

His True Colors Novel Chapter 3116 - 3117

Chapter 3116

Upon hearing Devil Dragon's words, George Han was originally puzzled, and now he was even more puzzled: "Damn, what do you mean by this?"

"Do you know where it came from?"

Tiamat Lengheng heard: "not sure at first, but, during your play with him for so long, I have observed the next, it is in line with the old legend."

"What ancient legend legend"??

inherently Curious, to this little black stick, George Han looks like a three-year-old child looking at the outside world. Now, when the Devil Dragon talks about it, he even connects it directly with any ancient legend, which directly makes George Han. The whole person is more difficult to extricate themselves.

If there is an adjective for urgent, and it is still a verb, then the saliva must have flowed out.

"Do you want to know?" The Dragon asked softly.

George Han nodded.

"Do you really want to?"

"..."

"Ask you."

"Yes."

"Okay." The magic dragon nodded slightly, and said: "I really want to know, because I didn't plan to tell you."

I heard it. With this, George Han almost didn't spit out a mouthful of old blood. After a long stretch, you finally told me this? !

"Do you want to die?" George Han said depressed.

"I'm dead, do you think you can get over it?" Devil Dragon said with disdain.

"Don't worry, even if I have a bad time, it would be more happier than you died." George Han rolled his eyes: "You are so fooling me, don't you know if you have a word? You can kill you and you can't be insulted." ,

"after all, we two get along for so long"

"how, I want to make finished playing the emotional card" Tiamat words I hear, there were already three thousand Han interrupted excitedly: "? you just play with me, not miscellaneous Considering our relationShanep?"

"You misunderstood." The magic dragon rolled his eyes anger, and sighed helplessly: "I mean, we have been together for so long, if you want to know, if I know, I will definitely fall in love."

"But the question is. Yes..."

"There are some things you can't know yet."

"Or, you don't deserve to know your current qualifications."

" Not worthy..." George Han almost fainted when he heard this, killing someone. I still have to punish my heart, but I'm afraid it's nothing more than that.

Although George Han has never been an arrogant person, at least with his current ability, he is not very strong in this world of all directions, but he shouldn't be mixed up with someone who is not worthy of even wanting to know any broken legend, right?

This is really fucking hurt.

However, just when George Han was quite depressed, he suddenly remembered something as if: "Isn't it?" The dragon smiled slightly, did not speak, as if waiting for George Han's words.

"This legend of you? Isn't it involved in something ancient?" George Han frowned suspiciously, looking at the soul of the devil dragon.

Obviously, what else can be the legend that I am not qualified to know?

Maybe at the time I heard that the dragon was humiliating myself, but if I think carefully and calmly, if what the dragon said is not insulting himself, then it must be true.

And if it is true, then he is not qualified to know, then what can it be? !

The only thing George Han could think of was the sealed ancient legend that had some brows before, but has been silenced everywhere.

"That is to say, this little black stick is an ancient thing?" George Han frowned.

Molong smiled lightly, shook his head, and said: "This is what you said, I haven't said a word."

Hearing Molong's answer, George Han was even more certain that his guess was basically correct. of.

Thinking of this, although George Han's spiritual consciousness was in his head, his body's eyes couldn't help looking at the little black stick right in front of him.

The Devil Dragon is basically a guy who can't grow old anymore, but this little black stick is still something that exists in the ancient legend in the mouth of the Devil Dragon.

In other words, this thing is even a lot longer in the morning than the magic dragon?

Ancient things, different from the present, will appear sooner or later means a lot, and even a terrifying gap in strength.

But this little black stick in front of you, so strange and unremarkable, yet... has such a shocking past? I can't help but feel stunned and speechless for a while.

But after thinking about it carefully, there is no denying it.

After all, this little black stick is really too peculiar, otherwise George Han wouldn't be so curious.

"Do you want to know how to use it." At this time, the magic dragon opened his mouth...

Chapter 3117

George Han stunned, and then nodded frantically, like a chicken pecking at rice.

But in the next second, George Han frowned slightly: "No, you can't tell me, can you? You won't sell me off again?" The magic dragon smiled softly, "Do you know the secret artifact?"

"You don't need to answer me," You definitely don't know."

"Then you still ask..." George Han was very depressed.

If you are not particularly curious about this stuff, George Han swears that he will absolutely fight the Devil Dragon. It is too bullying and insulting.

However, what is the secret artifact?

George Han knew all kinds of magical weapons, even the innate-type God-defying weapons such as Pangu Axe and Xuanyuan Sword, as well as some relatively inferior types of purple-gold magical weapons.

But what the secret artifact is, George Han doesn't know if he knows, he has never heard of it.

Seeing George Hanyi's face was very depressed, but because of curiosity, he suppressed his anger and looked at him pitifully. The magic dragon smiled bitterly: "The so-called heavenly secret artifacts are weapons and not weapons, armor and not armor, treasures and not treasures. , It's you, not you."

"In short, Wonderful and Wonderful is weird, in the form of the five elements, and not within the five elements."

"Wait a minute." George Han called to stop in time, what mess, just heard This he is already full of slurries, and what kind of weapons, armors and treasures are not enough, it is messy enough, the most outrageous and bullShanet is what is right and wrong is not self.

What does this mean?

George Han couldn't understand at all, and he was a little silly.

"I really can't understand these things you are talking about."

"It doesn't matter whether you understand it or not, you can understand it naturally when you reach that level."

"..." George Han was speechless, no wonder the Devil Dragon refused to say this before, but when it came to this meeting, he said it directly without any effort. After a long time, he said something that he didn't understand at all.

No wonder...

Damn!

"..." The Devil Dragon was also somewhat helpless.

"Okay." George Hanyi gritted his teeth: "You're cruel. But, can you tell me a little bit, just a little bit, but give me anything useful?" The dragon muttered, and said nothing for a while: "I have said that. Enough."

"Many farts, I didn't understand a word." George Han said speechlessly.

Devil Dragon helplessly chirped, looked at George Han, and shook his head.

“The two of us are one, I am also hello, isn't it? Xiaolonglong?”

“...”

“This is a fact, I honor you, if I get fucked, do you think you will save face? And , I'm in a dangerous situation now. If there is any accident, we will both be finished.” The dragon's head tilted, it seems that the same reasoning is true, and he held back for a long time: “Okay, okay, then I'll talk to you a little bit.”

“However, the ugly words are at the forefront. If someone asks about it in the future, you will never talk to anyone. Note that it is anyone, including your wife and daughter, who mentioned what I said to you today.”

“You can do it .” Are you there?”

Faced with this question, George Han was naturally confused, and just talked about it. As for this?

However, since the magic dragon had this request, George Han thought it over and nodded: “Yes, I promise you.”

“Okay.” The magic dragon nodded: “Then I will tell you something useful to you. The thing.”

“This is the heaven and the god, the natural heaven and the spirit of the earth. It is neither the five elements nor the five elements. It is neither a thing nor a thing. And one return, and one return to the root.”

“So, can you understand it?”

George Han didn't speak, but his mind was quick to taste and digest the words of the magic dragon. One divided into two, and then divided into ten thousand, but all went into one, and one returned. Of the foundation.

These words seem to have known each other before, like the avenue of heaven and earth.

However, using it on the small black stick seems to be another reason.

After thinking about it for a long time, George Han suddenly remembered something, and then he looked at the soul of the dragon strangely: "You mean..." The dragon smiled softly: "I don't mean anything, if you understand something. , That is also your own understanding, remember the agreement between you and me." After the words fell, everything returned to peace, and the magic dragon took the initiative to withdraw from the divine consciousness.

George Han returned to his senses blankly, looking at the little black stick in front of him, remembering the last words of the Devil Dragon in his mind, and suddenly, a light flashed in his eyes: "Is it that way?"
