Chapter 2665

“Yes!” Shengran nodded.

Seeing George Han puzzled, he smiled softly: “What’s your opinion?”

“I know this word, witch.” The pangolin also stood up and looked at the words on the paper, and couldn’t help but say.

George Han shook his head and looked at Shengran: “The word is indeed a recognition, but what does it mean?”

“Look at the structure of the word.” Shengran said.

“Witch, there are two people in the middle of the word, it’s nothing unusual?” The pangolin touched his head, really can’t think of anything.

George Han frowned and said nothing.

The creation of Chinese characters has been based on metaphysical creation throughout the ages, since Shengran deliberately allowed himself to split the structure of the characters.

Naturally, this witch character must represent something!

First, I contacted what the witch was, and then I contacted the words. Soon, George Han suddenly understood what, and his eyes widened: “The patriarch meant that the person between the sky and the earth?”

Shengran nodded: “Three thousand are really smart.”

“The upper horizontal is the sky, the lower horizontal is the ground, but the center is vertical. How can I explain it? George Han, you haven’t solved the witch character yet.” The pangolin pointed to the middle of the witch character. Vertical, shouted hurriedly.

As soon as he reminded, George Han did discover that there was no explanation for the vertical motion in the middle.

“This vertical represents the communication between heaven and earth?” Suddenly, George Han understood: “So Wu, is a person who communicates with heaven and earth, right?”

Shengran nodded, “Yes.”

“Pangu is exhausted.” I spent my whole life opening up the world and creating the world with the Pangu Axe, but at that time the sky was very short and the earth was very thick. Gods and men lived together on the ground, mixed and inseparable, and the connection between man and God was close and inseparable.”

“At that time, there were four ancient gods trees in the world, with the sky connected to the east and the ground down. The tree had ten golden crows, named Fusang. The tribe transformed by the golden crows was for Dongyi.”

“Yu Xinai is Ruomu, but the sun A place to rest.”

“Yubei is looking for wood, going up to the sky, and going down to the Nether Mingming.”

“As for the center, it is Jianmu.”

“Beside Jianmu, there is Wushan Mountain, and the top ten witch gods live on the mountain. Xian, Wu Ji, Wu Pan, Wu Peng, Wu Gu, Wu Zhen, Wu Li, Wu Da, Wu Xie, Wu Luo! The witch gods live on building wood, ascend to the sky, and descend to the people.”“What is the relationship between the witch god and the Five Elements God Stone?” George Han didn’t quite understand.

“There are some things I can’t tell you in too much detail, because the consequences are not something that my people and I can bear. All I can tell you is that afterwards, there were several wars between the world, and the world began to keep moving away because of this. , So that the four great sacred trees slammed on them. From then on, the wizard gods acted as transmitters, and their role was greatly revealed.”

“But because of this, the ambitions of the wizard gods have also been constantly enlarged, so that the status of wizards above the world is getting more and more important. High, some witch gods are even more affected by benefits and commit heinous crimes.”

“And this is also in this heinous crime, the Five Elements God Stone appeared, but because of the intention of the witch god, it turned it into a demon. Heart.”

“There is only so much I can say.” After Shengran finished speaking, he let out a long sigh.

George Han frowned: “I can understand that because some witch gods possess very important information, or deliberately fabricate some information, but in the middle of the betrayal and secretly colluding with the devil, in fact, they secretly mix the five elements. The power of the god stone was handed over to the demon. And the demon enhanced his own strength through the energy in the five elements of the god stone, and even refined it into his own heart?”

Shengran did not answer when he heard George Han’s words. Just a faint bitter smile, I don’t know whether it is denial or tacit approval.

“This is all what you said.” Shengran held back for a long time, seemingly not replying.

“Hey, you dead old man, half-talking, you are really boring. That is, I can’t beat you, otherwise, I will definitely kill you.” Pangolin murmured.

“It’s such a mess, huh? Did you scare you to pee? Still come here to talk?” The pangolin became more and more depressed as he said it, regardless of the face of the holy burning.

To change as usual, Shenglian was so spit out by pangolins. As the patriarch, he would never be polite to him, but today, he is really speechless.

Fear is a fact, but it is also because of fear that some things cannot be said.

“However, I have a question.” George Han raised his head slightly at this time, looking at the holy burning on the side, and suddenly discovered an extremely terrifying thing.

Chapter 2666

if the Five Elements God Stone is the Demon Heart, then it conforms to the setting that the ginseng baby is also born in the Demon Race. After all, the Five Elements God Stone is in the Demon Race, so it is not surprising that some of its parts are in the Demon Race.

But what about Huazhongyu and Shenyanzhu?

Even if Huazhongyu and Shenyanzhu were taken from the Demon Race to the Octagonal World for some reason, there is still a huge problem that needs to be solved urgently. How did he fall into the world of the Eight Desolation Heavenly Book?

You should know that the Bahuang Tianshu once said that there may be countless true gods in his world, but there are no people in the demons.

Could it be possible that the demon that took the five-element sacred stone was finally wiped out by a certain god, and after that, he took the five-element sacred stone and came to the Eight Desolation Book of Heaven?

After changing hands several times, I came to myself.

This seems to be the only reasonable and normal explanation, and everything makes sense.

If it was before, George Han would definitely believe that this might be the course of the matter.

But after experiencing the ginseng baby incident, George Han knew that things were not that simple.

If everything follows this explanation, then how can the person behind the ginseng baby strategize like a master of all the unknowns!

Therefore, this seemingly only reasonable explanation, at least after the person behind the ginseng baby appeared, was no longer reasonable.

There must be another side to the matter, or the truth is still being concealed.

Even at this moment, George Han was suspicious of this fellow from the Eight Desolation Heavenly Book.

It seems that it might be right not to ask him about the Five Elements God Stone. Not only will he not tell himself, but maybe when he knows he is asking this, he will be wary and uncertain.

However, for the question, George Han concealed the matter of the Eight Desolation Book of Heaven, and only asked why the Five Elements God Stone is the Demon Heart, but it is not in the realm of the Demon Race.

“About this question, I can’t answer you.” Shengran gently shook his head.

“His grandmother, either you don’t dare to say what you know, or you don’t know at all. Then I ask you what a hairy person?” The pangolin couldn’t stand it again, and he said directly depressed.

George Han stretched out his hand and shook his head: “I think, the saint patriarch has already told me.”

“Tell you? Damn, he didn’t say anything.” The pangolin was very depressed and touched his head, even a little suspicious of himself. What’s your life? The old Shengburn didn’t even put a fart. George Han and Shengran smiled at each other. Although Shengran didn’t say anything, it was precisely because he didn’t say anything. Instead, he told George Han some information.

The reason why the Demon Heart was not in the realm of the Demon Race was obviously closely related to the past or the secret that he didn’t dare to say.

At the same time, it also made George Han understand and affirm that this matter was far from being as simple as he had imagined.

Perhaps, a shocking mystery is slowly approaching himself step by step.

“Grandma’s, you two, mysterious and mysterious, there must be adultery.” Seeing the two of them, the pangolin murmured dissatisfiedly, and then he said: “Forget it, don’t tell Lao Tzu, forget it, Lao Tzu go chasing the fairy Go, and then give you this old thing as a son-in-law, then you guy, what secrets can I know?”

“If you can chase, the old man doesn’t mind.” Shengran laughed.

The pangolin frowned: "Damn, you old man, today you have changed sex, and you don't object to me chasing your daughter? Before you let it go, even if you don't scold me, you will say that Xianer is very busy..."

"Haha, I don't object to it. However, you have to have a chance to chase after you." Shengran said with a light smile.

"Now Pei Hu is gone, George Han also has a wife, Xian'er is mine, I have no rivals, I need to have a chance to chase?" The pangolin yelled depressed, even in his eyes. Vision and hope for a better future.

"Is that really the case?" Sheng Ran looked at him with a light smile.

Seeing the appearance of the holy burning, the pangolin's eyes only persisted for a second, and then suddenly looked away with a guilty conscience, and cursed and underestimated: "I fucking know, you bastard won't change suddenly. So kind, fuck!"

"What are you talking about?" Now, it was George Han's turn.

Unexpectedly, as soon as the voice fell, the two looked at George Han almost in unison, and said, "You!"

"Me?" George Han was stunned.

Chapter 2667

"Will you let me marry your daughter again?" George Han frowned.

"Maybe you can't marry my daughter, but it's okay to take a man back!" Shengran laughed.

"What are you laughing at? You laugh." The pangolin replied depressedly, and the more I thought about it, the worse my heart became: "Damn, what is the life of Lao Tzu? Obviously Lao Tzu was chasing girls, but was inexplicably caught Two men suppressed, what the hell is this? A Peihu left, and another George Han."

"You and Xian'er are just your personal pursuits, but that is your destiny." Shengran said softly. .

"Holy patriarch, his fate?" George Han couldn't help wondering if he didn't know what the two people were talking about.

Shengran nodded: "George Han, you should know the roughness of the yellow sand monster, right?"

George Han did not deny it.

“That’s right. The five-element sacred stone is called the five-element sacred stone because it gathers the five elements of the great gods, so it can blend the five elements and divide the five elements, so it is named. It’s time to return.”

“Am I wrong? Yellow sand monster?!”

“Damn, you are all right, you are great, right? I also use you to remind Lao Tzu, damn, ok, just leave, let Your daughter can’t get married, so be a widow, huh!” After speaking, the pangolin walked up to George Han’s side in a few steps.

“Can you make a request?” the pangolin asked.

“What’s the requirement?”

“I can return, but can I be the last one? Anyway, it’s still short of the diamond stone.” Pangolin said.

“Three thousand, because the Earth Spirit Orb belongs to the earth, it enjoys the power of the earth. The spiritual energy is very deep and can be transformed into a human form. You can really keep him by your side. Maybe in the future, he can help you find the Diamond Stone for the five elements. Return to the position and play the true role of the Five Elements God Stone!” Shengran also laughed softly on the side.

The Five Elements God Stone used to be accidentally fused with other three-type God Stones, and if someone really wanted to melt into his own God Stone, George Han really couldn’t bear it. nodded, George Han agreed.

“Okay, it’s not too early, you should also go back.” After speaking, Shengran took out a jade token from his arms and handed it to George Han’s hands: “Farewell to you, I don’t know what year and month. Seeing each other again, this is the holy card of my Kylin clan, and maybe in the future, I can help you.”

“How can you receive the gift of the saint patriarch?” George Han shook his head.

“Accept it, this thing may not be of great significance to others, but it may be of great help to you, so I am grateful that you have blocked the trouble for my Qilin family.” Shengran smiled. laugh.

George Han nodded: “If that’s the case, then it’s better for George Han to be respectful.”

“Okay, I’ll send you off.” Shengran finished speaking and made a gesture of asking.

It’s not too short to come out, George Han really wants to go back, all the way back to the outer door of the hall, George Han suddenly asked: “Yes, if Peihu is...”

“Don’t worry, I have my own. The method, besides, you have caused Pei Hu to suffer such a big humiliation. With his arrogant character, how can the old things be brought up again if you don’t kill you? It’s you, remember to be careful of his revenge.”

Nodded, George Han bowed. No, turn around and walk down the mountain.

“Hey, goodbye, the girl of my dream.” A reluctant glance toward the main hall, the pangolin also turned and followed George Han’s footsteps.

A group of two people walked all the way in the direction of the village.

On the way, George Han suddenly remembered something: “By the way, why would Pei Hu choose the girls of ordinary villagers to trade with you? I mean, if he wants a woman, based on his family status, that’s not a problem, right? ? ” “ because ordinary is not ordinary, you want to know? “pangolin suddenly smiled gently .....
