

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 125

The car was speeding.

However, for Alina, who would normally be seasick at such a speed, she now felt that the speed was not enough.

"Faster!" Caleb subconsciously glanced her, and there was already some dissatisfaction in his eyes.

Perhaps this resentment was more towards Penny!

After all, now in Caleb's consciousness, Penny is Andre's daughter, for such a child, he naturally doesn't like her.

By the time they arrived at the airport, it was forty minutes!

Same as last time, Alina picked up the child from the flight attendant', but the difference was that this time it seemed to be the leader

"Miss Hughes, please show me your ID, please." The flight attendant held out the instrument, apparently to verify the documents.

Alina handed her her identity card.

The flight attendant respectfully accepted it, and Penny had already run into Alina's arms, the child was dressed in a small cheongsam with a ponytail, which looked adorable.

The moment Alina took the child in her arms, the child rubbed against her arms in a very cute way, and it looked so affectionate.

The flight attendant handed Alina the ID card after identification, "That's OK, Miss Hughes."

"Thank you, thank you very much."

"You're welcome."

"....."

"See you, Penny."

"See you, MiSs." The child's voice was soft and endearing.

After everyone was done, Alina twisted the child's face, probably because she was a bit angry, so she twisted it a bit too hard.

Then the child looked at her with tears in her eyes, looking so aggrieved.

“Say it, how did you get here this time?” Last time it was Andre who was drunk and she coaxed Andre to enter his mobile phone password and come here.

In fact, she wanted to know how she had become so skilled at handling those transactions.

Was it that she coaxed Andre to do all this?

Think of the possibilities, Alina’s brain hurts so much.

“I miss mommy.” The child hugged Alina’s neck.

She called her grandfather, who was still grunting on the phone, “Alina, why is she stubborn?”

“.....”

“How can she be capable when she grows up?” Zane was in an endless headache over the phone.

The tone of his voice was one of concern for Alina.

Penny was so hard to be controlled at this young aged, but what could do when she grew up was hard to imagine.

The point is that there are so many people watching the child now, and they failed.

“All right, Grandpa, I’ve got her. Don’t worry!”

“I can’t feel at ease, I can’t feel at ease.” Zane was pounding his chest on the phone, obviously scared.

Alina, “How could she have run away again?”

“She was at the early childhood centre and the teacher called the police!”

It seems that the management of this early education centre is a big problem! A child this age has slipped away and traveled so far in their place.

“Now can you get the teacher to pull out, I have her with me now.”

“You have to teach her a lesson.” Grandpa, who always loved the child, was obviously frightened this time.

This was the second time.

Not many people can take it.

“Okay, I’ll.” Alina also had a pain in her head.

After hanging up Grandpa’s phone, Alina hugged the child and walked outside the airport. Thinking that Caleb was still in her car, she was even more irritated.

When she dialed his number, he picked up, “Is it over?”

“No, I’m in a bit of trouble, so if you’re in a hurry, take a taxi.” She didn’t want him to see the child.

This child looked much alike Caleb.

“I’m in no hurry!”

She would like him to leave, but his answer was surprised.

“Actually, you don’t have to...”

“You have ten minutes to come out!” Caleb’s tone heaved a bit.

Obviously, Caleb on the other side of the phone heard Alina’s emotion of not wanting to see him.

Without waiting for her to say anything, she heard Caleb on the other side of the phone say, “I’ll come in and get you!”

“No, I can handle it, I’ll be right out.” And with that, she hung up the phone in a hurry.

She looked at the child in her arms, who was looking at her with big eyes and a red puddle on her left cheek.

It was obviously screwed by her.

She would have to interrogate this child when she got back about how in the world did this girl get here.

The child was carried out, originally Alina wanted to take a taxi! After all, she really didn’t want Caleb to have too much contact with the child.

However, the moment they went out, they saw Caleb standing in the middle of the door, and their eyes collided with each other, she had no place to hide.

Alina subconsciously pushed the child’s face into her arms, “Don’t move.”

She was subconsciously panicked.

Caleb looked at the way she was skillfully holding the child, and at this time, his mind had a flash of her holding the child by Andre's side.

His face was cold, and he turned around with a hostile look on his face.

Alina knew that Caleb could not control his emotion, so she walked to him.

After all, she can't run away.

In the car, Alina was sitting in the back seat with the child in her arms.

Caleb looked in the rear-view mirror and saw the little red ball of fur with the pendant pinned to the child's ponytail.

In this moment, he actually thought that Andre's daughter was cute.

"Damn!"

At this moment, Caleb's heart was even heavier.

All the way, he was silent.

Alina got out of the car with the child in her arms, "Go back."

"Alina, are you used to be heartless?" Caleb was very unhappy with her direct attitude of kicking him out.

Alina looked at him coldly, "What? Should I be grateful to you?"

Caleb was angry to hear this.

Alina, "Besides, it's not like I begged you."

Caleb was furious!

He felt that the current Alina always had the ability to piss him off!

When he saw her turn around and go in with the child in her arms, Caleb scratched his hair in anger and kicked the wheel.

However this was not enough to relieve his anger.
