

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 226

Caleb returned to Werland Villa and didn't see Alina.

"Where is she?" On this journey back, Caleb was covered in hostility, obviously this time things had gone too far.

Previously, he had only felt that Alina had become difficult, no longer the woman that was so easy to deal with back then.

Back then.

Alina, no matter what he gave her, would be happy for half a day.

Lois, "Lady Alina said she went back to Shirling to spend the holidays with her family."

Caleb, "For the festival?"

"Yes, full moon festival is coming up, so Lady Alina has already gone back."

The full moon festival is a day for family reunions, and she has flown back to Shirling? Who was she reuniting with? Andre and the child between them?

Thinking of the child between her and Andre, Caleb was annoyed.

That damned woman.

Now that she had stirred up Ingford, she was going to fly back to for the holidays.

Caleb was angry and wanted to tear her to pieces.

"And..." looking at Caleb's such a cold face, Lois said apprehensively.

"And what?"

Alina flew back to Shirling to reunite with Andre, which had touched Caleb's bottom line.

Although time and time again, it give him headache.

He even wanted to clear his relationship with her.

But when he heard about her and Andre, he couldn't wait to beat Alina up.

Originally, this was already bad news.

However, Lois continued, “And Master Chester has removed all of Lady Alina’s design-related things out, saying that he was worried that there would be an accident at Eglinton Show.”

An accident?

How could it be unsafe in his Werland Villa?

When Lois said this, she was obviously saying Emma.

But now Caleb didn’t even have any consideration, Chester actually thought of it so thoroughly.

“It’s good that she doesn’t let anyone else have an accident, who can let her have an accident?” Caleb said in a tone full of chill.

From the time she appeared in Ingford until now, how many things had happened?

Every time she got out of it without a problem, but she messed others up.

Especially since Emma was still in the hospital.

Lois frowned.

Obviously she heard the defensive meaning in Caleb’s words.

Especially after watching Caleb come back in a rage, it was obvious that he wanted to settle the score with Alina for Emma.

Even if it was the other people, they couldn’t help but feel a chill when they saw Caleb defending Emma.

No matter what happens to Alina now, she was still his wife.

Although Alina is now and disdainful, she is in this position after all.

Lois, “Lady Alina has always been very clever.”

The implication is that if it wasn’t for Alina’s cleverness, she would not have been able to escape from such treacherous scenes time and time again.

However, when she was in the most dangerous situations, Caleb was by Emma time and time again.

No matter what his attitude towards Emma was, but at least to outsiders it seemed that way.

Caleb gave Lois a stern look.

And Lois bowed her head.

After all, she was Vanessa's person.

.....

After a day-long flight, Alina finally arrived in Shirling. Andre came to pick her up, Penny also came, "Mommy."

When she saw Alina, she ran towards Alina, Alina opened her arms and steadily caught the child in her arms.

"Do you miss mommy?"

"Yes." Penny nodded.

Andre said, "She misses you, and when she heard that you were coming back, she had to come along to pick you up."

This child was smart as a whip.

So in Shirling, she was always being watched, afraid that she would slip away to Alina again.

Alina dotingly rubbed Penny's head, "Mommy misses you too." With that, she gave a kiss on Penny's cheek.

The little girl smiled happily.

"Your teeth are so white."

"Do you like it?"

"Yes." Alina was really super fond of it.

Andre, however, said, "She loves to eat candy lately."

Many people say that children who eat too much candy will easily break their teeth, but Alina didn't think so, she also loved to eat candy when she was young.

But her teeth were good.

"It's not a bad thing for a girl to love candy, but it should be in moderation."

"You're just spoiling her." Andre said.

Alina, "She's my baby."

These words were said from the heart.

No matter how far she and Caleb had gotten, but she certainly loved her child.

The three of them were walking in the airport, and this eye-catching scene attracted many people's eyes, and some even took out their mobile phones to take secret photos.

Alina subconsciously pressed the child's head into her arms.

This was a subconscious protection for the child as a mother.

.....

The Lawson family's atmosphere here was completely different from the one over in Ingford, and although Grandpa and Megan were a combined family, this combination was so successful.

It was something that many people wouldn't dare to imagine.

Megan knew that Alina had returned, "Your grandfather knew that you were back, so he was so happy that he lost sleep all night."

The tone of her voice was full of doting for Alina.

Alina, "Thank you, Grandma Megan."

"No worries, we are family."

"....."

"I'll go to the kitchen to cook soup, you've finally come back, I have to cook tonic for you." Megan went to the kitchen.

Although there were quite a lot of people here, Megan still liked to cook with her own hands when the family was eating together.

Megan's daughter Luna and her husband Charlie had also returned, and even Brooklyn, who was not always present, had also returned.

It was reasonable to say that in such a family always gave people a feeling of being out of place, yet not in reality.

Every time the more she felt such an atmosphere, the more Alina understood why Grandpa had left Grandma back then.

But betrayal is not forgivable, but there are times when she is really in the middle of it, and she knows that there are many things that are not as simple as she sees them.

No matter what the matter is, and even more so, don't speak too absolutely, Alina is like this now, never ever easily to give any thing a definite conclusion.

"Look at you, you've lost weight." Luna said as she took Alina's hand.

Alina had really lost weight, although during this period of time in Ingford, she was considered to be the best in that chaotic situation.

But how could she really be well if her heart was not smooth?
