

HTC 4441

Chapter 4441

When Scar opened his eyes, there was a black liquid on his body, wrapped in energy, and gently covered his own body like water. whole body.

He didn't feel the slightest pain, and even a touch of coolness.

"Master Han!" Scar was a little surprised.

George Han shook his head at him: "Shut up, I'm helping you open the meridians, calm down."

Scar nodded honestly, and then closed his eyes obediently.

This guy's foundation is not very good, but he is already a good cultivator.

As long as his meridians are opened up and combined with the brute force of this guy, he can basically meet the basic requirements of George Han for a general.

As for the black liquid flowing on his body, it was actually pure molten iron.

George Han found some relatively good iron products from the space ring, and then melted them in the dark with burning silence and sky fire, and then wrapped the molten iron with real energy and went down his body. The armor that best fits his body.

Such armor has almost no loopholes, nor too many weaknesses.

The only thing that needs to be noted is that George Han must use True Qi to mobilize the softening of certain joints during the cooling process, so that these areas can be flexible and movable at that time.

After the meridians were fully opened, the armor on his body finally solidified.

It's not very good-looking, but at least it suits his body the best.

George Han smiled slightly, and then, withdrew his palm: "How about you feel it?"

Scar felt that his whole body was full of violent power. Just as George Han allowed him to move, this guy couldn't wait to throw a punch.

The fist hit the ground, and there was a sudden bang, and the ground trembled!

Afterwards, another scene of Scar's surprise appeared. A cracked pit with a diameter of nearly half a meter was smashed out of the ground.

Scar stared at his fist in disbelief.

Although he knew that he was very powerful, he would never have imagined that his power would be so strong.

Obviously, this was achieved by George Han helping himself.

Thinking of this, Scar immediately knelt down halfway: "Thank you, Lord Han."

"Thank you?" George Han smiled: "I think you will be very me." When the words were finished, George Han directly lifted his foot, and with a single kick Aiming at the scar, he kicked it directly.

boom!

Scar flew upside down several meters away, and then smashed heavily on the wall several meters away.

This kick was obviously not light, and Amelia Su was also taken aback.

Because it was too sudden.

“Three thousand, you...” Amelia Su was a little anxious.

However, George Han still looked at the knife scar that was kicked flying: “How is it? You can’t die, right?”

“

However, this move is not as difficult as imagined.

He stood up with little effort.

The sharp pain that should have been in his consciousness did not come.

He was a little strange, but soon realized that he could be so entirely because of the new armor on his body.

His eyes suddenly glowed with joy, and he couldn’t put it down when he touched his new armor.

So powerful, he won’t say that he is invincible, but at least there should be no problem in killing the Quartet.

However, before he was happy, George Han had already curled his lips: “Scrap iron is really scrap iron, and the effect is too unsatisfactory.”

For Scar, this is a bit of a fuing hatred, because he I already feel strong, but in George Han’s mouth, it doesn’t seem to be a fart.

“Master Han, you...you are too...”

George Han shook his head, not Versailles, but in fact he was not messy.

Although it seems that after one step, the scar will be fine, but in fact, George Han’s strength is not too strong, and it is still passable against ordinary enemies, but if it is against a master...

George Han is worried. Yes, these iron sheets worn on their bodies will become their iron coffins at that time.

So, it’s still a long way off.

Thinking of this, George Han couldn’t help but sigh.

“I have to do it again.” After saying this, George Han turned his eyes to Scar’s body again...

Then, a very cunning smile appeared on this guy's face...

Chapter 4442

"But I forgot, the magic dragon said a word to me." George Han said.

"What?" Amelia Su asked.

"I've been busy here for a long time, and I'm even thinking about what materials should be used to forge a batch of heavy armor for the heavy armored legion. As a result, I ignored the most important point."

"The magic dragon said, here, it's completely The pillow I gave me when I was dozing off, I can just lie down."

"Material, someone has already prepared it for me." After the words were finished, George Han got up one by one and pulled Amelia Su with the knife scar. He went straight out of the inn.

"Continue to register, and the registered people will line up. When I come back, I have something important to announce."

Chong Peiyuan and the two instructed them, and the three of George Han went directly to the previous place to kill them.

Under the castle over there, there are already many rebels collecting the property here and preparing to run away.

When Angelica was alive, he was madly squeezing Tianmo Castle, and under his squeezing, he took out a lot of people's fat and ointment.

Right now, with the death of Angelica, these rebels lost their owners. The rebels knew that they could never return to the team, so they gathered together in twos and threes.

Simply, start to search for the remaining property directly.

But as soon as they saw George Hanlai, the group of people were so frightened that their faces turned ashen, and many people even threw the things they got there and quickly dispersed as if they were running for their lives.

George Han gave a look, and there were almost not many people left in the entire castle.

George Han smiled lightly and looked at the wall full of gold bricks: "Scar, Amelia Su, what do you think, how about using these things to make heavy armor?"

The hardness of gold is very good, and it is not easy to deform. It should be the most ideal to use this as armor material.

Amelia Su's eyes also brightened: "Three thousand, what do you mean, let's use the gold in this palace to make armor?"

"Is there any problem?"

These are the people's fat and the people's ointment, taken from the people and used in People, isn't this what it should be?

Amelia Su shook her head and said with a smile, "Of course I don't have any problems. It's just..."

"Damn it, no, Master Han, you used gold to make armor for us? Wouldn't it be too extravagant?" Also a hater.

However, he couldn't do it with such a way of playing with these things.

"The gold in this place should be enough for our current people in Tianmo Castle to build armor, but at least one third of it must be left." George Han said.

George Han intends to exchange the remaining one-third for money, so that in addition to the armor, there is money to be used to batch other things.

After all, heavy armor is not just armor.

"However, this place is so big, shouldn't we call someone to help?" Scar asked.

George Han shook his head, not because he was stingy, but there was no need for it.

He only needs to put the physical evidence and the castle directly into his storage ring, and when needed, he can just dig it out from the inside.

"Scar, evacuate the people around me, I'm going to do it." George Han said.

Scar nodded, very excited. Although there is no one in the Demon Race who has never done this kind of thing, it is the first time for him to do something on such a large scale.

In less than a moment, the knife scar has cleaned up everyone in the city, and then looked at George Han eagerly.

With a slight movement in George Han's hand, a large amount of demonic energy instantly and slowly enveloped the entire golden castle.

George Han smiled coldly, and immediately after the ring opened, the huge golden castle was dragged into the space ring little by little.

In order to prevent the gluttonous gluttons from being eaten by him, George Han specially placed a barrier on the golden castle.

After that, he received the supernatural power and let everything return to normal.

If someone were to look from the sky to the ground at this time, it would be obvious that a castle in the Castle of Demons had disappeared, leaving only a huge deep pit.

George Han beckoned, and Scar immediately ran over obediently.

"One more thing..."

Chapter 4443

"Han, I have ordered." Scar said respectfully.

George Han smiled softly: "Is there a good blacksmith in the city?!"

"There are some blacksmiths in Tianmo Castle, but I don't know if they can get into your eyes."

Although the blacksmith is good, George Han is still there. In Scar's eyes, after all, he was a high-class person, so he naturally thought that what George Han was looking for should also be an absolutely top-notch craftsman.

This kind of person, Scar doesn't know, and there is no such person in Tianmo Castle.

Because even if there were, most of them were killed by Angelica and the like.

"Why?" George Han frowned.

It is understandable that Angelica catches women, but why is it killing craftsmen?!

"Master Han, you don't know, this Angelica is afraid that our large-scale arrests will cause dissatisfaction among the people in the city, and thus give rise to rebellion. Therefore, on weekdays, not only strictly control all kinds of metal objects

, but also strictly control the craftsmen. "

This ordinary craftsman has been dragged to repair the city and build bricks. If this is better, then the work will be even lower. As tired as it is, it will be as tired as it is."

"To put it bluntly, it is a waste of money. In the end, most of the good craftsmen died, leaving only some craftsmen doing rough work. However, as I said, these craftsmen are less skilled."

George Han Nodding, this Angelica is not something that people do, basically it's all done again.

Seriously asshole!

"There are as many blacksmiths as there are. You go to send someone to gather them first, and we will meet them in an hour. As for you, find a few smart people to help Amelia Su sort out the manpower.

" Amelia Su: "It's hard for you to gather the brothers who join us first, and have dinner."

Amelia Su knew that George Han certainly didn't find a job for himself.

He must have something to do, and this matter, Amelia Su can basically guess.

That is to find a way to open a small stove for the scar.

Of course, her husband, Amelia Su, knows his personality best.

Now, with such a large group of people, it is inevitable that George Han will do a good job of letting these people who join him have something to show off.

He wants everyone who joins his side to confirm one thing.

That is to say, everyone who joins him is enviable.

Thinking of this, Amelia Su nodded: "Don't worry, I will arrange it."

After sending Amelia Su and Scar back, George Han found a place where no one was alone, and then put the double dragon tripod directly on the shelf. up.

Although George Han does not know how to refine weapons, George Han has strong experience in refining medicine.

Therefore, 3,000 people in the heat of the Han Dynasty admitted that it was not a big problem.

Next, is the process of melting and quenching.

Melting is also a simple project.

The hardest part is actually the quenching process.

This requires plasticity.

If the little black stick is here, then it's not difficult at all, just simply let it take shape and it can form itself.

But without it, George Han could only find another way.

This is a technical job, but George Han is not in a hurry, silently, builds the first pair of golden armor little by little.

Made of gold, with golden light, a pair of armor is slowly taking shape under the careful polishing of George Han.

Seeing the results in front of him, George Han was very happy.

However, George Han did not intend to end it hastily. On the contrary, it was not easy to give Scar, the absolute number one commander , the first meeting gift.

As soon as it was born, it should be a sensation, and it should be extremely enviable.

Thinking of this, George Han continued to polish his golden armor without any pause.

At the other end, Amelia Su also began to set up the banquet in a nervous and orderly manner.

The number of people who joined is very considerable. Amelia Su has roughly counted them, at least 30,000.

This only counted the civilians who joined. They didn't make a statement about the rebels, and Amelia Su never thought of joining them.

Angelica greeted everyone to sit down. At this time, the meals made by a group of commoners began to be served on the table, but everyone did not start immediately. Obviously, they were waiting for George Han.

At almost the same time, a figure passed by, followed by a shout.

“Everyone, it’s been a long time!”

Chapter 4444

second, standing upright, George Han slowly fell in front of everyone.

“Roar!”

Everyone shouted in unison, welcoming George Han in this way.

Among them, the most exciting original scar.

After all, although George Han didn’t say it clearly, he knew very well that George Han must have tried to find a way to benefit him.

Now that George Han is back, he is naturally very excited and looking forward to it.

“My subordinate, Scar, is a member of the entire Heavy Armored Corps. See Master Han.”

As Scar shouted, everyone immediately shouted loudly.

“See Mr. Han.” The

voice was loud, like the ringing of a bell.

George Han smiled lightly: “Brothers, thank you Han for looking down on me and creating a future with me. On behalf of the Mysterious Man Alliance, I officially welcome you all.” George Han applauded.

The audience also responded with bursts of applause.

Han

George Han raised his hand, and for a moment, the audience was peaceful.

“Everyone, since we are already one, don’t call me Mr. Han in the future. We are all brothers, and we call them natural peers.”

“I have an alliance under my command called the Mysterious Man Alliance. After that, I will introduce them to you. Get to know me.”

“In the future, you can call me the leader of the alliance.”

“I am also renamed the heavy armored army by the polar bear army, and all the members under my command are also code-named polar bears, okay?”

“Okay!” The

audience shouted again.

“Okay.” George Han also responded and continued: “This time, you have just joined me, and the time is too late. However, you don’t have to worry, follow my brother George Han, no matter how he was born before, in my These are all treated equally.”

“If you want to be promoted, you must either fight for me with blood, or you can lead the team to victory. In short, anyone who has merit can be promoted.”

“After being promoted, Han can guarantee that in addition to the big increase in salary, he will also I will personally teach some of Han’s cultivation and skills.”

“In addition, everyone who joins me has a set of equipment of their own.”

“But, as I said just now, the time is tight, and I can’t measure it today. I can show you the samples first. Scar.”

“The subordinate is here!” Scar shouted loudly.

After that, he quickly came to power.

“Scar temporarily serves as the president of the polar bear.”

“However, you don’t have to be too happy. If you can’t lead a team, I will slap you down at any time and let someone who is capable take the position.”

“My subordinates understand!”

“Okay. “George Han finished his words, moved his hand, and then an object flew out directly, and it was already wrapped on Scar’s body between the electric light and flint.

Although Scar’s stature is not tall, when the golden armor flew behind him, his heroic appearance was no longer determined and hindered by his height.

Looking from a distance, it is like a god descending from the sky.

“Next.” In the next second, a long spear flew directly over.

Scar took the spear just for a look, and immediately couldn’t put it down.

The whole body is made of gold, and the tip of the spear is made of cold iron, which is both beautiful and practical.

On the gun body, several blue electric patterns are entwined like a dragon.

It was so handsome that it exploded.

“Master Han... No, the leader of the alliance, this...”

Even if it was the tip of the knife licking blood, even if it was half a lifetime, but such a perfect and domineering weapon full of money, it was the first time that the knife scar was seen.

“The conditions are simple, you can just do it.”

Of course George Han knew that the scar was not disgusting, but this did not prevent George Han from continuing to put on a wave.

“This subordinate is not disgusted, but... but this is too precious , subordinate... subordinate is not worthy.” He said with some embarrassment.

“What’s wrong with my brother George Han?” George Han pretended to be angry.

Hearing this, Scar nodded and put away the things, no nonsense.

“Wait later, the conditions are better, and some things are better. By the way, don’t just collect all your things, go down and show them to everyone.”

Scar nodded and responded again and again.

Previously, I was too excited to forget about it, but after George Han’s reminder, Scar reacted.

Of course, Scar didn’t want to let go of this opportunity to show himself.

Immediately afterwards, the guy ran off.

Suddenly, there were bursts of exclamations under the stage, wherever the goods passed.

Many people naturally envy that Scar can get such a baby.

But there are also people whose mouths are almost crooked into a line at this time...

Chapter 4445

“He’s it, you look at the face of that knife scar.”

“fu, before this grandson looked at us and had to retreat Let’s go, I didn’t expect this guy to be so lucky, he got it right all of a sudden, look at the golden armor.” “Damn

, just his armor, our mother’s whole life work, You can’t afford to be a soldier for a lifetime.”

Everyone said something to me, and your words were full of ridicule and disdain.

And those who can say these words can’t be members of the Polar Bear Legion, but only the rebels who did not successfully join the polar bears.

“fu, this is a dog fighting against people.”

“That’s right, after taking off that layer of dog skin, his scar is not a dog thing.”

“I don’t know what to show off. That armor is not made of gold. And where did the gold come from? Then the goddamn thing was not squeezed by Angelica.”

“Yeah, if you really have the ability, go out and grab it, eh, what kind of ability is it to occupy the Angelica?

” Afraid of wolves, fear of tigers, not joining George Han, fearing that they will be retaliated sooner or later, but not joining George Han, and worrying that George Han will target them.

Therefore, the final result of this group of rebels is that they choose to wait and see.

If George Han had to use force to force them, it was not impossible for them to join George Han.

After all, life is important.

However, if George Han didn't force it, then of course they wanted to retreat and leave here. Afterwards, they formed a small army and did some robbery.

Living in a dashing and comfortable life, even if the superiors of Angelica sent people to take revenge at that time, they could not be found.

Right now, seeing George Han prepare so many good things for Scar, naturally, these people are sour. One by one, they tried their best to speak sour words.

At this moment, he didn't speak, but the judge who was obviously the leader of this gang sneered.

Obviously, his face was full of disdain.

"Hmph, there's no way. Now that people have stolen the treasure, of course they have to show it off."

"If we want to blame us, we can only blame the damn Angelica. Damn, we don't understand the truth of not revealing the wealth. The gold and silver treasures of the swindle were used to show off, and they were given to a pot."

"Now, people have picked up big ready-made ones, so naturally they have to pretend."

"However, for the upstarts, it seems very attractive, but in reality you understand."

As soon as the judge's words fell, everyone immediately understood the meaning and responded with a sneer.

The meaning of these words means that George Han is just punching the fat man with a swollen face.

The windfall came, and it was lost in one fell swoop, and I wanted to pretend to be coercive, so I threw gold crazy here, but after that, it was nothing.

"So, there are a lot of legends about him, George Han, but we have never heard of the Mysterious Man Alliance under his command. Today, he even brought it up himself."

"You didn't see it, even if they come to our Heavenly Demon Castle, they are just a few people, what does this mean, haha, the team has long since disbanded, but there is only one name left to fool people."

"That's right, what he said is wrong. It sounds good, and he looks good for everyone, but in fact, he has lost his own troops, and he is trying to find a source of troops. He is afraid of retaliation by our superiors, so..."

"It's just these idiots and civilians. I believe, so civilians can only be civilians, and their IQ is not enough."

Accompanied by the judge's speech, the group of people who were already more sour now became even more maddened.

How do they know that the Mysterious Man Alliance is actually getting stronger and stronger, and George Han is often reluctant to let them take too many risks.

Including this division of troops is also based on this.

Just when these people were talking about the rise, in fact, they didn't notice that George Han's eyes were already on this side.

However, George Han did not stop them from whispering, and even after judging their thoughts and opinions from the expressions on their faces, he did not feel angry.

He had already guessed that this would happen.

At this time, when the judge raised his eyes at will, he happened to make eye contact with George Han. Seeing that George Han was also looking at him, he secretly said that he was bad.

And George Han, as expected, suddenly walked towards this side at this time...

Chapter 4446

"I'll go."

It's really bad luck, drinking water is stuck between his mother's teeth.

That's why I didn't ridicule anything, I was caught.

He quickly buried his head and lowered his head.

Soon, George Han had already walked over.

Seeing the judge lowered his head, everyone else turned their heads to one side.

George Han smiled and said, "Didn't you talk very much just now? What? You stopped talking when I came?"

The expressions on the faces of several people were no different from eating poop.

But no matter how ugly it was, a few people just didn't dare to make a sound.

"It seems that I'm not welcome."

This sentence made the people around them even more afraid to talk.

Deny it, if George Han takes this to ask them to continue to talk about what to do, you can't continue those bad things you just said. But let's admit it, is this the same as admitting that George Han is unpopular? Isn't it more time to rush to die? ! Therefore, apart from shaking their heads silently, everyone did not dare to say even a single word.

"Master Han, you...you misunderstood, I...we were just chatting a few words." Seeing that the atmosphere had eased, the judge couldn't help but play a roundabout. George Han smiled coldly: "That's it, if you are chatting, you can continue." Everyone had a bitter face.

"According to me, you are not talking about gossip, but just talking about me?"

As soon as these words came out, everyone was shocked.

After all, it is so disrespectful that once George Han gets angry, it will be a disaster for them.

"Why, how could it be? Master Han, you...Aren't you joking

“Yeah, we...how can we gossip about you?!”

With a smile, he continued: “Actually, if you speak ill of me, you will speak ill of me. I am not good at anything, but I may be very accepting of others talking about me.”

“Whether it is good or bad, I am always It’s acceptable.”

“It doesn’t matter if you don’t dare to admit it, I can roughly guess what you’re talking about.”

“It just means that I like to show off and show off my golden armor here, right?”

The faces of several people are like eggplants, and I have to admit that what George Han guessed is basically the truth.

But they can’t admit it.

“It’s a good thing to say.” George Han looked at the crowd lightly, not at all angry.

“Master Han

, we...we don’t mean that.”

“No, you mean that.” George Han continued with a smile: “But it doesn’t matter, the mouth is on you, naturally, what you want to say, that’s you. freedom.” The judge was even more embarrassed, and his toes could even be buckled directly into a shoe.

George Han patted the judge on the shoulder: “Don’t be so afraid, it’s actually nothing. Just, I want to make it clear that you have your freedom of speech, but I should also have the right to fight back.”

“Master Han, you... what do you mean by that?” the judge said with a smile.

George Han didn’t talk nonsense, and when he moved his hand, several gold bricks were scattered directly from the space ring.

“Do you want these things right?”

Although they dared not admit this

, they subconsciously made them nod their heads.

“Yes, but a gentleman loves money, and he takes it in a proper way. I make a bet with you. If you win, these are yours. If you lose, you can come to the stage for me and apologize in public. How about that?”

“It’s that simple? “The judge originally wanted to reject it subconsciously. After all, it’s not at the same level as George Han. Naturally, isn’t it pure nonsense to bet?”

But as soon as he heard the request for this bet, his eyes suddenly lit up.

George Han looked at him, nodded and said, “Naturally, it’s that simple, do you dare to gamble?”

Damn, it doesn't matter if you lose, you can get such a big pile of gold bricks if you win, even if you're a fool, it will not refuse.

"Master Han, I bet, words count?"

"Speaks count!"

Chapter 4447

"Okay. What to bet!" The judge said loudly.

George Han made a move, and after a while, the scar in the distance immediately ran over.

For George Han, Scar now completely regards him as his grandfather.

without him.

Just because I followed George Han, I went to the pinnacle of my life all at once.

It turns out that Dingtiantian is just a little gangster with some power. Although he has some skills, his grade and status are polar after all.

But now, he has changed his body and instantly became the commander-in-chief of the army of tens of thousands of people. He is wearing a golden armor and holding a golden spear. How majestic and domineering.

As soon as the scar was in place, George Han raised his right hand, and the scene was quiet in an instant.

All eyes also turned to George Han for the first time.

"Everyone, Scar is the current commander of my polar bear regiment. Although time is in a hurry, I also made."

"Originally, I just wanted to show everyone the finished product and let the brothers join us. I also know what I can get in the future."

"But unfortunately, in the eyes of some people, Han's actions have become a so-called show of wealth."

"Yes, everyone is George Han's brother, George Han naturally hopes that every brother can have countless wealth. However, this does not mean that George Han does not understand a truth."

"When there is life, money is money, am I right?"

"Yes!" the crowd responded.

"That's right, this armor is not only to give you money, but also to save your life. So, in order to prove it, I am announcing."

"Scar will have a fight with the judge."

"If the judge wins, this pile of gold bricks is theirs, they can leave here freely with the gold bricks, and no one can stop them, understand?"

When everyone heard the words, suddenly look at me strangely, I look at you, Obviously, it was difficult to understand George Han's decision for a while.

After all, this is ridiculous.

This is almost equivalent to giving money to the judge for free, and at the same time sticking out his face to hit the opponent.

Many people want to speak about it, but they don't know how to speak for a while.

Scar was the closest to George Han. At this time, he hurriedly got close to George Han's ear and said softly, "I said Alliance Leader, you..."

"You may not know much, I... I am a reckless person. It's just a husband, and I guess I can fight a dozen other people, but compared with people like the judge, it's a world of difference."

This point, Scar must also admit.

Even dealing with the elite soldiers in the city is a huge problem, not to mention a super expert like the judge, who is several levels above the elite soldiers

Therefore, it should have been an opportunity to earn performance in front of George Han, and Scar had to give up and tell George Han the truth.

George Han smiled softly, and before he could speak, the judge had already laughed arrogantly.

"Scar, you still have some self-knowledge. I thought you would brag and show off in front of your new master." When the judge finished, everyone began to burst into laughter.

It's not that they are too arrogant, indeed, this guy Scar can't even handle their gang, let alone fight the judge.

That is completely hitting the stone with the egg, beyond one's own strength.

Scar was also a little embarrassed. It was too embarrassing to have to give George Han the impression of retreating without a fight in the first battle.

"Scar, what are you afraid of? Since I asked you to fight, naturally, I believe you can do it."

"Is it so difficult to win a mere judge?!"

George Han said

calmly eyes full of confidence again.

Scar glanced at George Han, and seeing him like this, he gritted his teeth, and at this time he could only give his life to accompany the gentleman.

"Okay, since the leader asked me to do what, then I will do it."

"He's it, judge, come on, I'm afraid that you will not succeed in the end?"

Hearing Scar's provocation, the judge sneered. : "Scar, don't talk too much, although I will give you some strength in George Han's face, but this will not change any results, understand?"

"You don't have to give me face, or say, Judge, the safer you want to get out of here, the harder you give me. Once I find out that you have released water, then I'm sorry, if you put in more water, I guarantee that it will be more difficult for you to leave here." George Han said.

The scarred dog looked back at George Han. Is my Nima your subordinate or your enemy? !

Chapter 4448

However, George Han has no plans to ask him back at all. For George Han, the reaction of the knife scar is in his as expected.

The judge's eyes narrowed slightly, obviously he was considering whether George Han's words were true.

Out of face, even if the fight broke out, he would definitely let go. After all, in front of George Han, if he made his subordinates look too ugly, then he would not have any fruit to eat.

It's up to the owner to beat the dog.

But what George Han said today really made the nature of the matter extremely different.

If...

if you let go, then it is equivalent to ruining your own life.

How is this possible? !

Therefore, after weighing it up, a coldness flashed in the judge's eyes.

"Okay, if that's the case, then, I'm welcome."

After he finished speaking, he looked at Scar, and there was obviously a trace of killing intent in his eyes

"Scar." George Han said.

Knife Scar immediately took the order: "This subordinate is here."

"I will give you the same words, you must be confident and fight him to the end, you know?"

"This subordinate understands."

George Han smiled lightly and patted the knife Scar's shoulder: "I believe you can definitely win."

After saying this, George Han waved his hand, and suddenly, an alleyway was cleared from the crowd.

Under the leadership of George Han, a group of people quickly walked towards the stage.

Soon, the judge and Scar were already facing each other.

"This knife scar is really an idiot. He dares to fight with the judge.

” Some people have managed to find a thick thigh, hehe, they are going to burp so soon.” The general rebels laughed with disdain.

“So

letSh
me tell you, following George Han may not be a good thing.”

Everyone nodded again and again, and they were also secretly grateful for their previous decision.

Only George Han was very indifferent.

The game is not the last moment, who wins and who loses is uncertain.

Chong Dao Scar gave a positive look, indicating that this guy need not be afraid, and then, George Han announced that the game officially started.

In order to make the game more exciting, George Han even added a new rule after the shouting started.

Every time there is no winner or loser for more than one minute, George Han will draw a piece from the BRIC.

This is basically equivalent to forcing the judge, and he must get rid of the scar as soon as possible, otherwise, he can only suffer.

“Kill!” The

judge saw that George Han had already played this game, and he couldn't take care of it anymore. In anger, he rushed to the scar.

Scar couldn't help swallowing saliva, hesitated for a moment, and the next second, something unexpected happened.

Facing the sudden attack of the judge, Scar, who seemed to be fully prepared, suddenly chose to run away between the electric light and flint.

Immediately, this scene directly stunned the polar bear people, but it also made the rebels burst into laughter.

“Hahahaha!”

“Haha, I'm just saying it, where did this idiot have the courage and confidence to coax with our judge? This is a mule or a horse, and you have to pull it out to know the truth. “

Idiot, if he doesn't have this ability, it would be better to admit it earlier.”

“Don't say that, without him, we wouldn't have so many gold bricks to take.” A group of people Speaking of this, he burst into laughter again.

The judge quietly looked back and glanced at George Han, but saw that George Han was not at all angry at this time, but just looked at the situation on the field lightly.

It seemed to him that everything was to be expected.

“Okay, since you’re still holding steady, then I won’t let you stand it.” After the words were finished, the judge stepped up his offensive and pushed the knife away.

George Han remained unmoved, looking at the situation in the field lightly.

In terms of Scar’s ability, his first reaction right now is to retreat, which is nothing to be angry about.

This is the basic reaction anyone will have.

It’s as if people see a more powerful beast and choose to dodge for the first time.

As long as Scar is given time, George Han believes that this guy will come back to his senses.

And once this is the case, then the white-hot competition of this game will really begin.

Sure enough, the inescapable scar seems to have been cornered...

Chapter 4449

Scar wants to retire, but facing the morale of the judge, he has nowhere to go.

After retreating, he may have to obediently jump off the stage.

However, such a method is a great insult to any man.

Giving up without fighting, is this not a coward and what is it?

Thinking of this, Scar stopped.

The judge followed closely, looked at Scar and smiled coldly: “Scar, don’t say I don’t give you face, you have two choices now, the first is to jump down from here obediently, and save me. As you know, this sword has no eyes, if I accidentally hurt you. Hmph, just based on your cultivation, I am afraid you will be disabled if you don’t die.

” I don’t want to make things too ugly, and I don’t want you to be a commander and immediately be unable to lead the team due to injury.”

So , I’ll give you the chance.”

Scar swallowed and looked at the judge. , gritted his teeth: “Come on, judge, the arena is set up, and the bet of my family leader has also been made.”

“Even if I really can’t beat you today, so what, standing dead is better than lying down. “

Okay, Scar, then don’t blame my subordinates for being ruthless.” With a cold snort, the judge didn't hesitate, and slammed directly at Scar.

Scar also gritted his teeth, there was no complicated move, just a simple grit of his teeth, and rushed towards the judge.

His goal is very simple. In terms of strength, he is far from being the judge's opponent.

Therefore, any tricks to play with him are false.

The most important thing is to rush directly with the flesh.

Anyway, he has also thought about it. It is inevitable for Lao Tzu to lose, but he must bite you a few times before losing.

"Looking for death!"

Facing the scar, the judge was furious, turned his hand and hit him directly.

boom!

hum!

The two voices mixed into a muffled sound.

The judge's palm directly hit Scar's body firmly.

Suddenly, Scar's body flew several meters upside down, and then hit the ground heavily.

The ground on the platform is almost entirely made of stone, so it is natural to say how hard it is.

But with the smashing of the knife scar, a huge deep pit was smashed into the ground abruptly.

Touching his aching palm, the judge stood coldly, looking at the scar in the distance like a fool.

Originally, he didn't intend to take such a heavy hand. As for Scar, he thought he could just knock it down.

Although George Han said that he didn't need to give him face, how could a person who is in the position of a judge not be aware of the world?

People may say something for the sake of face without thinking about me, don't you think you really don't think about people?

hitting a dog, always depends on the owner.

It's just that this scar is really damn, actually trying to resist when he is attacking, and even wants to hurt himself.

How can the judge endure this? He must be taught some lessons.

Otherwise, where should he put the face of the judge? !

A group of rebels beamed with joy at this time, and it was obvious that the judge won a big victory, as expected.

And those who followed Scar, and even many brothers of the Polar Bear Legion, could not wait to cover their eyes with their hands at this time. This scene is too cruel and too cruel.

Only George Han looked at the scar quietly.

He knew very well that now, it was just the beginning.

“Oh, look at it, I’ll just say it, dealing with a knife scar is like a joke to the judge.”

“Yeah

, this is a crazy crushing game, I really don’t know, What confidence does George Han have for Scar to fight him.”

“Even if you pretend to be forceful, you should find someone else to pretend, haha, this kind of person is vulnerable.”

“I think we should think about those gold coins . Bricks, how should we spend them?”

“Yeah, if I knew it was so easy to get it, why bother to steal any gold bricks before.” The rebels were not so happy, some of them even walked to George Han Thousand here, ready to get the gold bricks.

“Master Han, this brick, hehe...”

He just wanted to stretch out his hand, but George Han had already stepped on the golden brick, and smiled coldly: “What’s the hurry?”

The man just wanted to say if Master Han didn’t want to accept the account, On the stage over there, at this moment, Scar suddenly stood up slowly.

Suddenly, everyone, including the judge, opened their eyes wide...

Chapter 4450

What the hell is this?

Obviously, this guy has already eaten the judge’s move very solidly. From the perspective of a bystander, the judge’s move is absolutely powerful.

Those who are hit by it are naturally hard to resist.

Not to mention a mere scar, even an expert of the same level would not be able to withstand such a move at all.

However, what’s far from the * is that this guy actually stood up.

“fu, am I dazzled? Scar, Scar, he stood up?”

“How is that possible? Is it that Lord Judge didn’t use all his strength?”

“Yes, yes, it must be so. Otherwise, there is no way for Scar to stand up at all.”

A group of people were shocked, and they all blamed the judge’s mercy for everything in front of them.

However,

the judge on the stage was very clear.

Just now, Scar’s series of operations have fundamentally completely ignited his anger.

And he doesn’t want his gold bricks to be subtracted.

Therefore, from the beginning to the end, the judges are almost always dead.

He can’t be merciful at all!

But, this guy... how did this guy stand up?

Scar is actually stunned.

To be honest, after taking this punch, Scar himself was ready to die.

But soon, this guy was suddenly surprised to find that he was not dead, and there was no pain on his body.

Even... He moved a few times, and found that not only did he not have all the ribs he imagined to be broken, but he didn’t even feel pain when he twisted.

This is so far off the mark.

He is fine!

After a short period of confusion, he quickly understood.

What is that!

It was the guilt that George Han created for himself.

Under its protection, he actually ate the judge’s fatal blow.

This time, this guy is completely motivated.

“Judge, is he, aren’t you full? Just like that, fu it, it’s like tickling.” Scar sneered coldly.

Hearing this, the shock on the judge’s face suddenly turned into countless anger.

“You bastard, what did you say?”

Once upon a time, this guy was not qualified to talk to himself on weekdays, let alone standing in the arena with him.

Without him, with the strength of his scar, he is not worthy at all.

“I thought how powerful the arm of this angelica can be. It turns out that there is only one paper tiger.”

“Bang Bang!” The

two palms slapped heavily on his chest, and the scar was like a rainbow: “Come on, continue Ah, soft egg.”

“Bastard, I’ll kill you!” The judge was completely irritated, and immediately tried his best to kill the knife scar again.

Scar also completely lost his fear, and also swooped away at the judge.

The two sides are about to fight.

At this time, George Han finally showed his smile, and he had been waiting for this moment for a long time.

White-hot came.

“I’m going!” The judge shouted angrily, and he punched his fists with all his strength, surging like a world opened up.

The scar on the other side was also like a mad bear coming out of a hole, roaring furiously, without fear at all, while directly using his body to hard top, he suddenly grabbed the golden long spear in his right hand and aimed at the judge and killed it directly.

fu , Scar, you are really flying, and you still want to hurt me?” The judge sneered, and the big fist slammed directly on Scar’s body.

boom! !

A huge muffled sound!

There was a sneer at the corner of the judge’s mouth. With this punch, he hit the scar with almost 100% of his strength, and it was impossible for him to survive.

Still want to try to resist yourself and then counterattack?

Stupid dream!

“Go to hell, Judge, I’m not afraid of you, I’m from George Han now.”

Scar snorted coldly, gathered all his strength on the long spear in his hand, aimed it at the judge, and stabbed directly!

“What?”

Scar, who should have been completely knocked away by him, was surprised to find that not only did the knife not fly, but the spear in his hand was getting closer and closer to him...
