

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 140

Alina walked away with the child.

Vanessa and Julia sat in the coffee shop for a long time without coming to their senses. Alina hadn't prepared herself for that.

So did they.

"Back then..." After a long time, Vanessa spoke.

However, when she said here, her heart hurt so much. She couldn't continue at all.

Over the years, the old Collins had always said that their family owed Alina. Vanessa knew it. She even let down the old Cook.

But now she knew it was just more than it.

Caleb, the bastard.

Thinking back then, Vanessa couldn't forgive Caleb even more.

Julia looked at Vanessa apprehensively and said, "Caleb probably doesn't know about this yet. Shall we tell him?"

According to the news they heard, they all believed that this child was Andre's. But after seeing the child today, they were all sure that she was Caleb's child.

Although the little face had many similarities with Alina, it also had the same place as Caleb, which were particularly recognizable.

Others could see it at a glance.

That little girl was definitely Caleb's.

"Tell him and then let him take the child away?" Speaking of Caleb, Vanessa was furious.

For her son, she was so disappointed.

Hearing it, Julia didn't know what to say for a moment.

Vanessa was right. If Caleb knew it, it would cause some kind of big war.

It was the most heart-wrenching.

Vanessa still couldn't calm down. This matter was too shocking for her.

"So what are we going to do now?" Julia asked Vanessa.

Vanessa said, "Don't tell Caleb until he finishes taking care of Emma's matter."

"This..."

"Our family owes Alina too much. If Caleb really can't let go of Emma, even after he knows it, he will still be with Emma and will take away the child."

"Julia, there are some feelings you don't understand. If Caleb insists on being with Emma, the child would be better with Alina."

Since ancient times, stepmothers were bad.

Especially Emma. If she really married Caleb, she would definitely not allow Caleb to have other children.

"Hmm." Julia thought it was right. She nodded, adding, "Alina has no intention to give the child to Caleb."

So if Caleb knew it, there would be a fight.

They didn't want things to come to that point.

Thinking about it, they two hit it off. They didn't tell Caleb.

Alina came out of the coffee shop with Penny and went straight to Mulherd Manor. When she was passing by a store, she seemed to see Nova and Pola.

When she returned to Mulherd Manor, she hadn't calmed down.

The little girl was sensitive. So she could feel clearly Alina's emotions.

"Does Mommy have grudges against those two people?" Penny looked at Alina innocently.

It seemed that only enemies would be like that.

Alina felt speechless about her daughter's thoughts.

"You are such young. How do you know what grudge is?" Even if she had a grudge, it would be between her, Emma and Caleb.

Because of the two people, Penny almost failed to come to this world smoothly.

No matter what kind of grudge Alina had, she could forget it. But as a mother, Alina couldn't forgive the two people... They hurt her child.

In the study, the conversation between Caleb and Nova was so absolute.

He was so indifferent, so cold..., as if what she was pregnant was not his child at all.

Otherwise, Alina really couldn't figure out why he didn't agree to have this child.

After a while, Vanessa came.

Lucy hurriedly and respectfully poured the tea. Alina felt flustered about Vanessa's sudden visit.

Vanessa looked around, "Where is the child?"

"Upstairs."

"Are you ready to take her away?"

Alina looked at Vanessa.

Vanessa's eyes were red. It was the first time that Alina saw Vanessa's red eyes.

Alina felt complicated.

"I didn't want you guys to see her." She was also blunt and showed her attitude.

She didn't want the Collins to see Penny, let alone let the child go back to the Collins family.

Vanessa, "I know."

She knew? She knew it all?

Then Vanessa looked at Alina and said, "I asked Julia not to tell him."

Caleb?

Alina was defensive and vigilant. But when she heard Vanessa's words at this moment, she was full of shock.

She was so stunned.

Vanessa continued, "Although he is my son, I also tried my best about Emma's matter back then. I'm also disappointment."

Vanessa said word by word. She was telling the truth.

She was so disappointed with Caleb in that matter.

Anyone in the Collins family could see what kind of person Emma was. The desire in this woman's eyes was so strong.

She was not a good person. But Caleb actually liked her.

Not only Vanessa was disappointed, but also the Collins family was also disappointed.

"Thank you." After a long time, Alina reacted and said in a faint tone.

Vanessa, "Not for you, but for my baby granddaughter."

Baby granddaughter?

As a woman, Vanessa thought more about children.

Vanessa saw Caleb and Emma so entangled and knew once Caleb knew about it, then the child's now stable environment would be completely ruined.

Alina still had some doubts about whether what Vanessa had just said was to appease her.

But when she heard that it was because of the child, she knew what Vanessa was worried about.

"How could that girl...?" Vanessa didn't quite understand. According to her understanding to Alina, she didn't think that she would bring the child to Ingford.

Alina knew exactly what Vanessa was asking.

Hearing it, she felt that her head hurt so much, "She came here by herself."

Vanessa, "What?"

"Twice." Speaking of this, Alina was also so helpless.
