

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 227

Compared to the happy and harmonious Lawson family in Shirling, in Ingford, Caleb was pissed off, especially after seeing the photo of Alina and Andre together at the airport with their child.

A family of three looked so happy and harmonious.

"Tomas."

"Yes, sir." Tomas apprehensively stepped forward.

All this time, he was really annoyed by Alina.

The first time, he finally compromised on the divorce, but even if he had really made that compromise, when he really saw the picture of Alina and Andre, he felt annoyed.

"Is it true that there is no longer a marital relationship between her and Andre?"

"Yes." At least that's what this found out.

But even if these two did not have a marital relationship, they were definitely together.

At this moment Caleb's eyes were flickering with endless ruthlessness.

"Alina!" This word came out through clenched teeth.

He was being completely driven crazy by Alina.

Now looking at this scene, Tomas had a headache.

Caleb seems to still have feelings for Alina.

In the past three years, Caleb's search for Alina was so intense that he almost wanted to dig up the whole world to find her.

"Right now it's better to think about how to get Lady Alina to back out of that lawsuit." The biggest headache at the moment was this matter.

However, Caleb's carelessness seemed not to take these toughnesses of Alina into consideration in the slightest.

But Alina would not give up.

And Caleb had turned Alina into the same kind of person as him, yet it seemed that the only one who had this ultimate headache was himself.

“You are okay with it, but Emm...” Tomas uttered.

Caleb always looked careless, indulging in Alina’s antics.

But now is different.

This time, Alina is very resolute, if this is not dealt with, it will only be Emma that will be affected.

Especially since Emma was already in the hospital right now.

“Make the arrangements, I’m going to Shirling.”

Tomas instantly froze.

Tomas had checked the itinerary, Alina was going to stay over in Shirling for about a week, and Caleb had also seen the airline ticket information.

So, he couldn’t stand it for a moment, couldn’t stand Alina staying with Andre in Shirling at all.

“Go.” In response to Tomas’ concerns, Caleb only spat out one word icily, he couldn’t care less about that now.

Tomas wanted to say something else, but finally nodded his head.

Vanessa didn’t react much when she knew Emma had gone into the hospital and Alina had gone back to Shirling.

“This matter isn’t going to be finished that easily.” At least according to Alina’s nature now, it wouldn’t be over that easily.

But that was what she was happy to see. Caleb was too unreasonable these years.

It was right to let Alina to teach him a lesson.

When it came to Emma, Vanessa was discontent.

“Yes, it won’t be that easy, so Caleb is having a headache right now, but why is he going over to Shirling?”

“Why else? He’s anxious.”

Vanessa seemed to be able to see everything through.

Especially after seeing Alina and Andre walking with their child at the airport.

“Is it really good to hide it from Caleb?” Julia asked.

Vanessa, “Before Emma’s matter is resolved, having that child stay in Shirling is the best protection for that child.”

This is why after knowing the identity of the child, she, as a grandmother, was able to restrain her love for the child and not put the child by her side.

Emma would cause troubles.

The child would be going to school soon, and Vanessa was not at ease in Ingford as long as the matter of Emma was not completely resolved.

It was different in Shirling.

She had investigated, and everyone in the Lawson family loved the child, so she was much more at ease.

“What is so good about Emma?”

“I don’t know, but she is in the hospital, this matter became tougher.”

In any case, it was Caleb himself who lost out.

“Andre is an excellent man, it depends on whether Caleb is lucky or not.”

If the matter of Emma could not be resolved, according to the attitude of Luna, there was no telling what Alina would do.

“What?”

Julia obviously did not expect that there was such a play in the middle.

“But isn’t there still Chester?”

“Chester?”

Talking about Chester.

Vanessa also had a headache.

Vanessa still didn’t know what Max really meant by arranging the marriage to Alina and Caleb.

According to her, Alina was Chester was a much better match.

“I am really worried about Chester.” As a mother, she naturally knew that Chester was a cold-blooded man who did not easily fall in love.

But once he was in love, he was absolutely serious.

That was what gave her the biggest headache.

As Julia listened, she was also in a state of shock.

Alina was planing to stay a week to in Shirling.

But what she didn't expect was that in the evening, Andre told her, “Caleb is on his way here.”

“What the hell is he doing here?” After hearing that this man was coming to Shirling again, Alina tensed up.

She was going to be driven crazy.
