

HTC 4131

Chapter 4131

Just when George Han was completely confused, the shadow was a few steps forward, and then came to the downside next to the lava behemoth below.

A slight black qi shot out from his hand, gently covering his back, and the next second, the stone giant that had been completely withered, but the stone on his entire body turned red.

“This thing is really powerful, but what’s even more powerful is that he can constantly regenerate and repair himself. It can be said to be immortal, and every death is actually a stronger self.” Sombra said.

“There are such powerful people in the world?” Amelia Su asked in surprise.

Immortality and immortality are already terrifying. If every death and rebirth will be infinitely enhanced, how can such an enemy be dealt with? !

“There are such powerful people in the world.” The shadow nodded and smiled.

“I understand.” George Han

, who was beside him, seemed to understand why such a forbidden place was left on the ancient battlefield.

“Oh?” Hei Ying couldn’t help asking when he saw that George Han seemed to have reacted.

“He is immortal, so the only way to defeat him is to seal him, senior, am I right?” George Han asked.

Seemingly surprised by George Han’s words, the shadow was stunned for a moment, and after a while, he nodded: “You are right.”

“The ancient battlefield has not disappeared, not only because countless great gods have fallen here. , so the ghosts left behind cannot be three, the spiritual energy cannot be vented, and finally the realm transformed. In fact, this place used to be a seal.” George Han said.

“That’s right. You’re very smart. With a little hint, you can infer other things.” Sombra smiled with satisfaction.

“Then since the younger generation is right, I also begin to understand why strangers here should not approach.” George Han said.

He smiled again, and even a faint laughter came out of his mouth.

Obviously, George Han’s cleverness made him very happy.

There is a huge amount of resentment and spiritual energy here, and it is true that it is a world of its own, but in fact it is within it because it is prohibited here.

Once a living person enters, the prohibition here may be broken at any time.

And the evil monsters needless to say, they were going to die here.

All the mysteries seem to have revealed a lot.

“However, you know how the situation is, and in fact, you also understand how dangerous it is now. As I said, the best way for you right now is to get out of here quickly. Within the restriction, no matter how strong he is, it is useless.”

“And, He will slowly recover to his original strength and appearance under the suppression of the ban.”

“Senior, I will not leave.” George Han shook .

He is very clear about the purpose of his coming here. If he can't achieve it, going out is just a matter of survival.

“Also, since you already know that this place can help you get back to normal, you will definitely not leave here. In fact, if you want to deal with him in the ban, it is not impossible.” Hei Ying said.

“Oh?” Hearing this, George Han hurriedly saluted slightly, very respectfully: “I also ask the seniors to enlighten me.”

“The Pangu axe in your hand,” he said.

“Pangu Axe?”

“Pangu Axe is the king of all weapons. It is invincible and indestructible. No one, anything, or anything can stop its edge. Therefore, Pangu Axe can naturally break through thousands.”

“But I Now...” George Han looked helplessly at the Pangu axe in his hand, full of bitterness.

It is brave, but the problem is that it is a waste, not to mention that it is basically useless , even if it is in its heyday, it cannot exert its true strength at all.

“The problem also appears here.” The shadow sighed, full of helplessness.

George Han holds the strongest soldier in the world, but he has no ability or method to exert his true abilities.

“Then senior, is there any other way?” George Han asked anxiously.

The shadow did not speak, and fell silent for a while.

It seems that he is thinking about something.

Amelia Su and George Han didn't dare to disturb them at all, and waited quietly beside them.

Right now, it is a difficult time, and it is also a time of crisis, and there is no room for sloppiness.

“Huh!” Suddenly, he let out a long sigh, and then he looked back at George Han: “Actually, there is another way, but this way...”

Chapter 4132

“What way.” George Han asked nervously.

There was another movement in the Sombra Man's hand, and then, a black gas enveloped the "corpse" of the monster again.

"Its heart."

With the black air wrapped around it, George Han could clearly see the heart that was on the monster's left chest.

"Senior, what does this mean?" George Han was puzzled.

"His heart can stop the restraint briefly for about seven seconds, and in those seven seconds, the center will be opened, if you come and take this opportunity to get into the center of the eye, then, you will see that can Someone to help you."

"What if it's too late?" Amelia Su asked.

Hei Ying smiled lightly: "It's too late? It's not too late. Because, you will be blocked by the ban, or become a part of the ban, and there will be no more of you in this world, is it clear?"

Hearing this, Amelia Su and Ziqing both was surprised.

This means that if he fails, George Han will be completely erased forever. How can such a huge and terrifying price make people feel at ease?

"Hmph, you don't have to be so afraid, because what I said, the premise is that you have to have the ability to take off his heart." Soi Ying said disdainfully.

"Senior, how to take heart?" George Han did not consider these terrible consequences.

Barefoot, he is not afraid of wearing shoes at all.

"Is the Pangu Axe possible?" George Han asked.

The shadow nodded: "Of course it is possible, but are you sure it's time?"

"Every time he dies, he only has five minutes. After five minutes, he will be resurrected immediately, and all things will be reunited. Do you understand what I mean?"

George Han nodded slightly: "Senior means, once he is resurrected, his so-called heart will also return to his body?" The shadow man smiled: "You can also understand that, but if you have to correct it, it should be that you never took its heart. "

George Han roughly understood what he meant: "Where is the central area?" The shadow smiled and waved his hand again. Suddenly, the landscape of the rocky ground suddenly changed, just like the day in the sky, the ground Above Mann is a black streamer.

But not far away, there is a pentagonal prism of light.

And in the very center of the light, there was another bright red light.

“The heart is the key.” The black shadow said: “However, don’t be impulsive, it’s less than two minutes before his resurrection, just rely on your Pangu axe to open it up a little bit, I’m afraid you’ll be working hard now, too It’s too late.” More than half of the time of death has passed because of a few people’s chats, and now I want to use my own strength to toss the Pangu axe to open his heart. To be honest, he doesn’t need to say that George Han knows that this thing is just him. The mother is a bullshit.

“Some things are unsolvable from the beginning. You want to restore the ability of the past, but he needs your original ability or higher to solve it. This is the so-called infinite loop.” Hei Ying sighed.

George Han smiled bitterly, looking at the “corpse” of the fallen lava monster, his mind was spinning rapidly, trying to find a new way.

But even the little black stick can’t break the body of lava, what can George Han rely on now? !

“Can someone help me?” George Han set his eyes on Amelia Su and Ziqing.

The two women naturally waited at any time. If George Han had any orders, of course they would not refuse, and they wanted to respond positively.

“George Han,

you are too childish, shouldn’t you, you expect these two women to help you? With all due respect, the cultivation of the two of them may be considered good on the outside, but here, But it’s nothing.”

“Even if the two of them have exhausted all their cultivation, they still can’t help you in the slightest. I advise you, don’t waste your time on this.”

Hei Ying finished, no more. However, its meaning of warning and exhortation is already clear.

George Han ignored him, but looked at the two women sincerely: “I need you two to help me.”

Although the two women were poured cold water by the shadow, they naturally would not refuse George Han’s request: “How can we help you?”

George Han put his eyes back on the lava monster and sighed: “I want you two to help me take out the monster’s heart and get the so-called key!”

“What? “

Chapter 4133

two women looked at George Han very surprised, obviously difficult to accept and understand for a while.

This kind of thing, the black shadow man can laugh at it, but when George Han really wants to make the two women do it seriously, he can’t help but feel very surprised.

After all, for the two women, it was just like the cold water poured by the shadows. They wanted to rely on them to steal the heart of the lava monster. Isn't this a fantasy?

"Three thousand..." Amelia Su was obviously a little embarrassed, looking at George Han, hesitant to say anything.

Zi Qing also whispered: "Brother George Han, neither of us should be able to help you break the body of the lava monster..."

"You can." George Han said.

When the words fell, he walked to Amelia Su's side a few steps, and under Amelia Su's surprised eyes, he whispered a few words.

After listening to George Han's words, Amelia Su was still shocked and looked at George Han in disbelief: "Are you sure this is okay?"

George Han nodded lightly: "Trust me."

Amelia Su nodded and glanced at Ziqing: "Let's work together to instill true energy into George Han, and try to let a trace of energy flow in his body."

Hearing Amelia Su's words, Ziqing hesitated a little, but after looking closely at Amelia Su's firm expression, Ziqing still nodded. .

This requirement should not be considered excessive, and it is barely achievable under ideal conditions.

"Do it!" Amelia Su nodded to Ziqing.

In the next second, Zi Qing took the lead and slapped George Han's right shoulder with a palm, and Amelia Su also quickly slapped it on his left shoulder.

Ziqing is a holy body, and the holy power in her body is inherently extraordinary, while Amelia Su and George Han are husband and wife, and the atmosphere on both sides is inherently different.

That's why George Han believes that if the two women work together, it is possible for him to have so little real energy in his body for a short period of time.

Although this energy might be so subtle that it can be ignored directly, and it can't even make George Han fly or release a certain magic energy, for George Han, these are enough.

"Let's go." George Han whispered to the two women, and the three of them walked towards the body of the lava monster quickly and slowly.

In front of him, the two women are inevitably a little nervous. After all, why is a thin dead camel bigger than a horse? This is a living example.

George Han was equally nervous, but unlike the two women who were nervous, he was more worried about whether his plan would succeed.

“Wait, after I finish the task in hand, whether it is successful or not, both of you must retreat immediately. The farther away from it, the better, understand?”

Once its own operation fails

, its time of death will soon disappear. , If the two women are too close to it and it is resurrected, then it will naturally be very dangerous.

The two women looked at each other and nodded.

Without any worries, George Han moved his hand and a jade sword was directly drawn out.

“What is he doing?”

“I don’t need a good Pangu axe, what kind of broken sword do I use?”

“Yeah, he shouldn’t let others help him input his true qi, so he can use this to play the Pangu axe to a greater extent? Why? ...why use a sword.” In the black air in the small mid-air, the people inside were strangely discussing each other.

Obviously, they understood and supported George Han’s actions in the first half, but they couldn’t understand the actions in the second half.

This point, even the shadow, is completely ignorant.

He also didn’t quite understand which drama Han

George Han was playing.

However, he didn’t open any mouths because of doubts, because he knew very well that George Han would definitely not be a reckless person after a short contact.

In the face of the “corpse” that the lava monster is about to resurrect, he naturally won’t be careless. He should have his reasons for doing so.

However, once again, the words turned around, what was his intention? !

Now, everything can only wait and watch.

“Huh!”

Over there, George Han also let out a long sigh, looking at the huge corpse of the lava monster in front of him, and gritted his teeth.

“Everything is ready, I’m about to start.”

George Han set his eyes on the position of his back close to his heart, mentioned the jade sword, and started directly.

Of course, as the sword shadow fell, everyone’s eyes widened.

“This... what is this doing?”

Chapter 4134

“Is he crazy?”

“Am I dazzled?”

A group of people shouted in shock in the dark.

For the actions of George Han today, they can be said to be completely dumbfounded and forbid.

Even the black shadow couldn't help but hold his breath at this time, and if there was an expression, it must be a frown.

Because of George Han's current behavior, it can't be said that he doesn't understand it, but it can only make people sigh.

He actually lifted the long sword directly, and a sword was cut on his wrist.

However, in the face of such doubts, George Han didn't think much, just closed his eyes and remained calm.

“Da, da, da”

Blood ran down the wound, drop by drop, onto the back of the lava behemoth. There was no reaction at first, but after one drop of blood was enveloped in a faint golden light and fell into it, everything, is completely different.

The blood seemed to be ignited and boiled, they were jumping, they were rolling, and the back of the lava monster that was bearing the blood was also like being roasted, scorched, and exuding a burst of energy. At the same time as the black smoke, there were bursts of “Zizi” sounds.

Immediately afterwards, those surfaces that were in direct contact with the blood began to turn black, then festered and sank all the way.

When I saw this scene, whether it was the figures in the dark air or the shadows watching the battle, they were completely astonished.

Confused voice .

“It's impossible, right?”

“What the hell is that kid? He used his own blood to corrode the body of the lava behemoth?”

“This is absolutely impossible, that giant The body of a beast is...it...it can't be abandoned like this by these things.”

“Yes, during the war, there were many types of masters in the army of you and me. Naturally, it was There are quite a lot of magical weapons, but you have seen the situation at the beginning. This guy is as stable as a rock, and nothing can invade him, but today... This kid used the Pangu Axe to break the defense. “...”

“Even if it is the blood of God, it may not be able to have such an effect.”

Everyone was waiting for you to say a word, and it was difficult for them to accept the scene in front of them.

But soon, someone smiled and listened to his voice, it should be the old man on the high platform: "It's really hard to say that God's blood wants to break its defense, but should you think outside the box? That young man, but It's not a god."

"Master, it's a master, crap, but he forgot about it."

"He always pretends to be an ordinary person and doesn't even have any cultivation. Although he knows that he is the master, he always forgets this. One thing..." The group of people thought back, but they were much relieved.

However, no matter how relieved, an indisputable fact is still placed in front of everyone.

George Han is not the body of the master, but the body of a mortal, but the blood of the mortal body has always made the lava monster break the defense.

This is a fact, a huge question, and a huge shock to them.

On the other hand, the black shadow suddenly rejoiced: "This kid..."

If anyone looked at the black shadow, it would be obvious that he was shaking his head slowly like a human being.

"This guy's blood is really strange."

"It is full of demonic breath, full of divine aura, and even more poisonous."

He continued to laugh leisurely, and then, his eyes turned to the sky: "The battle between gods and demons has been around since ancient times, but I think it may be time to change this status quo."

"Maybe, even the sky is tired of this kind of battle, so George Han is here.

" Looking back at George Han, at this time, George Han is already another scene..."

Chapter 4135

With the blood of Han 3000, the body of the seemingly sturdy lava monster is directly burned out. Huge pothole.

In the next second, George Han held it in his hand, and it seemed that he had caught nothing, but he seemed to have caught some afterimage.

Hei Ying retracted his sigh, and a black gas hit George Han's hand.

Suddenly, the afterimage flickered, revealing a heart-shaped shape.

“You don’t have much time, only one and a half minutes, George Han, whether to gamble with this heart, or put it back again, waiting for the monster to revive again, there are new opportunities.” The shadow reminded road.

Putting it down means that after the monster is resurrected and killed again, George Han will have more time, but it also means that more powerful monsters will appear in front of everyone.

Judging from the current environment, it is actually obvious that if he is resurrected, George Han has no ability or ability to deal with stronger monsters.

Therefore, George Han had no choice.

One and a half minutes, this is George Han’s only chance and the only time.

George Han smiled lightly, and this smile already explained his attitude.

“I’ll open the way for you.” Hei Ying finished his words, and when he moved his hand, the entire ground became a black streamer again, and the pentagonal prism reappeared not far from George Han’s eyes.

With his heart turned and his teeth gritted, George Han rushed over in a few steps.

Immediately afterwards, he knelt on the prism and gently placed the heart in his hand on the grid.

“Why hasn’t it been opened yet?” Amelia Su said anxiously.

Zi Qing also saw it in her eyes, anxious in her heart.

On the contrary, the shadow smiled softly: “What’s the hurry?” What’s the hurry? !

Obviously, there is not much time left.

If the organ is not opened quickly, it means that George Han’s danger will increase a little bit more. How can Amelia Su not be in a hurry?

“Everything is destiny, everything is fate, putting this key in does not necessarily mean that the ban will be lifted, everything depends on the will of God.” Heiying said lightly.

Hearing this, Amelia Su’s anxious mood turned into anger: “What did you say? Now, you told us that it depends on God’s will?”

“That is, why didn’t you say it before? You only talked about the time, and let us I thought...” Zi Qing was also anxious.

Regardless of whether it is George Han or not, for anyone, this kind of behavior is equivalent to deception, and it is a joke with other people’s lives.

If it was explained before that it was up to God, who would bet on such a small chance in such a short period of time?

It’s not worth it, and it’s grossly unequal at all

The shadow man smiled: "If there is no chance, then this lava monster can't use its own heart to lift the ban?"

Hearing this, the discerning person knows that there is indeed a reason for this, but the deeper people better understand what he meant.

Amelia Su's face was already blue, looking at the shadow, and said coldly: "You mean, even if the key of the heart is put in it, it will take a long time for the ban to be lifted, right?"

" noded.

A person can still live for a few seconds if he takes out his heart, let alone a cultivator, or a stronger demon or god.

Judging from the monster's ability, it seems that it is no longer a problem to persist for a few minutes.

Then, if it doesn't lift the ban on its own, the ban will only last longer.

Maybe ten minutes, maybe half an hour, maybe a few hours

And there is only one minute left for the heart to exist, which also means that after more than a minute, the key disappears, the monster is resurrected, and George Han fails to start and disappears into nothing.

"You bastard, I thought you were kind enough to help us, but now it seems that it's not the same. Instead, he tried his best to kill us. No matter what, George Han died in vain." Amelia Su's eyes With anger, the body is chilled, and the whole person has come to the edge of eruption.

Although Zi Qing did not respond as quickly as Amelia Su, but when she heard Amelia Su's detailed description, she also knew how powerful it was, and immediately drew her sword, pointing at the shadow: "You counted my three thousand brothers, what kind of hero are you, but, Don't be complacent, even if we are not your opponents, we will definitely pull out a layer of skin from your body to avenge the three thousand brothers!" After the words were finished, the two women almost simultaneously killed the shadow...

Chapter 4136

Facing the sudden killing of the two women, Sombra didn't panic at all, and didn't even shoot a basic counterattack, just waved his hand indifferently At the same time as the two women killed the general, it also completely turned into a trace of black smoke and flashed past.

The two female anti-Buddhas just hit the air, and when they looked back, the shadows gathered again, as if nothing had happened.

"With the abilities of the two of you, if you want to kill me to avenge George Han, I'm afraid it's just a dream. I'm not bragging. Even if I don't do it, the two of you will spend hundreds of years and thousands of years, and you will never hurt me." The shadow said indifferently.

Obviously, he didn't put the two women in his eyes at all.

The two women looked at each other, and at this point, even if they knew they couldn't fight, they would never forgive the shadow. At the moment, the two women joined forces again to kill the shadow directly.

However, almost the same as the last time, the two women jumped straight into the air and returned to their original positions.

"Don't waste your energy." He sneered.

The two women were very angry, but they missed two consecutive shots. In fact, they already knew very well that they were indeed wasting their efforts. No matter how hard they both tried, they couldn't even get close to him.

As for wanting to attack him, it is even more unreal, like a dream.

"You care about him, I can understand, but care is messy, can you listen to me and finish what I have to say?" Heiyang said indifferently.

Hearing this, Amelia Su frowned, not knowing what he was going to say.

"The game here is itself a dead game. Otherwise, everything here would have broken through the ban and become a mess. To a certain extent, keep the strangers away, it is indeed afraid that the living will destroy the balance here. However, this is nothing but be careful driving It's just the way of the annual ship. "

The real core here is still a strong balance, and it is also a dead end in the balance. How can he be easily solved by George Han." "

"But as he himself said, if he can't unravel this place, he will return like a dead man." So, he has no choice. "

" To break the dead end, you must first go to the place of death. Only in this way can you break the limit and break the balance. Two girls, am I right? "

Hearing this, although the two women wanted to refute, but after thinking about it carefully, isn't that what he said?

I don't know how many years this place has existed, and the Pei family doesn't know how many masters have died here. If someone can split the lava monster and take its heart to break the ban,

I am afraid that this place has long since ceased to exist.

There are so many cases in this world, it is just that someone has overdrawn the limit and completed the impossible.

Thinking of this, the anger of the two women began to slow down, and looking at the shadow was not as murderous as before.

Many things are based on strength, and there are real coincidences and hopes. This is the same truth and fact.

“But we don’t know something. Although what you said is reasonable, as you said before, everything here is a dead end. No matter what George Han does, he will die in vain. Why...” Amelia Su said. “

Why do I want him to do this?” He took Amelia Su’s words and said without hesitation.

Amelia Su nodded heavily, and this was indeed what she wanted to say.

“Do you think we are all idle and bored?” Do you think that after so many years of harmony in this place within us, who wants to stir up trouble?

I can tell you unequivocally, no. “

“The people here all follow the rules here and set the balance here, and never expect anything.”

“But since we are willing to bother, naturally, we also have confidence in George Han.”

Amelia Su frowned: “Senior It means...”

“He is the one who rang the seven Chaos Bells, you don’t know what that means, but we know very well.” He finished, and continued: “I can’t say too much, but I can only What I’m telling you is that nothing is absolutely impossible for him.”

“In other words, this is an unsolvable dead end, but when placed in front of George Han, the dead end is It’s not necessarily a dead end.”

Before Amelia Su could react, Sombra had already turned his attention to George Han: “I believe that the ruler has his own destiny!”

Chapter 4137

Amelia Su also followed his gaze to George Han. At this time, she did not know how to answer this. .

Up to now, it seems that she can’t do anything except watch George Han here.

Perhaps, as Hei Ying said, everything can only be seen in George Han’s fortune, and everything can only wait for the fate arranged by God.

However, Amelia Su felt less anger and more prayers.

On the other side, George Han didn’t know the specific situation, but he was already prepared.

With George Han’s IQ, he can think of some things even if others don’t say it.

The reason for this is always because it is a closed environment and has its own balance system. Therefore, if you want to break this balance, how can it be so easy.

George Han himself was actually gambling.

He

closed his eyes slightly and waited quietly.

This move, either successfully opened, or failed, and he was erased from then on.

A minute or so, fast, but slow.

As time passed, George Han's tension also increased suddenly. Gradually, the final moment seemed to come.

The "heart" placed in the center of the prism began to lose its original luster, even its original shape, and began to faintly recede from its own shape, becoming nothing and illusory.

This means that it is about to disappear.

And the fallen lava monster, at this time, the light of the rocks on his body began to recover, and he began to have vitality, and some limbs began to cluck, and he was stepping on the journey of resurrection.

Its resurrection means that George Han begins to die.

Amelia Su was anxious, her eyes were full of tears, looking at George Han, she wanted to say something, but she was always worried about disturbing George Han.

Ziqing clenched her fists in a hurry, just watching George Han wiped out and disappeared from now on, her heart was like a wild cat scratching wildly, and she felt a lot of colic for a while.

On George Han's side, although he didn't open his eyes, George Han could clearly feel the disappearance of his heart, and sweat dripped from his forehead constantly because of his nervousness.

"Phew!" Hei Ying took a long breath and sighed: "Five seconds left." After he finished speaking, he counted to himself.

"Five, four, three..."

The more we got to the end, the more despair we felt, and along with the count of three, the lava monster on the ground also let out an extremely dull roar.

"Roar!"

"One!" The

shadow seemed to close his eyes, full of helplessness and loneliness.

Amelia Su and Ziqing also closed their eyes almost simultaneously and clenched their fists.

At this moment, suddenly, a huge "hum" sound suddenly hit, and then, although there was no major movement in the interior, everyone felt an invisible strong current.

Following the sound, a group of people were almost completely stunned.

It was supposed to be a pitch-black sky, but at this time, purple clouds were all over it, and the clouds were turning around. It was like what kind of strange space had become here.

It's fantasy, it's yin beauty, it's lonely, and it's a bit fairy-like.

"The ban... the ban is off. The ban is off." Someone shouted excitedly.

Immediately afterwards, a group of black shadows in a large area of black gas were collectively excited.

As those who have existed here for unknown years, they are naturally qualified to know better than anyone what the vision in the sky is at this time.

"I'm grass, the balance of ten thousand years is broken, and the ruler is indeed his mother's master . This is too fu***ing strong.

" , it will change because of him." The group of people became emotional, and the more they talked, the more excited they became, that is, George Han was not here, otherwise, the group of people really might have pulled George Han and kissed him directly on the spot.

And the lone boss, Sombra, finally laughed out loud at this time.

Just before counting, his heart was still full of lamentation, but now these emotions were swept away in an instant, replaced by excitement and admiration.

"As expected of you, George Han, I know that you won't die so easily, and you won't be able to die. Even if you want to die, this God will not allow you. Go, go to your own space, Travel freely."

As soon as the words fell, George Han's body suddenly turned into a golden light, and then disappeared in place...

Chapter 4138

to see George Han suddenly disappear, the two women are obviously nervous, but the man in black smiles helplessly: "Don't worry, he is not disappeared, but went to another place."

"Another place?" Amelia Su asked.

Hei Ying nodded: "If the black light radiated from his whole body just now, it means that you have really disappeared from your mouth, and you will never see him again. But you have also seen that the golden light radiated from his body, which is also true. It means that George Han did not disappear, he entered that realm."

"The realm of time and space, the absolute center of this place, is also the final destination of his trip. So you don't have to worry so much, he succeeded, you should Happiness is."

"Has Brother Three Thousand succeeded?" Zi Qing turned her worries into joy and said excitedly

The shadow nodded heavily: "Yes, he succeeded."

“Brother George Han is great!”

“Great.” The

two women were very happy, and even clenched their fists to show their emotions.

“I just made you happy, I didn’t make you excited. He’s all right, do you think you two are all right?”
When he finished, he pointed to the lava monster not far ahead.

I don’t know when, the lava monster has straightened up, and now it is staring at them.

Compared with before, let alone other things, just its aura has become extremely powerful, and a pair of huge and red eyes always reveal anger and danger.

The two women were shocked when they saw this guy.

Black Shadow smiled softly: “What are you waiting for? Waiting for him to kill you !? Go!”

He heard the sound of walking away, and in the next second, the black air directly wrapped the two girls and flew quickly into the distance.

As soon as he left, the larger group of black qi naturally did not dare to stay long, and followed closely behind, heading into the distance.

The lava monster roared furiously, as if venting the anger in his heart, and also reprimanded the gang of rats for not daring to fight, only daring to flee in a hurry.

But he only chased after a few steps, and he stopped after all. In terms of speed, it is naturally not their opponent, and because of the regional restrictions, it cannot chase out, and can only stare at the gang that are getting farther and farther away. of blackness.

At this time, George Han, after the darkness in front of his eyes, suddenly brightened, and when he opened his eyes again, he could see all around him, all of the purple haze appearing everywhere.

The person in it seemed to be above the sky, but the reflection of his body told George Han that he should be in a certain space underground.

Dazzling around, all around are so bright, it seems like entering a dream space.

However, just when George Han had this idea, the sound of water brought him back to reality.

He looked for the sound and walked all the way forward. After walking for about a minute, after passing through the layers of purple clouds, he saw an old man sitting in the distance.

He was dressed in gray, with a kind of hidden style, but it was a bit downhearted. In front of him, there was a stone table with a pot or two cups on it. At this time, he was holding a teapot, gently Pour tea into two cups.

The tea fragrance was light, but even though it was a long distance away, George Han could still smell the fragrance.

Just as George Han was getting closer and closer to him, and there were only a few meters left, suddenly, at an unknown time, a crystal curtain appeared in front of George Han, hitting one of George Han's foreheads.

It was only then that he reflected, looking at the crystal curtain in a trance. On the way here, his eyes never left this direction. Naturally, he did not find the so-called crystal curtain at all. How did it appear and when did it appear? ?

Before George Han could react, the curtain seemed to reflect on his own. An unnamed aura directly shook George Han slightly by more than ten centimeters.

George Han was very puzzled, but before he could speak, the old man's faint laughter came from inside.

"Oh? Have a guest?"

Chapter 4139

Hearing his voice, George Han looked at him, but he was so close that he could not see his face clearly, let alone the expression on his face.

"Junior George Han, I have seen senior." Even so, George Han bowed to him respectfully.

He smiled, but didn't say anything, he waved to George Han, but the crystal curtain in front of him disappeared in an instant.

"Drink some tea." He gestured slightly, motioning George Han to sit down and drink tea.

George Han looked at the table. The two cups of tea were full. It seemed that he already knew that someone would come here and prepared it in advance.

Without thinking too much, George Han sat down and picked up the teacup. His hand could easily feel that the temperature of the teacup was still a little hot, which meant that it was indeed as he expected.

The person in front of him already knew that he would come in.

It takes time for tea to boil, and the time I have come in now is simply not enough to boil the tea.

So, there is only one explanation.

"Senior knows that the junior will come in?" George Han smiled.

At this time, George Han finally saw his appearance clearly, and there was no immortal style or bone, and there was no other special difference. Yes, but it was just mediocre as usual. Anti-Buddha was no different from other old men.

Just the kind of thing you throw alone, you don't even know how different he is from other old men.

Ordinary can't be ordinary anymore.

"How does the tea taste?" He did not answer George Han's question, but instead asked George Han cheerfully.

“The taste of tea is very light, but it is always sweet and sweet. The younger generation thinks this is good tea.”

“The tea is not good.” The old man smiled lightly.

These words made George Han dumbfounded on the spot. He said that the tea is good, not because of compliments, but just the truth.

But since it is a fact, why does the old man say this tea is not good? !

“The water is good.” The old man smiled.

“Is the water good?” George Han asked in confusion.

I’ve heard that good tea with good water is a superior product, but this time, good tea can be brewed with good water, which George Han had never heard of.

“Senior, the way of tea art, the junior may only be considered an entry-level. I really don’t understand the meaning of the senior’s words. I hope the senior will give me some advice.” George Han politely said.

The old man smiled and said, “There’s nothing to teach me, it’s just that these are special.”

“Oh? Senior, what’s so special about this water?” George Han asked.

“There is nothing special about its body. Of course, it has been countless years since it boiled. So, think about it, can it be bad after boiling water for so long?

Some doubtful George Han opened his eyes instantly.

The meaning of these words may seem impermanent, but in fact, that sentence has been boiled to today, but it reveals huge information.

This place can be roughly determined now, it is a battlefield for some reason, and it has existed here for many years.

The old man appeared in the core area of the ban. Naturally, it should also be the same generation. The time gap between them is not too big, and it is even very likely that they are people who exist at the same time as the formation.

In other words, the water that was already boiled at that time has continued to this day?

How is this possible in common sense? Water will evaporate when it boils. Although it is possible to keep adding new water to achieve what he said, but replacing old water with new water, how could there be such a so-called boiled to this day in front of him? !

Therefore, the old man in front of him is by no means simple.

Thinking of this , George Han smiled slightly: “This water has such a history, the junior really has a good taste, here, thank the senior.” The old man smiled lightly: “No matter how good things are, you still need someone to taste them. , why do you need to be polite.”

After speaking, the old man poured another cup of tea and handed it to George Han.

After taking the tea, George Han also drank it.

“After two cups of tea, you must not be so thirsty anymore, and if you don’t ask about some things in your heart, I’m afraid even the best tea is just like chewing wax.” The old man smiled and then looked at George Han: “Little friend , let’s talk about it.”

George Han smiled, and since others had already spoken, he naturally didn’t need to be humble: “George Han is indeed full of questions, one is, who is the senior, where is this place, and of course, there are also One of the most important is, can the senior have a way to rule the junior?”

Chapter 4140

George Han thought that after this series of questions were thrown out, the old man might be somewhat dissatisfied. too much.

He couldn’t hold back because of too many doubts.

However, the old man was not angry. Instead, he seemed to expect that George Han would ask these questions. He just tasted the tea in his hand lightly, and said leisurely: “Who am I, I can’t tell you this, and you don’t need to know. “

This is Reverse Chaos Time and Space, and I am the only one here, so if you are willing to remember me, you can call the Reverse Old Man.”

“As for your last question, I do have a way to restore you to The previous level.”

“The so-called rebellion is the reverse of chaos, and it is the righteous way.”

Hearing these words, George Han was disappointed, but more excited, although he was still the same as the shadow outside. , he refused to reveal his name , but in any case, at least what he said later made the heart of the three thousand three thousand countries ignited new hope.

“Then ask the seniors to heal the juniors. If there is any reward, the juniors are willing to pay for it.”

“I saved your life, but it’s a life, so what kind of compensation can you get to match it?” The old man smiled lightly. , seems to be rejecting George Han.

But soon, he changed his words again: “If you help a person, you should not think about the reward. Self-discipline and self-discipline will naturally follow the world.

” Benefit others.”

“Okay.” The old man nodded, very satisfied: “However, although I promised to save you, whether I can save you or not depends on good luck.”

“What do you mean by this, senior.”

“This is the core of the entire prohibition and controls the order of the entire prohibition, but the technique of yin and yang itself is negative and positive. If it controls positive, it must be negative.”

“And the outside world. The order is completely different, you must remember, it is very disordered here.”

“Do you remember?”

George Han nodded slightly, this is not difficult to remember.

Seeing George Han nod, the old man waved his long sleeves gently, and suddenly, Zixia around him suddenly rolled around.

“This place is boundless, but it contains a divine pill. As long as you eat the divine pill, you will not only be able to restore your original state, but to some extent you will even reap some great joy.”

This point, Almost the same as what the shadow outside said, George Han nodded understandingly.

“Thank you, senior!” George Han said.

“Don’t be in a hurry, thank you, I haven’t finished speaking yet.” He shook his head, interrupted George Han, and continued: “As I said before, this place is alternately negative and positive, just like the world where there is a sky, there is a land, and there is a mountain. If there is water

, all things are interdependent and interdependent, do you understand what this means now?”

George Han frowned, and after the old man’s reminder, he had basically heard the overtones.

“Senior means that if the so-called Divine Pill represents the great life, then there must be something that represents death, right?” George Handao

’s meaning was obvious, when he was looking for the Divine Pill , there may be death traps at every step, or something extremely ferocious.

George Han remembered that before entering here, he once mentioned a creature, saying that there is a red-eyed thing in it that is the most ferocious, and the previous lava monster was red-eyed.

However, when Pei Gu came, it was clearly what he was talking about, what was that, at least it didn’t just refer to a certain one.

So, in that case, what about these red-eyed monsters? Will they exist in it?

However, this gave George Han a new question.

“Where is the so-called world of heaven and earth?”

The old man clearly said that this is a space reversal, so...isn't it right? !

Moreover, there is another point that is extremely inconsistent. From the old man's words, he should be the first person to meet him. Then...

Then what was recorded by the Pei family before?

George Han was very confused.

On the other hand, the old man next to him seemed to have seen through George Han's confusion, but he just smiled lightly and didn't explain George Han's confusion, he just lightly patted George Han's shoulder: "Since you have so many questions, Asking others has always been ineffective, so you might as well go and see for yourself."

"Maybe after you go in, you will understand?" When he finished, he laughed and waited for George Han to look back. Old man, even those tables and so on have long since disappeared, but only the eyes full of Zixia rolling around...
