And then it happens, a bright light shun on me, with a brightness incomparable with the sun, it was the brightest light that I've ever seen in this realm of mystic creatures and the Light brightly lightens everything that exist in this space, I've never seen a thing like this before since my existence, and I Frankenstein creature, was becoming uncomfortable.

Therein, someone appeared in the mirror, whose image and glory was magnificent, His presence was so powerful that it terrified me. I haven't known fear but I was greatly afraid of this awesome being.

By the virtues impose from his presence and power, I fell my knees to the ground and hovers my head downwards, so that I may not behold his countenance.

After a while a voice called on my name, "Frankenstein"
I haven't yet recovered from the fear, that had weigh so heavily on me, I didn't even know whether to answer or not.

The voice called on my name again for the second time, "Frankenstein" there was power in his voice, his voice has so much power and great authority. His voice created random shocks in me, but for the second time I couldn't answer. The voice called on me again, up to the third time, this time I only manage to lift my head upwards, but couldn't see his face.

His appearance was like a light that's surrounded by fire and wings was roundabout him.

For the third time, when he mentioned my name, I was unto him like a child, a prodigal, and he was unto me like a father. And it seems we've been together for many years.

Then and therein, rivers of tears started gushing from my eyes, it seems the vision of my creation awakened within me, and I began receiving flashes of memory that ran through my mind.
