

HTC 4151

Chapter 4151

right? !

George Han was so shocked that he could hardly believe this conjecture.

But it is basically the greatest possibility.

The history matches the present amazingly!

The two people he accidentally let go are exactly the same as those recorded in the history of the Pei family.

In other words, did the two people from the Pei family let go by themselves?

However, now is now, how to write the history of the past now? !

Or is it that he is playing the role of the person who let go of all this in the first place? !

But who else could that person be besides the red-eyed monster? !

Thinking of this, George Han seemed to be a little terrified. The next second, he suddenly turned his hand and turned into an enchantment similar to a mirror, followed by a shot at his face.

In this photo, George Han was completely dumbfounded.

His eyes were indeed blood red, and under the unclearness of the fog, he looked like a red-eyed monster.

“I... I understand.”

Is there such a possibility? At first, everything was actually misunderstood?

There is only one red-eyed monster at all, not as many as they described? !

And all this experience that I have come here to experience is actually a truth that I want to give myself here? !

But will that be the case? !

George Han did not know.

“Red-eyed monster!”

George Han couldn't take care of that much anymore, so he got up and shouted loudly at the entire fog.

“What? If you have the ability to let me experience your past, do you have the ability to stand up and talk to me?”

“Come out, come out, if you have the ability, come out to me, and we will make it clear face-to-face.

” There was no response from the surrounding sound.

With true energy, George Han can't control so much anymore, and flying directly into the fog is frantically searching.

At such a fast speed, the foggy area is really very small, and George Han just made seven or eight laps in ten minutes.

Although he was very tired, George Han could basically confirm two things.

One is that those people really don't exist here, and the other is that there is absolutely no way for a second person to exist here other than himself.

This made George Han even more confused.

What about people?

It's fine if those people aren't there, but what about the red-eyed monster? He should be there.

Where did he go?

Again, I just made a mistake, there is no red-eyed monster here at all.

You, the red-eyed monster? !

Although this is outrageous, don't forget what the old man once said.

"It's already very chaotic here."

So, in the midst of chaos, what is the confusion of time and space? Isn't normal? !

Thinking of George Han here, I am even more shocked and surprised.

He is now beginning to understand the words that the old man explained to him before he left, and he also begins to understand the chaos that has occurred here.

But what does it mean to know this?

George Han shook his head, he couldn't understand, and he couldn't figure it out.

He came for Shendan, but what does these situations have to do with Dan? !

It must be connected.

It may even be the only clue to find the medicine pill, but George Han is currently unable to connect them together.

"What could it be?"

George Han was puzzled, scratching his head and couldn't think of a reason.

He sat back down under his big tree dejectedly, carefully considering various possibilities and correlations, but unfortunately, even if he thought about it clearly, he still couldn't connect the situation here with that divine pill. .

Damn it, where did the Shendan go?

What is the connection between the chaos here and Shendan? !

Suddenly, at this moment, the breeze seemed to blow, and a leaf slowly fell from the tree, skipping George Han's eyebrows, and slowly fell to the ground in front of his eyes.

George Han was unintentionally attracted by what was moving in front of him, and looked at the fallen leaves gently, which brought a trace of peace to his troubled heart.

It's like it's falling gently and slowly.

Sometimes, when I look at something that is moving slowly, I really have a different feeling in my mind.

At least George Han's mood has eased a lot, and there is no impatience and anxiety like just now, and there is no haste and anxiety like just now.

Suddenly, George Han Anning's heart suddenly felt waves, and he stood up instantly: "I know where the Shendan is."

Chapter 4152

the words fell, he suddenly looked up to the sky with excitement.

There is no limit to chaos, and naturally it is no limit to nothingness. In this case, yin and yang are reversed.

Therefore, the upper part is the sky, but the lower part is the sky. Naturally, it is above the earth.

It's like Dan's weight, according to common sense, it should fall on the ground. In a disordered land, it automatically falls into the sky.

Everything here seems to be telling himself a certain past, but also telling himself the whereabouts of the medicine pill.

It should be so.

He didn't have a cultivation base, but the old man had to find Dan himself. If there were countless red-eyed monsters, he didn't need to let himself in.

Secondly, it was the shadow outside. He risked his own life to get in here, so there is no reason for him to come in, and he would be so troublesome to reach the next step, right? !

Therefore, obtaining the medicine pill should be relatively safe and without incident.

Thinking of this, George Han didn't care about anything else, he just accelerated and headed towards the sky.

In less than a moment, George Han was suddenly above the night sky.

However, as soon as Fang arrived there, the World Anti-Buddha also turned upside down, and George Han stepped directly on the black streamer again.

That's true.

Like a dream, he is clearly rising, but after reaching the critical point, he turns into himself slowly falling from a height.

Such a situation is somewhat similar to the holy mountain of the Qilin family.

It's just that compared to there, it's more chaotic and more "exciting." The medicine pill should be above the sky, and if I'm not mistaken, it should even be an object.

And this object, George Han smiled, it was difficult to say it was difficult, and it was also easy to say it was simple.

That is the "moon" above the head that emits a faint light, of course, it may also be the "sun".

With a move of his hand, George Han flew towards it.

"The earth is so far away, yet it seems as close as it is now." George Han snorted softly, he knew that it would not be easy to get to the "moon".

Because if you want to travel underground, how can it be as simple as roaming in the sky.

The sky roaming now is just an illusion.

"However, I finally know why this place has been explored several times, but no one can find it." George Han shook his head.

No one would walk in and expect the moon in the sky to be a so-called treasure.

The reason why George Han could see it was entirely because the way he came in was completely different.

They entered from the front door, so they could see the door couplet in the Qiankun territory, and they entered from the back door, from the so-called back door that reversed time and space, so it was easier for them to figure out the real clues in the entire Qiankun territory.

Naturally, the whereabouts of the so-called Shendan can be found faster.

Thinking of this, everything made sense. When George Han was about to reach the moon, the resistance began to increase. In the end, George Han completely stopped about one meter in front of the moon.

"It's as if I was walking in the mud, and my body helped me with too much mud, and even blocked my way. No matter how hard I tried, if I wanted to continue to move forward, it would be a geometric consumption."

Thinking of this, George Han was not in a hurry, and just looked around: "Senior, I've had the tea, and I have found the things. Shouldn't you show up too?"

It seems that George Han seems to be He was talking to the air, but not long after his words fell, and soon after the scene entered a dead silence, a chuckle slowly came out.

“How was the experience?” he asked.

“What kind of experience?”

“What kind of experience? Eight of the ten were killed by you, leaving only two alive. What kind of experience are you talking about?” He laughed.

George Han frowned: “What senior is talking about, George Han doesn’t quite understand.”

Those people are obviously people from two time and space. In other words, the contact with each other is more like a sense of A kind of gazing at flowers.

Like an immersion videotape.

Their deaths should have nothing to do with him, but why does this old man say that he killed them? !

The old man smiled slightly: “What is false is true, what is true is false. What you think is false, why can’t it be true? In fact, you did kill them.”

Hearing this, George Han frowned even more. Tight: “Senior, I don’t understand!”

“You are the real red-eyed monster in the couplet!” He said coldly.

Chapter 4153

“No! No! No!!” George Han shook his head frantically, the ancestors of the Pei family are people who do not know how many years ago , there is a huge age gap with him, how could he kill them by himself? !

“At that time, I didn’t even say I was born on Earth, so how could I kill them?” George Han asked inexplicably.

“What’s more, these are many years of history, and it is even more impossible for the junior to create this history.”

“Even if there is a cultivation base, it is only available to the junior now. For the senior’s words, it is difficult for the junior to understand.”

“In the chaos of time and space . There is nothing incomprehensible.” The old man smiled lightly, and did not explain much: “There are some things that you will gradually understand in the future.”

“You want me to help you take down this magic pill, don’t you?” The old man laughed softly.

George Han nodded: “The younger generation has tried his best, and he can only get here. The younger generation knows very well that although the distance from the divine pill is only a few steps away, it is unlikely that they will reach it with the strength of the younger generation.”

“So... the junior wants to ask the senior to teach me how to...” The old man smiled slightly: "How do you know that I will help you, and how do you know that I am here?"

George Han smiled bitterly: "I was in the fog earlier. I really thought I should be the only one here, but then I changed my mind."

"Oh? How do you say this?" The old man was very interested.

"Because this is a disordered time and space." George Han said softly: "Senior once said that your place is the reversal of time and space, the core of the ban, then this should be the core sub-core zone."

"In other words, the connection between the two should be one. So

, no matter what, you are here." " Am

I right?"

, you have never left the reversal space, the two are originally connected as one, but, for those who enter the Qiankun Gate, my position is underground, and for those who exit from the reversal space, my position is in the sky "

I'm basically satisfied with your answer. Now, this is the last question. Why do you think I will help you get this magic pill?"

"I'm not afraid to tell you that this magic pill is by no means an ordinary pill. In a sense, it is not a medicinal pill, but a divine stone."

George Han nodded: "Senior, this is the divine stone that supports the ban, right?"

He nodded heavily: "Yes, It is the eye stone of the entire formation, once it is lost, the restriction will disappear completely for this place."

George Han knew what the old senior meant: "You are always worried, That lava monster?"

"Do you really think he is just a lava monster? Its true identity is far more terrifying than you think. I can tell you this, if he loses the restrictions of the ban, then the Bafang world will be Completely plunged into chaos."

"At that time, the Central Plains human race will be completely annihilated, and the entire world will be destroyed."

Hearing these words, George Han nodded: "Senior, I understand."

This is a difficult task . But it is a common choice, a choice for one person and a life for ten thousand people.

This question is actually not difficult.

George Han has no second option.

"Looking at you, are you planning to give up this divine pill?"

George Han

Nodding: "I don't hide it from the seniors, that's exactly the case. Although the juniors are eager to get the divine pill, they must also consider the safety of the world.

" Even if you have passed the level of your own mind, you have also passed the level of your heart."
When the words were finished, George Han bowed slightly: "I'm so disturbed, please forgive me, senior."

After that, he turned around and was about to leave.

"Don't you think that there are other ways? Or, if you don't want to fight for such a magic pill, then choose to give up?"

Hearing the old man's words, George Han returned Looking over at the old man: "Senior, do you have any other way?" The old man smiled slightly, with a very strange smile, he nodded slightly: "Of course."

George Han said anxiously: "What can be done?"

Chapter 4154

old man did not speak, but shook his head slightly.

Looking at his appearance, George Han seemed to suddenly understand something.

He sighed helplessly: "Senior, shouldn't the meaning of the senior be to let the junior kill the lava monster before taking this divine pill?"

Although he did not confirm George Han's remarks, it was obvious that he No objection was intended.

George Han shook his head helplessly and smiled bitterly: "Senior, don't say that I am a waste now, even if I am at the top, I may not be his opponent." In the ancient battlefield, all the overlord-level characters did not take this guy. In the slightest way, no matter how confident George Han is, he will never be so confident that he can be compared to them.

"He's immortal, it's really hard to deal with. But, young man, you forgot something." The old man smiled lightly and disappeared in place.

In the volley, his voice came again.

"Come back to me when you think of what it is." The words fell, and in the entire dark streamer space, George Han was once again alone.

George Han has no other emotions, frowning, thinking hard about the old man's words, what did he forget?

Looking back on the entire itinerary, George Han has already sorted out and summarized even the slightest bit, but it is a pity that George Han can almost confirm that he has absolutely not missed anything.

The old man said that he forgot something, what is it? !

“Could it be...” George Han suddenly thought of something: “Is it a brain?”

Since George Han entered this place, he has been a little dizzy all the time. Some ancient things plus this chaotic space really made George Han quite troubled.

So, if you really forget what it is, it should be the brain.

Maybe I didn't hear the old senior's words and intentions, so the old senior wanted to stabilize his emotions before he made further plans with himself.

Thinking of this, George Han shouted softly: “Senior, junior is already well.” When the words fell, the old man's figure suddenly appeared again, and he smiled softly: “You have thought of how to deal with him? Let me listen.” George Han said :

“Senior should want me to bring that lava monster here, right?” “

Oh? A very thorny problem is that if I take the pill, I have the courage and strength to compete with the monster, but once I take it, the barrier here will be opened, and the monster will be more... So, the safest and The safe way is to bring it here. As for the reason, I believe the senior has already told me.” Here, George Han's cultivation has always been there, and the dozen or so people from the Pei family are telling me to some extent. Some of my original and here things are also reminding myself of some of my own changes. The old man nodded: “Near the Divine Stone, it can still exert its effect, so your situation can still be restored to the best state, and you haven't fully understood the whole reason why you killed people in the fog, waiting for you to wake up. It will be different when you come here. However , no matter what, I can tell you clearly that your brain has indeed recovered. You are right, I think you led the monster here.” “But the monster is not dead . Indestructible, even if you are brought here, what can you do?” George Han said, “Could it be, senior wants to...”

The old man smiled lightly, knowing that George Han had already guessed what he meant: “This point, after you lead him here, I have my own way.”

Hearing this, George Han nodded: “But how should this junior lead him into this place? His heart is the key, and only in this way can we open it and enter here.” The old man smiled lightly: “The immortals have their own tricks.” When the words were finished, he gently whispered in George Han's ears . Bian Qingyu, after listening to George Han, he smiled in surprise, and finally nodded...

Chapter 4155

In the next second, George Han will descend all the way and fly straight to the ground.

Its speed is almost astonishing.

A few minutes later, the guy had reached the ground, but he didn't stop, instead he drilled straight down to the ground all the way.

Strange to say, the ground looked extremely thick and solid, but when George Han drilled it with him, it was as if he had entered the air, without any hindrance, and went all the way to the depths.

When time passed, George Han suddenly came out.

It also seems to have broken through the sky.

At the top of the sky, there is a layer of faint aperture, and almost after passing through the aperture, everything changes in color.

After the whole world was transformed again, a new scene appeared.

Eyes full of jungles, dark clouds over the realm.

Looking back at the feet again, at this time, the rock rose, and everything returned to the original place.

“The lava monster, come out and die!” George Han shouted coldly.

The sound shook all around .

“Roar!” He heard a fierce roar from the monster, as if he had appeared before, the ground was sensational.

Immediately afterwards, a behemoth rose directly from the ground.

Compared to before, at this time he has become even bigger, and the whole momentum has become more ferocious.

George Han had no doubts that as long as this guy slapped him, it would be enough to kill him hundreds of times.

Looking around, I didn't see Amelia Su and others. Thinking about it, they should have evacuated in time, which made George Han feel a lot more at ease.

“What's there to scream? It's not too long ago, didn't I kill you once?” George Han sneered softly.

“Roar!”

George Han's mockery and provocation seemed to the monster to be an absolute provocation. After he roared angrily, he rushed towards George Han.

George Han couldn't help but swallow a mouthful of saliva.

Although he had already made preparations, facing such a huge monster, he was inevitably flustered.

“Senior, help!”

With a silent voice, George Han had no choice but to close his eyes obediently and wait for the arrangement of the old senior.

Boom! !

Huge big hands attacked the sky, almost completely suppressing the light, leaving only darkness.

And almost at the same time, a huge mouth suddenly cracked open on the ground, and the next second, the giant mouth directly swallowed George Han into it, accompanied by the incomparably huge monster.

Just like this before coming here, it's just going back.

After crossing that boundary, it continued to fall all the way in the dark, one person and one beast then shot out from the ground, and then flew all the way to the so-called "sky!".

Finally, the two separate in the air to the left and right.

As soon as he entered this place, George Han clearly felt that the cultivation base in his body had returned again. He didn't dare to be careless and hurriedly accelerated to keep himself away from the lava monster.

The lava monster was also obviously surprised, but it did not attack George Han immediately, but also chose to retreat to ensure its own safety.

The two faced each other in midair.

George Han knew the opponent's strength, so he didn't plan to hide it at all, and he pulled out the Pangu axe with a backhand.

Only this kind of artifact can break his defense, in other words, only this kind of artifact can pose a sufficient threat to him.

Two people duel, the fear is that you are not qualified to make each other feel afraid.

Because, in the game, you are already at a huge disadvantage.

"Before, I didn't really have anything, so I could only kill you reluctantly, but now, it's different, everything I have is back, it's easy to deal with you.

The powerful breath seemed to be telling the monster on the opposite side that what George Han said was definitely not bragging, but was real.

The monster was not as angry as he imagined. Perhaps this was also due to the fact that George Han's true strength was indeed displayed, so it was not regarded as a provocation by George Han.

On the contrary, he stared at George Han closely, and seemed to be on guard.

"Roar!"

Suddenly, the lava monster seemed to have determined something, and in the next second, its body flew and rushed towards George Han.

George Han knew his purpose and mission, but in the face of the lava monster that rushed up, he suddenly smiled: "Okay, I'm just playing with you, so that you can see, I'm Han's true Strength."

After speaking, George Han also rushed towards the monster. What he didn't notice was that his eyes turned crimson again unconsciously...

Chapter 4156

brush brush!

The Pangu Axe has no complicated moves, just a single epee without an edge, slashing straight away.

However, the body holding the Pangu axe was completely different from before.

George Han, who is full of radiance all over his body, is simply an immortal power, and the power he carries is also a ruin.

The lava monster was not afraid at all, but was aroused by George Han, and attacked all the way with angry roars, facing George Han.

boom! !

A huge explosion rang out, and the world trembled.

However, in mid-air, the old man showed his original shape, and he didn't mean to help in the slightest, just sitting on the wall to watch.

Smile, looking at what's going on in the air.

"It's dazzling, the times have changed, I don't know how many years it has been. Now I see it, but it's old and new, but that's all, at least, I can still be fortunate enough to see your status." The old man sighed. After that, the more I looked at George Han's eyes, the more I liked and filled with memories.

And in the memory in his eyes, it was the battle hundreds of millions of years ago.

He was heroic and valiant, and he fought against the monster in the ten thousand army. Like the young man now, it seems that the enemy is outnumbered, but in fact it is extremely powerful.

For a few moments, George Han's current battle actually overlapped with him at that time, constantly interacting with each other, like people from two worlds, and like they were suddenly one.

Gradually, he smiled more and more deeply.

"Young man, this battle will always be a failure for you, and there will be no miracles."

"I know that with your ability and your body, thousands of things are possible. However, this time, George Han, you can only eat turtles forever. This has nothing to do with you, but the middle The generation gap is really huge, and it is far from being filled by your own strength."

"However, I believe that you are always the one who can rely on your personal ability to fill it up. It's just that now is not the time."

“Failure is not It’s not scary, the most important thing is that you can learn and understand what you can learn from failure.”

“Sometimes, dimensionality reduction is not a bad thing, but a good thing that can make you understand and have a lot of epiphanies, young People and things depend on how you look at them, so that you can determine whether they are good or bad in the end.”

“Hopefully, you can experience the chaotic journey that I have prepared for you, and you can also learn me from this chaotic journey. I want you to learn something.”

After he finished speaking, he disappeared slightly, and after that, the small moon began to gradually become brighter.

What George Han didn’t know was that under addition to his original light, a silver light gradually sprinkled on his body.

And along with this silver light, they didn’t leave too much of their own light on George Han’s body, but after a certain amount of time, they completely dissipated and merged with the golden light in George Han’s body.

Gradually, this golden light became stronger and stronger, so much so that his entire body became scattered.

However, what is different from the complete golden color is that this golden light is embellishing George Han’s body in an unimaginable trajectory. Looking from a distance, George Han’s body has turned into a kind of body. In other words, another golden body was merging with George Han at this time, and they were fighting side by side with each other.

If there are ordinary people watching, they will definitely find that George Han is not so much at this time.

When a person is fighting, it is better to say that he and the golden body transformed by the golden light are in a double battle in the “human sword”.

George Han seems to be driving him to attack, and it seems that he is controlling George Han to attack.

That is to say, George Han is concentrating on the battle at the moment, and he has no idea. Otherwise, if George Han can see his current situation a little bit clearly, combined with the current situation of some involuntary attacks, he will definitely think of why in the eight barren voles. Many deceased gods have exhausted all the magical skills that they could not learn in their entire lives, but when they got to him, they were not just as simple as self-taught without a teacher, but even... it can be said that this guy is completely free and easy to grasp...

And George Han’s eyes are now blood red to the extreme...

A nameless fire is burning wildly...

George Han’s fighting spirit has reached its peak in an instant!

Chapter 4157

Wow!

Body like a dragon, move like a tiger, George Han is domineering and onslaught!

The lava monster's body is like a bear, and its strength is like a bull. With one move and one combination, it is also like a dragon crossing the river under the blow of its anger.

The two sides come and go, and the exchange of fire is fierce.

For a while, I saw explosions around the two of them, and the flames rose wildly.

However, although Tianlei was right on the ground for a while, for George Han, everything was always just a strong support.

Because the power of this lava monster, to a certain extent, is not just beyond George Han's imagination, it can even be said that it is completely beyond George Han's cognition range.

Too strong, almost too strong to leave the big spectrum!

He can even be so strong that he snorts coldly, that is, three feet of frozen air.

And a back slap came over, and even a mountain on the ground could be directly knocked into the air.

However, Han

George Han afraid. Although the opponent is indeed strong enough to be abnormal, the more such an opponent is, the more happy George Han fights.

Fighting against such an opponent, as long as you don't die, it will be a big profit.

It can perfectly hone its fighting mentality and handling of details. George Han has always been clear that fighting against high-level players may be beaten badly, but it will definitely improve itself. Although fried fish is temporary It's cool, but after all, it's fried too much, and I've become a fish myself.

Therefore, timidity will not be crowded, and George Han will only become more energetic and brave the more he fights.

After all, the lava monster is completely suppressed in strength. In the face of George Han's response, even if the response is sometimes slower than half a beat, it can still be easily and calmly faced.

"It's so f***ing difficult."

George Han withdrew from the battle, took a breath, stared at the lava monster, and said extremely depressed.

After only a dozen rounds, George Han was already numb in his hands and feet, and his whole body was sore.

Although the lava monster had to avoid its edge when it attacked, George Han was equally struggling to defend. Every time he blocked, George Han seemed to be facing the top of Mount Tai, and every hard top hit him like a mountain. .

Even though George Han had various divine weapons to protect himself, he would still be unable to resist such an attack. In other words, if he did not have a defensive divine weapon, if he were someone else, he would have been hit and shattered.

“Roar!”

George Han’s continuous resistance seemed to make the lava monster furious. He roared, and his huge arms slapped furiously on his chest, like a gorilla leader who swore sovereignty.

“Roar!” In the next second, he suddenly rushed towards George Han again.

“f***, I know I can’t kill you, but you are too arrogant, it’s true that you can’t kill you, but if I can kill you once, I will earn money, and it will be cheaper for me to take off your arm. I’ll fight with you.” As the words fell, George Han Youhuang reappeared, and Fen Ji directly blessed Pangu’s axe, with his left hand for defense and his right for attack.

Smash Huashan!

“Roar!”

Even though George Han had been attacked and killed before, the lava monster had no intention of being afraid or retreating. On the contrary, his whole body was burning like crazy, lighting up his whole body, as if he wanted to harden his body again. Carrying it, it proves with actions that it is not afraid of any attack at all.

Everything before is just careless.

boom!!!

A pair of giant arms reached the axe of Han 3,000 coercion!

As the two met, the ground roared, the surrounding air was torn apart, and even the top of the sky was shifting.

George Han concentrated all his strength and pressed down frantically, while the lava monster was covered in lava and poured into his hands, as steady as a rock.

The old man in the sky also got up at this time because of the battle between the two, and his eyes were fixed on the battle.

Although he knew the inevitable result, at least at this moment, he wanted to know who would be better.

“Roar!”

It seemed that he had successfully blocked the slash of Pangu's axe, which offset George Han's first ferocious attack. The lava monster was full of pride, and a triumphant roar came out of its mouth.

Tightly, with a violent force, he was bound to push George Han and his axe out.

George Han smiled coldly and looked at the lava monster without any fear: "Remember, my name is George Han." When the words fell, George Han suddenly exerted force, and the lava monster also noticed the strangeness in the next second. The whole huge face showed fear and unimaginable...

Chapter 4158

Boom! !

The ground was trembling, the ground was cracking, and the two giant feet of the mountain-like lava monster began to slowly sink towards the ground.

George Han's body flashed with light, and behind him, the golden body was like a god descending from the sky, waving a giant axe in the air, and it was majestic.

The arms that the lava monster resisted began to crack, and they began to tremble because they couldn't bear the enormous force...

George Han smiled coldly, not at all restrained by the shock and fear of the lava monster at this time.

When you are sick, it will kill you!

boom!

With the greater shaking of the ground, the lava monster began to sink even faster, and most of its body had even begun to submerge into the soil, and its arms were like old walls, constantly shattering and falling.

"Ah!!!"

George Han roared loudly, and the rays of light scattered all over his body to the extreme. Even the originally dull bronze Pangu axe was shone in the rays of light!

"Bang bang bang!"

The body of the lava monster was suddenly under such force, like a blasted rock, and at the same time as the dust and smoke billowed up, his body began to burst and collapse, completely turning into powder.

George Han lingered in the air, sweat flowing from his forehead, and he was exhausted for a while.

Although it looks like a god on the outside, but if you look closely, you can see that because the force is too huge and fierce, blood is already overflowing, and the seven orifices are bleeding!

"Kill you once, and I can kill you a second time."

Looking at the dust billowing on the ground, George Han grinned

. His main hand for wielding the Pangu axe—the right hand, although it did not exert any force, it swayed staggeringly in the air.

Even though he won the lava monster in the confrontation, in addition to his own internal injury, George Han's arm was almost directly broken by the shock.

If someone can see the situation inside his arm at this time, then he can definitely see that George Han's entire hand bone has been completely shattered, like a lava monster that has turned into powder.

"Interesting!" In the sky, the old man laughed softly. He thought George Han's performance was normal, but it was somewhat unexpected.

With George Han's ability, if he wants to complete a single kill, even a lava monster with a far superior strength will inevitably suffer. Therefore, George Han has staged small wins, the old man can understand.

However, the old man did not expect that George Han's so-called staged small victory would be such a big victory that ended by beheading the lava monster.

This was what he didn't expect.

"Sure enough, he has his demeanor, and even me, there is a little bit of misunderstanding, not bad." The old man smiled.

"The back waves of the Yangtze River push the front waves, George Han? This name, this old man has written down." After he finished speaking, he laughed and moved his hands slightly again. In the distance, the already bright "moon" became even brighter at this time. .

At this time, George Han in midair, George Han, who had been silent in pain, suddenly raised his head slightly, and looked around with some doubts.

He could clearly feel that his shattered hand bones were recovering quickly, and the strength that had almost disappeared seemed to be reuniting.

It's like Taixu recovering for himself, like the Five Elements Divine Stone repairing himself.

"How could this be?" He was very strange.

However, this is an ironclad fact.

Watching the dust begin to dissipate and reveal a huge half-deficient corpse lying on the ground, George Han knew that in five minutes, he would make a comeback.

Therefore, George Han had no time or effort to think about other things, so he hurriedly closed his eyes and let these strange things from nowhere repair his body.

Five minutes later, a giant suddenly stood up from the ground again.

At this time, the moon in the sky also turned extremely red because it was extremely white...

Chapter 4159

“Roar!”

Like a dragon going out of the sea, or like a tiger coming out of its cage, the lava monster suddenly rose up again, with raging rage, suddenly bombarded George Han.

George Han's eyes were already blood red, and at this time, the whole person was like a demon who came into the world, madly returning to kill.

Between the two, it was another destructive battle.

It's just that, facing the resurrected and stronger monster, this time George Han is much stronger than before, but his actual strength is getting worse and worse.

After about 20 rounds, George Han's response has reached a desperate point. He doesn't say anything about fighting back, even if he wants to take a move, it has become extremely difficult.

The lack of power began to expand infinitely, and George Han began to retreat.

“Roar!”

Seeing this, the monster was even more ferocious, roaring and launching a more ferocious attack at George Han.

In just a moment, George Han, who hastily challenged, already felt what is called true despair. His arms and body were almost full of scars and blood flowed non-stop.

However, the lava monster had no intention of letting go of its own plans at all. Not only did it strengthen its offensive, but it also approached George Han aggressively, making George Han extremely embarrassed.

If the fight goes on, there will undoubtedly be only one result. George Han will be slowly tortured to death in such a humiliating manner.

But if he retreated and fled at this time, not only would he have no dignity at all, but most importantly, George Han would not be able to escape very far, and the result would also be death.

Gritting his teeth, he shouted at the country three thousand to support it with incomparable difficulty, but in the midst of constant forced defense, strange scenes suddenly appeared in his mind.

He saw a person fighting against the lava monster. It seemed that that person was himself, but it did not seem to be himself.

he looks extremely disadvantaged on the surface, in fact, his tactful and extremely superb technique is allowing him to get out of the most difficult situation and stabilize his own fundamentals.

George Han was fascinated. From the beginning to the end, he had never seen anyone who could use such a subtle counterattack technique. For him, it was not just as simple as making George Han amazed. The most important thing was that these The superb technique completely opened George Han's vision and cognition.

It turned out that under almost impossible circumstances, people can still complete the counterattack and perseverance in this way!

In the next second, the picture in his mind seemed to disappear suddenly, and what appeared in front of him was the abrupt lava monster and the same ferocious attack as it looked.

With a subconscious movement of George Han's hand, he himself was very surprised that, for some reason, the moves of the people who had been imagining in his mind actually appeared in his own hands at this time.

Facing the attack of the lava monster, this counterattack method quickly stopped George Han's decline.

"I...how can I...how can I do this?" George Han exclaimed.

Of course, not waiting for him to reflect, the next second, the picture in his mind reappeared, and those superb techniques kept appearing in his mind.

As the situation became more and more compact, the technology in the man's hand continued to appear higher-level and even more unbelievable moves, and every second, George Han could quickly master these methods and use them to fight lava monsters. confrontation.

So, a miraculous scene happened.

According to any knowledgeable person, George Han is already in a situation where he will lose immediately, but every so often, George Han can always fight back at a critical moment and resolve the crisis.

A game that lasted two or three was dragged abruptly for more than ten minutes and remained unresolved.

The lava monster was completely irritated. He roared wildly, and became even more bloody. The 3000 North Korea attacked. The anger in his eyes already showed that he had begun to disregard any damage to himself, and he was determined to kill 3000 Han.

"Wow!"

Sure enough, George Han was suddenly hit by his palm.

Suddenly, George Han flew upside down several meters away. Even if he stabilized his body, the severe internal injury caused him to spit out a mouthful of blood.

This guy, even if it is just a palm, is full of hundreds of thousands of pounds of power, and ordinary people have long been directly slapped into meat patties with one palm.

The monster did not intend to stop there, roaring and attacking George Han again.

It was too late for George Han to avoid it. He stared blankly at the attacking monster. Suddenly, his body suddenly exploded...

Chapter 4160

Boom!

It was as if a certain breath suddenly rushed out of George Han's body. He just shook his body suddenly, and the next second, a golden body appeared in front of George Han.

Facing the sudden attack of the monster, the golden body was not afraid at all.

"You finally can't take it anymore, can't you?" The old man showed his true form again, with a light smile on his face.

"Even if your soul is not there, the bloodline that belongs to your body can't help but beat when it encounters such a powerful enemy, and when your host is facing an absolute dimensionality reduction blow, you can never stand idly by."

"How, do these subconscious reflections in your body arouse some memory in you, and do your new host have a different experience?!"

"Enjoy yourself, I will help you, and I will never leave. After you

." After the words were finished, the old man looked up at the blood-red moon, and the next second, he smiled lightly, and his body suddenly flew towards the moon.

In less than a few seconds, the old man's body got into the moon, and the blood-red moon suddenly became brighter. After a while, it returned to normal. However, an invisible breath passed through the moon and was slowly spreading the image. earth.

And the golden body, at the moment when it collided with the monster, the golden light of the whole body was obviously dim, but due to the influence of its blood moon and the invisible breath, a moment later, it suddenly shook again, and it was inseparable from the battle with the monster.

George Han looked at the scene in front of him in astonishment. For a while, he was extremely shocked, but he seemed to have a general guess in his mind.

George Han thought, George Han may have understood the general passage of the whole thing.

He also began to understand why the old man would say that those people were killed by himself.

To a certain extent, people do kill themselves, but that self is different from the real self now.

He is indeed himself, but more should be his golden body.

He belongs to a certain overlord who died in battle here. It once killed the Pei family who entered here.

George Han also began to understand that the figures fighting with the lava monster that flashed in his mind just now were not hallucinations, but rather a memory that belonged to the golden body.

When faced with the enemy in the world, or the enemy engraved in his bones, some things that were sealed in the memory began to be awakened.

And those who are just now, are like that.

No wonder the old man kept saying that he didn't really understand his intentions. Now it seems that George Han knows that what he said is indeed the truth.

really missed this most crucial part.

Everything has been thoroughly and reasonably explained at this time, and the monster in the mist has also revealed its true colors.

George Han was suddenly no longer so confused, and he seemed to understand the meaning of each.

"The realm of heaven and earth, the realm of chaos, it turns out that it is not just that I am dumbfounded here. In fact, he wants to tell me what happened here and what the golden body in my body is." Han Three thousand suddenly realized.

He looked up at the sky, and although there was no words, his eyes were full of gratitude to the old man.

The old senior may be unable to speak bluntly with himself because of something, so he uses this kind of time and place to explain to himself.

This time, George Han admitted that he did not come in vain.

"You are me, I am you, but I am George Han

, and where exactly are you holy?" George Han looked at the golden body and felt emotional.

When the person on the outside saw his golden body, he took a sip of him, and then he took himself to ring the bell.

Even the people in the inner circle, It seems that they also know the original appearance of their golden body. They are the overlords of the ancient times. Naturally, the golden body they know is by no means an ordinary identity.

Linked to the fact that he has such a dialogue with the strongest person in the ban, George Han guessed the identity of his golden body, I am afraid it is not easy.

Maybe, now he can't figure out all of this, but at least from now, step by step, he is heading for the truth, He was also starting to move towards the fault...

Suddenly, a roar broke the tranquility of everything. The lava monster broke through the golden body and rushed towards George Han...
