

His True Colors Novel Chapter 2617 - 2619

Chapter 2617

“Go at night, be more careful.” With an order, George Han led the army forward.

However, the group of people had just taken a few steps, and suddenly, they only heard the rush of shattered footsteps behind them. When everyone looked back, they saw that it was already in the darkness, and several figures were chasing toward them.

“Swiss!” At the end of the team was Lu Yuan and other people on the top of the Blue Mountain. Seeing someone coming, the sword suddenly lit up.

Under the moonlight, the long sword faintly appeared coldly!

“I want to see your leader.”

Stopped by a long sword, several figures stopped in front of Lu Yuan and the others, panting and shouting loudly.

Lu Yuan frowned and hesitated. At this time, George Han had already walked over.

Seeing the people coming, George Han frowned. Although these people didn't know him, it was obvious from the dressing point of view that these people were all villagers in Fangcaina Village.

“I am!” George Han replied strangely.

“The village chief would like to please.” The leader rushed to George Han with a fist slightly, and said softly.

The village chief would you please?

George Han frowned, what does this mean?

“Damn, you just drove us out, and now you want to invite us over, are you messing up?” Dao Twelve said depressed on the spot.

The visitor did not speak, but lowered his head slightly, waiting for George Han's reply.

“Three thousand, they just drove us out, and now they are asking us to go back. This village chief does not have shit in his head, so he must have another plan. Be careful.” Mo Yang also gently moved to George Han In front of him, he whispered vigilantly.

“Yes, three thousand, there must be a reason for something weird.” Liu Fang also softly agreed.

“It’s getting late now, and the sky is getting dark. If there is any ambush, it will be extremely detrimental to us.” Jianghu Baixiaosheng also said.

George Han nodded, and everyone’s worries were not unreasonable.

This behavior of the village chief is indeed quite weird.

However, how to weigh is something George Han needs to master and judge.

After a while, George Han nodded and smiled suddenly: “Okay, then trouble a few of you to lead the way.”

Facing George Han’s decision, everyone looked at each other anxiously...the villager in the lead turned around and led the way for George Han.

“Three thousand!” A few people hurriedly followed George Han, and Bai Xiaosheng said anxiously: “You really are not afraid that they have an ambush? It was morning before, so I drove us away, as today the color is slowly darkening, but it is an ambush. It’s the best time. You’ve seen that group of people not close to each other, coupled with such a weird wedding, this village, I think it’s better not to go back.”

“Yeah, these weird people are likely to be troublesome .” , Instead of this, we might as well go to that hillside to rest.”

“Three thousand...”

Several people from Jianghu Baixiaosheng eagerly persuaded.

George Han just smiled. It is not that George Han has not considered these things, but the question is, what choice does he have? !

“If these people really want to deal with us, will it be safe on the hillside?” George Han laughed softly.

“On the hillside, we can at least be condescending, and we can do everything we want. Although they have a lot of villagers, we have a lot of people and horses. They respect the terrain. Even in the dark, they can help us.” Jianghu Baixiaosheng said. .

“You are right, but you have overlooked a fact.” George Han smiled softly. Seeing Baixiaosheng was puzzled, George Han said: “The terrain!”

“We are completely unfamiliar with the surrounding terrain, but they There is no difference between night and day for this surrounding area. Although we can guard against heights, who can guarantee that they will not climb up through other means?”

“This is their territory!”

“Once they rush up to the heights , In fact, it’s not much different from our entering the village.” As soon as George Han’s voice fell, Jianghu Bai Xiaosheng and others were speechless.

Yes, although it is a way to stay high and defend, on their territory, who knows where they can touch it? !

Once the advantage is instantly wiped out, it will even become their disadvantage.

Chapter 2618

There will be a mess in the army by then!

Because it was not far from the village, just a few minutes, when everyone was hesitating, they had already arrived at the entrance of the village.

“Please!” The

leading villager is pleased again!

At this time, darkness has come completely, and a bright moon is slightly suspended in the air!

George Han nodded and followed the villagers into the village.

In a few moments, the group returned to the front of the previous house again.

In front of the house, there was almost no difference from the previous one, except that a few bright lanterns were hung in front of the house and in the courtyard.

However, the lantern at this time was born without the slightest sense of joy in everyone’s eyes. It was more like the blood-red eyes of a certain monster in the dark night.

“Guest!”

As someone shouted loudly, the sharp suona voice sounded again. The villager in the lead signaled George Han to enter.

The number of people is so large that George Han can only lead a dozen backbones through the crowd and walk towards the main house. Accompanied by the sound of suona, that appearance is extremely evil.

Inside the main room, the guests were seated separately. The corpse and the young man stood in front of the hall. The old man sat in the middle of the main hall. In the center, the white candle lightly burned and the words were in the middle.

After introducing George Han and others into the guest seat, the villager who led the way hurriedly said a few words in the ear of the old man, and then retired obediently.

The old man lost his previous coldness and glanced at George Han. He said hello to each other, and then he nodded to the old woman next to him.

“Enter the room!”

As the old woman yelled, several red and white people, young people and their bodies were sent away.

Ningyue, Qin Shuang and others were all shocked by the scene and turned their heads away, faintly sweating for the miserable bridegroom.

And almost at this moment, the old man slowly got up, and then slowly walked towards George Han...

Chapter 2619

“The village lives out of the world, and there are few people here. You suddenly appeared. It is hard to distinguish good from bad. Therefore, the old man just asked you to wait to leave the village, but it is only the old man’s test for you. Since you waited Being able to separate, this also shows that you are not bad guys, so the old man made people catch up with you and invited back to the village.” The old man smiled slightly when he arrived in front of George Han.

If ordinary people explain this way, Qin Shuang and others will naturally not think too much, but after seeing such a weird and weird wedding in this village, it is obvious that all of them are full of grudges towards the old man.

Only George Han smiled slightly: “So that’s it!”

After speaking, he got up slightly and saluted.

“Uncle Zhang!”

“Yes!” An old man hurriedly got up from his seat.

“The young man has many subordinates. Although the village is rudimentary, it should do the best of the landlord. You can settle the young man’s entourage so that they have a place to rest after eating and drinking.” The old man said softly.

“Okay, I’m going to do it now.” The old man named Zhang Ershu finished speaking, and got up to go out.

“Uncle Niu, the guests have arrived, please arrange for someone to serve some dishes.” The old man said again.

“Yes!” The old man called Uncle Niu quickly got up and stepped back.

In just a moment, a few villagers walked in with a table, and after that, several pots of vegetables were also put on the table. At the invitation of the old man, George Han and others were seated, but no one had any appetite.

What I saw today was nausea enough, and the dishes on the table were so strange that it made people even less appetite.

Almost all black and black things, there are a few dishes you say are entrails dug out from the corpse just now, and no one will suspect that they are not.

“A few, move the chopsticks!” The old man didn’t have the slightest abnormality, he just smiled, and then he picked up a piece of food and ate it first.

Just looking at what the old man had clipped, Ningyue and the others instantly connected the shape of the dish with some strange internal organs or other disgusting things, and then saw that the old man was eating happily and almost vomited one by one on the spot. come out.

“A few people, are the food not to your appetite?” Seeing that none of George Han and the others put his chopsticks, the old man only noticed at this time, and suddenly looked at everyone with a little embarrassment. However, even though the old man is still laughing now, his eyes clearly give birth to an imperceptible loneliness and low self-esteem.

Thinking of this, George Han smiled slightly: “No.” As soon as the voice fell, he would pick up his chopsticks on the spot.

Almost at this time, Wang Simin hurriedly reached out to stop George Han, and said anxiously: “What are you doing for George Han?”

“These things...how can you eat these things?”

Wang Simin couldn’t do it anxiously, and his facial features were a little distorted.

“Yes, three thousand, let’s just stay there, don’t eat anything, right?” Jianghu Bai Xiaosheng also hurriedly said.

Seeing everyone looking anxious, George Han frowned slightly: “If you don’t eat, you don’t respect others?”

“Respect? What kind of respect do you talk about with this kind of person?” Wang Simin said anxiously.

It may also be because of the emotional excitement, but this is a bit big, so that the old man and several other old men present could slightly hear it.

The old man suddenly frowned and was quite dissatisfied: “This young lady, what do you mean by this?”

Seeing that he accidentally missed the words, Wang Simin was also taken aback, and he simply broke the can and broke: “What do I mean? , Don’t you understand?”

Then, he muttered again: “It’s clear that I just pretend to be confused.”

George Han glared at Wang Simin quickly, beckoning her not to be so rude.

Hearing the sound, the old man finally couldn’t help it. He slapped his anger on the table, and slightly rose up: “Girl, you are so rude!”

“Huh, I’m rude?” The eldest lady Wang Simin was also ignited. She stood up on the spot and said in a cold voice, “Do I need to be polite to someone like you? That young man was so miserable just now, all for What you forced, you disgusting person, are still in front of me and talk to me?”

Hearing Wang Simin’s verbal abuse, the old man was slightly taken aback: “I was forced to do so?”

“That young man just now?!”

“Could it be you Can you still argue?” Wang Simin said coldly.

“Absurd!” The old man slapped the table fiercely: “That young man is the old man’s son, how can I quibble?”

Everyone including Wang Simin was dumbfounded...

“Your son?”
