

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 207

The already icy hostility under the man's eyes was now flickering with even more endless danger.

"Alina, I really underestimated you, you reminded me of this." Caleb spoke in a cold tone.

At this moment, the two of them did not give way to each other in the slightest.

When Joanna returned, she saw these two people arguing each other again, "Alina."

She stepped forward and took Lightly's shoulder, "We are in a tight schedule."

The implication was to remind Alina not to waste too much time on Caleb.

Alina, "Okay."

After all, the Eglinton Show was much more rigorous than any other time, so this opportunity that was so hard to come by, she had to be even more careful.

As for Caleb, the moment he saw Joanna holding Alina, there was an endless danger flickering in his eyes.

Joanna looked so handsome, though she was a woman.

"Alina."

The moment the two ignored him and turned around, Caleb's eyes flashed with even more danger underneath.

Such danger hit the air so hard that the hearts of everyone present were raised to their throats.

Alina turned back carelessly, "Wait for the summons from the court."

Her attitude was so forceful and unfeeling.

What had happened to her three years ago was so tragic, so now she was also so heartless towards Caleb.

Looking at the flash of hostility under the man's eyes, Alina even raised her neck, as if she was not afraid of any now.

"Let's go." Alina turned around and went upstairs with Joanna.

When Caleb and Tomas were left, the maid Marry and butler also hurriedly hid to the side.

The aura on Caleb was really too scary.

Tomas, "Do you want to stop her?"

"No."

Of course, if Caleb made a move, Alina would definitely not be able to do anything in this city.

However why Caleb is not the intention to make a move, allowing Alina to toss and turn?

Tomas wa shocked.

"Yes." Obviously, at this moment, Tomas could not see what Caleb was thinking.

Although it was a bit of a headache when Alina was making a scene, but he just allowed Alina to make a scene.

Why?

Caleb went back to his car, and Tomas looked at him with worry.

Caleb, "Once she was by my side, she was like an obedient doll."

"....."

"Now she looks lively." Before, when Alina was around, there was always a feeling that something was missing.

Looking back now, it was that much less alive.

At that time, when Alina was by his side, she was always so moderate, living like a puppet.

The temperament of a lady from a big family was evident in her.

It could even be said that that kind of Alina made it impossible to find any fault in her body.

Now, however, it's a big deal.

Even caused him a headache.

But in her own way, she vent her dissatisfaction completely out, which is undoubtedly the best.

Tomas listened with alarm.

Is it it bad to be obedient?

Why is it that when it comes to making a scene now, it always feels like Caleb is more spoiled and indulgent towards Alina?

“Tomas.”

“Yes.”

“Chester has been in the city for too long.” When talking about Chester, Caleb’s tone was chilly.

Tomas, “What do you mean?”

“It’s time for him to go.”

So, he was indulging in what Alina was doing?

For those around Alina should be removed.

“Yes.”

Tomas understood Caleb’s meaning and knew what to do.

Was he now going head to confront with Chester again, right? The atmosphere between the two had been tense.

The scissors in Alina’s hand were sharp as if she was cutting Caleb.

Joanna was shocked to hear this and went forward to take the scissors out of Alina’s hand, “Come on, you don’t have to do anything.”

Joanna was really worried that Alina would end up hurting herself with this force.

You know, their scissors were all very sharp, and if this really hurt their hands, they would definitely go crazy.

Alina, “He’s pissed off at me.”

“How could you be so angry with him?”

“Look at the way he’s protecting Emma.” What is he doing here in Mulherd Manor today?

Thinking of this man flaunting his power, Alina was in exasperation.

“Those two would have been a good match, why do you need to be angry?” Joanna was constantly coaxing Alina.

Alina was still angry.

“You don’t still care, do you?”

“What do I care.” Care? It was a big joke.

If she really cared, she would not react like this.

She was really angry.

“He already knew Emma’s true nature from the trip to Oklens, I really don’t know what kind of person he is.”

Yes, this was why Alina got pissed off.

Yet even then, he had all still managed to protect Emma so well.

At this point, Alina just really didn’t understand what exactly he meant by this.

“It’s none of your business whatsoever, okay, okay, no more anger, we’re really busy here.”

Joanne said.

However, what Joanna didn’t know was that Alina was actually half-hearted right now.

These few days at Werland Villa, Alina had vented her anger.

But thinking of her grandmother, she hated so much Emma.

Thinking about that picture, Alina’s chest was heaving.

“Joanna.”

“Yes?”

“Werland Villa is mine.”

Obviously, Joanna didn’t understand.

Alina, “That’s my place, why should Emma live there?”

“Then just kick her out.”

When she hadn’t seen that photo, Alina just wanted to drive Emma out of her world.

And now, it was different.
