

His True Colors Novel Chapter 3148 - 3149

Chapter 3148

The city wall is extremely thick, so the cave where the city gate is located is also full of grievances.

A group of dogmen looked back, only to hear the sound of footsteps at the entrance of the cave, and then three figures slowly walked out from the shadow of the entrance of the city gate.

The head is naturally the extraordinary George Han. Behind him, the old man and Xia Wei are with him.

A group of dog people frowned slightly, obviously a little surprised at the sudden appearance of George Han.

But this kind of surprise is almost only a few seconds, because one is their place, and the other is that except for George Han, it is just an old man, a woman's wife, and there is no deterrent.

And even George Han, compared with the two-meter-tall group of giant spider-like dogmen, is obviously nothing more than a "weak" little garbage.

"Who I thought it was? It turned out to be you." Seeing George Han, the leading dogman sneered disdainfully.

The dog's mouth was originally peculiar, and it cracked a little, and there was a kind of permeation that no one could tell.

George Han smiled slightly, looked at the leading dogman faintly, and said nothing.

Seeing the look in George Han's eyes, the dogman didn't care at all, and smiled coldly: "I thought your three brains were clever, knowing this is an ambush, and ran away ahead of time, leaving only this fool."

"Unexpectedly, I'm back again."

“It’s also very good. I will serve you in one pot, and I will have to chase you three.”

When the words fell, he waved his big hand, and after a while, a dozen dogmen gathered next to the lead dogman in a few steps, and looked at George Han with a wicked smile, as if a group of evil dogs were staring at the lamb at this time.

“Lao Han, what the hell are you doing back? Hurry up.” The pangolin hurriedly yelled to George Han, seeing that the situation was not right.

George Han has the skills, but this group of dog people are also quite weird. Who knows how well they are?

Moreover, since ancient times, the strong dragon has not crushed the snake, let alone the strong dragon George Han has no time to delay here.

George Han did not leave, but looked at the arrogant leader dogman, and slowly opened his mouth: “Let him go.”

Let him go?

The leading dogman digs out his own dog ears, seeming to suspect that he has heard it wrong, and jokingly laughed: “What the fuck are you talking about?”

“Either you let him go, or I killed you and saved him by myself. Did you hear clearly?” George Han said coldly.

The leading dogman froze for a moment, and the next second, after looking at each other with a few dogmen accomplices beside him, he suddenly burst into laughter. Among them, many of them were almost straightened up with their hands on their stomachs and laughed.

“Hahahaha, did you hear that, what did the idiot just say?”

“Haha, he said he would kill us.”

“Ha ha ha ha.”

A group of people laughed wildly, defending Buddha as if they had heard the funniest joke.

The pangolin parted his face. At this moment, how madly George Han was being laughed at, the sense of guilt in his heart would be so deep.

If they weren't impulsive and confused, why would they be there?

"You stupid, you really don't know where your self-confidence comes from? You can dare to be so rampant because of you?" After laughing, the leading dogman suddenly changed his face and turned angrily.

"Isn't it, Stupid, I came to the land of the red soil, and I dared to speak like this when I came to my Devil Cloud Ghost City. It seems that you really don't know how many eyes your Grandpa Ma has."

"If you are wise and understanding, now kneel down and call grandpa a few times, I can stay and make you die a little faster, otherwise, hum..."

After speaking, the man glanced at the dry bones in the sand nearby, as if warning George Han's fate.

George Han smiled leisurely, unconsciously.

"Three thousand, leave me alone, you go. I am satisfied to see you come back, I am sorry for you, I personally apologize to you. If there is an afterlife, I can follow you, I swear no matter what you say, My pangolin will never say a word, let's go." The pangolin yelled anxiously.

After saying that apology, he has died without regret.

"Since I am a brother, there is nothing to be sorry for." George Han responded, then glanced at dozens of dogmen, and said coldly: "You still have five seconds to give the answer."

"Five seconds?" Several dogmen were angry and funny, his mother approved, this idiot actually played a countdown with them.

"Time is up." George Han's expression was cold, and his hand moved. Xia Wei handed George Han's jade sword into his hand, and the small black stick also turned into its body, faintly hanging behind George Han...

Chapter 3149

“Fuck you, you still have time with me, I can’t kill you.” The leading dogman was furious. For him, he should be the one who counts down the time, not should It’s George Han.

What kind of dog is he? !

When the words fell, the lead dog fell on all fours, like a spider, drifting directly and rushing towards George Han.

And the dogmen around him, like him, immediately rushed towards George Han.

“Help me take care of them, I’m going to beat the dog.” George Han glanced at the small black stick hanging behind him indifferently. The divine sword, like a shadow changing its shape, directly greeted it.

“Om!” The

black light flashed on the little black stick, and the figure changed in the next second, unexpectedly a George Han appeared, abruptly blocking Xia Wei and the old man.

“Huh!”

Almost at the same time, George Han who rushed up had already directly confronted a dozen dogmen.

With only a crisp sound, the dogmen suddenly stopped moving on the spot.

“Wow! In the next second, at the waist level, the upper body fell from their waist.

Neatly, there are exactly four, no more and no less than one.

“What? “

The leading dogman rushing in the front not only attacked the air on the spot, but also just felt a wind blowing by his side, but in a blink of an eye, the four brothers were already cut in half on the spot!

“Fuck. “The leading dogman was furious, turned around and furiously attacked George Han.

But George Han ignored him at all. When his figure moved, there was a crash, and the four dogmen came on the spot. Half. The lead dogman was dumbfounded.

To say that the angry attack did not pay attention just now, and I was afraid that George Han would succeed in the attack, then now, that is actually happening in front of his own eyes.

Before he even had time to lift his feet, he had already chopped four more to the ground with one sword.

What the hell did you meet a monster? !

Before he could think clearly, he heard another bang, and his whole heart couldn't help but tremble slightly.

Four more fell on the spot.

“This...” In the blink of an eye, the twelve subordinates were already dead, and the previous arrogance was all turned into shock and terror at this time.

It's amazing, it's really amazing.

Suddenly, he saw George Han stop at this time, and stood in front of the remaining four people, and his four subordinates were obviously also scared at this time, backing back again and again.

The Anti-Buddha Reaper is approaching them.

The lead dogman immediately frightened a trace of insidious eyes, he exchanged his eyes at one of his four men, and then, he quickly attacked George Han's back at an extremely fast speed.

With his speed, he believed that he could reach George Han's back in an instant, and deal a fatal blow to him.

To say that his speed is really fast enough, Xia Wei found out his purpose almost immediately, but before he had time to shout, the leading dogman over there had rushed to less than one meter behind George Han. .

With his hands wide open, his claws were like ten steel knives, and he slashed at George Han frantically.

Wow!

As soon as there was a bang, a bang followed.

Han Sanqianyijian took away the four dogmen in front of him, and his body pressed with his legs, turning slightly, and he directly hit the leading dogman's chest with a fierce call.

“puff!”

The red and yellow blood spurted directly from the mouth, and the body of the leading dogman instantly flew back tens of meters, and then slammed heavily on the ground.

He shrank from the ground in a panic and looked at George Han incredulously: “You...you...you...”

George Han ignored him at all, and looked at the group of dogmen holding the pangolins in a blink of an eye. .

Seeing George Han looking over, the group of dogs suddenly backed away in shock, apparently fearing George Han to the extreme.

For so many years, I have seen so many ruthless people, but I have never seen such a ruthless person.

Seeing this, the leading dogman endured the pain in his chest and got up from the ground. While George Han looked towards the pangolin, he suddenly accelerated and rushed to the pangolin's neck, his slender fingers pressed against the pangolin's neck. , Suppressed the fear in his heart, looked at George Han, and said, “Don't move, I'll kill him again.”

George Han stopped and smiled slightly...
