your morning routine so that you can think with a clear mind," she ordered herself.

She was having a shower while trying to remember what exactly happened last night and her heart sank when the memories of last night hit her memory. The hot shower felt like ice and she went numb recalling what she did?

His Purchased Wife Chapter 104

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

Ralph Knight watched the man who was drinking beside her following Susan out. It was clear that she was not interested in him. Usually, Ralph didn't care about incidents like that, he believes that one should always be precautionary. He hated people who get wasted and lose their senses on alcohol knowing they wouldn't be able to handle themselves after liquor consumption disgusts him. But looking at Susan he knew he couldn't ignore it for two reasons, she worked in his legal company and second, she was the best friend of Aurora and if anything happens to her, Aurora would be devastated and its effect would be on Liam which they couldn't afford at this crucial moment when the commission meeting was just two months away.

He wanted Liam to marry Ethan's brat as soon as possible so he followed them outside and he was glad that he did that because the man was about to hit her.

The alley was dark but it was not darker than his soul. Ralph Knight moved faster and held his hand before he could slap Susan. The girl was drunk, she was hardly standing on her legs and the girl fell on the ground before Ralph could do anything he pulled his knife.

"Don't you know who I am?" The man said and every hair on his body stood up hearing the Irish tilt in his voice.

He looked at the man, he looked familiar, who is he? He thought and then it hit her. He was Declan, Irish mob boss' nephew.

He snatched his hand and tried to hit Ralph. How could one be this stupid, you don't raise your hands at a Knight, not when you are standing in his territory and Vancouver was his territory. Ralph twisted his hand back but the man was not easy to deal with. He got free of his hold and tried to hit again but Ralph attacked his wrist and pulled the knife out of his hand, putting it on his neck he asked, "What are you doing in Vancouver?"

"Fuck you!"

Ralph's eyes turned murderous and he carved a smiley on his neck. There was nothing but blood on the street. Ralph called one of his men to clean up the area and brought him a new set of clothes. The one he was wearing was soiled in blood and needed to be burned.

"Boss, what should we do with the girl?" One of the men from his cleaning crew asked.

"I will handle it," Ralph answered and picked the girl in his arms and took her to his car. Once seated he turned on the heater, winters in Canada are a bitch!

He was driving calmly to go to his home. He needed to talk to Liam about the Irish trespassing their territory. This was getting bigger than he thought, with Mexicans he understood things but he was still not able to understand the involvement of the Italian Mafia and now the Irish.

It felt like a web of spiders, everything was jumbled. Ralph looked at Susan when she moved into her seat. "You hurt me Aurora! You hurt me." Susan slurred.

He scowled. What is she talking about?

Susan sat up, her vision blurry as she looked around and found a man with black hair moving his hands, she blinked to clear her vision.

"Who are you?" She mumbled and Ralph stilled in his seat. He sharpened his gaze at her. "Sit quietly and let me drive."

Ralph kept his focus on the road but Susan wouldn't be Susan if she would do what she was asked to do. "She hurt me!" Susan mumbled again.

"She said we are no longer friends because I didn't respect her privacy. She broke our friendship because I blocked that cleaner's number on her phone."

Ralph didn't understand her mumbling but then Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! restaurant owner. "When we were small," she tried to show how small with her hands, "this small, we have been friends since Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! didn't understand I did it for her. I blocked his number because he was not the right man for her. But I guess all my efforts are gone to waste now. I lost her forever. I couldn't keep the promise I made to her mother."

Ralph's heart skipped hearing the world mother. He sometimes thinks he would have been a different man if his mother had raised him but what was the use of thinking like this when she was killed by his Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! mother felt as if someone had cut him into halves. Liam had accepted their father killing their mother but Ralph couldn't do that.

"She was on her deathbed when she asked me to take care of Aurora. I was only doing that but she thinks I am interfering in her privacy. Because the man was not up to her standard."

Ralph halted the car and looked at her, she had tears in her eyes while telling him about her pain. She sniffed and then Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! to her face. Ralph didn't know why but he couldn't stop himself from brushing it behind her ear.

He sighed and started driving to his home, glancing at her every once and again. He thought she had fallen asleep but it was nothing like that, the moment he stopped the car in front of his home and pulled her out of the car she threw up on his shirt.

Ralph Knight couldn't believe his luck. The first time he thought about helping someone and Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! her to the guest room, took off his clothes to clean himself. The girl was curled into chairs whimpering. Ralph didn't like anyone in his home so there was no servant present there. He needed to take care of Susan himself.

"I have to take off your dress, Miss Smith," he said, jerking her a little to gain her attention.

"Can you hear me, I have to take your clothes off, help me in getting you clean, Miss Smith!"

Susan nodded. Clean! Her mind comprehended Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! your hands," Ralph said and Susan did as she was ordered to do. He pulled the top off her body, Ralph didn't want to gawk but his eyes went to a tattoo on the outline of her bra. A small name was carved with ink near her heart.

He looked away and got her out of her clothes. He took her to the shower and tapped on the cold shower. Susan felt alive when the droplets of water hit her body. She felt Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! she held the hand and looked into the world's most beautiful, black eyes. Ralph's body awakened with desire when she placed her lips on his and Ralph grunts then the kiss evoked a fire between them.

A fire of lust and desire!

She traced his hand but Ralph couldn't take what she was offering with her actions. No, she was drunk, his conscience didn't allow him to sleep with a girl who was not in her senses.

He pushed her a little and created a little space between them. Susan started crying when she felt him rejecting her. "You are rejecting me like her too, everyone is rejecting me" she fell on her knees and sobbed hard.

Ralph made her stand and washed her as if she was a child. "You are not into your senses, Miss Smith."

"I am... I want it, please." She begged the black-eyed man. "Please make me forget the pain," she cried and that was the last thing he wanted to hear. He towel-dried her while she kept sobbing. Ralph took her to bed but before he could leave she grabbed her manhood and gave it a sensual squeeze.

"It's hard!"

"Fuck!"

She used her skills on him and then nothing led to another, she tried to dominate him like she always did with her bed partners but she didn't know that Ralph couldn't be dominated by anyone, not in life and certainly not in bed.

Susan seduced the devil and now the devil was going to ruin her for everyone. Susan had never experienced this kind of passion or wilderness in the s*x. "Don't touch yourself, or I will stop!" He gritted out when Susan tried to touch herself. He grabbed her hands and put them above her head. He started his sensual torture which shocked the daylight of her.

He cupped her female part and gave her an earth-shattering orgasm with his finger only. Susan Kelly for the first time met a man who satisfied her and it shocked her.

The shameful part came next when after s*x he stood up from the bed while Susan wanted to cuddle. "Sorry beautiful, I don't do cuddling. I made you forget the pain and now you can rest," saying that he walked out of the room in all his naked glory leaving Susan alone in a cold bed.

Susan rubbed her forehead with shaking fingers as the memory lane ended "what have I done?" She stood up and tried to open the door but it was locked.

Susan was stuck in a beautiful room with a man she didn't even know except for she saw him in his office multiple times and always ended up fighting with him. She was without her purse or cell phone with her. It looked bad, really bad to her.

Meanwhile, Ralph tried calling his brother but once again the call went to voicemail. Since morning he had contacted every one of his captains to find out what the Irish mafia boss's nephew was doing in Vancouver.

Is it related to business or something personal?

The coffee machine beeped and Ralph filtered coffee for himself. Suddenly, he remembered the uninvited guest. He sighed, filtered another cup of coffee and went to wake her. He couldn't send her alone, not till he understood the scenario behind the Irish mafia.

The main question was, what do they want from Susan or are they behind Aurora. Fighting, with the masked man, was already a pain in the ass. They have Mexicans on their hands too, Italians are not giving them the support that they want and now the Irish Eagles are roaming on their heads.

The situation was getting worsen day by day.

Ralph unlocked the door, opened it.

Susan was sitting on the bed. She stood up abruptly hearing the door open.

"Coffee?" Ralph offered to enter the room.

"Where are my phone and purse?" She snapped at him. Susan had never felt like this with a man. Last night changed something in her. She let a man dominate her in the bed, How did she allow it to happen?

"I didn't take them out of the car, you can have them..." she didn't allow him to finish and pushed him aside to get out of the room. "Then open that bloody car and give my phone back!"

Ralph had enough of her snappy attitude he grabbed his hand in a tight grip, she hissed as the pain shot through her nerves. Ralph's eyes turned hard, "don't use this tone with me! Just because I fucked you doesn't mean you can talk to me in this manner."

Susan's eyes widened at his crude language. She snatched her hand away, pushed him away from her and struck him hard on the cheek. "How dare you take advantage of me!"

A hot red Fury ran through his mind. Ralph Knight gritted his jaw and grabbed her by the neck. "You ungrateful little skunk!" He gritted out.

Susan Kelly looks at his monstrous expressions with wide eyes. She was experiencing a lot at first with this man.

One of them was: she was scared of the man standing in front of her.!

His Purchased Wife Chapter 105

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

Aurora kissed Liam on the nose to wake him in the morning. Liam grabbed her by a neck in a brutal grip, all his reflexes were in action when he felt a soft touch on his nose.

Aurora gasped loudly, her eyes broadened at his violent action. "Liam!" She managed to call his name and his grip on her neck loosened.

"I am sorry," Liam whispered when he saw it was Aurora who touched him. He needed to get accustomed to this thing now that he was going to have her on his bed every night.

"What was that? I thought you wanted to kill me."

Liam closed his eyes and left a long breath. "I thought you were someone else," he rasped and glanced at her, "I didn't hurt you, did I?" He asked.

Aurora smiled. "No!" She replied. Liam nodded and pulled her closer to him. "Good morning, Little one."

Aurora relaxed in his arms. "Liam, I was thinking something since last night," she said, tilting her head kissing the crook of his neck.

"What is it?"

"She turned around so that she could look into his eyes as he was hugging her from behind while cuddling. "I want to know you, I mean I know you but I want to know more about you. Your favourite food, favourite drink, your hobbies, your favourite colours, Movies..." and she named a long list of things she wanted to know which irked Liam.

Why does she have to know all these things? Why can't she just shut her mouth and do as she was asked to do? Irritating girl!

Liam smiled, touched her face with his palm, "and how will you know me?"

Aurora bit her lip, "well that's easy, I want to go on a date with you, on long drives, movies, you know the general stuff like everyone."

What The Fk! Now I have to go to the movies with her too!

"Alright, whatever you say, little one. But I have a few requests too, we can do movies but in my home theatre. I don't want anyone else with us when I spend time with you. Long drives we can do that anytime you want and about the date, we can do that tomorrow, if you are alright with it."

"Cool!" She said, shrugging her shoulders excitedly. She kissed him soundly on the cheek and got out of the bed, Liam tried to pull her back into him but she shook her head. "Morning call!" She giggled and went to the bathroom.

Liam stared at the ceiling of the bed. His mind was hazed with too many things going on around him and instead of focusing on business he was focussed on Aurora, this does not sit well with him. That was the only reason he never liked dating women, they were too much work. Yes, he has needs, dark physical needs so he called whores for them, they were easier for him but now, with Aurora, he was wasting too much of his time and Liam Knight didn't like it, not one bit!

Now, with every passing second, Liam was losing his patience he didn't know till when he could maintain this lover boy facade. He sat against the headboard and took his phone from the side table. There were many notifications on the home screen. Liam unlocked his phone and was shocked to see seven missed calls from his brother Ralph.

Liam knew his brother only called when it was something important and he called Liam seven times this morning screaming danger. Liam's body went haywire and without waiting for a single more second he dialled his brother. Liam's mind was about to burst open because now he was not accepting his call.

Liam got out of bed and went to his room. The first thought that came to his mind was, is he alright? Has something happened to him?

He kept calling on his number but Ralph was not accepting it. Liam's heart stopped beating for a moment. A cold fear engulfed his body at the thought of his brother being harmed by anyone.

Liam called one of Ralph's crew members. The man Ralph trusted a little. In Liam's world, a little trust is all you can give to someone. Trust was more important than money.

"Boss!" The man on the other end greeted him. "When was the last time you saw Ralph?" He asked.

"Last night, boss. He killed a man in an alert near the bar saving a girl from being molested."

Liam frowned. "Ralph did that?"

"There is something else, boss!" He went silent and Liam knew that there was something wrong. "What is it?"

"Boss, the man Ralph killed was Declan, The Irish Mafia boss' nephew."

Fuck! What the hell was going on in his territory?

"Have you talked to Ralph today?" He asked.

"He called a few hours ago and asked me to keep an eye on the streets. He wanted me to dig into the Mexican's presence in Vancouver."

Liam understood why Ralph called him this many times. "Anything else he said?" Liam asked not showing his man that he was worried about his brother or wanted to know about him. Mafia life is a cruel bitch, here emotions are weakness!

"No, boss."

Liam ended the call and called his father. The lazy old don took seven rings to accept the call.

If he ever wanted to shoot his father there were moments like this when he didn't accept his call before the last ring. The clear message to people: you are not important enough to get Don Ryan Knight's attention and until Liam didn't get that titled chair of Don he was among the other people as well.

"Son?"

"Where is Ralph?" Liam asked not caring for any greeting. He was worried about his brother.

"How would I know? He is no longer an eight-year-old!" Came the irritated reply of his father.

"Dad, Ralph is not accepting my calls. He called me seven times in the morning and when I called back he did not answer his damn phone!" Liam almost shouted at his father, describing to him the seriousness of the situation. There were no voice messages or anything.

Ryan Knight straightened leaving the hand of the woman sleeping beside her.

"Have you called someone from his crew?"

Liam pinched the bridge of his nose, "He killed an Irish last night, a top-ranked Irish made man."

"Irish?" Ryan said sharply.

"Talk to Ronan, Dad, ask what he wants?"

Ryan gritted his jaw. "Is everyone behind Vancouver now?"

Liam understood his father's frustration too well because he was facing the same. "Dad..."

Before he could say Aurora stepped out of the bathroom wearing a short sequin dress. "Liam..." she called him.

He turned and forced a smile and raised a finger featuring that he needed a moment. "I will handle Ronan, you focus on Ethan's daughter," Ryan told him.

"I am trying not to lose my patience dad, ask him to stop this drama and sign the bloody deal with us."

Ryan chuckled. "In this deal, patience will give you the crown, Liam." He said and ended the call.

Aurora went near him and linked her hands to his neck. "Is my baby, losing patience with some stupid deal?" She asked in a childish tone and Liam wanted to cease his ears with hot wax.

Liam's hand caressed her back "yes a very stupid deal. I want to ruin the person but my father is not letting me do it, he wants me to be patient and deal with peace with that deal."

Aurora pinched her lips in a thin line. "Maybe he is right, what would you get by ruining the other person?"

Liam's lips pulled into a smirk. "Peace, Little one. I will find peace when I ruin that man."

Aurora shook her head. She was well aware of the ruthlessness in the business world. Her father was a ruthless businessman after all. "I don't want to talk about all these things. It's Sunday today and I was thinking about going on a lunch date with you."

Liam wanted to meet his brother, he was worried about him. "I have a meeting today," he told her and the spark in her eyes dimmed at his words.

Liam sighed, he couldn't see the sadness in her eyes. "Alright, let's go on this lunch date, where do you want to go?"

Aurora smiled, kissing his cheek soundly. "I was thinking about a long drive first then we will find some little cosy restaurant for lunch."

Liam needed the patience of a saint. "As you say." He agreed, he needed to show her heaven before pulling her into his hell.

Meanwhile, Ralph pulled Susan closer, "what did you say, taking your advantage? If I had taken your advantage you wouldn't be standing here like this. You begged me to fuck you last night and from your reaction, I guarantee you were never fucked like that before."

Susan was enraged hearing his proud words, she beat his hand to get out of his hold but he only chuckled at her actions and left her with a jerk.

"You don't interest me a bit, you are just plain and simple Miss Smith, so your idea of me taking your advantage is nothing but a joke to me."

It hurt her ego. How dare he speak to her like that. "Plain and simple, huh?" Susan didn't even give him the time to blink and attacked his lips ferociously.

Ralph was shocked just for a moment but then he wanted to teach her the lesson she didn't forget. He pushed her on the bed. Susan glared at him, stood up scratched his chest with her sharp nails. "You want to be a wild cat, huh?" He asked, seems like you need to be tamed. He took off his t-shirt and grabbed her hands together. "What are you doing, leave me!" She yelled but Ralph didn't pay any attention to her, he tied her hands with his t-shirt to the headboard of the bed.

"Open my hands, you brute!"

"Sacred now, kitten?" He muttered and grabbed her neck once again, adrenaline shot through her body, as he rolled her top down her shoulder. The tattoo was once again on display, Ralph traced it with the tip of his tongue, while his hands were busy kneading her soft mounds.

Every part of her body was on fire, she was having electric shocks all over her while he was playing with her body. She lost all her defences. An uncontrolled moan left her lips when he opened the button of her jeans pushed it down her legs.

"You just wanted to get fucked again, I ain't you? What happen princess no one fucked you like this before?" He asked cupping her s*x in his palm and drawing circles over her clitoris driving her wild with need. "Fuck you!" She yelled through her lungs when he insulted her.

"Not so soon, first you need to be punished for your behaviour," he turned her around. Susan was laying on her stomach now as Ralph brushed his palm over the soft round globes.

He would love to paint them red with his hands and without warning, he slapped her butt hard. Susan gasped as the pain shot through her body, "leave me!"

"Why, are not you enjoying this?" He muttered, and once again slapped her.

"I don't want you, don't you dare touch me!"

He chuckled. "You are loving it, right" he touched her vana, it was dripping, hot and wet. "Your Puy is fucking wet, you are lying to me?" He muttered and slapped her on her vana. Hard."

Susan was aroused, she wanted nothing other than to get fucked raw and hard. He has entered her hotness with a finger while still drawing circles on her clit, driving her crazy. She wanted to snatch his ck and use it the way she wanted.

Who was on the verge of an orgasm? A little more of this and she would get her release, the pressure was increasing in her body.

Her walls clenched against his fingers. Ralph knew she was on the peak and could burst with an orgasm any minute but he was not going to give it to her, he chuckled and stopped her pleasure, stood up from the bed and watched her with a mocking smile.

Susan who was on the peak of her ecstasy opened her eyes at the sudden halt in his actions. He watched her stand up, she was short of breath, she was just a second away from the release and he stopped.

"What are you doing?" She asked when she could manage to speak. The bastard chuckled, "if you want to come, then beg me. Apologise and beg me."

Susan glared at him with murderous eyes. "Fuck you!"

"Not till you beg me."

"Open my hands I can get it myself!"

"Not happening, apologies and beg me to fuck you."

Susan wanted to scream but the need in her body was too strong to deny, her feminine parts were on fire, it begged for his masterful hands but more than that it begged for his monstrous ck.

"Fuck me please, please!" She cried when she couldn't take the delay anymore. "I am sorry but please make me cum."

"Gladly!" And Ralph Knight showed her what a soul-wrenching orgasm feels like!

Chapter 90.

Susan watched her wearing his pants. She was still tied to the headboard. "Open my hands," she said, still stark naked.

Ralph turned his head and arched a brow. "Say please, first."

This was getting too far for her liking but knew he wouldn't open her hands till she plead with him. "Please, open my hands."

Ralph nodded and opened her hands. Her skin was sensitive from the continuous turning and twisting of her body. She glanced at the mark on her wrist and a weird feeling erupted in her heart. "I want to leave."

Ralph nodded. "I will ask my driver..."

Susan snapped her head and looked at him. "I can go by myself, I don't Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! he got to know the reason for that Irish following her. If she gets into trouble it would affect his brother's conquest Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! say from now on because from today, I am keeping you."

Susan stood up with lightning speed. "Keeping me? Am I a whore who needed to be kept," she snapped, angered at his words.

Ralph stood up too and grabbed her neck. "You like what we did, you begged for it. I know you want more but I will give it to you on one condition only if you agree to be my submissive."

Susan grunted. "You have lost your mind, I don't even know Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! you a few times in my office only and every time we fought."

He leaned into her face. "You work in my company, I am your boss, Ralph Knight but after office hours you will be my submissive."

She swallowed. Ralph Knight? He was Liam's brother. She needed to be close to him so that she could keep an eye on her friend and not to mention the sex was great too. "What if I don't agree?"

Ralph left her neck. "Do you want Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! on trust and acceptance. I won't force you. It's your loss only."

Susan nodded. "I want to think about it." She replied. "I am calling the driver, do your hair," saying that he walked out of the room to call the driver but found thirteen missed calls and five-voice messages on his phone from his brother. His eyes went to Susan coming out of the room. He skipped calling his brother and called the driver to take her to her home.

They both decided Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! of Aurora and Liam, the only thing was, they didn't know that about each other.

Meanwhile, Liam opened the door of his car for Aurora who settled inside after giving him a soft kiss on his cheek.

Liam sighed in irritation but forced a smile and kissed her back just like her when his cell phone buzzed.

He immediately checked the Caller ID and his body relaxed seeing Ralph's name on the home screen. He raised a finger at Aurora, gesturing for a moment and Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! been, I have called you thirteen times, Ralph?"

"I was busy," he answered with a sigh and added, "I have bad news."

Liam already knew what news he wanted to share. "I know about the Irishman. I talked to one of your Crewmen. "

"This is getting out of hand, we can't afford a war from everywhere, Liam."

"I have talked to dad about it. He will talk with Ronan and find out about his interference in our territory."

"Did she say yes?" Ralph asked about Aurora Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! the other end. The answer was clear, no!

"We don't have time, Liam. Do something please. Don't forget the commission meeting is in two months."

"You think I don't know that, the girl is a spoiled brat!" He inhaled sharply, "I will talk to you later." He snapped and ended the call.

Liam started the car, Aurora could feel he was tense about something and she wanted to calm him. She smiled, held his hand and kissed it, softly.

Liam glanced at her from the corner Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! him. He pulled her closer to himself and hugged her with one arm while driving with one hand. "I am loving it, you want to know something?"

"Hmm!" He hummed while focussing on the road. "Whenever I used to watch some romantic movie and watched the couple cuddling like this in the car I wanted to do the same thing and today, being with you like this I feel giddy."

Liam rolled his eyes mentally and kissed her hair, "anything else you want to Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! missing, actually, two."

"And what's that?"

"First is, I want to eat ice cream while you drive and second is..." Aurora started party music in his car, full volume. "...this."

Liam wanted to bang his head in the car seat. He was going to lose his shit if this time didn't get over soon. He stopped the car when he saw an ice cream parlour. "Which flavour do you want, little one?" He asked over the high beat music as she was singing the lyrics Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! fullest.

Liam lowered the volume to get her attention. "Liam?" She whined like a child. "What flavour do you want, Aurora?" He asked again.

"Oh, Vanilla," she said, kissing him.

Liam never liked PDA. He hated it, for him, sex was a way of releasing stress he enjoyed it. He never saw it more than that but this girl was doing everything he hated and she was doing it continuously.

Liam nodded and went to take it. He would have to do something to make Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! cone of Vanilla ice cream. Aurora was talking to someone over the phone.

"Is she fine?" Aurora asked Emily about Susan.

"Yes, she came back early, I was right she was doing another nightstand."

"Alright, you told her?" She asked.

"Yes, Aurora, think about it again, it's clear you both are hurting each other."

Aurora gulped. She didn't have the energy to talk about this anymore. "goodbye," she said and ended the call abruptly.

Liam didn't ask her anything this time, he didn't want to fight her again. Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! could enjoy this silence till she started speaking again. "Don't you want to ask who I was talking to?"

Liam gazes at her for a brief moment. "No, you told me last night that you needed a little space, I am giving you that. If you want to share I won't stop you but from now on I won't force you to tell me anything."

Aurora peeked at him through the lashes of her eyes. She was lucky to have him. She didn't want Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone!

him the best in his life but the memory of how he used to ask her about her conversation with Susan poked in her memory and once again her love for Liam increased.

"I fought with Susan and broke up with her."

Liam scowled. "Your best friend?"

Aurora gave him a small nod, painful tears perked in her eyes as she told him everything. Liam was impressed by the girl, she helped him unknowingly. "I don't like when my loved one betrays me, Liam. I Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! hurt me I couldn't forgive him easily." She raised her eyes and met his gaze.

"Never betray me Liam or you will lose me forever."

Something twisted in him. His heart stopped for a moment hearing her. "I can't even think about it, little one."

In the evening Aurora asked Liam to drop her at her home. Liam agreed, he was eager to talk to his brother about the incident too. They said goodbye to each other and Liam sighed when she went inside the Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! now.

Meanwhile, Emily hugged Aurora from behind. "Welcome, Mrs Knight!" She teased Aurora who rolled her eyes and teased her back. "Thank you, Mrs Kyschove."

Emily gasped. "How did you know?" She demanded.

Aurora frowned. "Know what?"

Emily bit her lip. She didn't know how to tell friends about her engagement. But she didn't have anyone else to share the happy news with, she already shared it with her parents after Alexandrio proposed to her last night.

"I will tell you when Susan is present with us."

Aurora Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! hand and went to Susan's room to call her in the living room. Once they all were settled Emily held their hands. "Thank you for always being with me, my beauties. I love you both and wanted to..." before she could finish, Aurora's eyes went to the big rock on her finger.

She screamed in joy, "oh my God! Alexandrio proposed to you, EM?"

Emily nodded, raising her hand and wiggling her fingers, "he did. We are engaged now."

Aurora hugged Emily, kissing her on the cheek. "Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! for you Emily, so very happy!"

Susan eyes the laughing and happy face of Aurora. She was happy seeing her like her old self, carefree and confident.

"Thanks..." Emily said. Susan hugged her too, "congratulations, Emily. I am happy for you but don't you think it's too soon?"

Emily shook her head. "No, I am sure about his feelings and mine too. Why wait when I know he is the right one for me."

"Still..."

"Why do you have a problem with everyone's happiness, Susan? If she Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! no one to interfere in her life," Aurora cut her in between.

"I am showing my genuine concern about my friend, not interfering in her life. Just because I am saying something doesn't mean I am against something. I just don't want her to do anything in a hurry to regret later," Susan snapped.

Emily rolled her eyes and sighed. "Alright, both of you! It's my happy day and I don't want it to make a ground for world war three," she turned to Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! interfering, she is worried about me and raising a genuine question. Even my mom asked me the same thing."

Aurora shrugged her shoulders. Emily patted her hand and turned to Susan. "And yes, I know it looks like I am doing it in a hurry but I have thought about it thoroughly, Susan. I love Alexandrio and we don't want to wait anymore. He made me feel like a princess, he cared about every little thing about me. I am happy to have Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! time she spent with Liam. A small smile erupted on her lips and her cheeks turned crimson. Liam is perfect too!

She bit her lip in shyness.

"I am happy for you," Susan said.

Aurora was in her room looking at the sky, her hand was on her necklace. "Mom, He is perfect for me," she chuckled. "Wish I could share this with you, mom."

Aurora sighed and dialled her father, he accepted the call immediately. "Are you alright, Love?"

Aurora smiled. "Yes dad, I am Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! you. I was busy and didn't get the time."

Ethan King eyed the almost dead man in front of him who was moaning in pain. He put his shoe on his mouth to stop the sound, "Is there something you want to share with your old man, love?" He asked, putting on pressure on the man.

Aurora pouted. "How do you always find out dad?"

Ethan chuckled, "because I know you, love. Better than yourself. Come on now, share the happy news with your old man. Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! if her mother was looking at her. "I know it may come as a shock to you, but I broke up with Gabriel dad. I am no longer engaged with him."

Ethan knew it but hearing it from his daughter, he was satisfied. "Why love, is that something he does? You fought with me for him."

Aurora regrets it now. "I know how much I hurt you dad, but things happen. I guess we were not meant to be together. I..." she Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! she was scared too because just like her mother, her father was a one-woman man. She had never seen her father going on dates after her mother.

"Dad, I am in love with someone else."

"Who?"

"The man you chose for me, Liam Knight!"

Chapter 91.

"What are you talking about? Whose wife?" Liam asked his father.

"Ronan said he is searching for his wife who was last seen in Vancouver."

"That doesn't mean he could send his canines in my territory," Liam pointed out. Ryan shook his head. Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! now, Liam could see he was thinking about something. "What are you thinking about?"

"If that's the only concern of the Irish Mafia then we don't have to worry much about them. Our main concern is still the masked man. We are losing too much in these fights. Any success with Alessio?" He asked Liam.

"None, he didn't want to get involved in our fights. He is neutral."

Ralph leaned back in his chair, "Dmitry is our last hope but he won't help."

Liam went silent for a moment, his fingers drumming the table. His mind is fighting to find a solution to the issue. "There has to be something..." suddenly, a thought came to his mind.

He didn't want to do it, no but Liam was not the man who couldn't risk the people he loved for the sake of his dream. In businesses you have to keep your professional and personal life apart because when they mix, all hell breaks loose.

"Dimitry Kyschov will help us catch this masked man soon. Ralph. I have played enough of this cat and mouse game, it's time I play the role of big bad Wolf with Dimitry."

Ryan straightened seeing the sinister dark look in his son's eyes. "What is it you are planning?" He demanded.

"Something disastrous," he replied, not giving Ryan the straight answer. Ralph frowned but didn't ask because he knew if Liam wanted to share he would have done it.

Liam glanced at his phone which buzzed with a message notification. As if some higher self was also giving him a sign, he opened the message box and read it.

Come to my home, I have something to share with you.

Liam stood up, "I have to meet, Alexandrios," saying that he left to meet his friend.

Alexandrio was talking to his brother over the phone, telling him about his engagement. "Are you sure about it?" Came his brother's question.

"Yes, Dimitry, I am sure."

"When can I meet your girl?"

"Next week, I am coming to Russia with her. She wanted to meet you as well but I need a promise from you, Dimitry."

Dimitry patted the head of his Putana who crawled back from his room. No one needed to hear the family talk and certainly not a whore. "What promise?"

"I don't want you to scare her, She came from a clean background and I don't want to know what we are?"

This angered Dimitry, "and what are we, Alexandrio?" He asked sharply.

Alexandrio sighed. "You know what I am talking about, brother. Can you behave a little normal with her?"

"I am not a blood-sucking animal, or am I? I guess that's why everyone is scared of me." He chuckled, "bring your woman without any worry," he said and ended the call and snapped his finger to call his puts a back and finish the job she was doing.

Liam arched a brow to his friend, asking him about the reason for calling him here. He handed him the glass of whiskey, "I am getting married."

Liam froze for a moment. He met his eyes, for a moment he wanted to drop his plan but he was not the man who goes back on his decisions. "Who is the lucky girl?" He asked, taking a sip from his glass.

"You know her."

Liam frowned. "Who?"

"Your girl's friend, Emily Smith."

Liam stiffened at his answer. It would affect Aurora, too. He knew how much her friends meant to her. Liam circled the brim of the glass with his forefinger. "I am happy for you, Alex."

Alexandrio rested his hand on Liam's shoulder. "I am taking Emily to meet my brother in Russia next week and we are getting married the week after. I want you to be my best man with Dimitry, after all, you are like a brother to me."

Liam nodded. "Brothers can die for each other, Alexandrio, can you die for me," he asked, staring into his eyes.

Alexandrio chuckled. "Are you asking if I can die for you, Liam?"

"Maybe!" He replied with a shrug of his shoulder. "Can you die for me, Alex?" He asked, straight on.

Alexandrio laughed but then he became completely serious just like Liam. "Yes, I can die for my brothers, you and Dimitry both."

Liam raised his glass in the air, mocking a salute to his friend. He could die for Liam and could do the same but only till his friendship was not coming in the way of his dream and now it was coming. Dimitri would never help Liam in catching the masked man till he faced problems from him itself.

"I promise to make your wedding a remembrance for you, brother," he promised Alexandrio who nodded and gulped down the whole class of whiskey in one go.

"Have you reached somewhere with your girl?" He asked Liam.

"She accepted me as her man but still denied marrying me, you are lucky your girl said this early."

"I will give you a tip, there is no better time to propose than someone's marriage. Every girl dreamed of wearing that white dress herself. The pre-wedding excitement can charm any girl to say yes. You should try your luck, Liam."

Liam inclined his head, the idea was not bad.

The next day, Liam received a call from Ethan. "You didn't call me to hear you breathe, Ethan."

"Aurora called me last night!"

Liam arched a brow, a smirk played on his lips. "And?" He asked with a chuckle.

"Stop smirking, Liam. She had fallen in love with you, she talks so highly about you being a perfect gentleman that it made me shoot you right between the eyes because I know it's all a lie, damn you!"

Liam leaned back in his chair, his fingers drumming the table, "isn't it what you wanted Ethan? Your daughter, marrying for love. I gave her what she wanted, what you wanted me to give her and as far as it is a lie is concerned. My emotions were never part of our deal. You wanted me to give her hearts and flowers, I gave her. You wanted me to protect her, she will be well protected her whole life, my words on that. You wanted her to have a child, an heir for your kingdom. This would be the first thing I would be working on once we are married. I accepted everything you asked me to do, Ethan. For peace and my father's friendship with you. Don't expect anything else from me because I won't give it to you. I did my side of hard work for the deal Ethan now it's your turn, the commission meeting is in two months. I want your unconditional support for the chair of the president."

Ethan King closed his eyes. "If you marry my daughter before the meeting, then only."

Liam sighed. "Do you take me as a fool, Ethan? You didn't just call me to inform me about Aurora calling you and telling you about her relationship status. I know you asked her about her marriage plan with me."

Ethan was furious hearing the mockery in his voice. "I have warned you before, Liam and I am warning you again, my daughter is everything for me, if she ever comes to know about our deal or this fake love of yours, you will see a side of Ethan Nobody has seen before. You have played your loverboy part too well now, keep playing this till the end of your life," saying that he ended the call.

Liam chuckled. "Oh Ethan, you don't have any idea about my real game."

"Have you heard? They are coming back today," Aurora said, pressing a soft kiss on Liam's head. Now, she was open about her relationship with Liam in the office. Liam looked up from his tablet and waited for her to speak further.

"What are you talking about?" He asked, with a frown between his brows. Aurora loved it when he got a serious look on her face.

She sat on his lap, Liam held her in his arms. "Emily is coming back from Russia today and now we are going to start the wedding shopping. I don't understand why they wanted to marry so soon? There is no time to shop."

Liam kissed her shoulders "maybe they can't wait to be together in every way possible. Maybe your friend doesn't care about shopping as long as she is marrying the right man."

Aurora smiled. "Tell me little one, don't you want to get married?"

Aurora raised her brows. "Mr Knight, why are you asking this question?"

"No hidden agenda, if you are thinking that, little one. It's a genuine question I am asking. Your friend is getting married after all and as far as I know, girls love getting married."

Aurora shook her head at his words. "I am hungry and was thinking about eating a pizza with you, in your bed with a cosy movie playing on your television and a glass of wine," she said changing the topic.

Liam sighed inwardly, "so you want to have a movie night, basically?"

"Yes, shall we leave?"

Liam agreed and they both left for his home. Aurora changed into a sexy silk nightie while Liam was wearing black trousers with a white t-shirt. The fireplace was lit enhancing the romantic atmosphere of the room.

They were wrapped in a soft blanket, Liam holding Aurora in his arms. A wedding scene was playing on the screen. "I love this."

"What?"

"This time, just you and me." Liam chuckled and placed a kiss in the crook of his neck. His hand slipped towards her breast, tracing the outline of her nple. Aurora moaned, her life was like a fairytale and Liam was the prince charming.

"I want you to meet my dad and brother for dinner tomorrow, Aurora."

She stiffened in his arms, Aurora was ashamed of the way she treated his father when he came to her house in Churchill. "Liam, I don't think it's a good idea."

He looked at her with a frown. "And why do you think so?"

She gulped the nervous lump in her throat. "I won't be comfortable with him, you know after everything I did..."

When Liam still kept looking at her she sighed. "I didn't treat him well when he came to my home." She whispers looking down in shame.

For a moment, Liam's body went stiff in anger recalling the insult she threw at him and his father but he calmed himself. Now, she was in his arms and it's just a matter of a few days after that she would become Liam's puppet.

"There is no need to feel like this, my father would be happy to meet you as my girlfriend. He likes you, Little one, and you will get to know Ralph. You will like it, trust me."

Aurora pouted. Still not sure about the family dinner but she knew she had to do it because at some point in time she had to face his family. Especially when with every passing moment she was falling in love with Liam more and more.

Her cell phone buzzed and she checked the called ID. A smile came to her face seeing her father's number flashing on the screen. She needed to share it with him because Aurora was not ready to have dinner with Liam's family.

"I have to take it. It's my dad." She gets off the bed and went to the balcony to talk to her father.

"Hey, Dad..."

Ethan Kings understood at once that his daughter was tense about something. "What happens, love?"

He promised that if it's Liam who hurt her he would make him pay for every single second of her sadness. "Did Liam do something to you?"

Aurora sighed. "No dad, Liam can't even think about hurting me in any way. He loves me too much for that, I am tense about something else."

"About what, love?"

"Dad...He wants me to have dinner with his family and I am not sure I am comfortable about it, not after how I treated his father." She whined.

Ethan understood what she was feeling. "He didn't tell you that I am also coming for dinner, love."

Aurora immediately relaxed hearing Ethan's words. "You are...oh thank god you are coming dad, I would have died in shame alone there."

Ethan Kings smiled hearing the excitement in his daughter's voice and he could do anything to remain it that way. Even call his friend and ask him for a meeting over dinner tomorrow. Ethan also wanted to see how Liam is treating Aurora with his eyes. "Good night dad, I will see you for dinner."

"Aurora, don't share this with Liam. He wanted to surprise you, love."

"I won't, dad. Good night." She said kissing him over the phone and ending the call. She went back to bed, positioned herself in Liam's arms who resumed the movie they were watching.

Chapter 92.

"And how did your meeting with the family go?" Susan asked Emily who sighed, "it went well. His brother was..."

Susan waited for Emily to finish the sentence but she couldn't find the right words to describe him. "...different!"

"Okay, I have heard many descriptions about people but never someone was tagged as 'different'," Susan said with the rise of her brows.

"I can't describe him in any other way, first he lives in a place which is far away from the city, In the forest. There he had this big palace kind of home and not to mention the huge dogs which look like werewolves and not to mention the old housekeeper.

"Does he have horns on his head?"

Emily didn't understand the reference, "what are you talking about?"

"You described his place as a beastly palace. So I was just confirming if he was the beast itself. The only thing missing in your description was horns and furs on his body."

Emily left a tired breath. "I think he is a beast. We attended a funeral there and the weirdest thing was instead of consoling the family he told them to be grateful they were alive. I mean who said that to anyone. Not to mention there, people bowed to him as if he was some kind of King. I told Xandrio that I want to leave as soon as possible but he assured me his brother was a good man."

"He didn't treat you well?"

"Oh, he treated me well, too well I say but it felt as if he was forcing himself to do it. He looked more fake than genuine."

"Weird!"

"You bet, It was more than weird, but leave it, I want to think about my wedding, I will be Mrs Kyschove next week. I am a nervous wreck goddamnit," Emily said dramatically.

Susan chuckled but hissed when she moved. The bastard has bruised her b*ttocks, last night.

"Where is Aurora?" I told her to meet me in the morning and it's close to noon now."

Susan shrugged her shoulders, "she has been staying with Liam for the last week, she no longer shares anything with me."

Emily rubbed her hand on her back to comfort her. "You know she couldn't be angry with you for long. Give it a little time, everything will be like before."

Susan nodded. "You know one good thing came out of this, we are having a civilised conversation."

"Civilised, but till when?" Emily countered and they both burst out laughing.

Aurora hugged Emily wholeheartedly, "how is our bride doing?" She asked air kissing her.

"The bride is doing good but she is angry with you, we have been waiting for you for two hours Aurora."

Aurora's cheeks turned crimson recalling the late-night seduction and early morning teasing she had with Liam. Susan could notice how happy she was in her new relationship.

At least she found someone who genuinely loves her.

Susan was happy for her soul sister. She didn't regret a thing she did with Gabriel. Aurora's eyes met hers for a brief moment but she turned her gaze back to Emily almost immediately. "I have some news to share with you."

Emily nodded while Susan acted not to pay attention. "Liam wanted me to meet his family and I am kind of nervous after what I did, geez I am so embarrassed for how I treated his father. I called Liam ugly!" She shrieks with a hand on her head.

Emily hid her laugh with a cough and Susan tossed her lips inward. "What are you wearing?"

She shrugged, "I couldn't even decide anything."

"Hm! Let's solve the issue, shall we?" Emily asked Aurora to stand up, she nodded at Susan and the three searched for a suitable dress for the family dinner. "

Susan found the dress, it was a beautiful wine coloured, long skirt with a white shirt. "It's perfect," Aurora squealed and was about to hug Susan but stopped herself and nodded with a thank you.

"Any tips?"

Emily and Susan looked at one another before Emily turned back to Aurora. "Just be yourself and don't insult his father today," she laughed while Aurora gave her a finger.

"Fk you!"

Liam was gently holding Aurora by her waist, she looked at Liam with apprehension. "You will be fine, little one." He said, using a little force for Aurora to move inside as the maid opened the door for them.

Aurora herself lived in a beautiful home but Ryan took luxury to another level.
“It’s grand!”

“It is!”

“Come let me introduce you to my father, as my girlfriend,” they walked towards the living room but Liam halted in his steps when he saw Ethan King, sitting there.

“Dad!” Aurora smiled confidently and ran over to her father. Ethan engulfed her daughter in his arms standing up.

“How are you doing, love?”

Liam sharpened his eyes at his father, questioning him with his gaze. Ryan only sighed in answer. Liam gritted his jaws in anger. He didn’t like Ethan showing power over him like this.

He might rule over Churchill but Vancouver was Liam’s kingdom and no other king can show his power in his city. Not even his would-be father in law.

He eyes the father-daughter duo, the smile on Aurora’s face sparkled her whole face. Till now, she was scared of meeting Ryan but with her father beside her, she was glittering in happiness. Aurora Kings didn’t care about anyone when her father was with her.

“Is Liam treating you well, Love?” Ethan asked loud enough for everyone to listen. He didn’t care about anyone hearing him.

Before Aurora could reply, Liam spoke up: “Yes Little one, tell your father how badly I am treating you.”

Ethan’s eyes shone with fury at the mocking tone. Aurora rolled her eyes hearing the anger in Liam’s voice. “He is treating me like a queen dad. I am happy with him.”

Liam took a step closer and pulled Aurora away from Ethan, rested his hand on her shoulder and placed a soft kiss on her neck. “Thank you, little one.”

Ethan felt as if Liam had slapped her. Ethan understood what Liam was trying to tell him by pulling Aurora away from him. She belongs to him now. A sense of longing bloomed in his heart when his daughter has ripped away from his arms. He wanted to snatch her back but he couldn’t do it. At this moment, Ethan Kings was not a big mafia don or a billionaire businessman. No, he was just an old father whose daughter was leaving him for her husband.

Aurora smiled when Liam kissed her neck but when she saw her father’s face she understood he felt bad about the way Liam snatched her from his arms. She created a distance between Liam and herself and went back to her father, kissed his cheek. "I am always your daughter first, Daddy. Everyone else comes after you."

Liam's body went rigid hearing Aurora's words. He was enraged, the girl mocked him in his city in front of Ethan. How dare she!

Ryan could see the anger building in Liam's eyes, he very cleverly broke the ice between his son and friend. "If the father-daughter meeting has finished, may I meet my son's girlfriend?"

Aurora met Ethan's eyes who blinked his eyes, telling her that everything will be fine. Liam forced a smile on his face, "not that you needed but still, please meet my girlfriend, Aurora, dad," He officially introduced them. "...and Aurora, he is my father Ryan Knight."

"Please to meet you, Mr Knight," she said, offering her hand to Ryan.

"Oh don't be formal with me, Aurora. Call me Ryan," he said kissing her hand like they used to do in the Victorian era

"I hope you didn't find my son too ugly to look at?"

If only the earth could swallow her. She looked down in shame. Ryan laughed when her lips turned pink. "I was kidding, Aurora. It's very nice meeting you when you are not asking me to get out of your house."

"Let bygones be bygones, Ryan, you are making her uncomfortable," Ethan said a little sharply. The tone didn't sit well with Ryan.

"I am known for making people uncomfortable, Ethan. It's my hobby but today I am only joking with my son's girlfriend. She is in Vancouver now." The last line drew the line of friendship and limits for Ethan Kings. The limits should be respected by everyone.

Aurora felt odd with these kinds of talks but she knew the blunder was created by her in the first place. She looked at Liam for help but looking at his stiff face she lost hope and looked down again.

Liam's gaze went to Aurora's pleading eyes. He sighed, "may I take my girl back, dad?" He said changing the direction of their talk. Aurora raised her head and met his eyes, he smiled to comfort her and Aurora relaxed.

Ethan noticed this silent interaction between them and hope arose in his mind for her daughter's future. Maybe Liam's feelings change for Aurora in future.

"Oh yes, why not? Let me call Marta to set the dinner table."

He rang the bell for his housekeeper, Marta. Aurora thought she would be some middle-aged woman like her housekeeper Mrs Dolan but her eyes popped out of the sockets when a stunning woman around thirty walked out with a smile pasted on her lips. Ryan ordered her to set the dinner and she left.

She went near Liam who had his hand resting on Aurora's shoulder, "is she the housekeeper?"

Liam looked at her with an arched brow. "My dad loves female company, you will get used to it."

Disgusting! And my dad never even looked at any other woman after mom.

Aurora felt deep sympathy for Liam. My poor baby, how he must be feeling seeing his father whoring around.

She placed a kiss on his cheek to ease his pain and rested her head on his shoulder while the three men were talking to each other about some business-related thing. Aurora was getting bored with them. She wanted to shout, hello, I am here too! But couldn't because she didn't want to get involved in any chit chat with Ryan.

"I am sorry for..." Liam glanced at his brother who raised his brows when his eyes settled on Ethan Kings. "I didn't know you were coming, Mr Knight."

Ethan nodded. "It was a surprise for my daughter."

Ralph turned his gaze to Aurora. "He is my brother, Ralph," Liam introduced them to each other. They didn't wait any longer for dinner and settled around the table. Slowly, with the great efforts from Ralph and Ryan, the ice broke between Liam and Ethan and they all managed to have a civilised dinner.

Aurora smiled and laughed with Liam at the dinner table and seeing his daughter like this Ethan felt at ease. Even though it all was fake his daughter was happy. He could live with that. After dinner, Ethan decided to leave. He couldn't leave his city for long as there was war between him and the Mexicans.

Ethan took Aurora outside to talk to her privately. "Be happy, love," he said, taking Aurora's face between his hands softly. "I want you to smile every day," He whispered, kissing her head softly.

Aurora's heart flipped painfully. She didn't know why but it felt wrong. Sadness gripped her heart into a painful fist. "Dad..." a sob left her throat without any reason. She didn't know why she was crying but she hugged her father tightly into her arms.

"Love? Are you hiding something? Tell me, Aurora?" He made her look into his eyes, breaking the hug.

Aurora shook her head. "I don't want you to leave me, dad. Please stay for a few days, please."

Ethan smiled. "I can't stay, love. You know I can't ignore my work."

Aurora hugged him once again. "I am scared dad, I don't know why, but suddenly I am feeling scared as if something bad is about to happen."

Ethan stiffened. He didn't want Aurora to feel anything wrong. He wanted to protect Aurora even from the negative thoughts. "It's all in your mind, love. You want to know something?"

Tears perked in her eyes looking at her father's face. She nodded, words couldn't get out of her mouth as her throat was thick with tears. "Your mother would have been so proud of you. Liam is the perfect man for you, Aurora. I am so proud of your choice."

Aurora chuckled. "Mom guided me in accepting Liam dad," she said, touching her necklace. Ethan eyed the necklace which once used to be worn by his wife. "I miss her dad." She said through the veil of tears.

Ethan hugged his daughter. "Me too, Aurora but your dad is here for you, I am here for you, my love."

She nodded in his chest and stood there, feeling the comfort of being had by him. There was nothing more comforting than her father's scent. There was no place where she felt safer than her father's arms.

"Shall we walk back inside, your boyfriend must be getting jealous over you spending time with your old man."

Aurora chuckled as Ethan wiped her tears. "Let him be, I love my dad more than anyone else." The father and daughter laughed together.

Meanwhile, Liam's hands were twitching in anger. "What the hell are they doing outside for this long."

Before Ralph or Ryan could speak Ethan returned with Aurora. He glanced at Ryan, "old friend, I am leaving my daughter in your protection. Take care of her as your own."

Aurora stiffened at Ethan's words. "Dad, you are talking about it as if we wouldn't be meeting again."

"She is like a daughter to me, Ethan."

Ethan nodded at Ryan in respect. Then turned his eyes to Liam. "I am trusting you with my daughter. Don't disappoint me," to another person his words might sound soft but Liam could hear the warning in them. The message was clear, don't mess this up or I will mess with your life. Only if that was that easy, Liam thought.

Liam smiled. "She is mine to keep now."

Ethan nodded and kissed Aurora one last time before leaving the place. Tears rolled down Aurora's eyes watching her father leave, there was something she couldn't point out. A disastrous feeling was crawling over her body but she tried to ignore it and prayed that it was just that, a feeling!

His Purchased Wife Chapter 106

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

"Liam, can I ask you something?" Aurora said when they both were settled in bed together, her head in his chest, she was drawing circles with her fingers on his heart.

Liam was thinking about what Ryan told him when Aurora was talking to her father. His business was suffering because of the masked man. He had lost five consignments of drugs and weapons since last month. It was more about reputation than monetary loss.

"Liam? Baby?" She kissed his chest and then moved to his neck, she bit his earlobe softly. Liam's chain of thoughts broke and he looked at Aurora, who was looking at him with her beautiful blue orbs, expectantly.

He frowned. "You want something?" He asked, Aurora sighed.

"Yes, I want to ask you I want to talk to you about something."

"Hmm."

She hugged him even more tightly, wanting to be as close as she could get at this moment. "I know how you must have been feeling all this time. I understand your pain."

What is she talking about?

"My pain?" He questioned.

"Yes, I know we never talked about it but I think it's time we should start sharing our emotions," she moved a little and sat on his stomach. "You want to go all the way?"

Aurora shook her head. She told him she was not ready for the sex and he accepted it. They are enjoying exploring each other's bodies without doing the deed and Aurora was liking it.

"No," she leaned down, their chest touching as she was lying on top of him now. "I wanted to tell you that I am with you."

Aurora kissed his chin, teasing him with her tongue. "You know, when my mom died I was alone in my big house but I had Mrs Dolan with me and there was Susan. She treated me like an elder sister. I was alone but I had people with me. Dad treated me like a princess. He still does."

Liam couldn't comprehend why she was telling him all this but he kept listening. "Tell me about yourself, your childhood. Share all the pain you felt after your mother's death.

What the fuck!

Liam flipped Aurora under him. His eyes turned dark and a vagueness came to his face. "I don't like talking about my mother, she is dead and there is nothing more to tell. Do you understand me?" He asked, curtly.

Aurora gulped. She understood he was not comfortable talking about his mother. "It's okay, I know it's hard for you to speak about your mother. You must have loved her so much and it hurts seeing your father with other women. I understand Liam, I am not saying anything bad about your father but the way he lives his Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! for me to digest. I mean my dad has never looked at another woman after mom. He still wears his wedding ring. Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! am proud of him and your father..."

The beast in Liam roared in anger. How dare she speak against his father. "I said don't say anything about someone you don't even know! I respect my father Aurora and I will not hear a word against him. He is what he is but he was there for me and my brother when my so-called mother ran away with her lover and died. He is having fun with a new girl every day but he Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! Because he couldn't forget the woman he lived with like a madman and all the way she was planning to run away with her lover. He is still not over my so-called mother. Your father loved your mother, good. He is still loyal to his wife. Good. But that doesn't mean my fatehr is not! He also wears his wedding ring on his finger to remind himself not to trust women again and he is right to do so, woman can't be Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! when he told her about his mother but the last line he said made her frown. "Do you not trust me, Liam? What's love without trust?"

Liam closed his eyes. "Aurora, you once told me that you need a little space. Now, I am asking the same. Please, don't ask me questions I don't want to answer today." He said, controlling the twitching of his hands. He got off the bed and walked out of the room leaving Aurora alone in his bedroom.

Aurora Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! cold in Liam's well-heated room. Once again, she hurts his feelings without thinking. "How many times I told you to control your words Aurora but you never learn," mumbled to herself.

Aurora needed someone to talk to, the first name that came to her mind was Susan's but she couldn't call her, not so soon. She needed to understand that Aurora was an adult now who wants to grow as an individual and not depend on others' decisions. Emily was out of the Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! wedding planning. Aurora didn't want to disturb the most beautiful time of her life with her problems.

She sighed and touched her necklace, and asked her mother to help her. Aurora closes her eyes, every time she thinks her life is back on track, a hurdle appears in her way and now Aurora has no idea how to talk to Liam. She turned to his side and inhaled his scent from his pillow. The spicy masculine scent intoxicated her mind and heart.

Suddenly, a Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! the time when her mother plucked flowers from her rose garden to send to Ethan with a sorry note because they fought. When Aurora asked Savannah about it, she told her daughter that flowers have the power to make anyone feel special.

When Aurora asked why she was making daddy feel special, Savannah kissed her daughter and told her that she was doing it because she hurted Ethan with her words.

Aurora opened her eyes and touched her necklace, "thank you for always being Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! to come.

The drive to the office was in a pin drop silence. Aurora didn't like it, one bit. She wanted to tease him, hug him like every other day but he was working on his Ipad. Aurora rolled her eyes and closed the separation window between them and the driver.

Liam didn't even look at her, he kept working on that stupid Ipad. Aurora was irritated and thought of a hundred methods to give his Ipad a cruel death.

She smiled seeing the message Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! to his office. She asked his PA to put them in his office.

When they reached the office she didn't go to her cabin but followed Liam to see his reaction. She thought he would be happy but no, Liam was furious.

"Who asked you to make my cabin a flower shop? How dare you put something in my cabin without my permission?" Liam snarled at the poor PA who was shivering under his furious gaze.

"Sir, m..am aske.." She tried speaking but couldn't when Liam snapped again. "Which madam?"

Aurora couldn't watch any longer, she walked inside his cabin. "I asked her to set the flowers here."

Liam turned and squeezed his eyes shut, to calm his raging mind. He hated this stupid affectionate thing. Liam didn't know how long he would be able to maintain this facade, "get lost, now!" He ordered his PA who walked out without a single second's delay.

"I am sorry for all the trouble I caused you but I just wanted to apologise for last night. I wanted to make you feel special, wanted to tell you how much you mean to me."

Liam opened his eyes and turned towards her. He didn't like seeing her long, sad face. Liam sprinted towards her with one long stride and raised her chin with his thumb and forefinger. A few tears rolled down her cheek, she sniffed like a child. Liam wiped her cheek. "Aurora, look at me, please."

She did as he said and gulped. Liam stared at her for a moment and then pulled her in his arms with a jerk. Aurora snaked her arms around his waist and hugged him tightly. "I am so sorry, I shouldn't have said all that without knowing the whole truth. I thought you missed your mother just like I missed mine. I wanted to make you feel loved, I wanted to tell you how much I love you, Liam. How much you mean to me but once again I ruined your mood..." she said while sobbing.

Liam sighed. He broke the hug and made softly held her face. "It's okay, forget about everything. But from next time, before judging things please get to know about them."

Aurora nodded eagerly, she was ready to do everything for her forgiveness. "I promise but don't be angry with me," she hugged him once again. Liam untangled her from himself and scooped her in his arms.

He sat on the sofa with her on his lap. None of them said a single word, both silent, enjoying the peace of being in each other's arms until Aurora broke the silence. "Liam, can we play a game?"

"What game?" He asked, looking at her.

"I will ask you a few questions to know more about you and you answer them without hiding anything."

"Only me? I also want to know things about you," Liam already know almost everything about her after spending this intimate time with Aurora Liam knew there was much more to know about her.

"Okay, so you ask me one question and I ask you one, what say?"

Liam nodded eagerly. "Done, you may ask first."

Aurora nodded and think about her question. "What's the thing you hate the most?"

Liam chuckled. "You asked this?" Aurora shrugged. "Yes, now answer me."

"I hate when things don't go my way. I hate when I have to do something I don't want to do."

"Have you done something like this, I don't believe it who can force you to do things you don't want to?"

Liam sharpened his eyes. "You have no idea little one, but it's just a matter of time. Once I get what I want I will tell that man the meaning of persuasion."

The darkness in his voice sent a shiver through her body. There was an uncomfortable silence in the room until he broke it. "You asked two questions. Now it's my turn," he touched the lock of her hair and brushed it back behind her ear.

Aurora could see he was going to ask something big. There was a mischievous look dancing in his eyes. "When did you realize that you have fallen in love with me Little one?"

Aurora sighed. She could answer that, "I don't know a particular time but on the island, even though you treated me like a brute but I was not myself after that. I wanted to cry all the time because you hurt my feelings and when I met you in the office, I was furious but there was a part of me that relished your presence. I guess it was a gradual process."

"What about you, Liam?"

He chuckled and pulled her closer to his body. "The moment I saw you for the first time, my dad showed me your photos, I was intrigued and when I met you for the first time in that exhibition I knew I will make you mine."

Aurora frowned. "We met for the first time in my home, Liam."

"You don't remember? We met in the belle's exhibition for the first time. Aurora. You pushed me in a fountain."

Aurora's eyes widened when she recalled the day. "Oh no, I did that! I don't remember anything."

"I am so sorry!" Aurora hid her face in the crook of his neck. Ashamed of her acts, "It's an okay little one, see I fulfilled the promise I did to myself. I made you mine."

Aurora nodded in his neck when they didn't see the look of darkness in his eyes. She was in love with Liam unaware of the fact that the man she thinks of as her prime charming was the devil in disguise.

His Purchased Wife Chapter 107

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

Aurora had tears in their eyes when she saw Emily in a white wedding dress for the first time. "Oh Emily, this...you..." she couldn't finish the sentence. Her throat was thick with tears.

Susan's eyes were perked with tears as well. Emily smiled with teary eyes seeing her two friends getting emotional. "You are making me emotional, girls. Now, tell me how I look? Is this perfect or should I try something else?"

Susan cleared her throat while Aurora nodded. "I got emotional seeing you in a wedding dress but this is not the one for you. Try something else."

Emily was on her tenth dress now and she couldn't find the perfect dress for herself yet. Now the excitement was turning into exhaustion. "How does it look?"

Susan shook her head. "No, too loud for your figure."

"Yes, you should wear something soft, like yourself and all these dresses." She shrugged her shoulders.

The store attendant smiled. "If you don't mind I have something you might like," she said and three pairs of eyes turned towards her. "Of course show it to us," Aurora said.

The attendant went and came back with a beautiful, platinum thread workpiece that has pearls over it. Aurora shrieked in happiness. Susan air kissed it, and Emily lists her heart for the dress. "This is perfect!" They said at the same time and the store attendants laughed.

"Em, try it on, now!" Aurora ordered her and Emily came back wearing the dress, she looked like a perfect bride wearing the veil over her face.

"This is it!" Susan said. Emily nodded, happy that she got the dress of her dreams. "How much is this for?" Emily asked.

"Just ten thousand dollars, madam."

Emily's mouth hung open. Just ten thousand dollars! Is she insane?

"This is too much, it's out of my budget, I am sorry but I will take some other dress."

The look on the attendant's face turned nasty. "Out of your budget! But you didn't say anything about the budget when I asked you. you could have told that before. This is a masterpiece and we generally don't allow anyone to try it on unless they are hundred per cent sure that they would be buying it."

"Which bride chose a wedding dress without trying it?" Susan asked while Aurora walked near Emily who turned crimson hearing the words of the attendant.

"If you can't afford a dress this expensive then you should have informed me about your budget before. I would have never shown you this dress," she turned to Emily, "will you please, take off the dress."

Emily nodded and went to remove the dress. "It's our mistake that we came to this cheap shop. You know what you can't afford customers like us!" Aurora said in anger.

The attendant rolled her eyes. Emily came back dressed in her clothes. She was about to walk to her friends when stopped when she found Alexandrios standing at the door of the shop.

"Xandrio!" She whispered but he was not looking at her. His eyes were focussed on the shop attendant. Aurora and Susan watched him enter the shop. "How much for that dress?" He asked the attendant.

She raised her chin in the air and proudly told the price. Alexandrio pulled out his black card and handed it to the lady. "We are buying it."

"Xandrio, no! Please, it was decided between us."

"We will talk about it later," he said in a voice that made Emily shut her mouth.

"Are you sure you can afford it?" The attendant asked arrogantly which made him chuckle. "I think I can. Pack the dress."

Emily didn't like it. Aurora and Susan were silent when Emily burst out on Alexandrio. "Why did you do that? I wanted Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! jerked her towards him. "You will be my wife in six days and do you think I would let anyone disrespect you Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! everyone walk over you, Zvezda."

Emily gulped. She still couldn't forget the laughter of people when she was called a gold digger. She looked away to hide her tears. "Now that we have bought the dress, may I see my bride in it?"

A small smile appeared on her face. Before she could speak, Aurora walked to them. "You can't."

"Why?"

Emily put her face on his shoulder to hide her laughter. When Susan backed Aurora. "It's a bad omen if the groom sees the bride Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! not believe in bad or good omen."

The three friends looked at him with mischievous eyes. "But we do!" They said at the same time which made Alexandrio raise his hand in surrender and leave when they didn't allow him to stay.

It was at the lunch table when Emily asked Aurora and Susan to be her maid of honour. Aurora hugged her but Susan was shocked when she heard Emily. Susan and Emily, we're not as close as they were with Aurora. Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! and Susan was glad because she couldn't have done it herself.

"Any idea where he is taking you for your honeymoon?" Aurora asked while eating her ice cream.

"No, he said it's a surprise and since then I am craving to know where he is taking me. I don't want it to be anywhere near Russia."

Susan rolled her eyes. "You could have used different tactics to know about the destination."

"Like what? I asked him what I should pack and he said nothing because he Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! month."

Aurora choked on her ice cream while laughing. "Too much information, Em!"

Susan and Emily burst out laughing as a look of understanding passed between them. Aurora was back to her old self, this shows how happy she was in this relationship. Liam was keeping her happy which made them happy for her.

"You know what, I can help you find out," Emily's eyes perked. "How?"

Aurora smiled, biting her lip. "I have my ways but what about your bachelorette party? Let's have a trip Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! want to do anything extra. I want a simple wedding and this trip to Vegas seems unnecessary to me."

"Emily, it's your bachelor party, if you don't want to go to Vegas, cool but we have to do something. You know what, leave that to me, I have a magnificent idea."

"What?" They asked at the same time.

Susan smirked. "Strippers!"

Aurora and Emily agreed and after paying the bill they went back to shopping. Aurora and Susan chose beautiful, powder pink dresses. They looked beautiful in that and with that their shopping was finally over.

Susan's phone beeped with a message from Ralph. He ordered her to meet him at his house. The dominant and submissive relationship made things spicy for her. She didn't know why but she always ended up surrendering to him and she did not like it. She needed to regain control over the situation.

"I have plans tonight." She typed back and decided to have a shower in her room. Emily went to Alexandria's house while Aurora went to Liam's so she was alone there.

Ralph scowled reading the message. His mind could not accept a mere girl declining him. He stood up from the chair and drove to her home.

Susan was in the shower when she heard the doorbell ringing. She didn't order anything, Emily and Aurora wouldn't come then who could it be? She wrapped a towel around her body and hair and went to open the door.

She looked through the peephole. Her heart flipped seeing Ralph standing outside. She glanced at her towel wrapped body and turned to change into a bathrobe but he again rang the bell impatiently. Susan sighed and opened the door. She intended to give him a lecture about manners but the moment she opened the door he grabbed her by the neck and shut the door with his leg.

"A submissive doesn't make the rules, she obeys them. When I said come to my house, your answer should always be, yes sir!" He gritted, staring into his eyes.

Susan's heart was beating an uneven rhythm. Till now, she was only taking it for fun but his behaviour shocked her to the core. Susan Kelly was scared when his grip on her neck tightened.

Her eyes widened when he looked down at her wet body. "Do you open the door for everyone in this manner? My submissive is not allowed to do that," he turned her around and slapped her round ass sharply.

Susan didn't know what to do, she was angry for entering her home like this and aroused at the same time. When this man was near her, her mind stopped working. She became his plaything.

"Apologise, now!" He said, raising the hem of her towel and spanking her bare ass.

"I am sorry sir!" She cried when he slapped again.

"Good girl, Do you want to get fued?" He asked palming her breast with one hand while feeling her hot ass with the other.

"Yes, sir," she replied in a whisper.

Ralph threw her towel away and asked her to open the zip of his pants. She pulled out his hard-on erection. "Show your skills."

Then for one and half hours, Susan did as she was asked to and rewarded by multiple orgasms. She didn't know if there was my life left in her body. She was only aware of her breathing, every other part of her body was too numb to feel but he was still not over it. His fingers were still playing with her clitoris.

She was sensitive over that particular place where he had spanked her many times. She felt like a used up whore but was satisfied with this sexual encounter.

"Do you have something to eat? I am hungry." He asked when he was satisfied with her body.

She could only manage to nod, he took all her strength away with his aggressive sexual encounter on her poor body.

Ralph went to her kitchen to find something to eat. He was impressed to see how neatly well stocked it was. He made tacos for both of them and was about to take the dinner upstairs when he heard a beep. The sound didn't come from his phone. He looked around and found a phone on the top of the dining table. He picked it and saw the notification on the home screen from an adult website. There was a message in it, the stripper confirmed for tomorrow.

"Stripper!"

His nose flared. He left the phone there and walked upstairs with the dinner plates.

Susan's body was finally coming back to life and she changed the bedsheet first and sprayed air freshener, her room smelled of sex now.

He entered the room again with a food tray. "I hope you like tacos."

Susan shrugged. "I need food to regain energy."

She took one from the plate and took a bite of it and moaned. It was delicious.

The sex was always fantastic with him it was the after sex uneasiness with him that sucks. He never stayed with her after the deed is done, it was the first time he ever remained with her and it was the first time they were eating together.

This felt weird.

"What's your plans for tomorrow?" He asked casually.

"Emily's bachelor party."

She only shrugged. Ralph didn't speak for a long time and only stared at her but then he leaned closer to her face. "If I find out you let anyone touch what's mine, your punishment would not be relied on to spanking only."

Susan blinked. Her mind once again forgot to think. If there had been anyone else instead of him she would have slapped the shit out of him but this man was from another universe. She was like an obedient student in front of him.

If she wanted to enjoy the time with her friend, she could do that but she was not allowed to touch another male till he is doing her and as far as this striker thing is concerned, Ralph would tell it to Liam if needed, he knew his brother could twist anything in his favour if he wants.

Susan was waiting for him to leave but she was stunned when he lay down on her bed

"I am staying!" Susan Kelly was excited, shocked, happy...She didn't know which option to pick to describe her mood.

She lay down next to him but sleep was the last thing on her mind.

His Purchased Wife Chapter 107

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

Aurora had tears in their eyes when she saw Emily in a white wedding dress for the first time. "Oh Emily, this...you..." she couldn't finish the sentence. Her throat was thick with tears.

Susan's eyes were perked with tears as well. Emily smiled with teary eyes seeing her two friends getting emotional. "You are making me emotional, girls. Now, tell me how I look? Is this perfect or should I try something else?"

Susan cleared her throat while Aurora nodded. "I got emotional seeing you in a wedding dress but this is not the one for you. Try something else."

Emily was on her tenth dress now and she couldn't find the perfect dress for herself yet. Now the excitement was turning into exhaustion. "How does it look?"

Susan shook her head. "No, too loud for your figure."

"Yes, you should wear something soft, like yourself and all these dresses." She shrugged her shoulders.

The store attendant smiled. "If you don't mind I have something you might like," she said and three pairs of eyes turned towards her. "Of course show it to us," Aurora said.

The attendant went and came back with a beautiful, platinum thread workpiece that has pearls over it. Aurora shrieked in happiness. Susan air kissed it, and Emily lists her heart for the dress. "This is perfect!" They said at the same time and the store attendants laughed.

"Em, try it on, now!" Aurora ordered her and Emily came back wearing the dress, she looked like a perfect bride wearing the veil over her face.

"This is it!" Susan said. Emily nodded, happy that she got the dress of her dreams. "How much is this for?" Emily asked.

"Just ten thousand dollars, madam."

Emily's mouth hung open. Just ten thousand dollars! Is she insane?

"This is too much, it's out of my budget, I am sorry but I will take some other dress."

The look on the attendant's face turned nasty. "Out of your budget! But you didn't say anything about the budget when I asked you. you could have told that before. This is a masterpiece and we generally don't allow anyone to try it on unless they are hundred per cent sure that they would be buying it."

"Which bride chose a wedding dress without trying it?" Susan asked while Aurora walked near Emily who turned crimson hearing the words of the attendant.

"If you can't afford a dress this expensive then you should have informed me about your budget before. I would have never shown you this dress," she turned to Emily, "will you please, take off the dress."

Emily nodded and went to remove the dress. "It's our mistake that we came to this cheap shop. You know what you can't afford customers like us!" Aurora said in anger.

The attendant rolled her eyes. Emily came back dressed in her clothes. She was about to walk to her friends when stopped when she found Alexandrios standing at the door of the shop.

"Xandrio!" She whispered but he was not looking at her. His eyes were focussed on the shop attendant. Aurora and Susan watched him enter the shop. "How much for that dress?" He asked the attendant.

She raised her chin in the air and proudly told the price. Alexandrio pulled out his black card and handed it to the lady. "We are buying it."

"Xandrio, no! Please, it was decided between us."

"We will talk about it later," he said in a voice that made Emily shut her mouth.

"Are you sure you can afford it?" The attendant asked arrogantly which made him chuckle. "I think I can. Pack the dress."

Emily didn't like it. Aurora and Susan were silent when Emily burst out on Alexandrio. "Why did you do that? I wanted Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! jerked her towards him. "You will be my wife in six days and do you think I would let anyone disrespect you Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! everyone walk over you, Zvezda."

Emily gulped. She still couldn't forget the laughter of people when she was called a gold digger. She looked away to hide her tears. "Now that we have bought the dress, may I see my bride in it?"

A small smile appeared on her face. Before she could speak, Aurora walked to them. "You can't."

"Why?"

Emily put her face on his shoulder to hide her laughter. When Susan backed Aurora. "It's a bad omen if the groom sees the bride Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! not believe in bad or good omen."

The three friends looked at him with mischievous eyes. "But we do!" They said at the same time which made Alexandrio raise his hand in surrender and leave when they didn't allow him to stay.

It was at the lunch table when Emily asked Aurora and Susan to be her maid of honour. Aurora hugged her but Susan was shocked when she heard Emily. Susan and Emily, we're not as close as they were with Aurora. Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! and Susan was glad because she couldn't have done it herself.

"Any idea where he is taking you for your honeymoon?" Aurora asked while eating her ice cream.

"No, he said it's a surprise and since then I am craving to know where he is taking me. I don't want it to be anywhere near Russia."

Susan rolled her eyes. "You could have used different tactics to know about the destination."

"Like what? I asked him what I should pack and he said nothing because he Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! month."

Aurora choked on her ice cream while laughing. "Too much information, Em!"

Susan and Emily burst out laughing as a look of understanding passed between them. Aurora was back to her old self, this shows how happy she was in this relationship. Liam was keeping her happy which made them happy for her.

"You know what, I can help you find out," Emily's eyes perked. "How?"

Aurora smiled, biting her lip. "I have my ways but what about your bachelorette party? Let's have a trip Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! want to do anything extra. I want a simple wedding and this trip to Vegas seems unnecessary to me."

"Emily, it's your bachelor party, if you don't want to go to Vegas, cool but we have to do something. You know what, leave that to me, I have a magnificent idea."

"What?" They asked at the same time.

Susan smirked. "Strippers!"

Aurora and Emily agreed and after paying the bill they went back to shopping. Aurora and Susan chose beautiful, powder pink dresses. They looked beautiful in that and with that their shopping was finally over.

Susan's phone beeped with a message from Ralph. He ordered her to meet him at his house. The dominant and submissive relationship made things spicy for her. She didn't know why but she always ended up surrendering to him and she did not like it. She needed to regain control over the situation.

"I have plans tonight." She typed back and decided to have a shower in her room. Emily went to Alexandria's house while Aurora went to Liam's so she was alone there.

Ralph scowled reading the message. His mind could not accept a mere girl declining him. He stood up from the chair and drove to her home.

Susan was in the shower when she heard the doorbell ringing. She didn't order anything, Emily and Aurora wouldn't come then who could it be? She wrapped a towel around her body and hair and went to open the door.

She looked through the peephole. Her heart flipped seeing Ralph standing outside. She glanced at her towel wrapped body and turned to change into a bathrobe but he again rang the bell impatiently. Susan sighed and opened the door. She intended to give him a lecture about manners but the moment she opened the door he grabbed her by the neck and shut the door with his leg.

"A submissive doesn't make the rules, she obeys them. When I said come to my house, your answer should always be, yes sir!" He gritted, staring into his eyes.

Susan's heart was beating an uneven rhythm. Till now, she was only taking it for fun but his behaviour shocked her to the core. Susan Kelly was scared when his grip on her neck tightened.

Her eyes widened when he looked down at her wet body. "Do you open the door for everyone in this manner? My submissive is not allowed to do that," he turned her around and slapped her round ass sharply.

Susan didn't know what to do, she was angry for entering her home like this and aroused at the same time. When this man was near her, her mind stopped working. She became his plaything.

"Apologise, now!" He said, raising the hem of her towel and spanking her bare ass.

"I am sorry sir!" She cried when he slapped again.

"Good girl, Do you want to get fued?" He asked palming her breast with one hand while feeling her hot ass with the other.

"Yes, sir," she replied in a whisper.

Ralph threw her towel away and asked her to open the zip of his pants. She pulled out his hard-on erection. "Show your skills."

Then for one and half hours, Susan did as she was asked to and rewarded by multiple orgasms. She didn't know if there was my life left in her body. She was only aware of her breathing, every other part of her body was too numb to feel but he was still not over it. His fingers were still playing with her clitoris.

She was sensitive over that particular place where he had spanked her many times. She felt like a used up whore but was satisfied with this sexual encounter.

"Do you have something to eat? I am hungry." He asked when he was satisfied with her body.

She could only manage to nod, he took all her strength away with his aggressive sexual encounter on her poor body.

Ralph went to her kitchen to find something to eat. He was impressed to see how neatly well stocked it was. He made tacos for both of them and was about to take the dinner upstairs when he heard a beep. The sound didn't come from his phone. He looked around and found a phone on the top of the dining table. He picked it and saw the notification on the home screen from an adult website. There was a message in it, the stripper confirmed for tomorrow.

"Stripper!"

His nose flared. He left the phone there and walked upstairs with the dinner plates.

Susan's body was finally coming back to life and she changed the bedsheet first and sprayed air freshener, her room smelled of sex now.

He entered the room again with a food tray. "I hope you like tacos."

Susan shrugged. "I need food to regain energy."

She took one from the plate and took a bite of it and moaned. It was delicious.

The sex was always fantastic with him it was the after sex uneasiness with him that sucks. He never stayed with her after the deed is done, it was the first time he ever remained with her and it was the first time they were eating together.

This felt weird.

"What's your plans for tomorrow?" He asked casually.

"Emily's bachelor party."

She only shrugged. Ralph didnt speak for a long time and only stared at her but then he leaned closer to her face. "If I find out you let anyone touch what's mine, your punishment would not be relied on to spanking only."

Susan blinked. Her mind once again forgot to think. If there had been anyone else instead of him she would have slapped the shit out of him but this man was from another universe. She was like an obedient student in front of him.

If she wanted to enjoy the time with her friend, she could do that but she was not allowed to touch another male till he is doing her and as far as this striker thing is concerned, Ralph would tell it to Liam if needed, he knew his brother could twist anything in his favour if he wants.

Susan was waiting for him to leave but she was stunned when he lay down on her bed

"I am staying!" Susan Kelly was excited, shocked, happy...She didn't know which option to pick to describe her mood.

She lay down next to him but sleep was the last thing on her mind.

His Purchased Wife Chapter 108

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

"You are not serious about it, right?" Ralph asked his brother when he told him about his plan to catch the masked man.

Liam arched a brow, "And why do you think that?"

Ralph straightened in his chair, "He is your best friend, he stood by you in every thick and thin. Liam is getting married in five days. You have to be kidding me if you are thinking about Striking Alexandrio to hurt Dmitry. For God's sake, he asked you to be his best man two days ago."

Liam sighed. "And I will be his best man. I care about him, Ralph. I do or why do you think I am not executing my plan yet. Let him enjoy a few days of happiness. My heart is not made of stone."

Ralph couldn't digest it. His brother was talking as if it didn't matter to him if Alexandrio remained alive or not!

"You know Liam, I never said this but you are as twisted as our father. Can't you see anything more than business? That man stood against his brother for you!"

Liam put the whiskey glass on the table and raised a finger at him. "His brother is the reason behind all this. He didn't support me when I asked him. He knows everything I want to know about that son of a bitch but he is playing with me. I can't risk my dream or the life of my family for a so-called friendship. Look at dad, he became Ethan's puppet. I am playing this loverboy role because of dad. I felt like a caged animal. I am bearing that idiotic girl every day just because of dad's so-called friendship with Ethan. That bitch made my cabin a flower shop yesterday. I have to control my urges with her and not to mention her irritating habits. She loves hearing some crap music. She eats in my car, a freaking vanilla ice cream. I want her body, yes. I want her to do as I say but what am I doing instead?"

"I am doing what she is asking me to do? Do you want to know what I want to do, I want to point a gun on Ethan's head and shoot him. I want Aurora to behave like a submissive!"

Ralph was stunned. He was a monster too but Liam was not only a monster, but he was also an enraged monster.

"You know the more I see this side of you the more I hate him. I used to think Ryan Knight was the ugliest filth but you trumped him in this category as well. You are the ugliest man I have ever met, Liam. Ryan Knight's hand didn't shake when he killed our mother and you want to do the same with Aurora. That girl loves you, Liam. It's written all over her face!"

Liam chuckled. "Nah! She loves an illusion, Ralph. She loves what I am pretending to be, as you said I am the ugliest monster and nobody has the guts to love an ugly monster and let's be true, do you think I care about her so-called love, Ralph? I wanted to get married to her, fuck her and have a child. That's it!"

Ralph's nose flared. He recalled his childhood when he watched his father every day with a new woman. He hated him for giving his mother's place to someone else. Every day there was a new woman on the dining table with them. "And what will happen to that child? Is he going to have the same childhood we had?"

Liam fisted his hand, "No, Ralph, I would not allow my offspring to have the same childhood we had because unlike dad I will kill her if she ever gets ideas of running away, na! I will make her live with me, forced to smile every day even though she is bearing all the pain of the world."

He turned to his brother and rested a hand on his shoulder. "We are not some normal couple, Ralph. I wanted her and now I made her mine but the moment she stopped being useful to me, things will change and the same goes for Alexandrios."

Ralph nodded. "You don't deserve Alexandrios friendship, Liam. One day, you will regret losing him."

Liam chuckled. "He himself said he could die for me, I am just testing his words. Shall we discuss the topic of concern now? Any information on Juan?"

"No..." before Ralph could finish Liam's cell phone beeped. A message from Mike.

It read: A stripper is here for the bachelorette party.

Liam was enraged. Keep an eye on her.

He typed back and stood up. "We will talk about it later." Saying that he left to bring her back home with him. The girl was testing his patience with a new stunt every day. She was Liam Knight's property and she dared to hire a stripper.

Meanwhile, Emily's eyes widened seeing the handsome stripper taking off his shirt. "Wow! It's getting hot in here!"

Aurora made a face, he was nowhere near Liam in comparison to looks or body. Her Liam has a perfect body, with muscles and his looks are to die for. She wished it was him who would have been stripping in front of her instead of this stripper. She could give anything to have him here at this moment.

Meanwhile, Susan recalled Ralph's warning and tried hard not to gaze at the man. The only person who was enjoying the stripper was Emily but that too because she was on her tenth shot of Vodka.

Aurora said no to alcohol, she had done many blunders in the past due to it that now she is off to Alcohol or so she told herself. Susan drank too but she was sober because of Ralph's upcoming visit tonight.

The stripper called the girls on the stage for the dancing and they went but none of them paid any attention to him.

"Are you ladies not interested in my moves?" He drawled while pulling down his pants.

Emily laughed and went near him. "You are not as hot as my fiance! I think I will stick to him."

Aurora and Susan burst into laughter seeing the look on that stripper's face. Aurora touched Susan's hand, for a moment forgetting that she was not talking to her but withdrawing it immediately when recalled.

Susan looked away, it hurts seeing her behave like this. Suddenly, Aurora's mind popped up with a naughty plan.

She clicked some pictures of Emily dancing with the stripper and sent them to Alexandrio. "Now the fun begins!" She mumbled.

Exactly, after twenty minutes the doorbell of her home rang down, Aurora went to open the door excitedly, thinking about surprising Emily but she was shocked to see Liam standing at her doorway.

Liam was raging in fury. He was about to tell her what he felt about her stunt but before he could speak, Aurora shrieked with a happy look on her face and threw her arms around his neck.

"I can't believe you are here!" She kissed his face many times. "I was thinking about you and here you are."

"Come inside, let's have fun." She said before they could move a car stopped by and Alexandrio stepped out of it.

He looked at his friend, "your girlfriend is better than you, she at least asked me to come here while you didn't even bother telling me about the damn stripper."

Liam frowned. "You called him here?"

Aurora nodded. "Yes, Em is drunk and I know she will enjoy the party more with Alexandrio rather than that stripper."

Alexandrio groaned and moved inside V to read the newest content, everyone! dared to call a stripper?" He asked teasingly. Aurora stepped closer to him and kissed his nose. "I didn't call him, Susan Visit to read the newest content, everyone! about you. You have more skills than him, I think you should try your hand in this business."

Liam raised his brows. "Will you be able to handle that, Aurora? Me getting naked in front of other girls."

Aurora pushed his tie and pulled his face down to her level. "You can be a stripper but who says you will strip for other girls, I am advanced booking all your schedules, Mr Knight."

A feeling so strong engulfed his body that he couldn't describe it Visit to read the newest content, everyone! he wanted to have her soon or he didn't know what he would do? He has been suffering from blue balls for a while now and didn't know for how long he would be able to take it anymore.

"Let's go!" He said taking her hand and moving towards his car.

"Liam, I can't leave like this, I didn't even tell anybody inside."

"They message anyone you want but we are leaving. I didn't like you seeing another man getting naked in front of you."

"I Visit https to read the newest content, everyone! thinking about you all the while."

"Good, now we both will get naked together."

Aurora gasped and halted in her steps. "What?"

Liam lost all his patience and picked her in his arms, "Liam, what are you doing, leave me. People are watching!"

"Let them watch for all I care. I am taking what belongs to me."

He set her on the foot and opened the door of his car. "Liam!" He didn't give any heed to her words and forced her inside, closer to the door, to read the newest content, everyone! didn't like the way he manhandled her.

She crossed her arms and looked outside the window. Angry as hell!

"Don't touch me!" She said, slapping his hand away when he grabbed her hand to get her out of the car. Liam's nose flared when she got out of the car and walked ahead leaving him standing. She was about to enter the elevator when he pushed her inside with a little force and attacked her lips, hungry for her body. "I can't wait any to read the newest content, everyone! and moved to her collarbone, Aurora would have agreed. She wanted to be with him in every way possible but not today, not after how he treated her.

Aurora pushed him away from herself. "But I am not ready yet, Liam," She told him.

An uncontrolled fury ran through his body. He kept staring at her, infuriated with her mood swings. "You manhandled me, Liam."

Should I show her what manhandling feels like?

"I was angry at you!"

"For what?"

"For that stripper, Aurora."

Aurora inhaled sharply. "I didn't Visit <https://> to read the newest content, everyone! Susan who did that."

The elevator pinged. He once again scooped her in his arms and took her to his bedroom. "Liam, I don't appreciate this behaviour."

He put her on her feet back and held her face between his hands. "You are making me lose control, little one. Don't torture me like this, please," he whispered and placed his lips on hers.

Aurora tried to resist, she even pushed him with her hand but today Liam was not listening to the reason. He Visit to read the newest content, everyone! down and pulled her even closer. "Don't torment me anymore, little one. Become mine, completely. Marry me, Aurora!"

Aurora, who was lost in the world of physical pleasure, snapped her eyes open. Marriage! Was she even ready for this?

She didn't know, seeing Emily marrying Alexandrio after only a month of dating him gave her hope that she could do the same but her experience with Gabriel stopped her from hurrying into marriage.

Only she knew how heavy the weight of Gabriel's ring became when Visit to read the newest content, everyone! still roam in her mind sometimes even though she was completely free from him now.

She knew Liam was not like Gabriel, the way he treats her reflects how truly he cared for her. This time she was genuinely happy but she was not sure she wanted to marry him.

She needed time to think about it. She couldn't say yes! Not today. Her heart didn't allow her to say yes.

She touched his chest where his heart was and looked into his eyes and sighed deeply before giving him her answer.

"I can't, I am sorry but I can't marry you, Liam."

Chapter 96.

Liam Knight was furious. His hands twitched to torture, someone, her. His eyes turned dark but he somehow turned around to not let her see the reflection of his thoughts on his face.

"I want to know you before taking such a big step in my life. Please be patient with me."

Liam squeezed his eyes shut. "Only thirty more days left, little one. I won't give you more than that, little one."

Aurora shook her head. "Love and acceptance take time, but let's see if you can convince me to marry you in a month, Mr Knight," saying that she turned to leave but Liam grabbed her hand and yanked her back to him.

"I am sure you will be crying while accepting my proposal, Mrs Knight."

Aurora raised her brows, "such confidence you have, Mr Knight!"

"Your husband is a very confident man."

Aurora nodded with a chuckle. He had been calling himself her husband for a long time and she started to like it. That you are," she said in a teasing manner but then in a completely serious tone. "Don't treat me like that again. I love you but I didn't like the way you manhandled me."

Liam nodded. "I won't treat you like this, I promise," He said.

I will treat you worse than this once your father's neck gets in my hands, daddy's girl!

Aurora kissed his nose. "I love you."

The left corner of his lip lifted upward. "I love you too, little one. Come here, you might not be ready to get naked but we can fool around."

Aurora poked her tongue out like a child. "Nope, I want my beauty to sleep, tomorrow is the rehearsal dinner and the day after that my friend is getting married so we are going to sleep like normal people."

Liam made a grunted sound and went to change into nightwear after using his hand to state his physical need. He lost count of how many times he had used his hand in the past week. When he returned Aurora was already in bed, sleeping hugging his pillow.

He took the pillow from her and laid down beside her. Aurora put her head on his chest just like every day. "Are you not sleeping?" He asked.

Aurora chuckled. "Can't sleep without you. I was imagining your pillow and your alternate but you are more comfortable," she answered without opening her eyes and kissing his chest.

"Don't make me talk, I need to sleep."

"You need to sleep but are you sleepy?"

Aurora thinned her lips. "No! But I want to sleep, now such!"

Liam chuckled and started caressing her hair making her moan and the sound of it made him horny once again and he ended up having a tent in his briefs. He took a sharp breath to control his urges.

Aurora frowned when she heard his sharp intake of breathing. She fluttered her eyes open only to find him looking at the ceiling with eyes squeezed shut.

Is he alright?

She pretended to close her eyes a little when she watched him open his eyes. His hand went under the quilt and he adjusted his reaction with a hiss!

Aurora's heart thumped wildly. Is he horny? Oh my god!

She heard him curse under his breath and just to torture him more she hugged him even more tightly.

Liam gritted his jaw when his body reacted violently to her closeness. He wanted to turn her around and fuck her hard and fast, just the way he wanted but couldn't, not without her permission. He was a monster but he was not that kind of monster. Not for Aurora at least, he was not.

So he tolerated her innocent gestures and showed his magnificent tolerance. Aurora couldn't help but feel pity for him.

He made me realize the truth about my body, helped me regain confidence in my body, the least I could do was give him a handjob to release his torture.

Thinking that she moved her hand from his chest to his proud manhood to ease the discomfort of his body. But when she was about to touch it, Liam's hand grabbed her hand and stopped her movement.

She opened her eyes and looked at him confusingly, "What are you doing?" He asked.

Aurora swallowed. "Trying to help you. I know you want a release, Liam. I can help..."

"No!" He said sharply, stopping her before she could finish the sentence. "I do not want you to do something you are not comfortable about, this is my problem, my body is reacting to your closeness, I will handle it. You don't have to worry about it. Now close your eyes and sleep," saying that he pulled her hand to his chest where his heart was and kissed her head, gently before closing his eyes.

Aurora closed her eyes but sleep was far away from them. She opened them back when felt him breathing rhythmically. Her heart was beating an uneven rhythm, the words he just said to her made her fall in love with him all over again.

She knew then that she was ready for whatever intimacy he wanted. A small smile appeared on her lips imagining his face when she would tell him that she was ready to move on in their relationship.

Every day she spent with Liam, a new face of his appeared in front of her eyes. She had seen his anger, his care, his sweetness and most of all his friendship. Sometimes she thinks how can a person be this beautiful in and out. Aurora sighed and moved closer to his body. "Tomorrow will be our special night, Mr Knight. I promise to tease you a lot before giving you the best night of your life," she whispered before closing her eyes because she needed that beauty sleep.

Liam heard everything she whispered and chuckled inwardly. Everything Liam does has a motive behind it. Aurora was an emotional fool and he used her emotions to take what he wanted from her. She would submit her body to him tomorrow but he wouldn't stop just there, no, Liam was going to own her soul, soon and she would submit it to him just like she submitted her body. On the bloody silver platter, willingly.

Meanwhile, Susan didn't know what to feel when Ralph kept holding her in his arms. He was drunk when he came to her house and asked her to get out of her clothes, just like that, there was no foreplay, no warning and he entered inside without caring about her being ready. Today, he was taking her frustration out on her, Susan could feel that she was being used by him in her own home.

Tears of frustration perked in her eyes, she didn't know why she was letting him treat her like this. Susan Kelly would never let anyone treat her in this degrading manner the way she was letting him do, her mind was playing tricks on her and she didn't know how to handle it.

After watching her father marry countless times and her mother dying alone in hope that one day he would ask her to come back in his life made her miserable. Susan watched her mother crying every night. When Susan questioned her father about this he slapped her, telling Susan to not interfere in his life.

Susan had lived her childhood in an environment she wanted to run away from. Her mother was never happy except for the time she spent with her but even then she used to hide her pain, she tried to be brave for Susan but that was not in her character. Susan's mother was a weak woman and Susan still couldn't forgive her for that. She cried and wasted her life for a man who was not worthy of her love or attention. That was the only reason she made sure that she would never be like her mother.

Unlike her mother, Susan was practical and bold. She thinks about sex as it was, a physical need not some stupid romantic theory like the joining of two souls and she was proud of her way of thinking but for the first time in her life, Susan was hating herself for behaving like her mother.

Her mother let her father use her, physically, mentally and emotionally. Even when he was married to her third wife he used to visit their home saying he came to meet Susan but he never cared about her, he used to hand her a few toys and then her parents went to her mother's bedroom. Susan's ten-year-old mind was not mature enough to understand what was going on behind closed doors but when she grew up she understood everything too well.

The hatred she felt for her father increased after that.

She promised herself that she would never let any man use her like that but today she broke that promise to herself.

She let Ralph Knight use her, he didn't give anything, today, only took and she allowed it to happen and what hurts the most is that after using her body he scooped her in his arms, took her to her bed and held her in his arms only to sleep without a word spoken to her.

Susan asked herself, what was she hoping for, a declaration of love? If she would have been the old Susan she would have ceased her thighs the moment the word Love entered her mind but she changed. Susan Kelly was changed the moment she allowed Ralph Knight to take her and today she wanted exactly what she always hated.

His love, yes Susan wanted Ralph to say that he loves her. she didn't need sex only, she didn't want to be in a Dom-Sub relationship with him, she wanted what her friends have.

A girlfriend-boyfriend relationship. She gave a lecture to Aurora about testing the water before swimming into it and here she had fallen for a man whom she knew only for a week.

"You are doomed, Susan. You are doomed to fall for a man like him," she whispered as she closed her eyes and waited for the morning.

Ralph opened his eyes sometimes at night. He frowned when he felt a warm body attached to him. He turned his head and found Susan in his arms. Her face was in his neck while their legs were tangled together.

He scowled thinking, when did he come here? Suddenly, the memories of the previous night ran through his memory as he recalled mercilessly he used her body. The images of her opening the door for her and him taking her against the wall snapped into his mind.

He recalled how he didn't even give her the time to adjust to himself and fucked her raw! Blood drained from his face, his body wanted to jerk away from her, self-loathing filled his mind. He facepalmed himself over what he did.

He tried to create a little distance between them but she moved closer to him and money in sleep. Ralph ceased all his movement and remained in that position so that her sleep would not be disturbed while the pain and guilt over these actions were eating him raw.

The whole night, Ralph was staring at the ceiling of her room thinking how similar he was to his father. The man hated his whole life over what he did to Ralph's mother.

In the morning, he didn't know how to behave with Susan, she was silent so was he, there was nothing they could talk about, he wanted to talk to her, apologise for what he did but he didn't know how to do it.

Susan wanted to break the ice between them, she pushed her hair behind her ear and cleared her throat. "Do you want breakfast?"

"Did I hurt you, last night? Was I too rough for you?" He asked.

Susan's heart dropped. What if she said yes to his Questions, what would he do then? Punish himself? She needed to know because she knew she couldn't be his stress beating toy.

"Yes, you did! I don't want you to be this rough with me, again!" There she started her boundaries.

Ralph nodded. "I am freeing you from this relationship," saying that he walked out of her bedroom leaving a heartbroken Susan behind him.

His Purchased Wife Chapter 109

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

"You look beautiful, Em!" Aurora whispered to her friend who smiled happily. Emily's life turned into a fairy tale romance and now she was having a fairytale wedding.

"Xandrio gifted me this, last night." She said, showing her pearl bowtie pendant studded with diamonds to Aurora.

"It's as beautiful as you are," Aurora hugged Emily tightly. She was happy for her but her thoughts kept wondering how Liam would react when she told him that she was ready to take the next step into their relationship.

"Aurora, I know it sounds mean but I don't feel comfortable in Alexandria's brother's presence. It's weird!"

Her chain of thoughts broke and she nodded at her friend. "You can't change his family, Em! Chill, and enjoy."

She nodded, "Where is Susan?" Emily asked knowing that she would be able to understand her situation better than Aurora.

Her name was enough to make Aurora sad. She craved talking to Susan but couldn't. "Don't you know? Is she alright, Emily?"

Emily sighed. "Aurora, please talk to her. I know what she did was wrong but she did it for you, I have told you many times and I am telling you again, Susan loves you."

Aurora nodded. "I know and I love her too but she needs to understand that I am capable enough to fight my own battles, Emily," she sighed, patting her hand, "leave all this, today is not the day to talk about these things but can you do me a favour?"

Emily nodded. "Whatever you say."

"Call Susan and ask where she is? Please."

Emily shook her head. "I can't believe I have stuck between you two stupid heads," she mumbled while pulling the cell phone from her handbag and dialling Susan. "You both need a medical check-up for behaving like fools," she mumbled and waited for Susan to accept her call.

"Not accepting," Emily informed but she smiled when she saw Susan walking towards them. Aurora glanced at her face and concern grabbed her heart. "Em, she doesn't look fine to me, ask her about it."

"Why don't you do it, yourself?"

"Please Em!" Aurora pouted.

Emily rolled her eyes before agreeing. She would have asked her on her own because she too could see there was something different about Susan today and that too in a negative way.

"Alright," Aurora smiled. "I am going to meet your parents, they look a little lost here."

"Don't ask, Mum and dad didn't know what to do in this society. They love their farm life, I tried to make them feel comfortable, even Xandro tried to do the same but they don't know what to do. I do not like my parents feeling like this in my marriage."

Aurora smiled. "Let me handle it. I know how to make them feel comfortable."

"Thanks."

"Em, take care of Susan, please," she said before walking away from there to Emily's parents who were sitting in a corner alone, watching people around them.

"Susan, you look different, is everything alright with you?" Emily asked genuinely worried about her friend.

Susan smiled. "Yes, I was trapped in a nightmare for a while but now I am free again."

Emily he newest content, everyone! take care of you. She loves you, trust me."

"I know, Em. I know she is worried about me but pretending that she to read the newest content, everyone! since kindergarten. Don't worry about it. We both love you but today is not the day to talk about my and Aurora's problems. It's your day and I want you to enjoy it to the fullest, Emily."

"Thank you for all your support. I need it today," She smiled gratuitously.

"Why what happened?" She asked, thinking something was troubling her.

"He is here with some giant looking men from Russia. I don't know how to hold myself, he is scary."

"Who?"

Emily rolled her eyes, "who else, to read the newest content, everyone! pay attention to him and focus on yourself, go to Alexandrio. He is looking at you and I am going to say hello to your parents. I know they don't like the city people too much."

Emily was glad to have such nice friends. She went to her would-be husband and stood beside him.

Liam forced a smile on his face when Alexandrio asked him to stand next to Dmitry as he was one of his best men.

But Liam did it for him, that to read the newest content, everyone! friend.

Whatever he had planned for him was something he didn't want to think about, at least for now. "Can you both smile a little tomorrow, I don't want this expression on your faces tomorrow, and surely not in my wedding photographs."

Dmitry arched his brow. "Are you not being too demanding, now? I accept to stand with this filthy creature here for you and now you want me to smile, while I tolerate his fifty presence."

Liam chuckled. "I don't have any problem with to read the newest content, everyone! thing I could do for you, my friend. You always have been loyal to me even though your loyalty lies with someone else."

Dmitry's nose flared, the black orbs of his eyes dominated his eyes. The Pakhan of the Russian mafia was angry over the remark. "Loyalty is a big word, Knight, don't confuse it with friendship."

Alexandrio sensed that this war of words could end up with guns pointed at their heads so he intervened. "Can you both behave civilised for two days? to read the newest content, everyone! his gaze to his brother. "I am a man who believes in Barbarian entices, Alex and I am trying to be civilised for you because we are blood brothers. So tell your friend not to provoke me."

"What will you do, if I provoke you, don't forget it's my territory, Pakhan."

At that Dmitry let out a throaty chuckle. "I don't care if you want to know why?" His eyes sparked with a twisted excitement, "because territory belongs to dogs and I am a lion. I know how to kill dogs."

Liam's eyes turned dark. His hand twitched but Alexandrio shook his head. Liam took a step forward and got into Dmitry's face. "You got it all wrong, barbarian. The man standing in front of you is not a dog, na! This man is a monster! A big bad monster. One more thing you got wrong, you can stand in my territory because I allowed it to happen for my friend."

Dmitry's lip curled upward but before he could say anything his eyes watched a beautiful blonde moving towards them. Aurora Kings, he recognised when she came a little closer. The same girl Liam is possessive about. "I would have answered this question but your girl is coming here. Ethan King's daughter isn't she? The Mexicans, the masked man, a lot of enemies you have, Knight!" He taunted.

Liam's eyes darkened to a dangerous depth understanding where he was pointing at. "Liam knight knows how to castrate his enemies, Kyschov. I won't mind making a few new enemies or the presence of old ones..."

Dmitry nodded. "Same goes for me, Knight!"

Alexandrio gave up on both of them. He stood there hearing both of them warning each other. That they have not pulled out their weapons yet, shows how important he was to both of them. Dmitry was blood, his brother, he loved him but Liam was not less than a brother to him.

"Liam I want you to meet someone, will you please come with me, baby," Aurora said with a shy smile.

"Aurora Kings, if I am not wrong!" Dmitry said before Liam could speak. She turned her head to look at him. "Yes, and you are?"

"He is no one!" Liam snapped, grabbed her hand and walked away but not before warning him with his eyes. Stay away from her, the message was clear.

Dmitry mocked him with a salute with his two fingers, a mocking smile playing on his lips. "She is hot."

"His girlfriend, out of your league!" Alexandrio pointed out a little sharply for his brother's liking.

"Nah! I am over blondes nowadays, I am more into brunettes with long silky black hair."

Alexandrio shook his eyes and went to his fiancée, who he left alone because of the two hot-headed men.

"Liam, you are hurting me!" She said as his grip on her hand was biting it painfully. He was walking so fast that her heels were cutting her ankles. "Liam, please slow down, I can't walk this fast with my heels."

Liam stopped into the empty hall and pushed her against the wall. "Don't interrupt me again if I am talking to some unknown man to you. I don't want any harm to come your way, do you understand me?" He almost shouted, making Aurora gasp in panic.

His eyes lost the usual calmness and in its place, there was something dark and violent present there. She touched his cheek with a shaking hand. "Liam, what happened, baby? Is something wrong?" She asked in a soft voice as if she was talking to a child and that irked Liam even more but the look of care and love in her eyes stopped him from saying something harsh.

"Who can harm me when my strong man is standing beside me and let's be real, why would anyone want to harm me?" She said with a laugh as if his words didn't make any sense to her.

Liam pulled her closer to him. "You don't know how precious you are to me, Aurora. I can kill the whole world to protect you."

She bit her lower lip and looked down too shy to meet his eyes. "I know but you didn't tell me who that man was and why did you get so angry?"

"He is an old rival of mine, I don't like him but he is Alexandrio's brother so I have to bear his presence for my friend."

Then it hit her, "oh! so he was Dmitry." She said and hearing his name from Aurora's mouth made him angry.

"How do you know him?" He demanded. Thousands of scenarios erupted in his mind.

"Emily told me she didn't like him and is kind of nervous around him."

Liam nodded. "Do you want to stay?"

Aurora glanced at the time on her wristwatch. It was close to nine, she had plans for tonight. "No, I think it would be better if we leave for home but let me say goodbye to Emily first."

"Yes, I need to do the same, Alexandrio would not like me leaving before saying goodbye to him first," he said and they both went back to the venue to say their goodbyes.

"But why are you leaving so early?" Emily pouted.

Aurora hugged her. "Because I am hoping for a big night, Em! I have some plans..." she told her friend and the thought tinted her cheek red. Emily's eyes widened, "oh my God! You want to..." she wants to shriek but Aurora puts her hand on Emily's lips.

"Don't be mad!"

Emily calmed. "Okay, I got excited for a minute, you know what? Get out from here and I want details, Aurora Kings," then going near to her ear she whispered, "will you be able to walk tomorrow? Don't forget you are my maid of honour!"

Aurora's mouth hung open. "Ha! You shameless woman. Don't worry I won't ruin your wedding by my walk."

They both laughed at that and Aurora kissed Emily. "I am so happy for you," then her eyes went to Susan who was with Emily's parents. "Tell her that too, I don't want her to feel left out."

Emily sighed. "Aurora, think about stopping this cold war between you two. It only hurts you both. I would be gone for a month after the wedding. How will you both manage without me?"

Aurora looked down, fidgeting her fingers at the question. "I don't know, maybe we will communicate professionally, you are taking a break from The Belle but I can't. You know the contract still binds me for two more weeks."

Emily felt guilty, "I told Xandro the same but he said that I could join after the honeymoon, and gave me off from The Belle using his power boss power."

Aurora laughed. "He did the right thing. Now, I have to go, take care of yourself and Susie too."

Aurora smiled imagining how Liam blackmailed her to stay in the Belle using the contract and today because of the same contract she had fallen madly in love with him.

"I will make this night unforgettable for us both, Liam."

His Purchased Wife Chapter 110

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

Aurora looked at herself in the mirror for the last time. She was wearing a white nightie with lace lingerie inside it. She was excited and nervous at the same time.

"You can do it, Aurora," she said, taking a long breath to calm her racing heart. She twisted her lips inside in apprehension and walked outside the closet.

Liam was taking a shower and she decided to light the scented candles she ordered from the best candle store in Vancouver. The soft vanilla fragrance filled the air of the room. She did everything to make the night memorable for them. She never felt this sure in her life.

Liam was smiling confidently ear to ear, tonight he would make her his. He had waited for a long time for this day. The things he did to make her, his, could not be defined in words. He recalled their journey, from the day his father showed him her photograph and her insulting words to him to this day when she was decorating the room to surprise him.

He chuckled. "Oh little one, this monster became a Saint for you, for this day."

He tied the towel around his waist and walked out of the bathroom. He needed to pretend that he was surprised seeing her efforts so he put on a white T-shirt and black trousers and went to his bedroom and a light Vanilla fragrance hit his nose.

But the problem was that Aurora was nowhere to be seen in the room. He frowned. "where is she?" He mumbled moving forward in the room.

"Aurora," he called her name but she was nowhere in the room. The room was perfectly lit with scented candles.

The monster inside him roared in anger. He was infuriated with her absence and the first thought that came to his mind was, is she trying to tease me?

That Vixen!

"Aurora!" He called one more time and again he was greeted by nothing but silence. He fisted his hand tightly and checked the door of his room. It was locked, it means she was inside the room but hiding somewhere and he needed to find her.

His mood soured, she was behaving like a child. Were they children playing hide and seek?

He was about to turn around but two hands hugged him from behind. For a moment, he forgot to breathe and his heart skipped a beat. "Little one?"

Aurora smiled on his back and placed a soft kiss between his shoulder blades. Her hands feel his muscles under the softness of his T-shirt.

The smile returned on Liam's face. He recalled that he needed to pretend he was surprised seeing all this decoration but the truth was he was impressed not surprised. He was never a fan of all the cheesy things but seeing her doing all this, Liam was touched by her thoughts. She was doing all this to make the night feel special for them.

"What is all this, little one?" He asked, putting a note of surprise in his tone.

Aurora bit her lower lip shyly and loosened her grip a little. Liam turned around and held her in his arms. She was fidgeting her toes, her head held down in shyness.

Liam held her chin and raised her eyes to meet his gaze. "Answer me little one."

She swallowed the nervous lump before speaking. "I am ready for you."

Liam was genuinely shocked hearing her say the actual words to him. "Aurora, are you sure? I don't want you to do anything you are not comfortable about?"

She nodded. "I know and I love you for this but I want to be yours tonight, Liam. I want to give you everything I possess, my heart, my body and the newest content, everyone! her. Those were the exact words he said to himself, he promised to own her, mind, body and soul but she was to read the newest content, everyone! needed.

She was giving him her heart!

Aurora stood on her toes and placed her lips on his, touching his face with one hand while with the other she was holding his shoulder.

He had kissed her before but today the kiss felt different. It was a completely new experience for him. He had sex with the world's most beautiful and sensual women but never did he experience this delight with a mere kiss.

"I want us to remember this night till the end of our to read the newest content, everyone! memory for a lifetime."

Liam didn't know what to say, he was numb more by her words than her actions but he reminded himself not to get affected by her stupid words. She was his job, only a means to an end and the end was his dream of ruling over the Canadian mafia but she was confusing him with her words. He needed to make her stop talking further, he needed to focus on his goal.

Marriage and an heir. That's what he needed to read the newest content, everyone! start of achieving his goal.

He placed a feather-soft kiss on her forehead and scooped her in his arms. Aurora encircled her arms around his neck, smiling at him. Her cheek turned crimson when he plopped her on the bed. "I have waited so long for this day, little one. You have no idea how happy you made me tonight."

Aurora just staring into his eyes, love and respect for him were shining in them. A wave of goosebumps raised on her body when to read the newest content, everyone! shoulder making Aurora tilt her head to one side. She felt ticklish all over her body when his hand went to her throat. "Liam!" She whispered.

Liam turned her head to him and kissed her chin. "You are beautiful, Little one."

Aurora closed her eyes, the sensations in her body were too much for her to bear.

Liam was tracing his hand over her bosom and gave it a little squeeze, he was rewarded by a soft moan from Aurora. He wanted to read the newest content, everyone! her. The silk nightie was making her look even more beautiful but right now he wanted her out of that nightie.

So he dropped the straps of the nightie down and kissed her collarbone, Aurora's eyes were still closed but she grabbed his hand for support. "Liam!"

He loved the sound of his name from her mouth. He rolled both the straps down, her lace white bra was the only thing hiding her modesty from his eyes now.

Liam kissed the bra clad nipples to read the newest content, everyone! her breasts and travelled south on her body leaving a trail of kisses on it.

Aurora squirmed under his touch, she was experiencing new heights of ecstasy with every move on her body. Liam opened her bra with a single finger and freed her soft mounds, placing a kiss on her naked chest now. Aurora touched the hem of his T-shirt shyly asking him to get out of it.

He needed not be asked twice, Liam took off his clothes and now was completely naked. Aurora squeezed her legs together as she felt a beating there in her most intimate part.

He took one breast in his mouth and teased it with the tip of his tongue.

Aurora held his head for support and left a moan when he travelled south, rolling the nightie down to her waist. Aurora was naked now wearing only lace underwear, the silk nightie was rolled like a waiting band and Liam rolled it down her legs.

"You are beautiful, little one." He said tracing her hipbone with his index finger and when he travelled to her most intimate part with his finger Aurora crossed her legs for a moment.

Liam raised his head. "Do you want me to stop, Aurora?" He asked, Aurora shook his head.

"No," she whispered and slowly opened her legs. Liam teased her with his finger making Aurora purr like a cat under the expertise of his hand.

He entered his finger inside her, she was already wet but Liam wanted more. He pushed her a little on the bed softly, grabbed her leg and left a trail of kisses on it. Once he reached her thighs he created little space between her legs and kissed her inner thighs.

Aurora gasped. She has lost all her senses and only feels sensations all over her body. She cried in ecstasy when she felt Liam's tongue there. This was too much for her to take in. She tried to push his head but Liam held both her hands and moved them away from him.

Aurora's eyes dilated. She was nothing but a bundle of nerves now. Her breathing turned short, she went to another world of pure bliss.

"You taste perfect, Little one," he mumbled at that sense spark of electricity throughout her body with the vibrations it creates inside her.

Her stomach tightened and little stars appeared in her vision and then she felt a release so hard that everything turned black for a moment.

Liam chuckled hearing her cry when she came he drank every single drop of her orgasm and kissed her there before moving on to her.

Her eyes were closed, Liam touched her face, "open your eyes little one, the moment you wanted to make memories is here."

Aurora opened her eyes and Liam cursed himself in the mind. He could see the look of pure love in them. "Make me yours, Liam," she whispered with tears shining in her blue orbs. "I want to be yours in every way possible."

Liam didn't know why he did that but he kissed her on the chest where her heart was. Aurora giggled at the gesture. "You didn't only touch my heart but my soul, Liam. You are everywhere inside me."

Liam didn't want to hear all this. He wanted to fuck her and that's it! He reminded himself and with determination to not get affected by her stupid emotions he raised his eyes from her chest and met her gaze. "It will be painful. Are you sure?"

"I am," she told him with a smile.

Liam nodded and separated her legs, settled between them and entered slowly. Aurora squeezed her eyes shut, it felt as if someone was cutting her from inside. "Liam it hurts."

"It will be fine, little one. You are brave," he whispered and stopped his movement for a moment when her face calmed, he pulled out of her.

After a moment he again entered inside, slowly moving forward. Aurora left a sob, this time in pain rather than pleasure. "Liam, please stop for a moment, it hurts..."

Liam gritted his jaw, he was fully erect but he knew how painful it was for her and he wanted to make her first experience beautiful for her. "We can stop if you want, little one, you don't have to..."

"No, I want it but it's painful like this," she gulped before looking into his eyes. "Liam, can you enter with one stroke? It would be easy on both of us."

Liam shook his head. "It will be far more painful than this, Aurora."

"I don't care, I want to feel you inside me. Please."

Liam sharpened his eyes. He told himself not to be affected by her pain or tears. He lived to give pain and tears to others then why would she be any exception.

But his mind screamed that she was not only an exception but special too. He hated that thought and told himself that he didn't care, he was fighting a war with himself. At one he wanted to treat her like a princess and on the other hand, he wanted to use her like he always dreamed of doing.

Before his soft thought could influence him anymore he overpowered them with his darkness and entered inside with one strong stroke.

Aurora cried in intolerable pain when he did that, her nails dug into his shoulder cutting his skin. "Liam..." she sobbed turning her head to one side, trying to get away from him but Liam placed his head on hers working her tears with his thumb.

The tightness of her walls around his Ck was making it hard for him to resist her anymore but her tears made him stop. "The pain will pass, little one. Take all the time you want, I won't move till you get used to me."

Aurora looked into his eyes. Blue orbs meeting black one, she served herself to smile. Her muscles flexed around him, the pain turned into a dull ache, it was tolerable now. "You can move now, Liam."

Liam nodded and kissed her lips sensually before pulling out of her. He entered again, slowly, not to hurt her while he was kissing her collarbone with his one hand he was shaping her breast. Removed his head from her collarbone to her blossom and took a nipple into his mouth, teasing it with his tongue.

Aurora forgot all about the pain, she was once again enjoying his sweet torture to her body. Her hands were roaming on his powerful back. She lost all her connections to the earth and the only thing which held her on the planet was her hold on his back.

Aurora cried in pleasure once again when she felt her stomach tighten once again, succeeded by an orgasm so strong that took her breath away.

Liam rolled away from her and pulled her in his arms. "Are you alright?" He asked looking at her. She turned into his arms and placed her head on his chest. He kissed her head went to the bathroom and came back with a wet warm cloth to clean her up.

Once settled beside her again, Aurora gazed at him. "I love you, don't ever leave me."

Liam sharpened his eyes. He knew then that she was ready for his question. He just needed to use the right method for her to say yes.

His Purchased Wife Chapter 111

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

Emily Smith, Do you take Alexandrio Kyschov, as your loyally wedded husband?"

"I do."

There was applause from the people gathered to witness the joyful wedding ceremony of Emily and Alexandrio. Aurora was smiling ear to ear watching the ceremony for a moment she imagined herself and Liam taking the sacred wedding vows.

Liam's eyes went to Aurora's happy face. Now, he was even more determined to propose to her today. The seductive wedding atmosphere was a plus point on his plan. Today, she would say yes to him.

Susan's eyes drifted to Ralph for a nanosecond. He was looking at the bride and groom with an unreadable expression on his face. Susan looked away from him. He was no one in her life anymore. She was right when she told Emily that she was lost for a moment but she found herself again, this love and relationship was not for her.

She was happy in her one-night stand lifestyle, there won't be heartbreaks or pain anymore. She reminded herself of the promise she made to herself that she would not let her mother's fate rub in into hers.

Ralph Knight watched his brother Liam standing beside Dmitry Kyschov, one of his biggest rivals. He was lost for words when he saw him standing behind Alexandrio as his best man after what he planned for him to achieve his goal.

Ralph looked down, he couldn't see the happy face of Alexandrio when he knew that everything could change after a month. Liam was not going to wait a single day more after Alexandria's honeymoon period is over.

"Do you, Alexandrio Kyschov, take Emily Smith, as your loving wedded wife?" The priest asked.

"I do." Once again the hall erupted with loud clapping. Emily whispered 'I love you' to Alexandrio with teary eyes.

He mumbled the same back to hers. Both seize the moment in their hearts and minds. Their smiles could make the moon jealous today.

"Because they have pledged themselves to each other in the presence of God and the witnesses, I now pronounce them as husband and wife," the priest announced. A trail of happy tears strolled down Emily's face.

"You may kiss the bride..." the priest said and Alexandrio stepped forward and placed his lips on hers for a soft kiss. "I love you, wife." He mumbled after the kiss.

"I love you too, husband," she replied, hugging him. After a moment they walked as husband and wife while people showered them with wishes and warm words for their future.

Dmitry moved to his brother, "I am happy for you, brother."

Emily hid a little behind Alexandrio, hardly maintaining the smile on her face. Alexandrio hugged his brother. If he would not have allowed him to live his life the way he wanted he would never have met Emily. He was forever grateful for this to Dmitry.

"Thank you for always being there for me." Dmitry nodded. Public display of emotions was not his forte. He felt a vibration in his pocket and excuse himself from them.

"Are you still not comfortable around him?" Alexandrio asked his newly wedded bride.

Emily sighed. "I don't know him, his aura holds this darkness, I can't define it but I find it difficult to be myself in his presence."

He chuckled. "I am thinking about the dance you have to do with him after four first dances."

"Oh no!"

“Oh yes!”

Emily hides in his arms. “I guess you can’t keep your hands to yourself anymore.”

Emily Liam’s teasing voice.

“I wish you both a happy wedding life.”

Ralph who was standing behind his brother chuckled at that. “I wish you the jab in his brother’s voice. But he didn’t let his emotions show on his face. “I would love to see you be the next standing at the aisle, Liam.”

“I wish the same.”

“You mean, you proposed to Aurora?” Emily asked, but Liam shook his head. “I did once but she declined but I think, this time, she would say yes.”

Emily smiled when she saw Aurora and Susan coming to her, “I am so happy for you Em, I couldn’t stop crying happy , everyone! do, I can’t believe how time passed so quickly, it was just a few years ago we met and today you are married.”

Aurora hugged Emily and Susan joined them. Aurora allowed Susan to touch her, she wanted to feel her arms around her. She missed her best friend. “Okay now stop making me emotional, girls.”

They kissed their dear friend with worlds of happiness and love ahead. “If you both allow, may I dance with my bride?”

Aurora laughed at that and pushed Emily newest content, everyone! me warn you, if you ever hurt my Em, I will kill you with my bare hands.”

Susan laughed at that, “you can’t kill a fly, Aurora let alone a man...” she said but stopped and looked away from her. Her eyes once again went to Ralph who was talking to a girl. Their eyes met for a moment and he looked away as if she was no one to him.

Aurora wanted to speak and hug her but couldn’t. She was not ready to read the newest content, everyone! her throat and stood beside Liam and watched Emily dancing with Alexandrio.

Susan went to Emily’s parents again to give them the company, poor souls were still feeling secluded even after last night.

Liam looked at Aurora in question. “What happened little one? ” he asked.

“They look beautiful together,” she whispered, resting her head on his chest.

“It can be us next, doing our first dance as husband and wife, you just have to say yes.”

Aurora chuckled. "The offer is nice but I won't be doing my first dance like this?"

At that Liam raised his brow, "And why not? Do you want to do something else at our wedding?" He asked, imagining her wanting a circus-themed wedding. Liam jerked in his seat, he was not to dress up like a clown, for hell's sake.

Aurora giggled. "Don't be so stiff. You see, I have had this fantasy forever.

I don't want to dance in front of hundreds of people. No, I want to dance for my husband in our room, to my favourite music. Not caring about steps or anything. That moment would be for us only. Here, it is just a show, but there I would be the happy bride.

Liam sighed in relief. Although he had a different kind of dance in mind on his wedding night. He went closer to her ear and whispered in a seductive tone. "Is this your way of saying yes to my proposal, little one? Are you finally ready to wear my ring?"

Aurora smiled. "No, I am not."

His eyes dropped dark. "Do you want more time?" He couldn't hide the anger in his voice. He wanted this facade to be over as soon as possible.

Aurora heard that angry tone in his voice and her heart melted. Poor man! She thought.

"I didn't say that either but I didn't accept your proposal either."

Liam frowned at her words, not getting the meaning behind her riddles. "You see Liam, I always wanted to marry for love, just like my mom did. Even though they only had a few years of life together, they were happy. My mother was in love with dad and my dad, he still loves her and you know when I fell in love with you, I got to know what true love feels like. I can share my dreams with you knowing very well that you won't mock me."

"What dreams are you talking about, little one. Are there any more fantasies I should know?"

Aurora nodded like a child. "There are."

"Tell me."

Her cheeks turned cherry red while sharing one of the wildest fantasies he had. She twisted her lips inside to gain courage before sharing the scandalous fantasy. "I read about this sex position in one of the gossip magazines once and since then I was attracted to it. On our wedding night, I want to be on top of you."

Liam only stared at her. He was left stunned. He never let any of his sexual partners take lead in bed. He was always the dominant one and this girl was telling him that she wanted to dominate him in the bed that too on their wedding night!

“What happened, you seemed shocked?”

Of course, he was shocked, she only seemed innocent. “Are there more of these fantasies, little one, other than these two?”

Aurora hid her face in his chest shyly. “That you will know after marriage only. I would rather show you than tell.”

Liam nodded. “So when is that going to happen? You, showing me your fantasies as my wife.”

Aurora inhaled sharply, before whispering the words to him. “As soon as you propose to me but this time I want you to do something special for me, unlike last time.”

Saying that she placed a soft kiss in the crook of his neck, teasing him with her tongue. Liam’s heart raced with her little gestures. She proved to be one hell of a deal to him.

Susan watched Aurora cuddling happily with Liam from far away. Emily is happily married to Alexandrio and Aurora has Liam now, a man who loves her just as she does, a man who was right for her. She was happy for both her friends but somewhere she felt alone. There was a longing in her heart, which couldn’t be defined in words.

She snatched the glass of liquor from the passing server and gulped it in one go. She missed them being together, their moments, it seems that everyone moved on in life and she was the only one left alone with nothing but memories in her hand. She wiped the tears that rolled down her cheek and chuckled at her fate.

First, her mother left her alone, then her godmother. She thought she had a family in Aurora but she also left her because she cared for her and now the only man she ever felt something for left her because she told him the truth about not liking his dominating behaviour.

Ralph eyed Susan from afar, he gritted his jaw when he saw her gulping the tenth glass of liquor. He couldn’t watch when she picked the eleventh glass, he sprinted to her and snatched the glass out of her hand. “You have had enough liquor for one day.”

Susan snatched her glass back. “Who are you to preach to me? I don’t need your advice, so fuck off!”

Ralph’s gaze grew dark. “Do I need to tell you who I am?” He asked in the same dark tone which used to erupt goosebumps on her body but now, she refuses her body to react to his voice in that manner anymore. “As I said, fuck off!”

Ralph grabbed her hand and walked outside the venue, pushed her against the wall and went into her face." talk to me like that again and I will spank the daylight out of you."

That was the last thing Susan wanted to hear. She pushed him away with all her strength and slapped him hard across the cheek. "Who the hell do you think you are? Who gave you the right to talk to me in this manner? You started this little adventure with me. I allowed it, obviously, I had my reasons but then you crossed all the limits and used my body as if I was your sex slave who didn't have any right to say no to your demands and when I told you j didn't like I'm what you did you broke our arrangement. I am not a whore whom you are paying to fix your filthy kicks."

Ralph was astounded. He couldn't even speak a word to her. "Stay away from me or so help me, God. I will call the police on you, you sick bastard."

Susan got into one of the taxis and left from there leaving a stunned Ralph behind.

His Purchased Wife Chapter 112

/ His Purchased Wife by Elk Entertainment

When Emily danced with Dmitry her heart was beating so fast that she heard it would jump out of her body. He had this sardonic expression on his face that she was scared of being in his personal space. "I know you are not comfortable around me but there is no need to be scared of me, I will not harm you, Emily. You are part of my family now."

Emily gulped the heaviness and nodded. "May I ask you something?" She couldn't help but ask.

Dmitry nodded. "You may."

Alexandrio asked me not to speak about it but I couldn't hide my curiosity about it anymore. "How did you end up with this mark on your face?"

Dmitry chuckled when he recalled the incident. But he couldn't tell her the reality of the incident. Not until his brother shared the truth about their identities with his wife. So he told her the thing he told everyone who isn't aware of his real identity.

"As I have already told you before, I was in the army, it happens during one of the training sessions. If this mark was the reason for you being scared of me you could have asked me about it before."

Emily squeezed his hand, "I apologise for my behaviour. I have always seen you with these six giants behind you. I know you are a big businessman but I never saw anyone like this, my friend is from a big business family too, Alexandrio is your brother even though he has never been with these giant looking guards like you. I mean you don't even need any of these bodyguards when you look like this."

Dmitry chuckled. "I am beyond their reach, Emily. They all are big businessmen but I am the biggest among them. You know thaw saying the biggest fish in the pond, just replace it with ocean and fish with a sea monster. Leave it, I have to do all this for my safety, one day you will understand it. I hope we don't have the ice between us anymore. Keep my brother happy," he said when the song ended.

"Wait, you are saying that as if you are leaving?"

"Because I am, this city's air is unhealthy for my lungs. I have to go. I know you have been praying for it since I arrived here."

If only the floor could swallow her. "I already apologised to you for my behaviour."

Dmitry laughed and eyed his brother who was walking up to them with a scowl on his face. "You did, but I have to return to my kingdom now. One more thing, he placed a rolled paper which had a red ribbon tied on it in her hand," I hope you like my wedding present for you."

Alexandrio rested his hand on Emily's waist and smiled at his brother "don't tell me you are leaving already?"

"I am, stay safe, Alex," Dmitry said with a warning in his tone. The warning was not for him but the people around him. Alexandrio knew his brother was a caged monster. He had demons under his ice-cold mask, and if he ever allowed the monster in him to lose, things would turn ugly.

Dmitry Kyschov was not a human, he was a demon wearing human skin!

Alexandrio watched his brother leaving. He sighed, leaving a shaky breath. Emily looked at the rolled paper in her hand. "Do you know what it is?" She asked her husband who nodded.

"Yes, but you can't open it yet, let's go and change. We have to go on our honeymoon."

Emily smiled shyly and they both took their leave from the reception as per traditions. Once they reached their new home, Alexandrio asked Emily to dress up because he was taking her to dinner.

Emily frowned at his odd words. It was their wedding night, for God sake! "Xandrio, we came back from our reception feast, why would we go out for dinner, it's our wedding night."

Alexandrio placed a soft kiss on her head. "I have planned something for you. Please change into something formal. We are going to a black-tie restaurant."

Emily pinched her lips together in irritation while walking inside the closet. "What wedding night I got. Other brides are fidgety over their husband taking off the wedding gown and my husband wants me nighties in her closet with longing and put on a formal powder pink suit with a stiff face. She didn't want to she decided to keep quiet but tomorrow she was going to raise this issue to him. Everyone marries once for goodness sake! It was a lifetime memory but he ruined it for her.

Alexandrios heard her mumbling but he couldn't say anything to her. He wanted nothing else than to devour himself into her arms but couldn't, not till he gave her what she deserved and she deserves the wound to be healed. Today, he was going to put on the balm over Alexandrion was going to give her the long-awaited revenge.

Emily walked out of the closet and smiled stiffly. "Is this formal enough, husband?" She couldn't hide her sarcastic tone while asking the question.

"Better than enough, wife. Now, let's wait anymore," Alexandrio said, putting her hair behind her ear and tracing his forefinger along with her ear. The small gesture gave her goosebumps all over her body. She curled her toes in excitement.

"Xandrio..." she whispered but he shook his head. "Let's go," Alexandrio said, the house.

Emily had never visited this hotel but the name sounds familiar to her. "I don't know but I don't feel good eating here."

Alexandrio kissed her head. "I promise they serve the best food but you might not like their services."

Emily thinned her lips. "I will hate everything even if you took me to dinner on the moon tonight, Xandrio."

Alexandrio chuckled. "Let's go inside."

Emily frowned when she found the place without any guests and only a single table was placed in the members standing there.

"Welcome, Mrs Kyschova." The manager said Emily, smiling politely and went near her husband. "What is all this?"

"A dinner with my wife."

"Stop it, I know you are hiding something."

Alexandrio kissed her and pulled the chair for her, "have a seat, Zvezda."

She sharpened her eyes but accepted the chair. "Because I don't want to fight you on our wedding night."

He smiled. "Shall we order?"

Emily nodded. "I am already full from my reception feast but I would kill for a cup of hot, creamy and sugary coffee. I need it badly."

He nodded and glanced at the manager. "Coffee as per madam's taste."

He kissed her hand affectionately, loving every moment of bliss with his new bride. He licked her palm from inside with the tip of his tongue when Emily's eyes widened and she tried to snatch her hand but he didn't allow it, he leaned over the table and murmured into her ear. "I would do this with you tonight but between your legs."

Her cheeks tinted pink sheepishly. "I won't allow you to sleep the whole night, Zvezda.”

She looked down, didn't have the strength to look into his eyes again when he was saying these things to her. She still couldn't understand what was the purpose of this dinner tonight.

Before she could ask, he spoke up: “our coffee is here.”

Emily exhaled irritated with getting disturbed. She removed her hand from the table as the waitress placed the coffee tray on the table. “Enjoy your coffee, madam, sir.”

Emily's eyes widened as she snapped her head in the direction of the female voice. The woman was wearing a black skirt and white shirt with a bow tie and a golden tag on her left side.

“Katelyn!” Emily whispered the name with complete shock. Katelyn's eyes widened in horror. She glanced at the guests she was serving.

“You...!” She was horrified to see Emily. Katelyn straightened her posture and took a step back to leave. She recalled the days when she used to mock her for being a waitress. How she used to humiliate her every time Emily served her in that cafeteria near their college.

Alexandrio picked the cup of coffee and took a sip. “This is ridiculous, don't you even know how to serve coffee, there is a mark on the cup. Here,” He scolded Katelyn, putting the cap back on the table with a thud.

She turned her gaze to him with a bewildered look on her face. “I apologize for this, sir...”

The manager ran to him, “Is there some issue, Mr Kyschov?”

“Yes, your services are not good enough to receive reputed guests if you don't even know how to serve coffee.”

“I apologize, sir...”

“What's your apology worth, take this thing away from here and bring a new tray,” the manager scolded her. Katelyn glanced at Emily who kept staring at her without blinking her eyes.

Alexandrio eyed Emily, her eyes shifted to him from Katelyn. Her gaze held so many questions and he would give them to her but first, he needed to show her something else. “He picked the cup from the tray and threw it at the marble floor.”

“Call a sweeper to clean it,” He ordered the manager who gestured at one of the staff members to obey the request. Emily heard Katelyn gasp in horror, she scowled but when she saw Victor with a mop in his hand she couldn't keep on sitting.

All those memories came back running, the college walls covered with he ranked pictures, Victor laughing at her and Katelyn mocking her. The mop dropped from Victor's hand as his eyes settled on Emily.

"If you don't drop your eyes from my wife I will make you clean the whole floor with your tongue!" Alexandrio snapped and Victor immediately looked down. He fisted his hand recalling how he lost everything in gambling to a dangerous man and was forced to work as a sweeper in his hotel to repay the remaining money. He recalled how he was tortured by those debt collectors until he signed his hotel to that casino and was left with nothing but a few hundred dollars in his account which was enough to buy only a few groceries that too from a local market. In short, Victor was ruined. Financially.

"Xandrio!" She gathered all her strength to call his name. He moved to her and held her waist affectionately. "Open the paper, my brother gave you, Zvezda," he asked her.

Emily frowned. She didn't understand anything. Her mind was not making sense, how was that possible, Victor was a son of a big hotelier. Why would he clean floors here? And Katelyn was a celebrity herself!

"Open it, wife."

Emily nodded and opened the rolled down paper. Once again she received a shock. Her head jerked at her husband who was smiling ear to ear. "Congratulations on your new chain of hotels, Mrs Kyschove. Our wedding present, from my brother."

Emily shook her head. "This is too much, Alexandrio. I can't accept it."

She told him, it doesn't matter who was listening to her. Her past no longer held her captive, the day she accepted Alexandrio in her life, was her first step to move on from her dark past.

"It's not from me but my brother and trust me when I am saying this, Zvezda, he didn't take it lightly when someone tried to return his gifts. Because he rarely gives them to anyone."

Emily gulped as she turned her eyes to the people from her past. She could have mocked them, laughed at them just like they used to do with her. The thing Victor made her go through broke her from inside. She pretended to be strong and unaffected but only she knew how broken she was from inside.

She only chuckled at the irony of the situation and held her husband's face lightly in her hands, placing a soft kiss on his lips. "I know you asked your brother to do it because if it was you who would have given this to me, I would have refused immediately. I know why you did all this, Xandrio and I love you for this but there was no need for any of this. I don't care about these people anymore. The moments, the time I spent with you made me see what love feels like. You are my everything, Xandrio. My biggest treasure. You made me see the sunshine again. This Emily started behaving like herself because of your love and now, after this, she nodded at Katelyn and Victor, "I don't care about them, never did. I cared about my reputation never about them but I forgot that I was trying to prove myself right when there was no need to do it, Xandrio. You made me see how wrong I was. Who are these people, no one? Then why would it matter to me, I was shocked seeing them not because of seeing them like this but seeing how much my pain matters to you."

Alexandrio nodded and cleared the tear that rolled down her cheek, "So do you want to keep them or fire them?"

Emily looked at them both, met their gazes and smiled politely, "let them work, unlike them I don't like making anyone's life hell. I didn't know why they are working here like this but if they are doing this, it means something bad happens to them both and they need money. So let them earn it."

Alexandrio nodded and gestured to the manager to leave them alone. He did not need to be told twice, he left with all the staff present there letting the new couple spend some time together before leaving.

"What did you do?" She asked when they were going back to their home. "I did nothing, Dmitry did. I just told him what I needed to do and this man lost everything to a loan shark. I paid him enough and acquired everything that belonged to this Victor."

Emily shook her head in his chest. She didn't even want to recall anything from the past except her friends. Now she has a new life to look forward to and she planned to live it beautifully with the love of her life.