

His True Colors Novel Chapter 2605 - 2607

Chapter 2605

Lu Yuan's confusion was also confusion for the people of the Mysterious Alliance or Tianji Palace and others, but after a brief period of confusion, it was endless joy.

A more abundant spiritual world, as well as the perverted advantage of a huge time difference, a group of people are like a long time nectar, madly engaged in it, then closed their eyes and meditated, and never opened their eyes again...

and George Han I can also practice, but most of the time I am busy with other things.

In addition to refining the pill in the heavenly book world, George Han also needs to train his "disciples" specifically.

Obviously, in addition to the identified purple love among these apprentices, there are also people close to him, such as Qin Shuang, Mo Yang, Dao Twelve, Liu Fang, Ningyue, Jianghu Baixiaosheng, and Wang Simin.

They are not only emotionally related to George Han, but also George Han's own left and right arms. Their cultivation level directly and absolutely determines the big and small affairs of the alliance.

Of course, there is also the most important little "apprentice" in it.

Han Nian!

This girl is noisy and insists on practicing, saying that she has the ability to protect her father and mother in the future.

What can George Han do for his daughter?

George Han almost gave everything to him, except using the Qi of Chaos and the pill to help everyone lay the foundation. At the same time, he handed over all his Tianyin technique, non-phase magic and even epee technique to a few people. .

As for the high-level Taixu Shenbu, Taiyan Heart Technique, Sword Formation, and Beiming Four Soul Curse, George Han also taught it.

But in fact, with their current cultivation level, they are almost struggling to learn.

Only Qin Shuang, using the Demon Suppression Divine Sword that George Han had obtained in the temple at the beginning, stubbornly propped up Tao Tian Jianyu, although he could not reach the realm of George Han and Lu Ruoxin, it was considered strong enough to shock everyone.

Moreover, when the old man taught George Han the technique of epee, she was also beside her, and naturally she quickly mastered it.

Even George Han's other methods, she also learned very quickly, the Wuxiang divine art originally came from the Wuwu School, as a true disciple of the Wuwu School, it is not surprising to learn these!

But Taixu Shenbu and Taiyan Mind Method, she can also master in a short time, although not as good as George Han, but it is enough to make George Han sigh. George Han know that Qin Shuang himself also had the golden body of Xiaobai's beast god, and in addition to his outstanding talent, he was not much inferior to George Han in learning.

The only shortcoming is that Qin Shuang has not been able to master the Beiming Four Soul Curse too well.

After trying several times in a row, even the two clones couldn't be tossed out.

This made George Han very confused. After all, Taixu Shenbu and Taiyan Mind Method were obviously not less difficult than Beiming Four Soul Curse, or even higher.

The high-level ones have learned it, but the low-level ones can't learn it!

This has to make people laugh at the same time, but also very confusing.

But obviously, these situations have long been seen by the two old guys hiding in the void.

Above the void.

The two of them are still sitting on the chessboard, in the eyes of the outside world, everything is transparent and silent, there is nothing in the anti-Buddha.

But in front of the real two people, they are floating in the air. There are tables, tea, chess games, and a casual scene.

"This silly boy..." Bahuang Tianshu smiled helplessly, shook his head, and set a move.

"You and I both look at things from the perspective of the gods, and naturally have different meanings. If you and I are like three thousand, you may not be as calm and calm as his." The old sweeping man smiled lightly and took a sip of green tea.

The Bahuang Tianshu smiled softly: "That's what I said. A lot of questions must have been confused, but if you have the courage to meet them, you can also train soldiers and raise generals step by step, calmly and right, it is really rare. It's just this Qin Shuang..."

“Maybe it’s a bomb, maybe it’s the talent of George Han who became king. It depends on George Han’s choice.” The sweeping old man smiled lightly.

. “I’m afraid the former ah” glorious heavenly smile shaking his head: “Lu if the core of this woman, wisdom and beauty go hand in hand, Han three thousand, although clever, but as this chess game in general, it is difficult!”

Then, put a pawn on the chessboard At this time, the wind is surging, and the ultimate move is coming.

Seeing the complete and complete death, the sweeping old man knew that there was no possibility of a comeback, and couldn’t help shaking his head and smiling bitterly.

“Just like him, it’s good for you to use affection, but you will always be affected by feelings.”

“Really?” The sweeping old man smiled slightly, and a sharp look suddenly flashed in his eyes: “Not necessarily!”

Chapter 2606

fell, they suddenly swept their hands horizontally. Then, on the chessboard, the chess pieces suddenly fell to the ground, and the chess box in front of the two exploded and turned into dust.

“Now?” As soon as the voice fell, he raised his hand slightly. At this time, the old man sweeping the floor was holding the only remaining chess piece in his hand.

With a snap, the chess piece landed.

“You have no chess, how can you win?” The sweeping old man smiled lightly.

Yahuang Tianshu was taken aback for a moment. Obviously, the behavior of destroying the whole chess game was a bit beyond expectation, but after careful thinking, it was a way.

“It seems that you are very relieved of George Han, even if there is no chess in the world, you have to protect him!” Bahuang Tianshu shook his head and smiled.

“We still need to be hard in order to hit the iron. If the chess piece is not hard enough, even if I just put my hand between my fingers, it will still be destroyed!” The old sweeper smiled softly.

“Then we have to see if the three-thousand-thousand boy is hard on this chess piece .” “Can we have another game?” The sweeping old man smiled lightly.

“The time is almost here, won’t you send them off?” Bahuang Tianshu smiled lightly.

“The world is all young people, let them go. When the truth is revealed, when the world breaks, they will achieve something when they know themselves, and we will not be ruined by us.” As soon as the voice fell, the sweeping old man haha The laughter was accompanied by a soft smile from the Bahuang Tianshu.

However, for the other people in the Eight Desolation World, there was no sound, even surprisingly quiet.

“Five days are here!” George Han glanced at the people who had already gathered in front of the thatched hut, and said softly.

Everyone nodded collectively, and the atmosphere was somewhat depressed.

“Are you afraid?” George Han laughed softly.

Following George Han’s words, the otherwise deadly team immediately responded with thunderous anger: “Don’t be afraid!”

“If you are afraid of death, you can stay here. Brothers who are not afraid of death, let’s set off.” After falling, George Han swiped the void and opened the exit of the Bahuang Tianshu.

After Han Sanqianyi went out first, indicating that he would never punish anyone who stayed here, Ningyue, Jianghu Bai Xiaosheng, Qin Shuang and others took the lead without thinking about it. , Baguio Palace, disciples of the Mysterious Alliance, and the Six Monsters of Jiangbei followed.

Du Yisheng and Zhong Beihai looked at each other, nodded, and rushed out.

Only Chen Shimin hesitated for a moment. For him, training in this place is like walking into a warm baby. Not to mention that he might die if he goes out. Even if he doesn’t die, he really doesn’t want to go out, because it’s really here. It’s so comfortable...

especially there are many strange beasts here...

Although George Han has allowed everyone to find the strange beasts freely yesterday and complete the contract with the strange beasts by non-force, he is not very lucky. Well, only a not very strong yellow-level strange beast was willing to give him a spiritual pet.

But in that forest, there are still unclear red-level and gold-level beasts. If you stay here, think of something more, he can...

“What are you doing in a daze? Shimin, Han Shaoxia will not punish you. But being a teacher can clean up the door!” Du Yisheng gave a cold look.

“Ah, let’s go, let’s go...” Chen Shimin was taken aback, and quickly followed him, becoming the last person to set foot and leave.

On the island, Lu Yuan and others were still searching for George Han and others all over the island. When they returned to the house exhausted, they were almost not scared to death!

Obviously, there was no one after going out, only the old woman was still there. When she came back, it was already crowded in front of the main hall.

Had it not been for Lu Yuan and his entourage there were hundreds of people, they really doubted whether they had taken the wrong medicine or had a wrong dream!

“Wow!”

Suddenly, before Lu Yuan went up and asked to understand, George Han had already raised his hand, and for a moment he heard the noise of the weapon continuously, and then looked down, including Lu Yuan, a group of people. People were dumbfounded.

The weapons, almost like a hill, were directly piled up in front of everyone...

Chapter 2607

All the people in the group are stupid...

I have seen Hao’s, but I have never seen such a fucking man!

Even Lu Yuan, an elite from a big family, was fucking dumbfounded at this time.

He has seen a lot of money, and he has seen a lot of weapons, but he has never seen so many weapons that can be piled up into a mountain in an instant.

Probably it was the weapon storehouse at the top of the Blue Mountain, that’s all...

Lu Yuan is fortunate, the people who came out of the Eight Desolation Book of Heaven were actually even more surprised at this time, or even frightened.

The strange world, coupled with a large number of strange beasts, in fact, they have spent a long time in the Bafang world before they came out of shock.

However, as soon as he came out, George Han came again.

The weapon of Duishan!

Moreover, nothing is rubbish.

To put it awkwardly, if you sell these weapons one by one, George Han can say that he is a rich and enemy country!

Even Du, who has always been very stable, swallowed his saliva at this time: "How fucking, damn, the sect warehouse of my Tianji Palace doesn't have so many weapons."

Zhong Beihai nodded . Suan: "This is at least more than a hundred Tianji Palaces, brother..."

Chen Shimin stayed too, and even felt that the shame was rising. Damn, a zoo can be formed with a bunch of strange beasts. The so-called "honorable" status of the King of Weapons piled up in front of the mountain showing off as a disciple of the Tianji Palace, damn, it's really embarrassing and almost lost to his grandma's house, even though he thinks he has a thick skin, he can't stand it. The irony of such a big gap.

Wang Simin was also stupid. The original George Han was just a sick chicken in his own eyes, but now he is not only a mysterious person in the hot rivers and lakes, but also a famous demon god. Beasts and weapons...

If you say that there are no scholars in the world for three days and look at this statement with admiration, then George Han is really not three days, at least several hundred million years!

Because his changes are too unreal...

"What are you doing? Ningyue presided over and divided everything up. Baguio Palace is all girls and priority is given." George Han didn't care about them one by one. The whole person is very calm.

Hearing what George Han said, the eyes of the female disciples of Baguio Palace who had been stunned even showed undisguised excitement and admiration. capable and handsome, and looking at the world is enough to capture their hearts, but George Han needs more money to the point of insulting people.

Isn't this the perfect man who describes themselves perfectly in their hearts? !

Not to mention them, even Ningyue looked at George Han in surprise at this moment: "The Baguio Palace first?"

"Is there a problem?" George Han said indifferently, and then gently hugged Han Nian. "I'll take Nian'er to go outside. An hour later, I will assemble in front of the island and set off."

"Nian'er, Dad will take you to see the peach blossom." Han Nian smiled softly, and George Han said softly.

Although the father and daughter spent a long time together in the Bahuang Tianshu this time, George Han has been busy training everyone, and has rarely accompanied this girl.

This hour was specially set aside by George Han.

When Han Sanqianyi left, a group of people looked at him with different expressions.

“Damn, I want to give him a baby too!” A female disciple of Baguio Palace, with tears in her eyes, moved and envied.

“Since I met the leader, I suddenly felt that other men were boring...”

“Me too...”

A group of girls did this one by one, but I don't know how long after that, I don't know who will take the lead and turn “grief and anger” into Power, since George Han gave it, it must be their most precious gift. Without much to say, he walked directly to the weapons depot.

And on the other side of the island at this time, there was already a lot of laughter and laughter in Peach Blossom Spring. The father and daughter were playing and playing, and they were very happy...

But, enough to have fun, the father and daughter gently lay on the peach blossom tree, Looking at the blue sky, above the white clouds that guard the Buddha at this time, Amelia Su is looking at their father and daughter with warm smiles.

“Shall we go find mother?” George Han said.

Han Nian nodded: “Okay, then I'm going to build a big house here and stay with Mom and Dad forever.”

George Han nodded, touched his head, and looked up.

At this time, the breeze is blowing, and the army is also gathering from the island toward this side. The wind and clouds are about to strike...
