

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 201

In Werland Villa, when Alina received the call from Tomas, after listening to what Tomas meant on the phone, her attitude remained indifferent.

"Does this have anything to do with me?" what Tomas meant was that now if Caleb was discharged from the hospital, there would definitely be after-effects waiting.

The words were all about how badly Caleb had been injured this time.

In short, now is not a good time to be discharged from the hospital.

"Lady Alina." Tomas's voice tightened when he heard this.

If Caleb knew about her attitude, there was no telling what would happen.

Alina said, "In the future, if it's about him, don't call me, it has nothing to do with me."

Caleb required to be discharged, but Alina had such an attitude, which stunned Tomas.

He had to call Collins Castle.

However, the response he received was even more horrifying.

Vanessa said, "He is a grown up, doesn't he know what to do?"

Although not as generally ruthless as Alina's, it still made people feel that it was very chilling.

After all, how badly Caleb was hurt, Vanessa saw it with her own eyes, yet she also managed to speak so coldly.

In the end, Tomas had no choice but to go and discharged Caleb from the hospital.

When Alina received that Caleb was about to be discharged from the hospital, she looked grimly at Emma, and that look couldn't be more frightening.

In short, Emma was almost unable to bear under such a look from her.

"What are you doing again?" As she said this, Emma's tone was shivering.

As if, whenever Alina looked at her like this, nothing good would ever come out of it, and in fact, it was really like that.

If this continued, Emma really felt like she was being tortured to go crazy.

But even if this was the case, Alina had no intention of stopping, which was what makes Emma absolutely most distraught.

“What do you think, what would I do to you?” Alina looked at Emma’s frightened and trembling appearance, and the corners of her mouth lifted up in a smile.

It seemed that she was very satisfied with the present.

Emma used to be so arrogant. What was it that she didn’t dare to do? She now was afraid? What a rare thing.

When Emma looked at Alina, she felt as if her whole world was about to collapse.

This woman was terrifying.

“Alina, I know you hate me. Why do you have to be like this? Am I not miserable enough right now?”

Yes, Emma was the most miserable.

Now neither her right hand nor her right leg could now get any strength.

In this relationship, she was counted as the most miserable, so why would Alina still have to do this?

Alina laughed.

Her laugh was sarcastic.

“Hahahahaha.” In the end, it was even more unrestrained laughter.

And this unrestrained joy of hers made Emma’s already tight heart now even more unpleasant.

She moved her lips to say something, yet at this time, nothing could be said.

“Emma, what do you think you look like now?”

“You seem to have forgotten that all the glory you have had all these years was gained by stepping on me.”

These word struck Emma’s heart so hard.

No, she wasn’t that kind of person, and she hadn’t done anything like that, no one could just say that.

She wasn’t like that at all, why? Why on earth would Alina say such things to her?

“You’re not...”

“I am not dead, right?” Even if she wasn’t dead now, but for the past three years, Emma had a great deal of glory.

It was gained stepping on her.

It was because of that, no matter how much Alina hated Emma now, it was still deserved, wasn’t it?

Besides, it wasn’t just between them.

Emma looked at Alina in fear, not saying a word.

Three years ago with all that turbulent river water, Alina was still alive. Was it because she had gone too far that Alina had been so favoured?

Why should she be favoured by God?

Emma’s heart was already tightening, and when she thought of this, her heart was spreading a burst of suffocation.

No one could have imagined that things would turn out to be like this, right?

The pain in her heart was so severe.

She wanted to say something, but at this moment, she couldn’t say anything.

Caleb had returned.

His head was heavily bandaged and his leg was in a cast, all indicating that the accident was not a small one.

And the injuries he had sustained were not minor either.

The person who was most happy to see him back was Emma.

When she knew that Caleb had been in a car accident, especially when she thought that Caleb would be in hospital for a long time, she was scared.

And now, he was back.

In her heart, she was happy.

“Caleb.”

She looked at Caleb with tears in her eyes.

And Caleb originally did not have much patience with her, and this time he was protective of her. It was also entirely because he couldn't let her get by Chester to go to North Eglinton.

However, at this moment, when Caleb saw the injury on Emma's face, he asked, "How did you get it?" In fact, there was already an answer in his heart.

Looking at the marks on Emma's face, it was clear that she had been beaten, and as for who exactly had beaten her, who else could there be in this Werland Villa besides Alina?

Sensing the danger on the man's body, for the first time in the past few days, Emma had a free flow of pleasure.

"This humiliation is nothing for me to be with you." The tone of her voice choked as she looked towards Caleb.

Yes, all this aggravation was because of Caleb.

As long as she was by his side, then these aggressions seemed to surround her all the time.

Caleb's face was already not good, but when he heard Emma say this, his face turned even darker.

His eyes were stern, looking towards Alina who was not even looking at him, and at that moment, anger was pounding in his heart.
