

His True Colors Novel Chapter 2878 - 2879

Chapter 2878

something was buried, and it was beating slightly at this time. Through the ashes, George Han could vaguely see the crimson red it exposed!

“What is this?”

George Han frowned. Could it be that this ghastly fellow hasn't completely died yet? !

Or is there something left?

Out of curiosity, or for safety reasons, George Han flew up and fell beside the ashes of the ghastly body!

Because of the close distance, George Han could barely see its shape roughly through its outline at this time, but because of the clear view, George Han's brows became tighter!

heart!

What this guy left in the ashes of his body was actually a heart about the size of a cow's heart!

The strangest thing is that it is beating very regularly at this time.

This...

Suddenly, just when George Han was wondering, the jumping bull's heart suddenly moved, and the whole body suddenly turned into a stream of black water. Before George Han could react, it suddenly followed George Han's feet suddenly got in.

George Han hurriedly used his true energy to quickly search in his body. This guy was so fast that he made several circles in George Han's body almost instantly.

However, George Han did not wait any longer, two forces quickly flanked him, and then, with a slight force, the blood was immediately forced out by George Han directly in the air.

Just when George Han started with a burst of energy to directly destroy it, it suddenly turned into a ball, and then with a soft bang, this guy actually exploded directly in the air!

As if a big blood bag suddenly exploded, countless blood sprayed out directly.

The distance was too close, and George Han's attention was completely attracted by this completely phantom heart. He didn't expect this guy to explode suddenly. Even if he hurriedly reached out to resist, there were blood spots on his arms and body. .

You can feel the stench of the blood almost without smelling it, but what irritates George Han more is, what the hell is this? !

No matter how George Han rubbed it, even if he rubbed his skin, it was almost broken, but the blood on his body remained as new as it was on his hands, unmoved at all! "Fuck, I was tricked again." George Han let out a gloomy cry, but saw a dark shadow passing by and running in a further direction.

The fake body is another fake body!

This guy has never been close here from start to finish, and has always used the same method to replay the old tricks, but it happened that he kept using the same method, which just made him as smart as George Han, and he was quite overwhelmed!

"Hahaha, George Han, you are too tender to fight with me."

"However, it's not early today. The old man has to go back to rest now. There is no time to pay attention to you."

"I will leave some memories for you, so as not to You have forgotten the old man, the mountains do not turn around, and you wash your ass and wait for the old man. The old man will come to you at any time."

"Haha, hahahaha!"

As the guy's arrogant laughter floated from a distance, his figure He also hides in the darkness more and more, until the echo is rippling, and the figure is gone.

"Damn it." George Han punched his palm depressedly, and was run away by this guy.

However, the poor were not chasing, and there was no time to chase them. Seeing that the time was delayed a lot, George Han endured the discomfort inside his body and the stench of blood outside his body, speeding up and flew towards Huazhou.

However, almost shortly after George Han left, in the same place just now, a figure who was exactly the same as the ghastly man turned out. Looking at the back of George Han away, he bloodthirsty licked himself. His lips revealed a dark sneer: "George Han, hum!"

As the explosion in the distance dissipated, after confirming that there was not much danger, Su Yan finally ordered Huazhou to slow down and wait for the return of George Han at a slow speed.

Under Qin Shuang's pull, Amelia Su still unwillingly grasped the railing beside the ship with her hands, her beautiful eyes staring at the endless night behind her almost eagerly.

She was waiting, waiting for the figure in her heart to appear sooner.

But half an hour has passed, and an hour has also passed. All that was left to her was endless disappointment.

But when her heart was about to break, a figure suddenly appeared in the distance...

Chapter 2879

Although that figure was very staggered, flying extremely low in the air, and even faltering at any time, how could Amelia Su not be clear after years of getting along, and the cusp of heart, this is George Han!

"Three...three thousand!" Amelia Su screamed in shock, and her hand desperately pointed behind Huazhou, for fear that Qin Shuang would not see it.

Seeing George Han's flying state, Qin Shuang's heart suddenly sank. With a slight force on her slender legs, Qianli's figure flew out like a swallow, and flew towards George Han all the way.

When he saw Qin Shuang flying towards him, George Han finally let out a sigh of relief.

The intense high temperature enveloped George Han like a steamer. Even if he didn't move, George Han felt the heat was unstoppable. In addition, he was flying all the way, and his body was already close to the limit in the high temperature.

Had it not been for George Han, with a powerful golden body blessing and a variety of huge energy to support, I am afraid that he would not need to be until now, he would have completely fallen in the middle of the road!

In addition, the huge explosion and the baking of the flames did not completely recover George Han's body.

Along the way, he came after him, relying on the support of a strong will. Therefore, when seeing Qin Shuang, George Han completely let go of all precautions, and without the support of strong will, the whole person was completely relaxed. As George Han's eyes closed slightly, His body was like a plane running out of fuel, crashing down.

Fortunately, Qin Shuang's speed was so fast that she hugged George Han in a downward acceleration dive. When she looked down and saw that George Han was covered with blood and severely burned skin, she couldn't help being shocked for a while, Wei Yi Gritting his teeth, with luck, Qin Shuang flew back to the deck with George Han.

Almost at the same time, Su Yan also came up with the green beads. When Qin Shuang put down George Han, a group of people immediately surrounded them with concern.

Although it was only a short distance away, there was no protection from the jade ice beads when he left Huazhou. At this time, Qin Shuang was also dripping with sweat, soaking half of his clothes.

However, she was not in the mood to take care of those and forced a burst of energy into George Han's body. Then, she looked at Amelia Su, who was already lying next to George Han, crying nervously: "Although there are both inside and outside of the body. There are a lot of injuries, but Amelia Su, don't worry, George Han just passed out in a coma and will not be in danger of life."

Amelia Su nodded heavily and stared at George Han who was in a coma. She slightly stretched out her hand to stop George Han. Qian's head rested in his arms, and his slender jade hand gently stroked his lover's damaged skin, feeling distressed for a while.

"Lvzhu, let me know that Huazhou has returned to normal speed." Su Yan hurriedly ordered.

Green nodded, and hurried to the bottom of the dock to inform. Su Yan glanced at Qin Shuang and then at Amelia Su: "First take three thousand back to the room to rest."

After that, Su Yan ignored her noble status and didn't care about Han. The stench of George Han put one of George Han's hand on his shoulder, and helped Amelia Su carry George Han into the room where Amelia Su lived on the second floor.

The sky was over, and the night was gradually passed through while Lord Amelia Su took care of the other female assistants, ushering in a new round of dawn.

George Han opened his eyes in a daze, he saw the tired Amelia Su lying on the edge of his bed and fell asleep gently, and Nian'er was also snuggling next to him.

But when he was fully awake and opened his eyes, there was only Nian'er in the room leaning against him as he saw in the confusion. The one lying on the bedside did not see Amelia Su.

But the traces by the bed seemed to tell that Amelia Su had really been here before. He wanted to get up and take a closer look, but made a noise, which attracted the three daughters of Su Yan and Qin Shuang.

Three daughters surprise When George Han woke up, George Han also looked for Amelia Su among the three women, but the result was extremely disappointing.

"Om!"

Suddenly, at this moment, a loud noise hit!
