

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 129

So wherever she goes, she seems to have an aura of her own, and Emma is always overshadowed by her.

"What? Don't admit it?" Kara looked at her face and laughed lightly!

Emma, "Don't say that!"

"The hospital said you had a high and erratic fever, right? He didn't come!"

The last three words were like needles that pierced Emma's heart, and it hurt.

The pain was so dense that it spread over her heart.

Yes!

Caleb didn't come.

Even when he heard the news from the hospital, he never showed up.

"I heard that Alina went to the Collins family dinner yesterday!" Kara had come prepared.

And Emma was already furious, and now when she heard Kara's words, her face was even more stormy.

Alina went to the Collins family for a family dinner?

"They have divorced, and the Collins family still thinks so highly of her! They don't even have you in their eyes." Obviously, this was done for Emma.

It was a way of telling her that she was nothing in the eyes of the Collins, before or now.

"See, your current situation is really not very good!" Kara said in a profound tone.

But such a calm profundity set off a huge wave in the heart of Emma.

Whether it's in the heart of the Collins, or in Caleb's heart, now there is a point that says it all.

Even if Alina is cleared with Caleb, she is the most important person in the heart of the Collins or in Caleb's heart.

These are things that Emma simply cannot compete with.

Even the Collins family never looked at Emma and never thought of accepting her.

But it was Caleb's attitude that made Emma's position feel precarious.

"Could it be that he really doesn't have any heart for me?" At this moment, Emma's heart was hardened.

Kara, "He has, but he's been tossed around by you"

Kara did not continue to say anything, apparently for the Emma once did, she felt too much!

Caleb knew what Emma had done in Oklens.

"He still protects you, and it proves that you are in his heart! But as you know, men have nothing to do with heart when it comes to what's right and what's wrong."

Especially for someone like Caleb, who usually seems to be devoted to Emma's career, but when it comes to the two of them, has always had a bottom line,

No matter how hard Emma tries, it doesn't work.

"She went back to the family dinner yesterday, right?" At this moment, Emma did not answer Kara's words, only to hear her gnash her teeth and say.

Kara, "What do you want again?"

"She's divorced Caleb, what qualifications does she have to go to the Collins family again!" Emma couldn't hold back the anger in her tone.

Kara, "I advise you to stop, you are not a good presence in Mr. Collins's heart now!"

This was the truth.

Although he did not do anything explicitly, his attitude was clearly disgusted with her.

So if she did anything else now, she knew that it would piss him off.

Emma, "So am I not going to do anything now?"

The thought that Alina had divorced Caleb and could still go to the Collins family! Emma felt very annoyed.

Her heart was full of choking and pain.

The Collins' was the status symbol of the mistress of the Collins family! If only she went to that place could she get approval of all the Collins family.

Just like before when Alina and Mrs. Collins attended the party together, what were all those reports on and how they were written.

Those depictions, which drove Emma crazy with jealousy, were the ones she wanted most, yet it was never given.

“Don’t I deserve that?” In every word, Emma was filled with pain!

Kara, “Listen to me, don’t do anything on this matter now.”

Especially based on the previous encounters with Alina, Kara could see that Alina was not a simple person.

There was more behind her than that.

Plus, Emma’s calculations were so poor that she was always easily overturned by Alina!

If this went on, if Alina really stayed in Ingford, her future life would really be hopeless.

“So what am I supposed to do?”

“What Mr. Collins hates most now is your appearance, what do you think you should do?” Kara said.

And it was these words that stopped the thoughts in Emma’s mind just now.

Since this was what Caleb hates the most, especially if she could not escape his sharp eyes, she had to put up with it right now.

No matter how unhappy she was with Alina, she could only endure it.

“Improve your relationship with him, and try to marry him!” At this moment, Kara’s words seem to carry compelling power.

And Emma, at this moment, also listened thoroughly.

There are ways in which there are certain problems, and it is because of the problems that have led to so many problems between her and Caleb now.

So from now on, no matter how much dissatisfaction she has in her heart, she has to hold it back.

When she married Caleb, everything would be settled.

Emma listened to Kara, so she cooperated with the hospital like never before in the next few days.

So she was soon discharged.

In the office!

"I'm sorry, it was all my fault before, I was too scared to lose you."

"....."

"From now on, I will never do that again!" When she said this, Emma's eyes fell with tears.

Caleb said in a deep tone, "Don't do that again!"

"I'll remember." Emma felt that she had never been so humble before.

After this time away from eF, she is as empty as ever! Although she had never been able to make any good progress in her career before.

But after being kicked out of eF by Jay, she found herself even more afraid of losing Caleb.

It turns out that those people were right, women have to have their own way of survival no matter what kind of powerful man they stand next to.
