

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 161

The already cold and sombre atmosphere.

At the moment, the whole office has the feeling of being on the verge of an explosion.

Chester snorted. And then, the chair behind him fell to the floor with a resounding thud.

This moment, Chester's scent is cold and dangerous.

The lighter in his hand smashed on the desk, "Three years ago, I wished to kill you."

At these words, his brain went blank.

It was at this moment that he remembered. Three years ago, he had spent a whole month at Hasnan Bridge watching the men salvage.

At that moment, all his thoughts were on Alina's life.

So it was overlooked that Chester was the first of the Collins family to come back from abroad, even to join him at Hasnan Bridge for a month.

At that time, Caleb thought he was by his side. But he didn't know that he was holding back his killing intent at all times.

Why was he the first to return?

Why was he around at all times?

It was then that Caleb remembered that this brotherly love, so ironically, was all because of Alina.

At this moment, Caleb's heart ignited by anger.

Obviously he didn't expect that his elder brother had feeling for his wife.

"Is that why you were against me marrying her?" Caleb said after a long time.

Back then, Chester was against his marriage to Alina, the only person in the Collins he was against it.

It's so ironic when he thinks about it now.

Chester's eyes were even darker, "You're not good enough for her."

"You're a scumbag."

Finally, Chester gave him a stern look before he left.

Caleb stood still for a long time.

In all these years, no one has ever seen clearly what Chester had in mind for Alina.

That marriage, he's been the betrayer all along. What about Alina? Is she really clean?

Except for the night when she was eighteen, she was really that innocent during her marriage.

He remembered.

During the two years of her marriage to him, she often went abroad alone, flying either to North Srey or South Srey.

And Chester was abroad, mostly in these two locations.

Was she, by any chance, meeting Chester?

In his head, a storm had swept over him, and at that moment Caleb's eyes glittered with danger, consumed by anger.

He had desire to tear Alina to pieces.

Alina came to Collins Castle and bought some presents. Walter saw she had brought with her, he put on a smile.

Julia was waiting for her outside, "You've come, my mother has been waiting for you."

Alina, "But what happened?"

When Julia said on the phone that she didn't look so good, Alina's heart thumped.

The only thing she can think of now is between Caleb and Chester, and that's whatever it is, Alina's head hurts just thinking about it.

"Chester and Caleb are back and not looking too good." Julia whispered to her.

Her face was pale when she heard that Caleb and Chester had also returned.

"Alina, what are you doing?"

"Is it too late for me to leave?" Alina was so miserable.

At this rate, she's going to break down and go crazy.

Julia, "No."

"....."

"Is it really about you?" At this moment, even if Julia didn't say it explicitly, Alina knew exactly what she was asking.

What else could she say?

At this point in time, there was nothing she could say.

Alina, "Nothing to do with me."

It was spoken with great conviction.

She really didn't want to get between Caleb and Chester, and now she's being dragged into it by both of them.

All she wants to do now is clear her name.

"Then why are you hiding?" Julia was speechless.

Who believes it?

Julia gave Alina a glance.

Alina doesn't want to do anything right now, she just wants to get out of here and head straight to the airport.

"It's my mother invited you, so hurry up." Julia grabbed Alina by the hand and dragged her inside.

Alina, "Please, let me go."

"Dream on."

Julia wouldn't dare let her go.

If she had let Alina go, she would be in trouble.

.....

In the end, Alina was taken to the middle hall by Julia.

Vanessa, Caleb and Chester were there, they didn't look too good at the moment.

Caleb and Chester saw Alina's presence, and both men's auras stiffened and froze for a few moments.

Vanessa has seen all these small changes.

"Julia ."

"What?"

"That necklace you were talking about, shall I go and show you?" Alina looked at Julia and gave her a wink.

She really couldn't stay for a moment of this scene.

At this moment, it's crazy.

Julia, "I...", "Oh, good." Julia was going to say no, but the corners of Alina's eyes kept twitching.

she knew it was a cry for help.

Alina grabbed Julia and ran off in a huff, "Wrong direction."

Chester reminded.

The man's tone was gentle, but at this point the gentleness of his words felt more like a death knell to Alina.

There was no need to change direction, and the speed was increased as a result.

Vanessa looked seriously at Chester, "You have scared her."

At first glance, Vanessa could see what was going on with Alina and Chester.

Chester has a gentle look in his eyes.

With this touch of gentleness, Vanessa understood better what was going on with Chester, and her eyes grew more worried.
