Chapter 2916

From

doubt to doubt, George Han nodded and took Su Yan back to his room.

Almost when George Han closed the door, Su Yan already whispered anxiously: “I wonder...Can you go back to your boat first?”

“What’s wrong?” George Han frowned.

“Amelia Su asked me when the Su family’s master could arrive. I think...” Su Yan said this, but did not continue to talk about this topic: “I’m afraid that there will be clues along the way that will affect the two of you. So when I was out of the city, I had already used secret orders to ask the elders and uncles of the Su family to wait for me on the border, and give you enough time.”

“But right now, the desert border is close at hand. If there is no accident, tomorrow morning. We will do it. Reachable.”

“Listening to Amelia Su, once I reach the destination, I want to share with you...” Su Yan didn’t say the last word.

Hearing this, George Han was silent at the same time, but he was also very puzzled. Wasn’t it all okay yesterday? Why overnight she...

“Is it because I left her out of the cold yesterday?” George Han asked.

Su Yan shook her head: “I don’t think it’s like it. She was in a depressed mood all day today. She didn’t reply to asking her, so I mean...”

“I always feel that Amelia Su thinks she will bring you Trouble has come, now it’s night. In case there is another raid, she will be even more uncomfortable. This is not good for your relationship.”

George Han nodded: “Okay, then tell the pangolin and let him take care of it. Everything here, as for Senior Sister Qin Shuang. She can no longer use any spells, this is my death order.”

Su Yan was obviously a little strange about George Han’s words. However, George Han did not explain the specific reason, and she did not want to ask: “I know.”

After saying this, George Han walked out of the room. Open the door on the second floor all the way, and walked towards the attic above the deck.

In the attic, Qinglong and his eight brothers were curled up everywhere and fell asleep, even though they were in the hot desert. But the suitable temperature of Huazhou still made the nine monsters who had been exhausted after cleaning up the night sleep soundly.

When the door opened, there was a sound. The nine people woke up from their sleep almost at the same time and looked back. George Han walked out slowly at this time. I saw George Han coming out. In addition to Qinglong, the other eight people looked different. Several dissatisfied people headed by the Tigers turned their heads to one side, and some looked at Han with wary eyes. Three thousand, but Qinglong. Not humble or say anything, looking at George Han faintly.

Glancing at the surrounding area that was basically restored and tidy, even the broken attic was repaired and refurbished, George Han smiled slightly. Stopped and glanced at the nine people present: "Thanks for your hard work." The few people turned their heads to one side and ignored them, but the fierce tiger gave a cold snort and said with disdain: "It sounds nice. What else? Cooperation, I think some people just treat us as servants at all."

"Don't worry, our brothers have the final say, since you promised you will not cross the pool for half a step. They also locked the door and laughed to death." The tiger snorted. The other immediately caught up with the cynicism.

George Han smiled and nodded: "It's just some internal affairs. Now it's basically finished."

"Then how do you plan to settle us? Don't you plan to let us sleep in the attic? This place is nice and the scenery Okay, but it's too cold for sleeping, isn't it?" Tiger said coldly.

"Except for some female relatives on the second floor in Huazhou, everyone can move freely." George Han laughed softly.

Upon hearing this, a group of people suddenly frowned. After all, they had never thought that George Han would suddenly be so generous, so generous that they all felt a little weird.

"You didn't joking with us? Are you afraid that we will mess around and retaliate against you?" Tiger refused.

"Just like what you said, since your brothers speak up, then I, George Han, will naturally be honest." After that, George Han smiled slightly: "Besides, our cooperation is beneficial to both parties, so why not do it? ?"

George Han patted Qinglong's shoulder: "Since everyone has opened their hearts to each other and made the first transaction, what do you think?"

Qinglong heard the words, smiled, nodded, and then, the two of them suddenly Get up...

when the other eight eccentrics reflected, George Han and the Qinglong were already living on the broken plank placed by George Han several hundred meters away from the stern. The two sat cross-legged face to face.

“Brother Tiger, can that guy really believe it?” At this moment, Ma’s head leaned aside and asked while looking at Qinglong and George Han in the distance.

The tiger’s brows tightened and frowned: “The three mad dog brothers have been killed on the scene, and our perverse actions have nowhere to do. The most important thing is that all three of their life beads are in his hands. Is there any other choice?” The bull’s head also grows. In a sigh of relief: “Going back is not only death. On the contrary, we may be insulted by the reputation of our twelve death gods. It is better to follow this guy and complete the transaction to ensure that our twelve brothers still have the possibility of reunion. At the same time, Can improve ourselves.”

“Although this will also affect our reputation, at least there is still a chance to come back. Brother Tiger is right, we have no choice.” The mouse also stepped forward slightly and walked over the railing: “Looking at that kid is both vicious in his methods, but also quite scheming and capable. Since he has promised him. Let us brothers keep their promises.” What if you don’t keep your promises? It seems that George Han emptied the Huazhou to them, but the core of the twelve of them was a blue dragon. But in the hands of George Han!

The tiger nodded and raised his big hand: “You can hear everything clearly, don’t move about one person and one thing on the boat at will, offenders. Don’t blame Lao Tzu for turning his face and not acknowledging people.”

At this time, above the deck.

George Han took out a game of chess. Sitting down with Qinglong, Qinglong didn’t ask much, and after taking the chess piece, he directly played against George Han.

George Han attacked fiercely, and defensively. Qinglong couldn’t help being serious in just a few steps of the skill of chess.

However, as the game continued, Qinglong gradually resisted George Han’s offensive, and began to make great moves frequently. Forcing George Han to defend in a hurry.

“The gossip technique is really surprising.” Looking at it was almost dead. George Han couldn’t help but shook his head and smiled bitterly.

“The way of all things originates from this. Naturally, it is the body, and it is easy to turn all things into a palm.” Qinglong said slightly George Han nodded his head inconspicuously. Throughout the ages, all those who are proficient in the five-element gossip technique have been extraordinary geniuses. The hero of the famous move, the master of the hidden world, these are enough to see the extraordinary features of the five elements and gossip.

The deal with Qinglong, what George Han wanted to learn was these gossip techniques. After all, while he himself was interested in these, he also possessed such divine objects as the Five Elements Divine Stone.

Even if you don't need it, take 10,000 steps back, heaven and earth organs. Divination and all other things are based on this, knowing that this is all profitable and harmless.

“When you use various techniques such as confluence, you will know the principles produced by the world, naturally. The structure or analysis, but it is between your thoughts.” Finished. Qinglong grabbed George Han's chess piece and put it slightly on the chessboard. Suddenly, George Han's seemingly dead-end game was suddenly revitalized by Qinglong.

Even George Han, who is skilled in chess, couldn't help his eyes shine at this time, and secretly admired Qinglong's move. It was simply wonderful.

“To know why, first dismantle the chessboard.” Qinglong smiled.

George Han didn't talk nonsense, nodded obediently, and stared at the chessboard seriously.

A little bit in Qinglong's hand, for a moment, a wave of water suddenly appeared on the entire chessboard, the chess pieces gradually disappeared, and the light spots turned by the chess pieces appeared instead.

“How about this?” Qinglong said softly.

George Han's eyes widened unexpectedly, and he gratefully glanced at the blue dragon. If he only looked at these light spots through the water waves, George Han was surprised to find that the various chess pieces they had just turned into two. Black and white double lines.

The black one belongs to his own, and the white one belongs to Qinglong.

The two-line outline seemed to outline two weird shapes, but for a time George Han couldn't tell what it looked like.

Qinglong smiled again, and moved his hands, one cathode gossip and one anode gossip took out his hand, and then the two hexagrams merged into one and gently buckled on the water wave.

Suddenly, George Han's eyes lit up...
