

His True Colors Novel Chapter 2986 - 2987

Chapter 2986

I saw three figures staggered among the boulders above the mountainside.

Among them, a white shadow floats like a fairy, the whole body is flowing light, the beautiful eyes are like water, and the facial features are delicate.

Opposite her, standing two black and white double evil spirits, wrapped in long clothes, could not see their appearance, only the cold light and the slight desire in their eyes.

George Han frowned slightly and stopped.

“There are such beauties in the land of the demons, even if they are in the Central Plains, they are not in vain.” George Han said leisurely.

Compared with the barrenness of the land of the demon race, this big beauty is simply too out of place, giving people a strong visual contradiction, but it also attracted more attention from George Han.

“Two options, one, have fun with our buddies, and then give us some of your family’s things, this matter, let’s settle this matter.”

“Second, the brothers have strengthened you, and then take you back to grab the things. “After the white-clothed person finished speaking, he and the black-clothed person next to each other looked at each other, and both couldn’t help but sneer in unison.

“Dreaming!” The big beauty in white gave a cold voice.

“Hehe, the daughter of the Phoenix is really extraordinary, not only beautiful, but even the sound of cursing is so beautiful, I don’t know if I will play it, will it be better!” When the words fell, the white-clothed person suddenly turned into a light and shadow. Directly attacked the big beauty.

The big beauty is not nonsense, her eyes are certain, the jade hand is a palm struck towards the white-clothed person, with a secret technique in the palm, this palm is obviously extraordinary.

However, almost at this time, the man in black suddenly disappeared in place, and when the big beautiful woman greeted the man in white with a palm, he suddenly flashed out from behind and slapped it directly with a black palm.

Even if the big beautiful woman slapped the white-clothed person with a palm, she was surprised to find that she was attacked and hurriedly wanted to dodge sideways, but it was obviously too late.

Following the big beautiful woman's muffled grunt, the man in black slapped her shoulder with a palm crooked, and the big beautiful woman took a few steps back, and blood flowed down the corner of her mouth.

The blow succeeded, and the black and white people looked at each other and smiled. The white-clothed man stood up, looked at the big beauty, and said: "How about? Big beauty, are you still dreaming?" seeing the humorous eyes of the two, the big beautiful woman's eyes were full of anger. She wanted to lift her anger and hit again, but the injury on her shoulder directly caused her beautiful face to show a trace of hideousness. She couldn't help but stepped back cautiously, trying to keep a distance from them to prevent the situation from happening again.

"Do you still want to do it? We have been playing for nearly half an hour, have you hurt our brother at all?" The man in black sneered and laughed.

The face of the big beauty is even more ugly, but this is an irrefutable fact.

Seeing the beautiful woman not speaking, the eyes of the white-clothed person are even more proud. In the eyes of the two brothers, the beautiful woman in front of them is just a lamb waiting to be slaughtered: "Don't waste your energy. With this energy, you might as well stay I will accompany our brothers to enjoy them when they have fun."

"It is said that the Phoenix woman has a unique taste and can make people want to die. Today, my brothers are in good luck. I didn't expect to meet them in their lifetime."

"No, we can still taste it, hahahaha." The two laughed wildly. The next second, the two looked at the big beauty almost at the same time, and the eyes were so red that there was no need to say more.

"You guys!" The big beautiful woman grabbed her neckline subconsciously, anxious and angry for a while.

However, he couldn't fight, and he couldn't retreat, so he could only watch the two rascals getting closer and closer to him.

She has been retreating subconsciously, but when she suddenly bumped into something behind her, she was unable to retreat. However, she frowned suddenly, because the thing she bumped into...

didn't seem to be a mountain, let alone a rock. Instead, it was hard with a bit of softness, like a human body...

I looked up, this When the two of Shi Na black and white also put away their previous teasing, they looked behind her with vigilant eyes, and she looked back subconsciously, and a handsome face came into her eyes.

It was... George Han.

Chapter 2987

I don't know that it was the demons who lived for too long. Perhaps George Han's appearance really hit her heart perfectly. She looked at George Han for a while, and she was a little stunned.

"Girl!" George Han couldn't help but remind her softly.

She then realized that she felt a little guilty about her gaffe, but when she was about to say sorry, she suddenly found that her body was still tightly leaning on George Han's body, her face flushed, and her face became even more serious. Some panicked.

George Han smiled slightly and took the initiative to give up a figure, keeping a little distance from her.

Settling her heart down, the big beautiful woman suddenly realized that she was still in danger. She glanced at George Han. For a while, she wanted to ask George Han to leave, but she trusted George Han to help her. , For a time, the entanglement in the beautiful eyes was extremely tangled.

"Cough!" Feeling her gaze, George Han coughed softly and looked at the black and white Shuangsha on the opposite side.

"Smelly boy, where did you come out?" The man in black suddenly shouted coldly.

George Han was really real. He looked back at the hillside behind him and replied: "Oh, I just saw you fighting. I took a second look and felt a little unhappy, so I walked slowly from there. "

Hearing this, the man in black was so angry that he exploded in place. On the surface, George Han was answering his questions, but what he answered was always extremely uncomfortable.

The white-clothed person hurriedly reached out to block the black-clothed man, and said in a low voice, "The other party's origin is unknown. Don't take it rashly, so as not to be deceived."

Then, the white-clothed person looked at George Han and said coldly: "Boy, Zai Mo In the land of the clan, don't care about nostalgia, otherwise you will easily get angry. If you are smart, where you came from and where to go."

“That’s right, you’d better not intervene indiscriminately, or don’t blame our brothers for being rude to you.” “The man in black also shouted angrily.

George Han smiled: “I didn’t intend to intervene.”

Upon hearing this, the beautiful lady looked at George Han in shock. She really didn’t expect that a man with such a good-looking appearance would be such a ruthless waste. .

However, the black and white Shuangsha laughed out loud. At least this kid was very interesting. Then, the man in black gave a look in his eyes, indicating that George Han was ready to go. George Han nodded, turned around and walked to the side.

The big beauty looked at George Han’s back very depressed, and she wanted to stop talking. She really wanted to curse George Han, but at this time, the black and white Shuangsha saw George Han leave, and had already smiled wickedly. One step closer to the big beauty, she didn’t have the time and effort to scold him anymore.

Turning around, the beautiful woman just wanted to escape, but the man in black was already blocking her. Looking back, the man in white was also getting closer. For a while, the beautiful woman could only stay in place and anxious and angry.

“Little beauty, I see where you are going.” The man in black smiled evilly, and rushed directly at the big beauty on the spot.

The big beautiful woman hurriedly moved her hand, trying to block her, but her hand reached mid-air, but her hands were already held by her big hands. Looking back, the white-clothed person had appeared next to her for some time, holding her at this moment. Hand, looking at her with a smirk.

She was anxious and wanted to hit the white-clothed man with her other hand, but almost immediately after raising her hand, the other pair of big hands had already stuck her hand tightly.

Looking back, the person in black who was holding her other hand also had a mean smile on his face.

“Hey, little beauty, do you want to hit us? But hitting is kiss, cursing is love.” The black man smiled shamelessly.

“Come on, I will let you love one.” The white-clothed man gently put her jade hand on his mouth with a wretched look.

The big beauty wanted to struggle desperately, and being caught by two people had already made her extremely annoyed. They had to put their hands on their mouths. She felt sick even thinking about it.

“The more you struggle, the more excited we are.” The man in black laughed, and a stinky mouth also leaned on the jade neck of the big beauty.

In the face of the left and right pincers, the big beauty has fallen, but at this moment, an untimely voice rang.

The three of them stopped almost at the same time, looking for reputation.

I saw that George Han did not leave at this time. Instead, he found a big rock and sat down, and then took off his shoes like an uncle. The sound was made by slamming his shoes on the stone and fanning the soil. Voice...

“The mountain road is full of gravel, and the stone got in the shoe, I shake it, you don’t care about me, continue...” George Han smiled carelessly.
