

His True Colors Novel Chapter 1447 - 1450

Chapter 1447

John grabbed George Han's hand, his expression was very excited, he could clearly detect the frequency of the muscles on his face, and said to George Han: "You don't need to take action on this matter, I will let people have the movie. It's done by everyone, you can rest assured."

George Han couldn't help laughing when he heard the word you. It seems that he has studied Chinese quite deeply, and he even knows when to use the honorific title.

Although the power of the Black Sheep Organization is nothing in George Han's eyes, it is definitely a nightmare existence for ordinary people. Since John said he can solve this matter, George Han didn't bother to take it personally. , After all, this is also a very troublesome thing, it is best to borrow the hands of the Black Sheep Organization to get it done.

"You won't have the fish that slipped through the net?" George Han said.

"No, absolutely not." John patted his chest and said sincerely: "You can rest assured, I will never let anyone go."

John's attitude is extremely sincere, because now the image of George Han in his mind already exists like a god, how could he lie to god.

"Okay, I'm waiting for your good news." George Han said.

During this trip to the headquarters of the Black Sheep Organization, things did not follow the trajectory that George Han had expected. He originally intended to destroy the Black Sheep Organization, but now he has reached a subtle cooperation with the Black Sheep Organization. Never expected.

However, such an ending is not a bad thing for George Han. After all, the Black Sheep Organization has the most terrifying killer ability in the world. If this organization can serve George Han, George Han can hardly use his own power. , Can solve anything.

George Han looked at the crater, and his anxiety was temporarily let go. After all, this is an unknown thing for George Han. No matter how powerful he is, there will eventually be fear of the unknown in human consciousness. feel.

On the way to leave with Dao Twelve, Dao Twelve was three steps behind George Han, his eyes fixed on George Han.

George Han, who is very sensitive to environmental perception, can naturally detect that Dao Twelve is staring at him, and he can also guess the reason.

To make a disabled person stand up suddenly, this exaggerated method will inevitably cause a very strong shock in the heart of Dao Twelve.

“If you have anything to say, just say it directly.” George Han said to Dao Twelve.

Dao Twelve took a deep breath and said, “I was skeptical about what you said before. I even think you still have bragging elements, but now I know how ridiculous my thoughts are. .”

George Han smiled indifferently, and Dao Twelve could say such things, indicating that the current Dao Twelve had completely trusted him.

“I know, although you seem to be very convinced about my rebirth, you will definitely have doubts in your heart. This is what a normal person would have. You can’t blame you.” George Han said.

“Three thousand, how did you cure John’s leg?” Dao Twelve couldn’t help his curiosity.

“Didn’t I tell you that I have the power to be close to God, and healing his legs is naturally a breeze.” George Han explained.

Dao Twelve swallowed, and said, “Can’t your ability cure all diseases?”

“Right.” George Han said calmly: “As long as there is one last breath, I can make him come alive, but if he is really dead, there is no way.”

George Han can heal all living people, but he can’t bring people back to life. At least with his current ability, he can’t do it. As for whether he can truly step into another world in the future, can he do it? , George Han didn’t know.

Dao Twelve wiped his face and put away his exaggerated expression. If this matter spreads out, I don’t know how many celebrities come to George Han for treatment, and George Han’s methods are bound to be famous in medicine. He has become a world-class doctor.

But Dao Twelve also knew that George Han would definitely not care about these reputations. For a person close to God, he might only pursue a higher realm. As for the status and reputation in the world, in his eyes , It is estimated that it is just a pile of garbage.

“Three thousand.” Dao Twelve’s expression became a little embarrassing inexplicably, and even a little embarrassing.

George Han got goosebumps all over, if a woman was shy in front of him, George Han could understand it, but the performance of a burly hunk in Dao Twelve really made George Han unbearable.

“Just say anything, don’t be shy, you don’t know how disgusting you are now.” George Han said with disgust.

Sword Twelve was embarrassed for a while, and he smiled and said: “I also have a strength in my body now. In the future, can I become as powerful as you?”

George Han was really uncertain about this matter, because he still didn’t know the source and upper limit of his power.

“By relying on the strength of your body alone, I don’t know how powerful you can become, but you can rest assured that I am already thinking of ways so that ordinary people can also practice. If I can come up with this method, I can take my I leave it to you.” George Han said.

“Really!” Dao Twelve’s eyes stared out after hearing this.

“Of course it’s true, this kind of thing can deceive you, and not only you, there are several candidates. After you have a certain level of strength, I will take you to see Xuanyuan World.” George Han said. This is his final thought at the moment, because there are some feelings that cannot be parted. For George Han, it would be best if these feelings can continue to exist in another world.

Sword twelve mouths are dry, can’t help swallowing, another world! These five words immediately gave Dao Twelve a new life expectancy, after all, this is not an opportunity that everyone can get.

“I used to think my life was miserable, but now, I find that I am the luckiest among hundreds of millions of people.” Dao Twelve said cheerfully.

“Are you lucky? It’s too early to draw a conclusion. Even if you can go to Xuanyuan World, you will face more dangers. I can’t guarantee that you will not die miserably in the future.” George Han said.

Dao Twelve shook his head indifferently, and being able to see another world was enough for him in this life, and people would die in the end, and the method of death was not important to him.

“Everyone will die. It doesn’t make any difference whether to die a bit miserably or to die peacefully. The important thing is this experience.” Dao Twelve said.

Chapter 1448

In the next few days, George Han enjoyed VIP treatment on the island of the headquarters of the Black Sheep Organization, and no matter how powerful a gold medal killer he was, after seeing George Han, he would take the initiative to evade, even bending over. The form of showing respect for George Han.

The gold medal killers are a group of extremely arrogant people. Because they have abilities that the world does not have, they will feel that they are superior. But in front of George Han, they dare not show the slightest arrogance, or even humbleness, because they are very It was clear that the abilities that George Han possessed were far above them, and in George Han's eyes, they might not even be as good as ants.

Although arrogant, this group of people still has a very clear self-knowledge.

After a week, John was finally able to walk normally, and he was unharmed with ordinary people, and he could not see that he was disabled for nearly ten years before.

For John, being able to regain the feeling of being down-to-earth is something he never even dared to think about, so his gratitude to George Han is naturally self-evident.

And John has already thought about it. From now on, the entire Black Sheep Organization will work for George Han, because only this kind of powerful person can lead the Black Sheep Organization to develop better, and wants to know the inside of the crater. George Han's secret is also needed.

On this day, John led all the gold medal killers of the Black Sheep Organization and appeared in front of the Villa where George Han lived.

This is almost the first time in history that all the gold medal killers have gathered. Those who have seen George Han's ability have a cautious expression, but those who have not seen George Han are curious.

If they hadn't seen John's legs getting better, they wouldn't believe this to be true.

When George Han walked out of the Villa building, the gold medal killers who hadn't seen George Han all showed a puzzled expression, and everyone had the same idea in their hearts.

"How could it be a child?"

When Dao Twelve came out immediately, those who had never seen George Han directly focused on Dao Twelve. They involuntarily regarded Dao Twelve as George Han, thinking that this was the only one. Under normal circumstances, if not, it's just a child, how could it be so powerful?

But soon, their thoughts were destroyed.

John respectfully walked to George Han, bent over slightly and said, "I don't know how to call you, so I will call you George God."

Three thousand gods!

George Han was stunned when he heard these three words. The nickname made people feel too strange, and he was not used to it at all.

“You should call my name directly, George Han.” George Han said.

“No, no, no, no.” John waved his hands in panic and said, “How can I call your name directly? This is a great disrespect to you, and I must not do that.”

Seeing John waved his hands in panic, George Han said helplessly: “Okay, how are you happy to call it, now that you are well, let’s set off to the crater. I have been delayed here for too long. “

“Please follow me.” John led the way, and all the gold medal killers followed.

These people are all people who have been to the crater, but they have gained the ability, but they don’t know what happened because of a coma.

At this moment, everyone is a little nervous, because they know that the secret that has been hidden for a hundred years is likely to be revealed today.

At the foot of the mountain, John said to George Han: “George God, in order to avoid danger, I will let these people take the lead. What do you think?”

George Han waved his hand and said directly: “You don’t need to engage in such a hypocritical thing. These people have been unconscious in the crater. What use is it for them to lead the battle? If something goes wrong, you must not trouble me to save them.”

John was a little embarrassed, and he was only qualified if he could call the gold medal killer so worthless.

“Then...what should I do?” John asked.

George Han bypassed John in two steps, went straight up the mountain, and said, “I’ll go ahead. If there is any danger, I will carry the best.”

Dao Twelve followed George Han closely, and said in a low voice, “George, why don’t you let these guys take the lead? In case of any sudden situation, let them be a shield.”

George Han smiled. He was not afraid of these guys dying in the crater, but before the most critical moment, their lives would be of greater value.

“I know it in my heart.” George Han said.

Since George Han had said so, Dao Twelve had no other opinions, and could only silently follow George Han.

At this time, apart from George Han, no one could perceive that a force enveloped him and Dao Twelve, forming a kind of protective layer. This was George Han deliberately doing it to avoid any suddenness. The situation may cause damage to the twelve swords.

Walking halfway up the mountain, George Han suddenly stopped!

Chapter 1449

When George Han stopped, the others stood still and did not dare to move, and watched around vigilantly to deal with any impending emergencies in a wary manner.

Dao Twelve looked around. The wind was calm and the waves were calm. Nothing special happened. He couldn't help but ask George Han: "Three thousand, what's wrong?"

George Han frowned and went up the mountain. He didn't notice anything unusual. But after walking here, George Han felt that the power fluctuations in the crater were particularly obvious, and such fluctuations were not felt at the foot of the mountain.

The most important thing is that this force is much stronger than George Han imagined.

After a while, George Han said, "It's nothing, go ahead."

Hearing this, everyone breathed a sigh of relief, but their vigilance did not dare to relax.

Near the crater, the fluctuations in power became more and more obvious, and it was a very strange frequency.

"Can you feel anything?" George Han asked Dao Twelve.

Dao Twelve shook his head and said, "There is nothing, what's wrong?"

George Han looked at other people again, they looked similar to Dao Twelve's expressions, and probably didn't notice anything, which made George Han feel even more strange.

These people are unaware of such strong power fluctuations. Could it be that it has something to do with the power in their bodies?

The power of the same family makes them unable to feel the presence of the power of the crater?

George Han no longer thinks about what is going on, he can see what is going on in the crater.

At this time, the temperature had reached a stage that ordinary people could not bear, and except for George Han and Dao Twelve, the others were already sweating, and their clothes were soaked.

Dao Twelve realized that he was different from others, because he did not feel how hot around him, and he had reached the crater, but there was no feeling of heat, which was too unscientific.

“George, did you do anything to me, why don’t I feel hot?” Dao Twelve asked George Han in a low voice.

George Han smiled, along the way, he has his energy barrier to protect Dao Twelve, and he naturally doesn’t feel hot.

“Do you want to feel it?” As soon as George Han’s voice fell, he removed the invisible energy barrier.

But in a moment of effort, Dao Twelve felt a heat wave coming in, making him extremely hot.

“f*ck, it’s more than hot, the air is hot.” Dao Twelve said.

“What do you think, this is a volcano after all, and it is still an active volcano, how could it not be hot?” George Han said with a smile.

“Why don’t you continue with the method just now.” Dao Twelve said shamelessly.

George Han re-established the energy barrier, not only to keep the twelve knives from getting hot, but to protect his safety.

The group of people finally stood in the crater. The billowing smoke was very pungent. Although the hot flow of magma could not be seen, one could imagine how magma was rolling under the volcano.

George Han had already felt the source of power. It was deep in the heart of the earth, but he hadn’t really touched the magma.

This is not like a space-time tunnel, more like something left by a strong man.

Perhaps it was a corpse of a strong man, or maybe it was a weapon of a strong man, but the specifics have to be seen before they can be known.

“When are you in a coma?” George Han turned around and asked John and the others.

Dao Twelve also turned his head subconsciously, but the scene before him made him dumbfounded.

Except for him and George Han, the others no longer know when they all fell to the ground!

“f*ck, what’s the situation?” Dao Twelve couldn’t help but explode.

George Han also smiled helplessly. It seemed that they were in a coma before, so they should be in this place.

In terms of the physical endurance of ordinary people, they are also unlikely to go deep into the crater. Otherwise, this heat wave alone can kill them.

“It seems that there is no need to ask.” George Han said helplessly.

Dao Twelve knew that without the protection of George Han, his fate would be the same as the others. After gratefully glance at George Han, he asked, “George, what should we do next.”

George Han pointed to the bottom of the crater and said: “Let’s go down and take a look. The source of the power is right below, but I still can’t judge what it is.”

George Han could perceive all the situations around him through his own spiritual sense, but because of his strength, he formed a confrontation with his spiritual sense. In order to avoid the shock of his spiritual sense, George Han didn’t dare to do so by force.

As soon as Dao Twelve heard George Han’s words, he felt his body rise in the air.

With his feet off the ground, losing his center of gravity was extremely insecure for Dao Twelve, but when he saw George Han with a calm face, he forced his emotions to stabilize.

George Han was so calm, wouldn’t he be embarrassed if he was startled and panicked.

As George Han’s subordinates, how could he have to show a strong side.

Chapter 1450

the scene in front of you became more and more shocking, and Dao Twelve’s heart became more and more nervous, as if the billowing lava would swallow his life at any time.

Fortunately, with the protection of George Han, Dao Twelve has not yet felt the strong heat wave. Otherwise, he would be even more afraid at this moment.

Although George Han appeared calm, for the first time he went deep into the volcano, his heart was still a little uneasy, and the unknown force also made George Han feel stronger and stronger, and he would encounter George Han couldn’t be sure of what, what happened.

“Three thousand, this volcano seems to erupt at any time.” Dao Twelve said to George Han.

George Han shook his head, not just about to erupt at any time, in his opinion, this volcano should have erupted long ago, only because this inexplicable force existed and suppressed the volcano, it caused the current situation.

“If it weren’t for the existence of this force, the volcano would have erupted long ago, and it has accumulated too much power.” George Han said with a heavy expression.

The existence of this force, on the contrary, protects the headquarters island, and this also means that once George Han disturbs this force and causes it to change, it may affect the stability of the volcano, and even directly erupt. may.

Hearing this, Dao Twelve began to retreat, but with George Han by his side, he still forced himself to calm down.

Looking for a place of strength, George Han soon found a very weird giant stone with a layer of magma on the surface, which made its weird shape.

When Dao Twelve felt his body staying in front of the boulder, he asked George Han: “Is this stone the source of power?”

“The stone is just an illusion. In this stone, there is a real thing hidden. Something of power.” George Han wanted to check through his divine sense, but he was directly resisted very fiercely, and even the boulder trembled, which made George Han dare not act rashly.

But if he just gave up like this, George Han would never be reconciled, and with his style of doing things, he would never think of giving up the word.

“Split this stone, you can see what the power belongs to, but this way, it is very likely to cause abnormal changes, maybe the volcano will erupt due to this.” George Han said in a tangled tone.

Although Dao Twelve and George Han have known each other not long ago, he still knows the character of George Han quite well. Once it is something he wants to do, even if it only has a hint, he will do it to the end.

Take the case of the Black Sheep Organization. When Dao Twelve and George Han met for the first time, he was about to destroy the Black Sheep Organization. At that time, Dao Twelve thought that his words were fantastic, but now, they don’t. Are you already on the island of the headquarters of the Black Sheep Organization?

Extinction and immortality are just a word from George Han.

“Just do what you want, I support you.” Dao Twelve said.

George Han stared at the boulder with dignified eyes. He knew that hesitation had no effect. The hesitation at this moment was just delaying time. He would do this after all. Why not just take it easy?

When George Han raised his hand knife, Dao Twelve knew that he had made a decision, which made Dao Twelve breathe quickly.

Moreover, George Han's hand exuded a special light at this moment, which felt sharp and powerful. Just standing by his side made Dao Twelve feel an extremely huge pressure.

Dao Twelve held his breath, ready to meet George Han's powerful blow.

When George Han's eyes exuded a cold glow, he swung his hand knife heavily, and a huge energy visible to the naked eye smashed directly into the boulder.

The rumbling sound is like thunder!

The entire crater was trembling at this moment.

Countless cracks began to appear in the boulder, and the force bursting from the cracks became stronger.

George Han knew that this was not a good sign, and a dangerous aura came upon him.

But at this point, how could George Han give up?

"You go out first."

George Han's voice heard in his ears, and Dao Twelve felt his body rushing up quickly, and he couldn't control it.

But in an instant, Dao Twelve had already returned to the crater.

"Three thousand!" Dao Twelve shouted hoarsely.

He knew that it was George Han who felt the danger, so he sent him out of the crater.

But when he came out, George Han did not, which made him extremely worried about George Han's safety.

In the volcano.

The cracks formed by the boulder are getting bigger and bigger, and the whole boulder has shown signs of falling apart.

George Han took a deep breath, then held his breath.

According to his guess, it is very likely that there is a strong man's strength hidden here, or a weapon left by the strong man.

Before he felt that the strength in the gold medal killer was not strong, and guessed that the source of this strength might be a cultivation space lower than Xuanyuan World.

However, the power that George Han felt at this moment was something that George Han hadn't felt even in Xuanyuan World. This shows that this power came from a higher dimension in Xuanyuan World. It's even possible that George Han had just stepped in. A place to step into.

With indifferent eyes, George Han didn't have any fear in the face of danger, and he didn't even want to escape.

There is only one firm belief in his heart, even if he is dead, he still has to see what is hidden in the boulder.

At this time, he had forgotten all the outside world.

Han family.

Linlong.

Even Amelia Su!

"Let me see how strong you are." After saying this, George Han raised his hand knife again.

For him, the boulder's breaking speed is still too slow, and he can't wait to see what is hidden inside.

Swinging down the sword again, George Han's powerful force hit the boulder for the second time.

The boulder was attacked for the second time, and it exploded. At the same time, the power hidden in the boulder was unreservedly displayed in front of George Han.

The impact of power caused George Han to retreat several tens of meters, and he almost stopped near the edge of the volcanic rock.

"This..." The

boulder has been crushed, and the original place of the boulder is only an axe almost the same height as George Han.

The axe was dark, with lightning-like energy attached to it. Just looking at it like this, George Han could feel its power.

“Sure enough, as I thought, even though your master is dead, you still have such a powerful power. Your master must be very powerful.” George Han said with a sigh on his face.

At this time, the underground magma began to surge, which may erupt at any time.

It was the wisest choice for George Han to leave at this time, but instead of doing so, he moved towards the axe.
