

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 172

Caleb took Alina straight back to Werland Villa. No matter how angry Alina was and struggled, he pretended not to hear it.

"I tell you I won't go to Werland Villa with you even if you force me here. You wish."

Alina was really about to explode.

What the hell was he doing?

At that time, he was so determined to kill her child to save Emma without hesitation.

What was he doing now? He secretly forcibly remarried to her and even forced her to stay at Werland Villa.

Alina had never seen such a shameless man.

Caleb, "Don't get out of here."

Alina, "No, this..."

"I promise you that you can go to Fashion Show in North Srey."

"I said, I don't need your promise." Who did this man think he was? Why did she need his promise?

But for now, that was the case.

Alina finally saw his shameless method.

"It's shameless."

Glaring at Caleb fiercely, Alina said, as if she wanted to tear him apart.

It was simply damn it.

Caleb just kept silent.

He was so angry on the way back from the airport before. Now he was so calm.

As long as Alina was here, it was okay. Caleb thought so.

When he heard that Alina would leave Ingford, especially at such a juncture... what did he feel? He just thought that she didn't want anything and just wanted to leave...

Caleb wouldn't let her leave at this time.

"I tell you I won't admit that shit remarriage." Seeing Caleb like this, Alina was so fuming.

She was going to explode in anger.

When Caleb heard this before, he was just angry.

But now, he only felt bitter.

In the past, when Alina was by his side, she was so well-behaved and sensible. She was very inconspicuous in his world.

But what about now?

"It doesn't matter." Caleb said, feeling very complicated.

Alina was still talking about something. When she heard Caleb's words, she was instantly stunned.

"What?"

It didn't matter?

It mattered a lot, okay?

If they got divorced, she would be single. However, in this situation, should she say that she was single or what?

Although they got remarried, she still thought she was single. But if she said she was single, they indeed got remarried.

Alina was already angry. Hearing Caleb say this, she was angrier.

Without waiting for Alina to continue, Caleb's phone was vibrating.

He picked up his phone and walked out to the balcony, "Hello."

Alina didn't know what the other person said on the phone but Caleb's face changed greatly. Even she, who was inside, could feel his changes.

She only listened to Caleb say something to the other side of the phone coldly, and then he hung up the phone and came in.

Caleb pulled a long face, looking so gloomy.

That kind of gloomy coldness made Alina tense.

After all, Alina had been with Caleb for so many years. As long as this man put on this look, there would definitely be no good things.

“Why are you looking at me like that?” Don’t tell her again that something happened because of her.

Alina was so aggrieved every time.

In fact, she didn’t do anything or didn’t provoke anyone, but every time it had to do with her. What could she do?

Caleb frowned, trying to hide the chill in his eyes. He said to Alina, “I have to go out.”

“You just stay obediently.”

While saying this, he picked up the black trench coat and walked outside.

Obediently?

Was he still dreaming?

Before, when she was well-behaved enough, she was just nobody for him, right?

Yes, that was what Alina had in mind.

At that time, she felt that she was a well-behaved pet in Caleb’s eyes. Otherwise, why would he be willing to marry her?

Because she was so well-behaved. When Caleb was happy, he would come over to coax her. But when he was not happy, he didn’t even look at her.

As soon as Caleb left, Alina got up quickly.

“Lady Alina.” As soon as Alina got up, Lois appeared behind her.

Alina turned around.

She also put away her angry look at this moment. She glanced at Lois gently and wanted to say something but finally still said nothing.

In Werland Villa, she was just like this, with a cold attitude to respond to everything.

“When Master Caleb goes out, he said to prepare dinner for you. We...”

“No, thanks.”

Before Lois finished speaking, Alina interrupted her. She didn't think about eating here at all.

Hearing it, Lois knew that Alina would leave.

She sighed, “It seems that you are still blaming Master Caleb.”

“Who dares to blame him? He does everything right.” He had his own opinions on what he did, didn't he?

Therefore, in his world, how could there be right or wrong?

No matter it was wrong or right, it would be right.

Hearing this, Lois sighed even more.

“In fact, these years, it was a hard time to Master Caleb. Back then... were there some misunderstandings between you two?” Lois looked at Alina worriedly.

During this time, they had a lot of fights. The people around them worried about them.

Alina, “Lois, you are still putting in a word for him.”

“No, Lady Alina, I'm ...”

“I have to go back first.”

Alina didn't want to listen any longer. She just directly interrupted Lois coldly. Now, no matter who put in a word for Caleb in front of her, she felt furious.

The people here knew more or less what happened back then. How could there be misunderstandings?

Caleb's men naturally had to help him.

“Lady Alina, Lady Alina.” Seeing that Alina was about to leave, Lois hurried up to stop her.

However, Alina had already arrived at the door.

When she was about to go out, two bodyguards in black blocked the door, completely blocking the way.

“What do you mean?” When Alina saw this, her already gloomy face became even more gloomy at this moment.

Lois stood behind Alina nervously, and said in a somewhat nervous tone, "You can't leave here until Master Caleb comes back."
